Suppose your eyes fail you in this respect You are travelling along the highway at the maximum speed limit. You catch up to a slower vehicle which you wish to pass. You see another car approaching from the other direction still you think there is plenty of room and time to overtake that car is actually closer than you thought. You step on the gas you find out too late, there isn't room. The result? An accident.

Drivers who have defective vision in this respect need but have sufficient or need they be put off the road in many instances, an eye test and proper glasses will correct this. You should pursue your correct it immediately, then the driver must compensate. That is make sure by sure you have room and time to pass before you speed to suit your deficiency.

Bobolinking In Social Credit

Most Albertans believe Social Credit means nothing and doesn't exist," says Bruce Hutchison in the current issue of Maclean's magazine

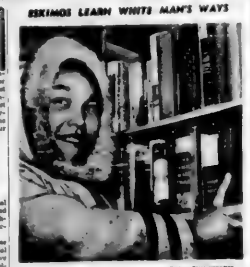
They believe "it has become only the slogan and ceremonial gesture of a highly conservative government, says Hutchison following an exhaustive tour of the province.

Why, I asked everybody I met in Alberta, had an impure myth fastened itself upon this particular province

"The answer from all thoughtful men was the same Social Credit might be a fresh doctrine of economics but it was an inversion of reason in politics It promised money by nothing It was inconsistent with Alberta's political virtues or religious fundamentalisms It gave to business a friendly government and hope to the poor

If Alberta sponsored to follow a specially alarm. in a time of world aberrations," the Maclean's writer was told, "actually it was following its own ordained course, inspired by the first comers — the method of experiment, only chance and sublime self-confidence"

Hutchison's report on Alberta is the eleventh in a series of fifteen articles based on a 24,000 mile cross-country tour



ESKIMOS LEARN WHITE MAN'S WAYS

Canadian Press Cutaway

Eskimos are learning a new way of life For generations their contact with the white man has been restricted to annual ... purchases of necessities at trading posts, and visits by missionaries Only a few have worked for white men in the past, but now with the building of the DEW line millions of dollars are being spent and jobs are available on a more or less permanent basis. Many are moving into government housing. With this new prosperity comes ... Eskimo children are receiving white man's education. This led an Eskimo to ... to ... and a whole library from which to choose

Fashions

Blend wool is done up smartly into a cute little suit that should be at home in town or in the country and an easy traveller, too. It boasts the new narrow line at the shoulder seams and here are buttoned shoulder tabs with pockets concealing a novel touch. The skirt is straight and has one button and loop trim placed in back.

attendance at a Medicine Hat Convention — opportunity used to publicize the St Paul region, with distribution of literature, volunteered publicity in connection with Golden Jubilee celebrations and promoted sports for that occasion, sponsored the July 1st., Baseball tournament and Bingo without too much success due to adverse weather; brought Wild Cartier in St. Paul for the biggest sell out attendance ever recorded in history, took over operation of the Golf Course and saved it from being abandoned, promoted the Christmas lighting contest, managed the Arena successfully and turned over the responsibility of the Hockey Club to local business men who, where it belongs after having started it along for over five years, boosted voting and drew attention to civic responsibilities of the public by promoting a get-out-the-vote campaign.

And finally concluded the year with a Banquet and Dance very celebrations commemorating past presidents for devotion to the community and as well as the large membership of young men who have joined the ranks, been a real asset to St. Paul.

During the course of the year, the unit was visited by the Montreal provincial executive, the mayor of Montreal, Vice-President from Regina and nominated in a Jaycee article published in Maclean's magazine.

Summing up, Mr. Paradis brought out the obvious fact that the Jaycees have been a free-wiry organization in the Town of St. Paul with many accomplishments to their credit deviation in the years have always applied to the best of their ability and in the interest of the public.

GOLF CURSE

It was agreed that the Jaycees will continue to operate the Golf Course this year, but at the same time try and abolish the curse of golf. A new executive who will eventually assume full responsibility for the sport, Jaycees to operate at a time of controversy to prevent any of the executive and are only interested in golf while it can help the town and to the community.

Notice of motion was received that at the next meeting, Tuesday, May 8, the big question of forming the July 1st Baseball tournament will be thoroughly discussed.

Fish & Game Association Organized At BCAF Cold Lake Airbase

Alberta, how the government was trying to keep a good supply of game by stocking fish, birds and fur game, the depleted areas for the engagement of both fishermen and hunters. He said that he was "pleased to see the organization in addition to wildlife through its membership in the Fish and Game. The co-operation received will be appreciated."

Mr. George Cyr, Regional Representative of the Fish and Game from St. Paul spoke on conservation and wildlife. His talk dealt with the duties and how the fish and game officers carry out their duties. He also spoke on assisting in policies to the Provincial Game Board of Alberta.

Flight Lieutenant W. H. Mantyka was Master of Ceremonies for the evening he kept lively with interesting wildlife films interspersed with the talks and draws for door prizes.

Flight Sergeant Beaver-Jones signed on membership; F/L A. W. Bradley set up a sportsmen club with Captain Doug Uncle Ben's of Edmonton; and the Bay Woods took out of retrenchment.

Flight Sergeant O'Neil was host for the evening and in charge of organization. Mainly on help of FS Hayes, WO2 Jones, S/L Banning and Cpl. Lewis.

Baseball Under Consideration

held w-st Sunday This morning delivered "Y" comments because cause of cold weatherin and is definitely unscheduled for Sunday, April 29 at St Paul

We shall line up loads to get out to the game and have a good time. Let's have a full turnout with a few potential players, good showing is indicated.

Flight Lieutenant W. H. Mantyka was Master of Ceremonies for the evening he kept lively with interesting wildlife films interspersed with the talks and draws for door prizes.

Flight Sergeant Beaver-Jones signed on membership; F/L A. W. Bradley set up a sportsmen club with Captain Doug Uncle Ben's of Edmonton; and the Bay Woods took out of retrenchment.

Flight Sergeant O'Neil was host for the evening and in charge of organization. Mainly on help of FS Hayes, WO2 Jones, S/L Banning and Cpl. Lewis

Pitchers present the biggest obstacle, but the field is being searched for supplementary help.

Last year's fanatical statement showed a back balance of 40c to start the ball rolling this year.

Friendship Club Honors Members

Friendship Club met on the theme of the evening, Tuesday, April 17th, when Mrs. J. Langlois entertained at her home in honor of Mrs. Cyril Gaquet's birthday.

Arrangement of the game by Mrs. Bercier, Mrs. Gaquet, Mrs. Castle Langlois rendered beautiful selections from Lily Pad reporter, Miss Paulette Gaudreau sang Lullaby and played the piano, to the delight of everyone present.

For the festive evening a two-candle birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Jean Dubuc, chairman of the evening.

Other members present were Mrs. Albert Beauregard, Mrs. Bd. Boothillier, Mrs. Paul Dubuc, Mrs. Ed. Johnson, Miss Ellen Kobrak Noisy instructress.

I Was A Farmer
before going into the insurance business.

There is a very good reason for this statement. We are all farmers at at least 3 generations back. Now the point of all this is let's help our farmer association organize in whichever form organization will answer, plish the soonest the quickest and

The conditions under which farmer is operating today will put him out of business very soon. It has often been said that if the business men pitched in and helped much would be accomplished. Here is one business man who is quite willing to help as much as I can afford.

This space will be available for the above purpose for an indefinite period.

School Election Ruled Invalid Seat Vacated

Irregularities Proven At Polling Stations

Election for School Trustee of Division 1 on the St. Paul rural school District No. 48 was declared invalid and the seat held by R. O. Slonh was ordered vacated by His Honour Judge Peter Grosbeck in the district court sittings when the case was heard Tuesday morning.

Submissions to contest the election held on February 16 was filed by Mr. Mike Brenda, a qualified elector of Ashmont, who in a signed affidavit alleged irregularities at the polling stations.

It was proven that all of the 14 polls, names and residence of voters had not been properly entered and that at Ashmont and Carroll Creek at least four ineligible voters have received ballots on which the asterisks and is designated were placed before the casting of which ballots had a determining influence on the election of one or the other candidate

Mr Mike Shepperd and R. D. Sloan, two of four candidates had lead with 171 votes each. It was elected in accordance to the school Act which states the candidate whose name appears first, is elected in the case of a tie. The validity of the vote was also questioned on the affidavit.

Other candidates in the election were John Connor and Robert B. Evans.

No blame was placed on any of the candidates for the irregularities and Judge Grosbeck stated there was definitely no intent to defraud the voters. Judge Grosbeck in his ruling stated that the returning officer, Mr. Ed Lavoie, and the deputy returning officers, Mrs. Ann Koop and Mrs. Cyril Gaquet, were not to blame for the irregularities.

Costs of $175.00 were allowed by the judge, costs to be paid by the Division. $100.00 was fixed by the Bencher's counsel and $75.00 on behalf of expense to the successful.

BEAUTIFICATION TIME

Beautification and clean up campaigns are the same old story every year as the window dressings and the general decoration of refuse and garbage stare at us in all its disorder.

To the greater number of citizens, personal pride of their own property, naturally and quietly drives them to undertake a rake and scabby equipment to tidy up the place for the summer But there are always a few delinquents and these must be personally reminded.

Preventical stems in one of the main functions of beautification. A slum is hard to recognize at its early stages of development. They begin with ordinary neglect of property, lack of paint and lack of proper repair and maintenance. Left too long, the remedy involves a major operation instead of a simple prevention.

Each year the loss through fires in Canada amounts to an average of 300 million More than 1,000 fires take place each week and each year more than 6000 Canadians lose their lives in fires Most fires are caused by carelessness or negligent. Good housekeeping and proper home maintenance could have prevented many of these fires or restricted their spread. An annual Beautification Campaign is a yearly reminder to the homeowner that fire prevention is his responsibility

Shrewdly garbage receptacles or none at all with all the germ carrying elements strewn about are a great breeding ground The town collector picks up all garbage at least once a week and all householders should generously co-operate with garbage cans to hold what they normally use The town of St. Paul at present is not permitting the sale of convenient oil drums for the purpose, at the very low price of $1.50 There is no more excuse of shortage of receptacles.

If you have to burn dry grass, by all means do it, but be careful! It would be wise to phone the fire hall and let them stand by, just in case. Last week four grass fires got out of hand. One home caught fire and although it did not burn, the damage caused in controlling the fire unnecessarily messed up the house with a certain amount of inconvenience.

The town were brought under control, but had the alarm come at night it might have been serious.

Environment is important. It is worth while remembering that whatever appears near your home presents will judge your own character and reflect the standard of the town. Let's all turn out to do our share and contribute to the wholesome appearance of our town.

FIRE RACES

The fire truck driver, rushing to a fire, recently and this complaint is come with us.

With town full open down main street, he came upon a motorist attempting a left turn, signalling with the dear wide open. The driver got flustered, stalled his car and a jam ensued, causing the loss of precious minutes.

The warning has been issued before and it made again When you hear the fire siren, pull over to the side don't try to beat it to the scene as a spectator you are only in need your help As a matter of fact you become a big nuisance

THE DUST PROBLEM

From now, to mud and dust is a vicious cycle we span around from year to year

The problem is discussed and mentioned every day almost anyone going into action attention to it. Last week at the Townsmen's ever regular club meeting, one of the speakers chose it as a subject for expression during a five minute speech Its presentation was no good and timely at a season when we are covered by dust with the passing of every vehicle that all stood up and took notice

It was mentioned that it is detrimental to health, to property, to clothing, to merchandise, to a traffic hazard, and generally very unpleasant to live and to see, and rope with

The one and only real solution naturally is pavement The hope was entertained at one time that the provincial Department of Public Works would hard surface our main street, because highway 28 goes through town. But the Department of Highways will not hard surface its section of a town road which is a highway until it reaches the centre in its normal course of laying the entire highway surface How long will it take before such crews have building grade around Smoky Lake arrive on St Paul? Maybe these four five or more years So, that's out unless we are prepared to wait

The town has discussed several schemes, but to date none have been practical Always looking forward to the day the highway will be a reality, town council has decided to wait, just in the hope that some day it will be done at Provincial expense

In the meantime, indefinquate watering of streets in summer has never given the least satisfaction, and business men and homeowners are left to deplore the dust year after year

Are we rolling around to another year of dust or is somebody going to do something about it

BICYCLES ON SIDEWALKS

Two-wheel bicycles have no business on sidewalks. There is a town by-law which prohibits their use on sidewalks, but apparently it has never been read, noted or posted and is never enforced

Numerous are the complaints we receive regarding down a sidewalk wrapped with small children and adults in a definite menace It may not hit but in many instances it can cripple and administer a severe blow to the unfortunate in its path

Parents whose children pedal their way to school or down town should warn them to use the proper travel artery — the roads.

Police have been clamping down on motorists the past week, and the Town authorities would do well to have them check our three-speed bicycle riders as well.

A full course of instruction on the rules of safety might help them grow into better car drivers for the future land. Fuel was to investigate while she planned it.

Immediate Appeals allowed $200 for damages.

Burning of dry grass was nearly disasterous to the home of Frank Pudlash, when fire leaped between the walls of his stucco home through a crack, on Saturday afternoon.

Damage was caused to all parts of the house and made it difficult for firemen to find out where the main part of the fire was Water between the walls quenched the fire it scarcely but the plaster flames member around the corner of the house, following the paper underneath. Entire brought under control after repeated attempts and a number of holes chopped through the wall.

And then came the call to Mitch Skaupy's where fire from his garbage can had spread into Frank Plesh's back yard and was running wild in all directions.

Sunday noon, a similar grass fire caused alarm behind Chief Simon Bachiew's house, requiring assistance from the fire brigade.

Information To Lincoln Municipality

Lindbergh, Alta.
April 23, 1946

St. Paul Journal,
St. Paul, Alberta.

Dear Sirs:

This is an open letter to all ratepayers and electors of the area formerly known as the Lindbergh Municipality

I have been requested by a large number of you ratepayers to try and organize a meeting to discuss the predicament we are in, regarding municipal affairs and mounting taxes, however, time and patience is nothing for the amount of taxes we pay

As you all know the Lakeside Municipality was in very good shape considering we were through one of the worst depressions in history Taxes were low and services good, we even had drainage on our roads before we were forced into the enlarged St Paul Municipality

Now I would suggest that Lindbergh and Marshall Districts as Range 6, Ferguson Flats and Lindbergh districts in range 5 and Frog Lake and Hornsbury districts in range 4 hold their own meetings and discuss their own affairs, and if it is found that a majority of more of the taxpayers will stark together then maybe something may come and a general meeting organized.

All I know so far is that the Lakeside Municipality, and the Pembina Municipality voted to be put into a Local Improvement District, during the past year and were unsuccessful.

Maybe a County System would be better Write and get information and discuss everything thoroughly at your meetings.

I am sure all our taxes are due for another large increase, either through higher assessed valuation or increased mill rate, so watch your tax notices carefully and don't wait until you are taxed out of existence

Yours Truly,
J. A. Young

J. Buchans Speaks On Budget In House Of Commons Debate

Following are excerpts of a speech made in the House of Commons and recorded in Hansard of April 22nd, Mr. Buchans is Member of Parliament for Medicine.

Mr. Speaker, when I came into the house a few moments ago in hopes that you would give me the privilege of the floor tonight, and I opened this lobby file, my young friend from Fort William (Mr. Melver) passed the remark that he hoped I was not going to read a speech on the budget, and I do not intend to begin tonight My eyesight is not as good as that of some hon members who stand straight up and read every line of their speeches Last on the desk I will admit that the style I use might not read so well in Hansard, but I assure you that it will be my own thoughts and the things I believe

I hesitated to ask you for the privilege of speaking tonight and during the time of this house, Mr. H. S. Bennett, who knew something about figures, started to my hon friend the former member for Terrebonne, about 1921, that the total cost of the sittings of parliament at that time was between $1,200 and $1,200 an hour counting all the printing of Hansard, the indirect cost, we can't exite staff and everything else that goes with it would be to-day Mr Speaker, I just submit to you that at this session so far the speeches I have heard during speeches, I doubt that I have heard that that is worth $1,000 an hour

But to-day I go my further I want to bring something to your attention sir, which I think would have a bearing on the question of privilege My comments are those of a man who has sat in this assembly for many years, who has many years before sat in the legislature assembly of Alberta, whose district has had large representation and was a member of the first administration that was turned under the Quebec Act I wish to say that I have resented very much the accusation that has been made that we over here are not patriotic enough, that we are pot followers.

In order to base my argument on the proper ground I should like to refer to the remarks of Monsieur, while still alive, to the Public Accounts Committee regarded the English forces after the death of General Wolfe, with respect to what was understood at the time the so-called conquered race became part of the British people It is on record that Monsieur said:

"Monsieur, the humanity of the English who say mixed at peace conversing the fate of the French prisoners as," the Canadians."

They were already a French Canadian nation then. They understood him too.

"Fast toward them as but they have caused me to feel De not let them get powerful that they have changed masters Be their protector as I have been their father."

I believe, sir, these words of Monsieur Montcalm are found in the records of this house because as a result of his efforts we have succeeded, through many years of struggle, in becoming a united and independent nation. We remember that some time ago the Minister of Agriculture made a speech at a convention. He said that he had read the speech of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1896 so much he supported the thought that there would be so many people coming to the great lakes in 1896 so there would be room of the great lakes. Unfortunately, with all his vision and his genius Sir Wilfrid could not know that there would be two terrible conflicts in the meantime which would change the course of events and prevent this great growth of the western provinces.

Now, sir, I have had the misfortune of famine one of the best men, a man that I had known for many years as premier, by the name of Brownlee, and Premier Dunning, later What a tremendous job later did during the war! And I am not ashamed and now we have the present Minister of Finance (Mr. Ilsley) in spite of anything that had been said in connection with conditions under which the budget was brought down with as every hon member of this house knows the danger of inflation, The hon member for Fort William predicated exactly what the minister has done, and the way he has done it they all criticized him for it, and when he had done so I join his name with those of those other great ministers of finance, and I refer to no one more than I am proud of him and we are all proud of him.

Mr. Fraser (Peterborough): Say a word for Walter

Mr. Buchans: The greatest asset I know is to spend the money over to all in Canada and not cost you anything You can stand up and say: Why do you not spend money on this, why not do this, why not do that, why do you not increase family allowances, why not do you increase old age pensions, why do you not raise the price for this and a grant for that? It is no more to be the opposition and not have to raise the dollar with which to do these things

We have been accused of being irresponsible I have given some very up record. I think I know what responsibility means as a public man. In 1932 I had an opportunity of irresponsible some people can be in order to win votes and obtain a member You remember the great promise that was made by the Leader of the Opposition that if he were elected he would reduce expenditures by half a billion dollars. There was a gentleman in Edmonton, a friend of mine whom I will not name, who knew he could not be elected but thought he might try to see whatever Tory forces were left in that corner of the world. A week later he came to see me. He had read the paper and he said to me, "The man who is going to reduce taxation and expenditure by half a billion dollars has just gone into Saskatchewan and said that if he is elected he will immediately contract the South Saskatchewan river dam, estimated to cost $300 million, in order to elect one fisherman in Cold fisherman." He said, "I am not going to run. I cannot understand that how can you reduce expenditure by half a billion and then spend $300 million more? Even a school child in the second grade would not swallow that."

As I entered the house the other day I saw a map which was ordered by a friend of mine, engraved in the grounds on the west side of the east door, that motto which is to you, "Where there is no vision the people perish." Sir I wish to present this to-night. I wish to argue, to reason out, to demand that the great railway companies of this country keep their word to the people of the northern part of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, given at the time they entered into their agreements and received charters from this parliament. They promised to construct lines nearly of the Saskatchewan and Beaver rivers.

This may seem to be a local matter to some hon members, but I say to you that there is a region 1,500 miles or more wide with unlimited possibilities. It is the gateway to the great mineral land through the Athabaska river. The region extends from Churchill through Prince Albert and my country into the Athabaska, Lac La Biche and the Peace river country. At Prince Albert

FLOOD WATERS CONTINUE TO RISE OVER SOUTHERN MANITOBA

Many farming communities around Winnipeg are completely flooded and 27 miles of dykes are being built to a level of 26 feet to keep the city from disaster. At Portage La Prairie 35 miles west of Winnipeg, to be just in the Assiniboine river threatened to crumble all the dykes with its mounting pressure The town, as shown here, is already flooded.

—Canada Wide Cartoon

Alberta that we should return the natural rights to the owners of the soil I got no support except from a few Right at this moment when everybody is up in arms we are going back 45 years It is reciprocity all over again. no truck or trade with the Yankees, the Yankees are going to capture Canada the Yankees are going to make us so rich that we will be unable to remain free Forty-five years ago the same arguments was used

I took part in the election in 1911 If we had followed the suggestion I made, namely that the owners of the soil should be the owners of the mineral rights there would have been a tremendous difference in the outcome of the administration of these vast mineral resources in 80 per cent of the cities those material resources belong to the owners of the soil It did not stop the development for from it it grew the settlers, the farmers, the local businessmen, a stake in the

you have the choice of two routes. One is by the north end of the great lakes and the new St. Lawrence seaway and the other one leading to Hudson bay and Churchill.

In Alberta in 1931 I seconded a motion to make Churchill a free port of entry They thought I was a dreamer and that it was impossible Yet if you look at the map for one moment you will realize the tremendous geographical importance of Churchill as a port of entry at Churchill would be one of the cities those material resources belong to the owners of the soil It did not stop the development for from it it grew the settlers, the farmers, the local businessmen, a stake in the

They have heard about the other. Nobody been it up. If we listened to the opposition to-day we would not forever until our Canadian friends our own friends— I do not know where they are, they are certainly not in the Liberal party or if they are they will not help you at election time —until these read men from Canada come along—

An hon. Member: You have forgotten

Mr. Buchans: Did you say something?

An hon. Member: You must have forgotten.

Mr. Buchans: We should have to wait and today the oil would still be there, no development would have taken place

Report Of Fish And Game Ass'n Annual Meeting Held in St. Paul

Following is complete report tabled by Dr. Konnert, at the annual Fish and Game meeting last Monday. We publish the contest in the entirety because of the interesting information and statistics on district fishing.

Trout Stocking

We have been very fortunate in having a local lake stocked with 91,000 fingerling rainbow trout June 1st, 1955. Thelma lake is situated on the S.E. Quarter section 24, township 56, range 9 — 7 miles from St Paul

Our local game officer, Gerry Steenbeeken, tested the lake last October 19th with the following results 4 trout ranging from 6 to 8 ounces each. The provincial zoologist reported the stomach contents to be shrimps, blood worms and minnows.

It is anticipated that the trout will weigh 1½ to 2 pounds this spring, providing of course there is no winter kill.

Fishing on the whole was above average last year, all have the trouble in filling the quota. The following lakes were fished quite extensively

Moose Lake 30 Vincent, Park Lake, Shotsy Lake, Cranes Lake, Wanna Lake (Bullock), Cold Lake, Trout Lake, Long Lake, Island Lake Whitney Lake, Muriel, Beaver Lake and Garner Lake Mann Lake has made a very good comeback since our former Game Officer, F Arseneau did much toward its restocking Lizette were really filled for those fishing through the ice

Rivers

1 Beaver River for the first time for many years, gathered a scalloped Pike were caught

2 Saskatchewan Goldeye This is a good game fish and is considered a great delicacy They are caught only in the North and South Saskatchewan drainages The goldeye is a relatively small fish averaging about one pound in weight inches inches in length and closely resemble that of the mackerel here. These fish provide good angling, rise to a fly or baited hook The smoked and canned meat of this fish is a delicacy not soon forgotten

3 Cold River Lake trout

Lakes

All anglers 18 years of age and over must have a license ($1.00) the same for residents of non residents, substituting the foregoing years with six inches for anglers fishing in our trout waters The previous years required anglers to be in possession of a $2.50 license for trout only This year the $1.00 fee covers all fishing with the exception of areas inside provincial parks Angling permits are not valid in the national parks of Canada

There is no closed season for any fish including trout

Limits

Per Day Catch Limits:

1 Trout, Grayling and Rocky Mountain Whitefish 15 fish of one species only or 15 aggregate subject to a catch limit of 20 pounds of trout

2 Lake Trout 10 fish only

3 Pike and Pickerel 15 fish of one species or 15 aggregate

4 Perch and Goldeye 25 fish of one species or 25 aggregate

5 Pike, Pickerel, Perch and Goldeye 25 in the aggregate

Possession Limit:

2 days catch where possession taken to prevent wastage

Minimum Size Limit:

LABOR MERGER RUNS INTO STORM IN CONVENTION

Calm beginning soon changed to storm at the meeting of union members from all over Canada at which an agreement to merge into one single Labor body was considered.

Dispute arose when delegates to the Toronto convention wished to discuss and alter clause in the constitution for the new labor body which had already been drawn up at previous CCL and TLC conventions, where decision to merge had been made Although the rank and file delegates were not all in accord, top union leaders from both major labor bodies were in complete agreement on the terms of the merger. What A Man

All through the centuries man has marvelled at what man has made in the Pyramids, the Taj Mahal the Leaning Tower of Pisa, Boulder Dam, New York's skyscrapers the jet planes, the atom bomb. Yet of all the wonders of the world the most amazing, and the least known about, is man himself. We have become more used to marvel at the works of man without giving a thought to what makes the man tick. Maybe it's because all the outstanding processes of the human body take place from day to day without any conscious thought or effort on our part.

Put your arm out in front of you, turn a side your fingers and at a time. Incredible isn't it? The desire to move your fingers originated in the conscious brain but its impulses were travelled down the spinal cord and out over the nerves supplying the arm and these impulses caused the fingers to move in just the manner you willed.

All of the internal glands and organs are controlled in just the same manner, but by the unconscious brain. Millions of nerve impulses are constantly travelling to and fro over the nervous system. These impulses are the driving force that keeps all the glands and organs functioning in harmony with conditions outside and inside the body. And all of such is so fast in some nerve fibres to carry their full quantity of impulses.

But what happens when a spinal vertebra becomes displaced causing pressure on the spinal cord? Certain nerves are squeezed and rendered impotent of supplying their essential impulses. In turn the glands, organs and muscles supplied by these nerves are deprived of their control mechanisms, and sickness or pain takes follows. No pressure cure for such a condition is possible, until the displaced vertebra is restored to its normal position, and that task is the special concern of the Chiropractor.

No matter what your symptoms may be, if you are sick or your Chiropractor and make sure that all is well with your nervous system. It holds the key, the only key, to good health.

BECAME TEACHER BY ONE DAY

Examination of the eyes at school teachers in Ontario proves that Brenda Vets, left is the youngest in the province. She turned 17 last Aug. 31, and according to the rules of the department of education, she would have been ineligible to teach if her birthday had been on Sept. 1. Two-thirds of the staff of the Ontario school where she teaches are 17-year-olds. Their classes range from eight to 13 years. With Brenda is Varta Johnson, principal of the school.

Elected Head Board Of Trade

At the annual meeting of the St. Lake Board of Trade, Mr. W. H. Sutton was re-elected president for his twelfth consecutive year. Mr. Sutton, an active member of his small community has been a member and promoter of community affairs considerably in his years in St. Lake. He is well qualified by position as that capacity.

Mr. Lionel Magnus was named Vice-President and Paul Emile Ouellette, Sec.-Treas.

The meeting discussed road conditions in the district and concurred itself with the route of HIGHWAY 28 on to Cold Lake. Further meetings will be held on the subject.

The Board of Trade agreed to sponsor the St. Lina Baseball Club. An executive for this organization was named in the person of Mark Kwasnitza, manager; Walter Belgrad, assistant manager and Pat Charlotte, Secretary-Treasurer.

Lady Bowlers End Season

The Ladies Bowling League finished its exciting season of bowling with a complimentary banquet held at the Lavoie on Thursday, April 26th. The occasion was well attended with 82 ladies present.

Mrs. S. Cooper welcomed the ladies and congratulated them on the large attendance and the good sportsmanship shown during the season.

Mrs. W. Conroy gave the financial position of the league after paying for the banquet and the prizes there was some money left, to be used for bowling tournament to be held within the next few weeks.

The teams to win first place—Misses Jane Seegert, Mary Bisgrat, Olga Fedchuk, Dillys Bodner and Mary Elnik were presented with corsages by Mrs. P. Bayshuk. Mrs. Bayshuk announced that because of the delay of the individual trophies donated by the Lacombe Bowling Alley, the ladies would receive them at the tournament.

Mrs. Conroy presented the second place team — Mrs. M. Bayshuk, Mrs. Leo Lambert, Mrs. Mary Olenuk, Miss Sally Donaldson and Evelia Fedorchuk — with bowling bags.

Prizes were given by Mrs. Cuningo to Mrs. B. Girard's team for having the high team triple game, and the high team single game. Miss Claire Fontaine and Mrs. M Bayshuk each received a prize for the same high average. Mrs. M Dauchuk was another prize for the high triple game.

Mrs. S. Cooper received a prize donated by Mrs Wm Gutheridge for the highest single game. Hidden prizes were drawn by Miss Julie Wolenski, Miss Marie Gessner Mrs George Moser, Mrs P. Bayshuk and Mrs. Tony Yanchyshyn.

Mrs. P. Bayshuk, on behalf of all the ladies of the Bowling League, presented Mrs. Conroy and Mrs. Cooper with a gift, in appreciation for their joint effort in making the Ladies Bowling League a success for the year 1955-56.

St. Paul Reach $3000 Quota

A total of $3000 has been collected so far in the St. Paul campaign for funds according to returns listed at the Divisional Office on Tuesday up to and including a donation of $1000 for this area is $3000.

The Provincial quota is $863,-000 of which the following has been collected: Calgary $152,-910, Southern Branches $54,132, Edmonton $131,870, Northern Branches $24,130, other $7324.13. Totalling $380,365.64.

It is expected that the full quota will be reached during the year for the books are kept open until Dec 31 However, Branches are being urged to complete their quotas as quickly as possible in order not to infringe on other charities.

It is suggested that other worthier and rural conditions have created, there will be many more returns being reported.

GOODRIDGE NEWS

If the weather forcast over the air was correct for Lake La Biche or Cold Lake district it would give the people in the north district have a more accurate statement on what the weather is going to be.

It is now good to have our roads open again after being shut in for so long.

There were quite a number of people from the north purchasing their car licenses this week for the reason for the last day rush so that they wouldn't get out before.

Farmers and residents of the district were invited to hear an address and film on barley agents and to educate of grains scheduled for Wednesday, May 9th., 7:00 p.m. Speaker will be Mr. Stan Powers, Field Supervisor of the M.D. of St. Paul.

NORTH BAY PLANS BRIGHT FUTURE

Plans made for North Bay, Ont., by the city fathers will see it the biggest northern metropolis between Sudbury and Manitoba, if they materialize. One of the major projects in the city is the multi-million dollar civic centre building, whose model is admired by Lana Collins and Jane Dorsen, but that is but one of the many entertaining projects scheduled for the next 10 years. Mayor Merle Dickerson hopes to see the city's boundaries extended to include several townships and in that event North Bay would be the only city in the world where a person can, within the city limits, fish salmon, hunt bears get lost in the bush or visit a modern colony.

Continues To Pay Bounty

It was announced today by the Honourable Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests that the Department of Lands and Forests has decided to continue for one more year the program of paying bounty on crows and magpies at five cents per pair of feet up to a maximum of ten thousand dollars. The campaign will be carried on as in the past by the Alberta Fish and Game Association and its locals.

The department will continue to study and review the outcome of the campaign in order to properly evaluate any benefical result. The study made so far by the department would indicate that a planned campaign against crows and magpies will produce better results at much less cost. The department will give serious consideration to abandoning the present program in favour of a planned campaign against these predators.

Investigations carried out in various parts of North America indicate that the bounty system is not serving its purpose. In Alberta a planned campaign against crows can be extremely successful and the cost much lower than the former system of paying bounty. Mr Willmore said that this type of predator control campaign can be applied and concentrated very effectively in the areas where it is required the most.

TO THE HOUSEMAKER
by MRS ELSIE NICHOLAS
Director Home Economist
St. Paul

Every year about the time models of household equipment appear in full force.

This year the most radical change in the ranges is the electronic oven. It will probably remain just news to the average family as it is very much in the high price bracket at present. However, it may be interesting to discuss anyway. The cooking time with this type of oven is unbelievably reduced. A larger cake is completely baked in three minutes. The biscuits placed in the oven directly from the freezer are steaming hot in ten seconds.

Furthermore, only the food gets hot in an electronic oven. Therefore the kitchen does not get hot either. Enough of that.

There are a number of new features in the ordinary electric ranges also. One manufacturer has developed the thermo control units which control the temperature of your top units. That is what they call "creative cooking" for no one has to look at the food until it is cooked.

One make this year has a vertical smokeless broiler which broils in both sides at once, thus cutting broiling time in half. The "elevator oven" has a 20 inch high work surface top. At the touch of a switch the oven will rise 15 inches or may be dropped at any height in between. It provides working surface as well as an oven and the lots a base cabinet when lowered.

This brief sketch mentioned a few of the main new features to watch for if in the market for a new electric range.

Disabilities Which Do Not Permit Correction

We have talked about drivers' disabilities which do not permit correction. Now I wish to mention drivers disabilities which do not permit correction.

You can readily understand that any physical disabilities which cannot be corrected or compensated for are dangerous, not only to the person who drives but to the public as well.

There are five common disabilities which people have that should disqualify them from driving.

1. Epilepsy
2. Insanity
3. Paralysis
4. Syphilis
5. Heart Trouble

Most of these are almost impossible to detect by the person's appearance. Employers hiring drivers have to rely on the employee's statement of his physical history or get a Medical Report.

Let's look at the five more closely

Epilepsy

These are attacks which result in a period of unconsciousness. Minor attacks can produce brief periods of unconsciousness, completely out of control. In most cases epilepsy does not give its victim a warning of attack. There is absolutely no way or means of compensating for this disability. Anyone who is subject to attacks should voluntarily surrender their driving privileges, not only for their own protection, but the protection of others as well.

Insanity

Mild cases, difficult to detect, could be a menace to highway safety. Definite cases, of course are prevented from driving because their appearance and mental state of the victim are so obvious.

Paralysis

This is certainly serious loss of muscular control. Cases vary. When certain muscles are affected, safe driving is impossible.

Syphilis

This in certain forms effects the brain causing unpredictable, tenacious reactions. This disease, if affecting the spinal cord, can incapacitate a driver.

Heart Trouble

The heart that is weak, or in fact any serious disorder can cause a sudden collapse without warning. This, like epilepsy, is dangerous to the public as well as its victim.

You can readily see that anyone suffering from any of these ailments should not drive by choice of his own free will.

OBITUARY

On April 13th Mrs. Cecile Imbeau of Malling passed away at the age of 66.

She leaves to mourn their loss, 3 sons, Gustave, Ernest and Alfred, 2 daughters, Mrs. Walter Charlette of Base St Catherine, Quebec, Mrs. Joseph Charlette of Tadousac, Quebec also 27 grandchildren and 127 great grandchildren.

The St. Paul Jaycettes held, chairman of the evening, called their annual banquet recently at the Dunvald Hotel Banquet Hall at seventeen were present for the festivities.

Two guests were invited to participate, namely Mrs. R. Bowland and Miss. P. Bowland. These two ladies have been giving a home to the Jaycettes at the Public Library effort and their assistance is very much appreciated by the club.

Mrs. Lionel Thorton, who was president of the organization last year and has again consented to head the administration for another year was presented with a lovely cadenza corsage by Mr. O'Brien.

Following a sumptuous dinner served by the Dunvald Cafe staff, Mrs Bagan the

Tens of school days, due to the bad roads and heavy snow conditions during the winter were the cause of anxiety to rural parents who wanted to have their sons and girls academic standing equally matched with their fellow pupils.

Mr. H. Beattie School Supervisor addressed those up to answer the meeting's queries he said that the Department have given instructions to fill out special report forms during the days of interruption in classes. In cases where parents are unable to be contacted because of impassable road conditions the child will be promoted and special examinations will be avoided.

A note will be given with recommendation to the next grade teacher to brush up on the weak points at the start of the new term.

Mr. Beattie also stated that Mr. R. Harris who will be on Edmonton at the time of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Conference, will be able to arrive again from the St. Paul area.

Dr. Lois Trotter was guest speaker with an enlightening address on cancer research. He explained the work of the Lewis Society and how its funds were used mainly through research in the control of the disease.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dreger, Secretary recorded deliberations of the meeting.

the St Lats Board of Trade Mr William Sutton, its president, told the meeting that sportsmen in St. Lats were interested in stocking at least one of the numerous lakes in that area. He received assurance from game warden Gerry Steenbeem that the lakes would be tested and an investigation made into the possibilities.

Radio Lessons. for the big game examination, rested that the 100 Elks attended, north of here in 1964-56, the majority of had been able to survive and were thriving. Of the 1966 crop of 17 released this spring, three are reported to have died from injuries received during transportation.

During the year complaints were heard that many of these animals were molested by farmers and hunterment, and in one instance it had been alleged an airborne pilot had strafted a herd of Whats these were investigated, all foundation had been strictly rumour. Only one man was fined for shooting an Elk. It was proved, however that Elk have helped themselves to the odd farmer's scarce hay stack.

Deer, although not found in abundance was reported fairly well scattered, many of the latter able to long their meat.

W.F. Arcand commented that the pec. situation had not changed too much, there were lots of moose and calgary to be shot and a row shoot again this year would help exterminate these pests. 623 pairs of crows were shot. Judges were turned in to the association last year (Provincial policy on this can be found in addition to the article elsewhere in this paper)

Mr. Ray Fraser said that the Municipal program of bounties had continued to help the chrysalene pellets had paid off almost 20 per cent in the destruction of worms, adding that crows and magpies are also responsible for the destruction of a and many had been destroyed by the trapping down on the potato.

Migratory Birds

Migratory birds were found in considerable number this year, said Gertrain reporting on the situation. Although there was a drop in many ducks, no geese were in evidence Most migratory birds left early because of the pre maturity snow falls in October Upland game birds are very scarce by biologists and field men although the numbers are not favorable, the range and birds have been released in the last few years.

Dr Tenove's report on fish will be found elsewhere.

Quick Repair on Brook

A break in the water main in front of Andre Joly's passed by hardly noticed Monday evening when it was discovered at about 8 p.m. and repaired overnight. The Fortune Publishers Ltd. was about 3 hours and by 9:15 in the morning all services were back to normal Only two blocks to affected.

The break erupted water to the surface and washed up mud to such an extent that Mr. Joly's lawn got down quickly. The first attempt was a few feet off, and on extra hole had to be dug to make the trip crews to get at the source

Jaycees Plan $2,000 Ball Tournament
St. Paul JOURNAL
Volume 21, No 19 THE JOURNAL, ST. PAUL, ALBERTA THURSDAY MAY 16th, 1968

Helicopter Flies Mercy Mission

Eight Teams Will Participate In 2-Day Tourney

Scheduled For July Second and Third

St. Paul Jaycees in steering session, Tuesday evening voted to sponsor a July 1st Baseball Tournament and reduce the prize money from $3,000 to $2,500. Three schools of thought crystallized on the floor — the first to maintain the high standard of previous years, the second a middle of the road proposal of $2500 and the third a proposal that finally prevailed after a heated discussion, and a small majority

Four ten-man teams expressed at the pre-meeting dinner-meeting as the forming district's contenders. Last year's squad from local people who had its influence of the Jaycees who remember how well the club suffered last year and the debt accumulated — one they are still struggling to pay off.

Because July 1st falls on a Sunday and the Dominion holiday is automatically and officially celebrated on the following Monday, May 2nd, the tournament will start on that day and finish on Tuesday, May 3rd.

Eight teams will participate, to qualify with $200.00 entry fee First prize money will be $700.00, second $500.00, third $300.00, and fourth $250.00, and each of the losing teams a $100.00 refund

Set Membership For Golf Club

St. Paul Jaycees who received a number of journalistics over the St. Paul Golf Course, in public approval of golfers at a recent meeting, event shows Thursday night to organize their ensuing year's program

Golfing membership was set at the basic rate of $15.00 per person and an additional $5.00 for a family membership for women's wife and dependents. Junior membership for juveniles are not members will be announced later.

Executive to head the operation will be led by George Parrot, Ted Parsons, Raymond Lee, Stan Powers and Albert Thompkay.

Preliminary step of soliciting membership for the club was delegated to Albert Thompkay, Jacie Letourneau, Bill Shaiun and Damon Bedard. They will call upon regular golfers outside the Jaycees to get them a hand

The five holes on the course are taking shape and golfers were out this week practising their swings. However, there is still the question of four holes to complete the nine and the full re-opening of the course is necessary to the success of the golf course. Voluntary labor is needed and will be greatly appreciated.

10th Annual Airforce Day Set For June 9th

Canada's 10th annual Airforce Day will be held this year on Saturday, June 9th.

Last year RCAF Stations across the country will be holding open houses to allow the public to see for themselves a part of the activities and progress of their Airforce.

The aim of Air Force Day is to enable Canadians to become more familiar with its operation and to maintain an active interest in matters which Canadians are on well tested.

For the second year RCAF officers and men of the Cold Lake Station which held its inaugural day for the first time last year, invites the public of this district to visit one of the most modern air training stations in Canada.

Volunteer Transfusions To Help Mayor's Wife

Station Medical Officers Aid With Three Airmen Contributing Blood

Responding to an emergency call placed by Dr. Devine on behalf of Mrs. Julia Elko, wife of Mayor Helmut Elko, a helicopter flew into St. Paul Monday morning at 11:46 with three volunteers: a team of Canadian Armed Forces Medical Officers and a nurse, all stationed at CFB Cold Lake.

The appeal for medical help went through at 10:00 a.m. to Squadron Leader R. A. Armstrong, Station Medical officer at the short time at his disposal he arranged the three men of matching blood types and got them ready for the trip.

Chosen were Cpl. Tom Owen, LAC D. Whitehead and LAC R. Goodwin, who had to be requisitioned off their normal duties to make the mercy flight. Added to round four Flight Lieutenant of the whole blood was made by Dr. Devine at the hospital with the help of Dr. Russ and Dr. Ken Bradaw.

The Helicopter, one of the larger rescue type a Piasecki with ten seats and extra fuel tanks, piloted by Flying Officer Sam Hall, with Sgt. Lloyd as complement of pilot, co-pilot and two crewmen, left at 11:50 a.m. and almost twelve men aboard, including several transients.

The trip from the Cold Lake Airforce Base to St. Paul and back north by road, took 48 minutes by helicopter. The flight speed of 85 knots, equivalent to about 97 miles per hour.

Corporal Jim Baer, a regular crew member of the Helicopter, explained that the aircraft can carry 14 passengers or twelve litter cases if only the crew members The stretchers are lined on both sides of the fuselage and can be slung in north fashion above

The machine has a special rescue hatch from which a hoist and lower a rescue basket or a specially constructed stretcher when necessary. It can also be lowered from the ground The hoist is controlled from above by the pilot and co-pilot and has a safe load of 600 lbs.

The basic crash-rescue helicopter is also equipped with various types of World War I and assistance with Prefect Fowler's Department of Mines and Technical Surveys.

Pallbearers were Comrades Wilf Arsenault, Phil Demers, Tom Donaldson, Robert Dreson, Maurice Mallais, Lawrence Berge

Comrade De LaSalle had expressed the wish that the Legion take part in the funeral services and arrangements for the Legion Service at the graveside at which some twenty wreaths and crosses were made by Comrade Peter Novichuk Past Chairman.

The service was conducted by Comrade Norman Slater after which the Poppy Ritual was observed. The Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Bugler-Trumpeter Wilfred Large from Blue Quills School

Many beautiful floral tributes were received.

To all surviving relatives sympathy is extended.

Park Dale Funeral Home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Agricultural Society Plans 2-Day Fair

Members of St. Paul's Agricultural Society supervisory at the times and conditions, moved and approved their plans for the annual exhibition, ruling out an agricultural show, a horse rodeo and other uncertain ventures in an organizational meeting in the Municipal office, Friday evening

Motion was carried that request and offer of Bob Dechene, manager of RBD enterprises, to stage crossbreed performance be rejected and that a bid be issued to have the entertainment required locally on the basis of premiums received by Legion at the Bonnyville Centennial last year.

RBD enterprises have been performing for the past five years in St Paul. They required a guarantee but take the first $250.00 which a portion of the profit goes to the organization, if any ... and there never has been any

Horse racing was ruled out as too expensive and possibilities of a rodeo was also defeated by high cost of production Admission of Girl Guided Midway Shows, paying concession rights of $5,000 and the pending monopolistic nature of their company

Suggestion for dark ear racing were received and this matter will be decided after consultation with the people with an Edmonton racing circuit

Tractor safety demonstrations and agricultural short courses were unanimously considered and there will be the usual stock and farm exhibit attractions

Mr. Marcelle Mailloux, chairman of the Golden Jubilee Committee was present to inform that there is a surplus of $600 available to the society for expenditure on a permanent project, possibly a memorial to the district pioneers. The committee will also have a further surplus of $1,000 which could also be considered for that use with proper approval. A committee was appointed to look into the possibilities.

Dates for the coming fair have been tentatively set for the weekend of August 3rd and 4th ... Saturday and Saturday.

Rudolph Lafrance, President of the Society was chairman and Charles Gouveau, Secretary-manager took the minutes.

NOTICE
wishes to announce that Dr. Blender will be in practice with him for the months of June, July and August.

Old Couple Hospitalized After Truck Collision On Dusty Road West Town

Mr and Mrs. Dan Fika were both admitted to the St. Paul hospital, suffering serious injuries when the right delivery truck they were driving crashed into a one-ton truck driven by Lawrence Bellefeuille in the packed without injury.

The Fika's were in town Thursday evening to attend a banquet and were returning to their home in Elk Point when the accident occurred.

The Bellefeuille truck, hugging the left shoulder to avoid a flipper into the ditch by the upper and suddenly of clouded dust and scattered across and over the ditch.

The left door on the driver's side was hit at a 45 degree angle. The impact threw him to one side of the box off and twisted the frame of the truck The Fika vehicle came to a horizontal standstill across the road, its entire left front side completely crushed The dashboard and the steering wheel were found back, pinning Mr. Fika to the seat, while he was thrown against the windshield.

Al Kirkwood, Highway Traffic Board Inspector was at the first on the scene with Dr. Rudolph Lee who came to give assistance and call Park Dale Ambulance for a rushed trip to St.

Teachers Hear Miss Heenan At 1-Day Institute In St. Paul

Teachers of twenty - seven Inspectorates in St. Paul, Bonnyville and Smoky Lake Divisions, convened for a one-day Institute at the Junior High School on Monday to hear Miss Alice Heenan, an international educational consultant and outstanding lecturer on educational problems.

Miss Heenan, according to Inspector of Schools, Mr. Ken Hall, was brought to Canada by Mr. R. Rourke, Superintendent of Schools, to give valuable informational information in the field of school service. Miss Heenan is a graduate of Oxford University and has had important positions as a principal of a number of schools and supervisory and consultant positions.

Contracted from the United States, Miss Heenan is devoting her time as consultative tours in Canada and Alberta under the sponsorship of W. Gage and Company Limited, publishers, and approval of the Department of Education.

In her opening address during the morning session, Miss Heenan covered "A Review of Primary Reading Skills for Background." Specifically, she emphasized the importance of a happy pleasant relationship between the teacher and the pupil, the teacher's attitude to the pupil, the teacher's attitude to understand the pupil's problems and the importance of a rich background which is essential for future academic development. Miss Heenan also stressed the importance of the child's mother in this.

Children should read because they like to read, from the very develop habit and learn to use the arts and apply them together with life.

Miss Heenan put great stress on the personality of the teacher "She has to be an interesting person". They must, besides the knowledge of their subject, know methods and organization, have a system in their teaching

Teachers must never lose sight of the strengths of teaching, applying, discovering and adapting methods to the needs of the pupil, Miss Heenan declared.

Miss Heenan concluded the morning with a follow-up talk showing that the basic reading program assumes major responsibility for developing the basic understandings of language that are common to the reading done in all areas of the curriculum

There were over 150 teachers in attendance at the institute.

Thanks From Mayor

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Dr. Thorsen Hospital, the Medical Staff and especially officers and men of the RCAF Station Cold Lake for their help and prompt emergency assistance on behalf of my wife, Mrs. Julia Elko, while confined to hospital.

Also, I wish to endorse R/L R. H. Rourke, Indian Affairs Branch, Mr. Ken Hall, Inspector of Schools and LAC R. Goodwin for their donations.

Gratefully
Julia Van Brabant
Mayor of St. Paul.

Commissioner Congratulates St. Paul Brigade

At Annual Banquet And Ball, On Wed.

Fire Commissioner for Alberta, Mr. A. E. Bridges guest speaker at the annual Firemen's Ball held in the Lavoie Hall on Wednesday evening, stated that he was great value in the coordination of fire fighting in Alberta.

He said tribute to the ladies who assisted and cooperated with men in the important work of protecting the community

Mayor Helmut A. Brabant, in extending the welcome to the guests, spoke of the expansion of the town for the work of the Fire Department, and commended the volunteer organization for the fine spirit displayed.

Deputy Mayor Tony Joly, who was Master of Ceremonies, then introduced the town and the department officials present and the new Commissioner. The Town is over watchful of fire protection and will keep up with the times by supplying the best of equipment available.

Fire Chief Phil Germain, took note of increase in occupation of the new Provincial regulations that go with it. He was grateful for the cooperation of the men and had a word of thanks.

Phil gave a brief history of the Fire Department. Records show that in 1913 A Mr Gaither was appointed chief for 6 months in the fall of the same year Puette Bernal was on the job and kept it until 1925. J Dronin succeeded him until

RURAL ELECTIONS

Lawyers taking part in the case, questioning the validity of the recent school election, made reference in the examination to the requirements in the Act and suggested improvements.

The judge was quite in agreement and directed one of the counsel to draft them on paper for attention to the legislative body of the Department of Education and Municipal Affairs.

There is no doubt the act is full of loopholes. Many legal documents are and it is usually a matter of opinion, depending on the views of the judge when interpreting them, whether they are right or wrong. Framing the Act might put many loop holes in it but application is questionable.

The big trouble of irregularities in rural elections lies with the system of appointment. Anybody and everybody is chosen at random, mostly through political influence. The part-a very few Deputy Returning Officers are not briefed on procedure and if they are told to read instructions that go along with the poll books, do not think its worth the trouble for the small remuneration they obtain.

Consequently every election is marred by a number of irregularities—not entering the place of residence of an elector or carrying his eligibility to vote as was proven in the above election. Although it is an accepted fact in most elections, it does not become involved until a close one pops up and one or two votes make a difference in the result.

When that happens, the Division pays for it. The judge usually allows that the court costs for both the realtor and the respondents be paid by the division and in this case amounted to $173.06. The Province naturally has the extra cost of an election afterwards.

Due to the fact that parties involved in these elections are ordinary ratepayers who offer their services for nothing, the ruling has its virtues, but it is definitely faulty to the ratepayers

For a fool proof system, it would be logical to recommend the appointment of qualified Deputy Returning Officers and Poll Clerks with high pay and strong responsibility under the bond of sworn statements and affidavits. That might solve the problem in an expensive way, probably more costly than the parade of having the rural election contested. Although it happened two years in a row for the School Division the agreeable to vary low cost of constitution result.

We don't know all the solutions, but believe that t women should have been learned and regardless of the expense, more care should be taken in the conduct of local elections. Court cases and their consequent involvement leave a bad taste.

GRATITUDE TO AIRFORCE

The night of an RCAF helicopter hovering over St Paul on a recent evening was heartwarming to anxious doctors, relatives, and a great relief to the patient whose life-saving blood is carried on the pontoons of these airborne volunteers.

The citizens of St Paul, on behalf of the patients are appreciative of assistance which preserves good relations between the two and civilians. It gives the comforting assurance that our airforce is at hand to help in peace time and in war.

We in the Cold Lake District may indeed consider ourselves fortunate of this cooperation and assistance we may half spoken to time of emergency.

A hearty thank you to the officers and men of the RCAF Station at Cold Lake.

CAR PARKING

St Paul, like most of the country towns in Alberta is suffering growing pains. And one of these is the parking problem.

Increased production, sales promotion and the fact that a car today is no more a luxury but a necessity for farmers, has created congestion on St Paul's main streets during busy shopping days.

Engineering laws have been advanced that curbs be marked to direct parking in orderly manner, thereby saving a lot of space. Laws have been drawn to force larger setbacks to the side streets for the sake of safe visibility, and needs stricter enforcement.

Co-operation of many St Paul business men and employees would go a long way to help relieve the situation We notice that many of these people come to work early to in the morning when the streets are deserted, park their cars in front of their places of business and leave them there idle for the rest of the day

We believe that, as much as possible, parking facilities on main street should be reserved for the shopping public Business men would be courteous, and use in availing shoppers in their patronage by making it easy for them to park . . . take your own vehicle as the lazy bird and suggest to your employees to do the same . . . it will pay dividends

SPRING CLEANUP

Spring Clean-up Week, to be held from May 13 - 19, will be sponsored by provincial fire departments in a drive to reduce fire losses in Alberta homes.

Fire Commissioner A E. Bridges announced that the annual clean-up campaign will be part of the municipal drive this year to save 8,000 lives that are taken annually by fires in both the United States and Canada Organizations that will be directing the campaign will be the National Fire Protection Association, the International Association of Fire Chiefs, the Dominion Fire Protector on Association, and both Dominion and Provincial Fire Commissioners

As in past years it is expected that chambers of commerce, merchants, industry, service and civic clubs, youth groups, veterans' organizations and women's clubs will lend their support in stressing need of clean-up observations.

According to Fire Commissioner Bridges, the inspection of more than 4,000 homes in 200 Alberta communities last year, helped immeasurably in controlling the outbreak of fires in homes, particularly in those that were inspected for the first time

The main point to be stressed in this year's campaign will be cleaning up of inflammable materials that may have accumulated in attics, closets and basements These materials include such things as oily rags, old linens and clothing, mattresses and wood en furniture curtains, draperies, lampshades, magazines, papers, linoleum and paints

Propaganda To Divide And Weaken West

Disarmament for Kremlin, is nothing more than another propaganda weapon to divide and weaken Western democracies, and to give bars of authority to Moscow phoney "peace" campaign.

Evidence that this is so is found in reports of events at London disarmament talks where proposals put forward by United States, France, UK and Canada have been totally made by Soviet delegates, who have secured diplomatic victory to advancing proposals.

Russian proposals of London disarmament conference merit close scrutiny of for no other reason than that they are diabolically subtle and highly dangerous to free world.

Essence of Russian proposal is that disarmament as possible ban on nuclear weapons be deferred pending the outcome of Kremlin's suggestion that drastic reduction be made in size of standing armies and of stockpiles of conventional weapons.

Purpose of Russian move is to exploit to Soviet Union's advantage a current fear of nuclear mass in which neither side is anxious to risk annihilation in all-out war.

"Reasoning" it must be remembered, deters not only aggression, but also will to resist aggression, if it is undertaken as such, but all-out war

Policy of Soviet Union over the years has been one of imperialist expansion by piecemeal aggression Most effective deterrent to piecemeal aggression, as experienced in Korea, in southeast Asia and now in Middle East shows, is practability, size and mobility of standing armies, ready to wage war with conventional weapons.

Any substantial reduction in size of armed forces of Western powers must seriously limit their fighting potential in resisting aggression on a local or regional scale.

Were western powers to accept latest Soviet "disarmament" proposal, NATO would be immediately weakened if not rendered utterly impotent. Bi-ordering of West German Republic would thus be halted. Opportunity for Soviet Union to pursue policy of piecemeal aggression would thus be greatly enhanced, inasmuch as Western powers would have deprived themselves of all powers of resistance except resort to ultimate sanction of nuclear warfare, which they would be reluctant to invoke unless threat to their own national survival were both apparent and immediate.

Record Grain Movement

A start has been made on what should become another great movement for grain from the Great Lakes and the St Lawrence route for navigation the season of grain movement has been greatly increased Up to April 15 Canadian exports of wheat totalled 162.2 million bushels but unforseen difficulties, the figure could almost be doubled by the July 31 end of the crop year, with exported 232 million bushels

Experts made during the bad ones of the year will be dependent upon the regular arrival of boats to keep the ports operating at the maximum capacity and the safety of the navigation to provide sufficient bearers to keep the terminals well supplied with the kinds and grades of grain required There is apparently a strong demand for all the wheat that can be moved into the export position as it is for several months ahead

Each of the big problems facing the Canadian Wheat Board is that of moving the grains into the terminals that are needed to meet the export demand and at the same time keeping delivery quotas throughout the prairies reasonably even The providers would not be so difficult if all farmers had the same grades of it there was a good market for every grade Unfortunately, this is not the case, the points where elevators are filled with grain for which there is no ready market, shipments and consumer's delivery quotas are bound to remain lower than at points having readily salable grain Past experience has proved that it is a serious mistake to allow country and terminal elevators to become plugged with the grain for which there is no immediate market It is vitally important that the channels be kept clear at every possible position can be expected while the market is established

Last year a large proportion of the prairie wheat crop was 1 Northern and this grade has proved to be about the most difficult to sell. Most of the 5 and 6 wheat stocks have been plugging elevator facilities for some time has been cleared out and there has been a strong demand for 3 and 4 Northern but the big grades have been moving more slowly. This has worked against the farmers in southern Alberta and Saskatchewan as it has made it difficult to maintain good shipments out of these areas.

Unless there is a change in the preference of importers there is distinct possibility that in the months ahead the situation in regard to quota may become even more difficult.

Firemen Hold Annual Banquet And Ball In The Legion Hall

1945 George Pullen followed in that year but kept it for a short time only

It was at this era — 1946 — that the hose hitch was re-organized and that regular weekly practices began to be held in Bank Theatre and Fire Chief until Phil Germain was appointed.

The Banquet Monday, in honor of the 50-member brigade, was a 10-year re-organization anniversary.

Phil acted as last toastmaster for Jack Dupuis, recent Secretary-Treasurer who left for Montreal. It was noted that the absence of Jack at the dais seemed strange, but as a good sport he really is engaged in a smoke bomb at any time

Deakene Still Agitates For Railway With Eastern Canada

Now I want to speak about these railroads. In 1908 — that is a long time ago — the Liberal government in Alberta went into the railway construction business on this money. We had a great area of unorganized land, the Liberal government of the day decided to build railroads into the western plains, thereby bringing a vast amount of the settlers from the eastern plains and beginning the great projection which is the heart of today, even in a measure as the United States. But these people needed communication They needed transportation. The Liberal government of the day made a deal per se with, guaranteeing the bonds issues of the railway companies up to $13,000 a mile, in order to bring them in. I refer to Edmonton and Calgary in the early years, from the eastern parts. The railroad from Edmonton to Dunvegan, tonight north to Athabasca 100 miles, Grande Prairie to Hythe, Alberta, Edmonton to Mc Lennan, Edmonton to Bonnyville from Edmonton to Lac La Biche, Edmonton to Vermilion. These were the railroads that were built by the Liberal government of Alberta. They were built by the people of Alberta. They were built from borrowed money. Every dollar of it was guaranteed by the people of Alberta. Every dollar of it was guaranteed by the people of Alberta. Every dollar of it was guaranteed by the people of Alberta

I remember talking over the radio a short time ago in answer to an agitator, a dominion ... who told us we could not do anything. I said we had heard that story both in 1926 after the first great war, and we heard it after the second world war. All I say to them now is that you do not have to look to the east, west, north or south, you merely have to look at what is existing now in the face of this wonderful land of ours with its unbelievable resources and undreamed of wealth. This is indeed a challenge to our young men and women. I wish I were young so I could devote some more years of my life to bringing about the completion of the railway lines and help to develop Canada's resources for the welfare of the whole country. God in his wisdom knows best.

The other day I picked up a great newspaper, the Toronto Star Weekly. I found an article written by Ronald Hilliard. The author writes from Bazaar Alaska, following a tour through the northern part of Alberta. I should like to quote one paragraph from this article.

"The railroad proposal, planned to realize ... which the federal government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have undertaken active consideration. It is ... 700 mile ... ension of ... existing line a ... Hythe at Waterways Alberta ... That is ... northwestern ... Athabasca.

The railway to develop Great Slave Lake should be built from no other place but Fort Mc-Murray. Why? Because that is the end of the navigable river on this route. I hope there is some truth in the plan as outlined in this paper.

Census in June 1956 Furnishes Background Marketing Policy

The census to be taken in June this year will provide much information which will be useful to business firms. Included in the population count will be questions on age, sex, marital status, relationship to head of household and whether living on a farm. The combined information will furnish valuable clues to the change which has taken place in consumer markets since 1951. The size of different kinds of goods is related to the number of people with definite characteristics, for example, children's shoes and age groups. Census returns will show the number and location of Canadian families, and since families richer than individuals are the important consumer unit for some firms, the census nation will be of particular value to them.

Data from the population census is to some extent human an essential background for marketing policy. Two cities with equal population will differ in the market potential for a commodity because the average age of the population of each differs. One city would be a better market for children's clothing because the lower average age of its citizens reflects the fact that has more children. The city with the higher average age could be a better market for commodities bought by adults.

This sort of analysis can be carried forward over the whole of Canada. The most basic elements which go to our population base are expected in the census of 1956. Changes in the characteristics of age, sex, and family groups are also small. Geographical area means that a vast amount of detailed information will be available about the population to make comparisons between the census of 1951 and that of 1956. The organization of production and sales programs, location of retail outlets and the arrangement of sales and advertising quotas in order to plan intelligently for production and have adequate retail. Know the size and salient characteristics of its market, and underlying every market survey is the census information. The considerable shift which take place in the location of the Canadian people over 1951 has drastically changed the market picture. The 1956 Census will bring aspects of it up to date.

The 1956 Census will furnish information concerning the rural-urban distribution of the population. Urban population will include those who live in built-up places of 1,000 population or more, whether incorporated or not. The number of people, say, in the incorporated city of Toronto, will be known, but, what is more important for the business man, those who live in the recognized metropolitan area of Toronto will be counted also. Tabulations will be made of all people including those who live outside the city limits but whose work is closely connected with the city. The rural area beyond such boundaries will not include the fringes of large cities but will be genuinely non-urban.

Many cities, however, cover a very large area. Montreal has more than 30 square miles, on each of which lives an average of 10,000 people. To have the facts about Montreal as a whole is not satisfactory for many marketing studies or for census purposes. A grocery chain, for example, might be interested in knowing where population and trade are concentrated and would like to obtain census data for areas as small as blocks. While it is not practicable to tabulate information for such small areas, a set of statistical units (census tracts) has been devised. Each of these tracts comprises a few city blocks and contains typically about 5,000 people; for each of them a summary of census facts is obtained.

The Census of Agriculture also will furnish important information for many business firms who are concerned with the market. One of the important benefits for such firms lies in the fact that the census will furnish five-year bench-marks for all Canada on which annual estimates of farm production are based. Hitherto they were available only since in ten years for provinces other than those on the prairies. Five-year bench-marks permit more accurate annual estimates to be made.

The United States carryover on July 1, 1956 is expected to be about 1,020 million bushels, about 25 million bushels more than on the same date a year ago. June 1 Final Date For Briefs To Committee On Liquor Act

Data date for the submission of briefs to the legislative committee studying the working of the Liquor Act has been set for June 1st.

Public hearings will open June 18 for the purpose of hearing oral support of written presentations, and the questioning of witnesses. Location of the hearings will be determined by the localities in which briefs originate.

Organizations and groups submitting briefs will be required to file 25 copies of their briefs with the Clerk of the Assembly, Legislative Buildings, Edmonton.

The committee is headed by Walter Dafoe. Members represent both sides of the Legislature. They include Education Minister Amery, G. Aalborg, Chester Sayers, Ira McLaughlin, Harry Strom, J. Percy Page, Roland Hall and Rev. W. J. Dunfield.

In recent weeks the group has been making studies of legislation with the Alberta Liquor Control Board. After public hearings are concluded and the investigation is complete, it will make recommendations which will be prepared for submission to the government for Legislative Action.

Reports From Stokes Show Crimes On Immigration Routes

True to their rare instinct for long making wildlife news the whooping cranes have included National Wildlife Week on their migration to the Canadian North.

Eight birds are reported to have left San Antonio, Texas, bound in Texas for the long flight to Wood Buffalo National Park where their nesting grounds were discovered last year. The returning flock of 15 may follow any day if migration runs true to form—as it should be complete in about two weeks.

According to a report received by the Canadian Wildlife Service are always a welcome sight Although each spring prairie fields, sloughs and marshes attract numerous migrant ducks, geese and sandhill cranes the race whooper has a special place of honor. Once across the settled prairies they have less than five hundred miles to fly before reaching the sanctuary of Wood Buffalo National Park.

Mainmanager William Fuller, ... stationed at Fort Smith, will keep the nesting grounds under particular observation as well as regular game patrols. A new safeguard is the ban on low-flying aircraft in effect from April 1st to October 15th. Planes travelling ... Wood Buffalo National Park may fly lower, 500 feet.

What ... is the case now and the United States are ... is now many young will hatch in 1956. And how many will survive the dangerous life of the adult crane.

Economic Affairs Branch Has Staff Changes

Organization changes and staff appointments were announced recently by Hon. A. Russel Patrick, Minister of Economic Affairs.

Mr. Patrick said three distinct branches have been established to specialize in publications, advertising and public relations on his department.

The new publications branch will be headed by Harold E. Martin, publisher of the Warwick Witness. As director he will be assisted by Ken MacCrimmon and Doris Bryenton, who both are members of the present publicity staff. A new appointee is Robert E. Swoboda, who has been an information writer with the Saskatchewan Government.

Ronald D. McLean will continue as public relations officer and E. S. Bryant, formerly director of publicity, will now assume supervision of government advertising in all media — radio and television, newspapers and periodicals, billboards, displays and other outlets.

He said the island was part of a concentrated and smooth activity to warm the waters near volcanos which still exist on the island. The expedition was arranged by the British government.

Mr. Patrick said the publicity and public relations offices have been moved from their former locations to new locations on the fourth and fifth floors of the legislative building. The publications branch will be opened on the 5th floor, and the community recreation branch will also move there from its present location in the Alberta Block.

The new Publicist as Director served during the war as an Army public relations officer with the rank of Lt.-Colonel. He has a background of reporting and editorial experience with the Calgary Albertan, Victoria Colonist, Sudbury Star, Saskatoon Star-Phoenix and in Miami.

His new assistant, Robert Swoboda, has been with the Saskatchewan Government since last December. He worked previous to that on Saskatchewan weeklies.

GLENDON NEWS

On Monday, April 23rd, the death of Mrs. Saunders, mother of Mrs. L. H. Leach, took place in Edmonton. Although she had been in failing health for some time, she was considered much improved, and had been spending some time at Lamont. She had accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Leach to Edmonton and while in the city she suffered a sudden heart seizure. She leaves to mourn their loss, her husband, who is at present in the Anglican Church at Wetaskiwin, four daughters, Mrs. L. H. Leach, Lamonth, Mrs. W. Priest and Mrs. De La Ronde, Saskatoon and Mrs. Reid of Maymont, two sons, Gerald of Calgary and Theodore of Maymont. Mrs. Saunders was quite well known at Glendon and sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Friends of Mr. and Mr. Clifford Davidson of Coutts, Lac Bi[illegible] formerly of Glendon were saddened recently to learn of the tragic death of their youngest daughter. The child not yet 4 years old, was watching a grass fire burn brush when her clothing caught on fire. She was rushed to hospital but passed away a few days later. The Davidsons have two other children, a son and a daughter.

Mr. George Drapeau was called to Drumheller last week to attend the funeral of his brother, Mr. Victor Drapeau, who was instantly killed while working in the coal mine at Rosedale in the Drumheller district. Mr. Drapeau could have retired some time ago, but he preferred to continue working and his accidental death was a shock to the community. He is survived by his widow and two sons as well as a number of brothers and sisters.

Garden And Lawn Bulletin Available

A new bulletin dealing with Fertilizers for Alberta Gardens and Lawns by Dr. C. F. Bentley of the Soil Science Department of the University of Alberta has recently been released for distribution.

Causes and treatments for poor physical condition of the soil are discussed as are the three chemical conditions of soils which are detrimental to healthy gardens and lawns. A very thorough discussion of fertilizers follows in what they are, why they are needed, which fertilizer is needed and how to buy fertilizer and how to apply it.

The preparation and use of compost the use of bonemeal, dried blood and wood meal potash and plants and soil testing are all reviewed.

Convenient tables are given showing analyses, rates and measurements for fertilizers.

This bulletin is available from your District Agriculturist, the Extension Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture or from the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Hunters Claim Crows and Magpies Getting Smarter As Bag Decreases

Nineteen Crows and Five Magpies Shot; Big One Race Litter Of Nine Coyote Pups

Hunters out on a crow shoot Sunday claimed crows are getting pretty smart. So smart indeed, that we were advised not to headline it in the paper here now because Jim and his magpie brother took to the deep bush after reading it.

Taking count of the bag one might be inclined to believe it, assume that members of St Paul's Fish and Game Association have done as good as the past, the population is actually decreasing.

Only 19 crows and five magpies were shot Sunday. Phil Germain was the day's sharpshooter with 5 and 1 to his credit. But, to establish the

CUB CUTOUTS

The catch of the day was when cute little coyote pups turned in to Paul Pretzlaff. They could almost be tolerated for kittens, except for their condemning claws on their paws and the ruthless ferocity of their small fangs that they early are. The eight was a marvels for size of the litter, Age of the pups was estimated at about four days old, it couldn't be more than 3 days because the eyes were still closed.

The hen gave that Paul spend the whole night and Saturday hunting a round the vicinity of [illegible] that's one of Tom Farm. It that the male with the minimum skill was probably guarding a litter of young ones.

Tom Smith was relieved of the task and found a burrow on the side of a small hill. Experienced in the ways of the wilds and nature Paul instructed that a hole be dug to the main part of the nest and with a stick probed until he found a spot where the nest from inside had been dug to the ground. And true enough, there it was.

Immediately the end of the pump he was startled by a yelp and a brown streak bolting for the open spaces. The female had been at home all the time, but instead of fighting to defend her young, took the one-sided way out.

Paul's companions, Oscar Petrier and Roger Lariver were too surprised to take use of the cartridge they carried.

The litter is not as considered extra ordinary. An average of four or five is more in line with normal production from a couple. Paul kept several of the young alive, he is the proud owner at home They are said to be active and make fairly cute fatchful pets usually succumbing to their confinement still in close and disappearing before they mature.

As Promised

In last week's article in this space we are herewith printing an extract from the Annual Report of the Department of Canada, by the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, dated February 16, 1946.

" The constantly declining gross farm income and the widening gap between gross and net farm income indicates the extent to which Canadian farmers have been caught in the iron jaws of declining prices and rising costs. While the farmers' fixed charges continue to mount, their prices are dropping and their net return or take-home pay is diminishing at an excessingly rapid rate. As a result, many of them have been reduced to bankruptcy after ten years of the best crops in Canadian History."

St. Paul Bears Win First Game Against Derwent

Bob Sandboe In Winning Pitcher

Bob Sandboe held mound duties in the opening Senior Alberta League fixture at St Paul May 9, netting up the victory for his mates with a scoreless game allowing four hits. St. Paul made two errors.

The Bears pulled off the same manoeuvre of hits from Wyndell Brothers, but were able to capitalize for five runs on three errors, chalked by the Derwent Crusads.

Both teams were taking to the field for the first time of the season, and played remarkably good ball considering various layoff kinks they had to get out of their joints.

Sandboe kept control of the ball throughout the game although he wavered and found himself in some tight spots with the bases loaded in the last two innings, netted himself a win in the process.

Joey Wyndell (there are four of the baseball lineup) pitched the four innings that scored the five points he was up to Brother Blake held her down for the balance.

Johnny Kotowich on the top of the batting order 12 out of the first inning with a doubleblogger in right field, converted into a run in the couple that first base line by Vanney Joly.

Marvel Joly got a free base on a hit pitch and wound his way around the diamond on pass balls and wild throws for the second run in number two inning.

The fourth inning of the game was rendered the most interesting period. Chuck Kendall opened on first base, on Bob Holder's election, stole second and made third on a wild pitch, which resulted in a run scored. Antoine Lawrence (Spike) Belliveau knocked to the Pool room with the first homer of the season, a clout to left field which cleared the left field fence with plenty of room to spare, good for two more runs. Peter Kotowich then completed the circuit for the point in the fourth inning.

LOCAL REVIEW

St. Paul has a fair local team indeed. It is short of a couple of pitchers and could stand the services of a bat first baseman.

Mike Wyzen of Bonny Hill, Smokey player with the Vegreville Boomer, has signed on with the Bears. He will take on a job with the water works department of the town. Additions to the lineup are reported in the persons of Jacques Joly, first baseman, now attending college and Red and Charlie Joly, also attending college and from Mallaig.

Gareth Roberts who holds down catching position, broke a finger on his right hand during a recent practice, but after the first layoff was right back in the game.

Airman Killed In Car Crash

A highway accident Sunday near Grand Centre, 130 miles northeast of Edmonton, claimed the life of Cpl. Richard Wilkinson of the RCAF station at Cold Lake.

Police said Wilkinson was a passenger in a car which "apparently" left the road, turned in the ditch. No other vehicles were involved. Two other members of the RCAF were in the car but no details are available as to their injuries. An inquest has been ordered.

Geo. Dehm Holds Umpire School At Derwent

Initiated at the district for the first time, an umpire school conducted by Mr George Dehm of Edmonton was held over the weekend at Derwent.

The Saturday evening turnout numbered forty and Sunday's about as were present. They saw films on umpiring, showing close decisions and how to handle them. On the field part of the instruction on umpire technique which is closely related to the rule book and knowing how to interpret it in tight situations.

A number of umpires, coaches, players and reporters were on hand to learn the art of baseball.

The instructor, Mr. George Dehm, formerly of St. Paul has been a keen baseball enthusiast for many years. In Edmonton he is on the executive of Provincial Leagues. To qualify as an umpire George took many courses from professional umpires, added to that years of experience in professional and amateur ball.

The course was pronounced a success and further sessions are contemplated.

Mr Dehm was assisted by Johnny Kane of an executive of the Alberta Amateur Baseball Association.

Four Blocks Widened From Six To Eight Feet

Council Condemns Old Houses; Approves Requisitions For School

On recommendation of a group of business men who unanimously approved construction of new sidewalks on main street on a local improvement plan of frontage assessment town council budgeted at the Monday meeting to incorporate the suggestion in the annual budgetary program.

The new sidewalks will be laid from the corner of the Bowden Cafe on the south side of the street to the north side of the Canada and on the north side of Elk Theatre to the Co-op.

To meet modern demands they will be widened from 6 to 8 feet, including the curb. The light standard will not obstruct traffic and the entrance to a number of business places will be placed on the inside and in a location where they will not interfere.

About 5000 feet of sidewalk in scattered residential areas of the town were on the building program last year, but curtailed due to lack of cement and present commitments by the contractors allowed for this project was invested in bonds last year pending the construction which at the time started in the middle of June, along with the main street sidewalks.

Serious consideration was given on the part of council to a certain row of dilapidated houses in town. One of these was condemned on motion and a committee named to investigate the condition of a couple of doubtful ones. Besides being fire hazards they are dangerous traps for children who might wander and play in them.

The dormitory was inspected by the fire commissioner of the RCMP, the fact that too many people were residing under one roof and are publishing [illegible] was brought to the attention of the secondary account. Complaint was received by the town from a lady who lives in adjoined dorm and outlined the many inconveniences and disturbances caused by the inmates. The school principal will be interviewed in regard to the children on the subject.

A word of caution to all dog owners was also discussed in order. It is found that many, walking on the roads and areas of intersections, deliberately leave and dare motorists to run them down & some will even stoop to throwing rocks Beware of retribution

Fire Threatens Chicken Roost

It got uncomfortably hot for about 100 chickens roosting in a shed on Andre Pigeon's property Tuesday noon, when a grass fire got out of control and singed the building.

However, the timely intervention of the fire brigade saved the shed and hens, and the chickens resumed their cackling and went about their business unconcerned.

The fire was presumably started by a carelessly thrown cigarette or grass fire out of control. Alarm was turned in at 12:15 noon.

VALUE OF INSTITUTE

Recently, the Home and School Association questioned the value of conventions of institutes if they were worth the effort days lost.

A satisfactory answer was forwarded at home at the time, but we believe their votes was well proven at the Institute held in the St. Paul School on May 7th.

Over 300 hundred teachers of twenty-seven inspectorates from St. Paul, Bonnyville and Smoky Lake turned out faithfully to listen to an imported consultant.

In the short time at her disposal, Miss Alice Heenan, an international educational consultant, crammed valuable, practical information into the minds of the teachers and returned some very pertinent ideas on techniques and procedures.

Year to year methods of teaching undergo a change, the system of education has also evolved since many of the teachers attended university, even last year, and most of all, probably the boredom of everyday teaching tends to slow down professors.

The Institute injects the adrenalin which restores health, gives new incentive keeps teachers up to date and on their toes, refreshes their mind on old courses, provides opportunity to compare notes with contemporaries and hear new ideas on how to improve teaching.

Miss Heenan did all this, besides establishing a something personal analysis on the part of each teacher. for flaws and suggested ways to improve, personality studies.

"If only one person goes to sleep," said Miss Heenan, "I will be more than repaid for my efforts."

All teachers should make it a special point to benefit they all listened attentively. We are certain they will go back to their respective schools full of vim, vigor and ambition and that by their attendance at this valuable institute will raise the standard of education to the high level it must reach today if our future citizens are going to be adequately trained to meet the complexities of life

DOWNWARD TREND

The economic panic is spreading like the plague in the Dark Ages!

Pessimism is not only being felt in business circles, but has gone right down the line to allied sports and entertainments in our Town.

We observe with some misgivings the attitude of several organizations no longer themselves right out of existence

There is, without a doubt, necessity for re-adjustment in our economy, patterned along with the rest of Canada, but hardly any reason for the panic which is sweeping the countryside Many economists and others have resumed the overall situation and see no cause for a high sounding alarm or drastic action. That kind of thought is the root of big dangers in turning about a depression and we are far from that point as yet.

The St Paul Agricultural Society "pessimistic" pruned its program to the point of danger The Grandstand attractions presented for $2,000 enterprises has been ruled out The Society takes no chances with the part of the program There is no guarantee The promoter takes all the risks and gets nothing if the weather conditions and other factors run adverse. However, he reserves the right to make remarks to a guaranteed amount to ensure the gamble involved on his part.

They have always put on a good show the kind of attraction some residents in this district have no opportunity of ever seeing elsewhere, and they should be trained to it at least once a year Local talent has its merits, but it can't promote it here everyday of the week We need something different . . . A change is as good as a rest.

The disease has spread further to the ever daring and enterprising Jaycees who have also taken the pessimist attitude they are promoting their annual baseball tournament on smaller scale this year

We hope the boys will hold the line and won't fall back further next year

You know the old saying — nothing ventured, nothing gained. If you don't go ahead, you go backwards. St Paul is big enough to keep going ahead!

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

Persons of the full age of twenty-one years, not on the Town Tax Roll may be assessed a municipal tax usually referred to as a poll tax

This is a hard one to collect! To obtain a lasting, the Secretary has to impose on businesses with a special form requesting information and the name of employees who are working, of the full age of twenty-one years.

Tax notices are sent out to the individuals, but in a big majority of cases wages must be garnisheed and patience have to deduct the amount of pay checks A nuisance on top of all other fees government record keeping which has to be borrowed Many get away from the tax by keeping on the move

It seems that these young persons are of a mind that they owe nothing for the privilege of earning and living in a town Because they are not rate payers on the scene of earning property they feel imposed upon when asked to contribute to the support of the community

It is only too obvious that a fair distribution of the tax levy must be made to include everyone in a town. These young men make a living, enjoy the facilities of sidewalks, roads, public parks, and are duty bound as conscientious citizens to contribute to the economy without inverting the full power of the law.

Section 326, subsection 2 of the Town and Village Act, dealing with assessment authorizes the council to levy the poll tax as follows:

"The Council, by-law, may impose a tax for municipal purposes in the amount fixed by the by-law under subsection 1 not in excess of $10.00 upon a resident of the Town of the full age of Twenty-one years who has not been assessed upon the assessment and tax roll and who has resided therein for a period of sixty days or more during the calendar year and is gainfully employed whether he has resided in the Town before the completion of the roll or not, but in the case of the collection of the tax the name of the resident so paying shall be added to the roll for that calendar year."

May we suggest to all young fellows, turning twenty-one, to accept it voluntarily and part it with good grace at their convenience and that of the Town.

Dear Sir:

The enclosed letters should prove of interest to the numerous farmers reading your paper

One of these was written to a farmer from Bonnyville district.

The copy was taken exactly as the letter was written. The reply from Mr. J. G Taggart, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and that of Mr W G Morris Head of the Farm Finance Branch, Agriculture Division, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, also answering the questions asked by the Bonnyville farmer, give very valuable information.

If you believe, as I do, that this correspondence will prove of interest to your readers, you may publish same and oblige.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir,

Please note in 1928-1929 hogs were sold over weight at $16.00 to $18.00 per 100 weight and top meat and cost have been higher ever since at meat shop for 45 cents per lb. Today's price live weight top grade $14.75 to $15.00 per 100 lbs. and Cost Ham sells over counter at meat shops for 75 to 81 1/2 per lb and in 1928 — Farm tractor sold at $2000.00 to $2,250.00 in 1956 same type and horse power is 2,000 to $3,500; one-ton truck 1928 and year 1929 in western Canada sold at 1000, and today 1960-56 $2,700.00 for one-ton farm truck.

Farm labor in 1928 was $2.00 per day, in 1955, $5 to $12 per day

Would you be good enough and give the report to Jimmy Gardiner, Hon. Minister of Agriculture of this Dominion of Canada.

Some farmers of Canada have had a bumper crop. But right around Bonnyville and district, hundreds of granaries are empty. Mother Nature did not provide us as some of those up south. Does Hon. Gardiner know about it? But thinks we buy in cost of 750-17 6 ply retreads $86.00 at wholesale — $98.00 if paid day of purchase factory price to us is reasonable a same, tire $41.35 in this way at... Sorry I have no typewriter and my fingers is very poor, but I hope you can copy word for word and Mr. Hon. Gardiner may give to some good shower. I hope he will give it, as God wranted us to help others as you and others to help us too

For your kind answer, please accept my sincere thanks.

Yours very truly,

Ottawa, Canada
April 23, 1956

Mr Farmer,
Bonnyville, Alta.
Dear Sir,

Your letter of February 8, 1956 has been referred to me by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for further reply.

It is noted that you have made comparisons between prices for hogs and for pork products at retail in 1928, and the prices prevailing recently. This matter has been given some study and following are a few of the figures shown in the official records concerning hogs and pork products

Hogs, top grade, live basis, Edmonton (without government premium in 1928 $9.56, in 1955 $17.40 showing 87 percent increase, a slave with government premium $9.56 in 1928, $18.72 in 1955, an increase of 96 percent

A study of retail prices shows that for the period 1928 to March 1956, the price of bacon at Edmonton increased by 65 percent, and ham has been 92 percent For all Canada the increase was 88 percent for bacon and 106 percent for fresh hams.

It will be seen, therefore, that the price for hogs received by the farmer has gone up considerably along with the retail prices of pork products. Also it is probable that pound for pound pork products are better than they were in 1928 due to better trimming and packaging.

Prices of all commodities have increased roughly 75 percent on the average during the period under discussion, and in general the spread between the farmer and the raw material and the finished product has increased. This is partly due to the increased amount of labor and materials in processing and packaging, and partly to the increased cost of labor per hour or day. These increased costs are paid by the consumer in the final analysis, and higher wages mean a better market for farm products.

Yours faithfully,
J. G. TAGGART,
Deputy Minister.

February 28, 1956

Mr. Farmer,
Bonnyville, Alta.
Dear Mr. Farmer:

I have for acknowledgement your letter in which you draw some comparisons between the changes taking place in the prices of things farmers have to buy or between 1928 and the present time.

I must confess I am very much interested in the prices you quote for hogs I have been checking through some of the price information we have collected over the past 26 years and I find the average price for brown hogs at Winnipeg in 1928 was about $8.00 per hundred (cwt.) Live weight in 1929 it averaged $11.22 per 100 weight. By comparison, the approximate live weight price for No 1s hogs at Winnipeg in 1956 average $17.25.

The spread between the price the farmer received for his product and the price the consumer pays when he buys it from the store always seems to be the large However, this increasing spread may be blamed in part on the consumer himself At on consumers, we demand our foods put up in attractive packages We want tinsless lacquered sanitary cellophane We demand our poultry eviscerated and ready for the pot. As we demand more and more processing of our foods before we buy them the spread in prices between the farmer and consumer will continue to increase. Furthermore, we do not buy large quantities any more We buy 10 or 15 lb packages of potatoes or apples, not a bushel or a hundred pounds. The demand for packaging of smaller quantities adds still further to costs and the consequent price related.

Turning now to some of the items farmers buy We may compare the prices of tractors of the general purpose which they used in 1928 and 1955, but there the comparison ends Early tractor models were simply tipped with steel wheels, and were limited to a crank, and were limited to such farm tasks as plowing, disking, pulling a binder or operating a grain separator 1 day's tractors are mounted on rubber tires, have high-compression, and consequently more efficient engines, power-take off arrangements and hydraulic systems for the control of implements Versatility has been increased tremendously with the modern-day tractor able to cultivate row crops, dig post holes and even pitch manure

I do not know what you wish to infer from what I have said that agriculture has no difficulties and that the prospects of the future are not fair From a study of the figures which I have quoted in the letter, which is now in the office of the Minister of Agriculture for whatever further comment they wish to make

Yours very truly,
W G MORRIS, Head
Farm Finance Unit,
Agriculture Division

construction in my own province of Alberta. I emphasized again, as forcibly as I could, the fact that this proposed great artery of communication and transportation, which was launched as far back as the progressive twenties, and for which climbers were granted to the two great railway companies, the C.P.R. and the C.N.R., has not yet been completed since there are many glaring transportation gaps in the north of the Saskatchewan and Athabasca. Until Lesh at the map and focus your attention to the evident lack of through transportation lines east and west just north of the rivers just mentioned. It is detrimental to the question of all business in our part of the country, as it prevents through traffic from Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Prince Albert to Edmonton, bypassing all of Cold Lake to Lac La Biche, Athabasca, and to the West Coast by the Peace River line.

This vast country ... running from Churchill on the Hudson Bay to Prince Rupert on the Pacific Ocean has not got one ... mode of transportation which is vital to the full development of our resources and the prosperity of all our citizens whether they be farmers, ranchers, fishermen, lumbermen, trappers, miners or oil ... unless utilized to develop the possibilities of this empire in the making to the mixed people of Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes. I believe that I am justified in stating to you that more attention will be paid to this very important matter. I will not conclude this by that a railroad will have to be built also in the Far North, at least to Great Slave Lake, and I have re-asserted my decided opinion that this extension should be from McMurray-Waterways, rather than from any other point, for reasons that will be obvious to those who have studied this ... Lately, the House has been engaged in the consideration of many government resolutions, providing, by instalment amendments to the Act on the General Housing and Mortgage Corporation. Another resolution was passed which allows the Government to provide also greater help from the Federal Treasury for the construction of the Trans-Canada Highway. Unfortunately, and I use the word advisedly, this Trans-Canada Highway ... of more importance to the people who live in the south of the provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia because their provincial governments, which are responsible for the location of this Highway, have decided that the Regina-Calgary route rather than the Saskatoon-Edmonton route. Yet, for many of us, the latter appeared to be by far the best and logical route.

Time, of which I spoke at the beginning of my ... continues to advance and to flow, as I must put an end to this most agreeable chat until my next meeting through CJCA, sometime later this month, the one consoling aspect of the wheat situation at that moment is the ... ing in Therefore, we are entitled to entertain hopes that we will be able to dispose of a considerable amount of that great wheat surplus.

The newspapers and the radio are bringing deplorable news of floods and inundation in the West, which convinces us that after all spring has come to our Alberian country, enabling our farmers to carry on with their usual fortitude, courage and indomitable optimism. No matter what conditions may be or what discretory voices may be raised in doubt and discouragement, because such thoughts have no room in the mind of the true Westerner.

Recent street ups I had attended a meeting in the district and there I had been asked a question such as this "Does altitude affect the amount of leavening needed in cake recipes" What do you think?

Altitude very definitely does affect the amount of baking powder that should be used in cake recipes. However, in a region such as this the altitude is only a few thousand feet above sea level and thus only slight changes would be needed.

Here is a brief outline of the changes necessary in this area. With sugar there is no correction unless the cake is very high in sugar in that case reduce the sugar up to five per cent. In the case of baking powder reduce your leavening agent from ten to twelve per cent. The shortening is reduced the same percentage as sugar.

Increase the baking temperature two to three degrees for each thousand feet rise. For this area the increase would only be four to six degrees. Thus the baking time is shortened.

Local recipe books printed by the women of this community will probably be recipes which women have had success with over and over again. Therefore, in such recipes no change will be necessary. However, if you plan to use American recipe from any paper or magazine you may find that a change will be necessary. The cake will not be a complete failure but there will be changes in texture and flavor.

Receipes as such will usually be accompanied by a little note at the bottom stating the changes necessary at different altitudes. If you have problems that puzzle you do not hesitate to phone, write or drop into the office for information.

MORE COINS FOR CANADIAN POCKETS

Business is booming in Ottawa's mint where some of the coins are made. Every year more coins are turned out in the past two years production has more than doubled with dimes and quarters most in demand. Last year's output of coins valued at over $5,000,000 in circulation. At work here are workers who are examining coins for imperfections ... would cause them to be returned for re-minting and re-stamping.

United Church Sunday Services

Sunday School 11 a.m.-12:00 noon, Choir Practice 12 noon-1:00 p.m., Lindbergh and Hazeldene combined service to be at 1:30 p.m., Evening Service in Elk Point 7:30 p.m.

W. A. Adam,
Preacher.

Last Sunday, being Mothers' Day, the attendance at the Church was a very fine one, the whole Service being conducted by the young people, and two lovely anthems were rendered by the choir, and the strong and hearty singing of both choir and congregation was in praise and thanksgiving to our heavenly Father for His continued goodness to us all and all those we love.

Young David Mitchell once again sang a solo we're fully aware that he was singing under the Lord rather than to the people assembled, and the sweet violence of his top notes has been remarked upon by many. We have the beginnings of a boy soprano in our midst, and I believe singing lessons would help him. Where David's efforts a great deal. Everyone is endeavoring to do their very best always, and if such gifts were dedicated in their use to God, there it is very obvious that the world around about us would be a wonderful place to live and have our being in, as it was meant to be.

A Thought By The Wayside

The love of friends is a beautiful thing to possess. In fact, it is a God-given gift to us all. I read somewhere and am trying to recollect the words as I am typing it out

"We should value all our friends, for life is very dreary without them. Keep in touch through thick and thin, though changes swirl about them. Never be bored to visit, nor too lazy for a letter, nor too tired to make an effort that will make their day look better. Maybe while you're young and busy you may leave friends in the cold, but you will wish you'd kept in touch when you are lonely, sad, or old. Through all the ups and downs of life you will be grateful for your friends, to hear your hopes and share your secret-hacks and meet you where life's pathway bends."

It was Jones who said once to those He loved: "Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you." And He says exactly the same thing to those of us who believe in Him today. A friendship that if accepted, will be the most lasting thing in life on this earth and in the life to follow in His Kingdom.

Biographie de l'adjudicateur du Festival de La Chanson Française

M. l'abbé Herman Gutsohn

BIOGRAPHIE

Né à Plaisance le 4 février 1916, à quelques milles de la Capitale Canadienne, il fit ses études primaires à l'école de son village fit ses études secondaires au Séminaire de Hull, puis au Petit Séminaire d'Ottawa et ses études théologiques, au Grand Séminaire de la même ville.

Dès l'âge de 6 ans il chantait le catéchisme avec son père, organiste et maître de chapelle à l'église paroissiale. Arrivé au Petit Séminaire, il poursuivit ses études musicales avec les Maîtres Larose, Montmor et Lemieux.

En 1936 il étudiait avec Dom Mercure, O.S.B. et obtenait ses diplômes en musiques grégorienne. En 1946 il fréquentait l'école de musique de l'Université d'Ottawa, en 1950 il complétait ses études à l'Institut Pie X de New York, puis étudiait l'art vocal avec le professeur Jan Lindenauna du Dalberry Success School de New York. Revenu au Canada, il prit la chaire de musique au Petit Séminaire, puis remplaça le professeur de chant au Grand Séminaire d'Ottawa.

Depuis 1951 il fait partie du Chœur Palestrina d'Ottawa, reconnue dans tout l'Est du Canada et peut-être dans le Canada tout entier.

C'est l'abbé Gutsohn qui a fondé le Chœur "Les Disciples de Mozart" d'Ottawa qu'il dirige depuis cinq ans.

CANADIAN PHYSICISTS DESIGN ATOM REACTOR FOR INDIA

Canadian engineers and physicists are designing and building this atom reactor at Trombay, near Bombay, India. Construction of the building, 130-feet high and 120 feet in diameter, has already been started and when completed it will be similar to the well-known NRX reactor now operating at Chalk River, 130 miles north of Ottawa. It is being built as a joint Canada-Indian enterprise under the Colombo plan, with Canada paying over $7,000,000 of the $15,000,000 cost. The cutaway section shows the beginning of the reactor within the hemispherically domed steel hemisphere.

Seeds Grain Precipitation Report For Three Prairie Provinces

Compiled from Government and Seeds Rain Gauges. Records up to and including May 15th.

The total overall moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces now stands at 97 per cent of normal compared with 88 per cent last week and 104 per cent at this time a year ago. Respective figures for the three Provinces were as follows: Alberta 97 per cent of normal; Saskatchewan 98 per cent of normal and Manitoba 96 per cent of normal.

Growing season rains from April 1st to May 8th now stand at 4th per cent of normal in the case of Alberta, 39 per cent of normal in the case of Saskatchewan and 12 per cent of normal in the case of Manitoba, giving a regional average for the three Prairie Provinces of 27 per cent of normal.

In Alberta, all Crop Districts, except No. 2, have had less than average growing season rains. In Saskatchewan and Manitoba, all crop districts have had less than normal rains from April 1st to May 8th.

Crops now being sown on stubble land will have available the precipitation which occurred last fall during the months of August, September and October. Crops now being sown on summerfallow will have the same moisture, plus the moisture that was stored in the summer-followed land during the summer of 1955 and, in addition, that moisture which was preserved in the summerfallowed land during the fall months of 1954.

Rye producers have been given an additional supplementary quota of 3 bus. per acre seeded to rye or a minimum of 100 bus. This brings the total supplementary rye quotal to 6 bus.

Will Take Up Farm Problems

Problems of farm income, farm financing, land settlement and use are likely to take top priority at the 18th Annual Meeting of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture, according to Association President Bert Forseth.

The well-known Peace River businessman stated that the convention, to be held in Red Deer on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 29 and 30, will attract delegates from boards of trade and chambers of Commerce all over Alberta. Over 120 such organizations make up the membership of the Associated Chambers.

Other subjects on which policy statements and resolutions are expected to be debated include education, highways and safety, tourist trade, movement and storage of grain and taxation, Mr. Forseth said.

The election of officers and directors this year will give the Association a much enlarged Board of Directors he continued. This will permit broader representation and closer liaison with member boards and chambers and provide personnel for the rapidly expanding committee work of the Association. Mr Forseth pointed out that the Associated Chambers has more than doubled its membership strength within the last five years. This broad community representation, he said, is what gives the Association its unique character and qualities it to speak on timely matters affecting the economic and social welfare of Alberta.

What is a TRACTOR?

Any tractor is a place of machinery for furnishing power for farm work. It consists of an engine, a frame and a number of wheels.

And there the resemblance among all tractors ends. This one has some features; this one has others. And each of them must be valued in relation to price.

A low price should not tempt you to go without features that will pay a profit 'n your farming operations. Nor should you pay for features which are impractical in the field, or will be of little use on your farm.

To get the most useful tractor for your dollars, it's necessary to make a thorough comparison. We ask you to come see us and make that comparison, on your place of business. Check our comparison sheet, it will give you data on all leading makes of tractors in the 3-4 plow class, including the Oliver Super 77.

Then you decide on the tractor that's best suited to your needs.

We believe facts sell tractors best.

"A careful study of the new home kitchens I have made," observed the chef, "does not seem to show progress in making them safe for the toddlers—the little children who move so fast to satisfy their curiosity and who spend much time in the kitchen with their mothers."

"That's important, chef," I replied. "And I reckon from accidents would certainly increase child health. As kitchen activities include baking, washing and ironing, youngsters are exposed to a greater variety of hazards here than in any other room—including the bathroom.

Scrubs and Burns

"Scrubs and burns prove fatal to a large number of toddlers each year, yet they can be avoided. As most occur at the kitchen range, lots should be taught to stay away from the stove. Also the stove should be made accident-proof as possible.

"For instance, turn the handles of utensils full of cooking food away from the stove. Also the stove should be made accident-proof as possible.

"For instance, turn the handles of utensils full of cooking food away from the front edge, so children cannot grab them, or, turning the boiling contents.

"Safety gadgets can be bought to put on gas jets so children cannot turn them on," added the chef. "And matches can always be kept in a closed jar on a high shelf out of reach. Then children will not get themselves and the house on fire."

Tomorrow's Dinner

Red Kidney Bean Soup
With Croutons
Baked Ham Bubble Beans
Vegetable Melange
Orange Biscuit Shortcakes
Coffee Tea Milk

All measurements are level. Recipes proportioned to serve 4 to 6.

Red Kidney Bean Soup

Pick over and wash 1 cup dried red kidney beans. Place in a 3-qt. saucepan. Add 2½ quarts cold water. Put on a lid; let stand 30 minutes.

Add 2 beef bouillon cubes, ¼ cup diced celery, ½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce, ½ tsp. pepper, ½ tsp. sugar, 1 chopped peeled medium-sized onion, 1 tbsp. salt. Simmer, covered, 2½ hours, or until the beans are tender.

Remove half the beans and put through a sieve. Return to the soup to act as thickening. Add 2 tbsp. grapejuice and bring to boiling point.

Orange Biscuit Shortcakes

Bake thin rich crusty baking powder biscuits. Split and spread generously with softened butter. Put together in individual shallow dessert dishes, using as filling and topping slightly warmed sugared orange sections and juice.

Vegetable Melange from the Chef

A vegetable melange or assembly, may consist of 2 to 4 vegetables which present a pleasing contrast in color and flavor, yet are harmonious when combined.

A good combination is puréed, small, whole white potatoes tossed with fresh green peas and bells of scalloped and sliced to enough cream sauce to bind. Season with 1 tbsp. mayonnaise.

Test For Summer Season Driving On Approaching Weekend; Drive Safely And Save Lives

For thousands of Alberta motorists, the first major highway safety tests of the summer season will be the long "Twenty-fourth of May" week-end from Friday evening, May 18 to Tuesday morning May 22

In view of this critical holiday period, the Alberta Safety Council has issued an appeal to all motorists to drive carefully and safely and help to minimize traffic fatalities and injuries.

Just a momentary lapse or taking too great a chance can turn a happy holiday trip into a terrible tragedy with all its heartaches and sorrow, says the Safety Council

Last year, 69 persons were killed in motor accidents across Canada on the May 24 holiday week-end At least two of these fatalities were in Alberta

In most parts of the country, this has been a long slow spring As a result, many motorists are looking forward with impatience to their first highway outing After a long winter layoff when they were confined mostly to city driving, drivers are inclined to be careless and a bit overexuberant as they start on the holiday they have long awaited

They should make certain it is not marred by highway accidents

Enthused by the prospect of speeding along the highways leading to vacation spots, drivers are likely to forget the safety lessons they learned last summer They should remember that most accidents are not caused by mechanical defects in their cars but by the men and women behind the wheel

Lives will be saved if motorists observe these basic rules

1. Observe all speed limits in town or country and slow down more than is required by law when roads are slippery or crowded

2. Keep in mind the importance of fatigue as an accident factor and don't try to pile up too great a mileage in one day.

3. To combat fatigue and remain alert, stop at a roadside restaurant every two hours or so to stretch your muscles and drink a cup of strong coffee or some other helpful stimulant. Remember, alcohol is not a stimulant but a depressant.

4. Avoid cocktail and other alcoholic beverages before or during a drive

5. Be careful of the other fellow. Obey all traffic rules.

6. Be considerate and indulgent toward other drivers.

7. Take time to relax and "Take It Easy"

Observance of these rules will go a long way to achive the first accident free week-end of the season.

Twenty-Two Are Killed In Tractor Mishaps

A short but tragic story is told by the tractor death figures for Alberta in 1955. Twenty-two farm residents died in tractor accidents last year The greatest percentage of these people were killed on May. Fifteen of the deaths were caused by tractor tipping . . of these fatalities two were young boys of 11 and 13 driving tractors on the highways

Eight deaths in May The figures are much more than cold isolated digits As well as the story of heartache and waste of life they point to dangerous tractor hazards. Fatigue brought on by the rush of spring work is a large factor in the high percentage of deaths in May

If you are weary don't drive your tractor Fifteen deaths caused by tipping — borne made tractors when started in soft spots, turning on a steep hillside or running into a gully or ditchbank, and driving too close to the shoulder when on the road are all to be avoided Don't think for a moment that a tractor is an clumsy and slow as it looks — it can backfire tip sideways in a fraction of a second and pin you right under it

Junior tractor drivers — children just don't have the physical or mental development to handle the man sized, streamlined killer.

Australia's trade minister, John McEwen says that his government will sign the new International Wheat Agreement and will ask parliament to approve its acceptance.

Of Farm Labor Short Supply

In northern and north-central Alberta farm labor is in very short supply. According to F. H. Newcombe, Director of the Farm Labor Service for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, the prospect for workers is definitely not bright. The fall work will be helped as usual with harvesters coming from the east.

The National Employment Service, in conjunction with the provincial Farm Labor Service, is going to make a special appeal through the press and radio for industrial workers to go to farms for even very short periods pending the opening of work in construction and industry. It is temporary help that is needed to get the spring work done and while it is not expected the appeal will produce many men for much time it is hoped there will be some response to relieve the urgency of the situation.

Farmers who are in extreme need of help for a short period may get some help by applying to the National Employment Service in Edmonton, Red Deer, Calgary or Drumheller, Mr. Newcombe says.

Alberta Wheat Pool Yearly Scholarships For Boys and Girls

Every year the Alberta Wheat Pool offers Alberta farm boys and girls a number of valuable bursaries and scholarships.

The most valuable of these are the Alberta Wheat Pool Bursaries for Rural Students. Two, each worth $500 a year, are awarded annually, one to a student whose home is in the southern part of the province and one to a student from the north. The $500.00 will be paid to each recipient in each of their undergraduate years up to and including five years, providing a satisfactory scholastic standing is maintained. While application will be considered from students registered in any graduate degree program, preference will be given to students entering the faculty of agriculture. These bursaries, tenable at the University of Alberta, are open to students whose parents are engaged in farming and who derive their major income from that source. The awards will be based on the scholastic record of the candidates in high school and their need for financial assistance.

Six Honey Wee Wood Memorial Bursaries, amounting to $125 each, are awarded by the Alberta Wheat Pool annually to assist farm young people to attend the provincial schools of agriculture. Members and former members of any of Alberta's 4-H clubs are eligible. One boy and one girl registered at each of the province's three agricultural schools will receive one of these awards.

The Alberta Wheat Pool also offers scholarships enabling Rural garden club members to enroll in home economics at the University of Alberta. Scholarships with a value of $300 each are offered annually to three students entering the first, second and third years of the home economics course.

For further information on any of these scholarships or bursaries, write directly to the head office of the Alberta Wheat Pool in Calgary.

In addition to its scholarships and bursaries the Alberta Wheat Pool each year assists 25 farm boys and girls to attend Farm Young People's Week at the University of Alberta. It also provides assistance to young people selected to attend the Rural Leadership Course held each autumn at the Banff School of Fine Arts.

FUA President Is Hopeful Of Future

Chalmers are bright that a generally acceptable plan of cash advances on farm stored grain can be worked out by the fall, feels A. W. Platt, President of the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

This optimistic view was expressed by Mr. Platt on his return from a meeting of western farm organizations, held in Saskatoon on May 1 under the auspices of the Western Conference of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

"I am quite hopeful that we will be able to come up with a plan which will meet with the approval of farmers or Western Canada and at the same time, one the federal government will be prepared to institute," declared the FUA president.

Seven four different schemes were developed at the meeting as practical methods for solving the present farm cash shortage. But some additional information had to be secured on a number of points brought out during discussion, it was not possible to settle definitely on any of these schemes Mr. Platt stated. As a result, a four member inner committee was named to investigate the various proposals advanced. They will later submit a report to the central committee, setting forth the most feasible scheme which could be presented to the government in Ottawa.

Mr. Platt was chosen to represent the three western farm unions on this committee. Others on the committee include J. D. Wilson, a Manitoba farmer, representing the Federation of Agriculture; J. E. Brownlee also a farmer, United Grain Growers; Charles Gibbings, Kindersley, Saskatchewan, will speak for the Wheat Pools.

The committee hopes to have a draft plan ready for submission to farm organization representatives with the next six weeks.

Appointed New Gas Superintendent

R. A. B. Kemsley, Chief Electrical inspector, has been appointed Superintendent of Electrical and Gas Inspection Services, the Hon. R. Reierson, Minister of Industries and Labor announced recently. Mr. Kemsley succeeded by I. G. Finlay, formerly Assistant Chief Electrical Inspector.

A governmental employee since 1935, Mr. Kemsley has been chief Inspector of the Electrical Protection Branch since 1942. In his new capacity he will take on additional duties as a result of the Gas Protection Act which was passed during the 1965 Legislative Session.

The Hon. Mr. Reierson said that the new act is a result of the rapid development of Alberta's gas industry together with the still growing rate of domestic and industrial construction. It is designed to eliminate as far as possible, fires and accidents resulting from faulty installation.

Regulations covering the whole province are now being drawn up, Mr. Reierson stated. Prior to their final adoption, interested sections of the industry will be asked to comment on the regulations. The trade will be notified of the effective date of the gas requirements.

The new Chief Electrical Inspector, Mr. Finlay, is a graduate of the University of Alberta. He has been in the public service since his graduation in 1950.

$80,000,000 LOAN TO START TRANS-CANADA PIPELINE JULY 1

—Courtesy Press Canadian

Work on the Trans-Canada gas pipeline should start July 1, according to announcement made today in Ottawa. The announcement was reached by the federal cabinet in Ottawa. The line should be built from the Alberta gas fields to Winnipeg by Nov 1. Prevent arrangements are that the government will finance Trans-Canada Pipelines Co., with $80,000,000, with the company pledging its entire resources if it fails to live up to its agreement. In that event the portion of the line built would revert to the government.

The line is the second pipeline to be announced since the Alberta gas fields were discovered. Although several pipelines have been built in Canada, as shown above, the Trans-Canada would dwarf all others and rival the St. Lawrence seaway in magnitude of enterprise.

CO-OPERATION

Do chiropractors believe that medical doctors are necessary? You bet they do! Wouldn't we be in a sorry mess if there was no one to deliver babies, to perform necessary surgery, to set our broken bones, and to perform the hundred and one highly specialized jobs in which only he is qualified and trained.

The sincere chiropractor makes no secret of his admiration for the exacting, nerve fraying work that the family doctor and medical specialist have to accomplish daily in their busy practices.

Your chiropractor has his own work to do. He deals exclusively with the spine, and its relation to the vital nervous system. He is a specialist in this field alone, and confines his attention to those conditions which are actually caused by interference to the normal function of the nerves Anything else is not chiropractic.

His work, like the medical doctor's is vital to the health of your community Many conditions which fail to respond under one method of treatment logically fall within the realm of the other so if your sickness has failed to respond, see your chiropractor. He will tell you if yours is a chiropractic case or not, and advise you accordingly.

Allowance For Immigrants

The Hon. J. W Pickersgill, Minister of Citizenship and Immigration, made the following announcement today

The Department of Citizenship and Immigration is now accepting applications for Family Assistance from eligible immigrants and returning Canadian citizens.

Subject to the approval of Parliament, an amount of $5.00 per month, beginning April 1, 1956, will be paid on behalf of each child of an immigrant or of a Canadian citizen returning to live in Canada permanently, until such child has reached 16 years of age or has lived in Canada for 12 months.

To receive Family Assistance mothers are requested to make application at the Immigration Office nearest to their home or by writing to the Director of Immigration, Department of Citizenship and Immigration, Ottawa

Family Assistance cheques will be mailed to mothers directly from Ottawa every three months For convenience each quarterly cheque will be accompanied by an application form to be submitted near the end of the following three-month period.

Family Assistance payments are intended to help newcomers become established in Canada and to keep families united.

Donna Jones, a member of the Jehovah's Witness religious sect in Hamilton, Ont., is back in hospital again with stomach injury and still refuses to accept blood transfusions. Medical advisers say she must take a blood transfusion or more her life may be lost. "Faith alone can save me." Left her release from hospital to continue she went to Montreal for the court where she donated to a charity fund.

Allowance For Immigrants

The Hon. J. W. Pickersgill, Minister of Citizenship and Immigration, made the following announcement today:

The Department of Citizenship and Immigration is now arranging applications for Family Assistance from eligible immigrants and returning Canadian citizens.

Subject to the approval of Parliament, an amount of $8.00 per month, beginning April 1, 1956, will be paid on behalf of each child of an immigrant or of a Canadian citizen returning to live in Canada permanently, until such child has reached 16 years of age or has lived in Canada for 12 months.

To receive Family Assistance mothers are requested to make application at the Immigration Office nearest to their home or by writing to the Director of Immigration, Department of Citizenship and Immigration, Ottawa.

Family Assistance cheques will be mailed to mothers directly from Ottawa every three months. For convenience such quarterly cheque will be accompanied by an application form to be submitted near the end of the following three-month period.

Family Assistance payments are intended to help newcomers become established in Canada and to keep families united

VOLKSWAGEN
... a world-wide trend
On every continent of the globe, the amazing Volkswagen has been wholeheartedly accepted in a manner never before known in the automotive industry. Its outstanding sales success in Canada and its exceptionally high re-sale value reflect the supreme confidence which Canadians have in this unique automobile and its policy of continuing the same basic design.
Firmly believing in Canada's future, Volkswagen will expand greatly this year. The nation-wide dealer organization with its well-earned reputation for efficiency, is expanding its facilities to provide even better service. The splendid new Toronto headquarters, housing 2 million dollars worth of spare parts, will be enlarged considerably a recognition of Volkswagen agent's responsibility to the Canadian public . . . a recognition of its faith and pride in its product.

OU VA L'ARGENT?

Il faut que notre peuple comprenne la nécessité de s'organiser sur la bonne économique, dans que la Caisse est nécessaire pour commander ses épargne chez tous les travailleurs.

Il faut que la Caisse garde cette épargne dans la paroisse pour faire fructifier, pour activer et rendre productif le travail local.

L'argent est gaspillé dans notre province qu'il y demeure, et qu'il y travaille!

Une paroisse n'est pas riche seulement de l'argent qu'elle produit, mais de celui qu'elle garde et emploie sur place.

N'oubliez pas ce principe:

The Traffic Safety Lane

By J. W. McKAY

Publicity Director, Alberta Safety Council

Fatigue or Drunkenness

Fatigue is a deadly enemy and you will note that we classify it along with alcohol.

Many fatal accidents in our Province have been caused by drivers becoming asleep at the wheel or even just drowsy-eyed, attacking drivers. Statistics tell us that of all the traffic accidents one per cent are fatal. In all traffic accidents where fatigue has fallen asleep 4.7 per cent are fatal.

Cars that are wrecked while the driver has fallen asleep are generally bad wrecks. This is because there is not even a small engine at control.

In case you work your body, there are certain automatic commands that your brain sends out to your muscles. These are images which are connected with your eyes. Therefore a certain quantity of alcohol the slowness of your reaction time, and certainly have consequences in safety, even though you fight against it.

Authorities tell us that fatigue possesses poison from the normal tissue wastes of a fatigued animal and ingested into a rested animal and causes the latter to show signs of fatigue. Science pioneer and in research the same way as alcohol: the driver becomes less vigilant and poorer judgment of depth, of distance, speed and reaction. Glaring lights will affect a driver greatly as the pupil of the eye will not respond as rapidly and efficiently.

We know the greatest percentage of all traffic accidents occur during the night. Most drivers have already completed a normal day's work and their bodies are fatigued and it is a strain on the whole physical set-up when they further tax themselves to drive. The only time when the body can combat fatigue poisons is when it is resting. The body then replaces chemical substances which cause this fatigue.

There are many laws made to keep drivers from driving over-time. Some laws compel the commercial drivers to keep accurate records of their time on duty and off duty. These records are subject to inspection by highway patrols.

However, there are methods used by drivers to combat fatigue and drowsiness to a certain extent.

1. Plenty of fresh air in the car.
2. Drink coffee or strong tea.
3. Bathing the eyes for a moment by pressing the index finger gently on the eyelids.
4. Stopping the vehicle and walking around.
5. Pull off and take a short nap.
6. Avoid alcoholic drinks.

NIGHT COURT FUNCTIONS IN GUELPH

In the only municipality's court operating in Ontario in the evenings, Mrs. Rose Bridges hands a docket to Sgt. Robert Wright. The court is in Guelph and has been hearing cases for a year and a half. Mostly the cases are traffic violations and the evening hours allow persons to protest their summons rather than pay the fine because they cannot take time off work. Mrs. Bridges has court the burden on the city janitorial system, increased efficiency of the police and returned to citizens a basic right—that of disputing a charge before a judge.

Evangeline Sarah Chosen To Attend Seminar

Two University of Alberta Evangeline Scrabs and Clem Wreig, have been selected to attend the World University Service seminar in Germany next summer.

Two students were selected by a committee composed of Dr. W. H. Johns, vice-president of the university; Dr. C. F. Beetham, registrar; Dr. H. B. Cushman, director of personnel; Dr. Ruth Sauvé, president of the Women's Undergraduate Association; former seminar student, Miss Parkinson, chairman of University Service Alberta campus and a new student.

Miss Scrabs, 20, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Scrabs, Elk Point, and is a graduate of Lamont High school at Elk Point and was an Alberta Hotel Association scholarship in Grade 12.

Miss Scrabs belongs to University Christian Fellowship, the Lord Bay society, the Rosse society, and Varsity Christian Union. This year she was the co-director of Varsity Follies, a student variety program. In recognition of her outstanding activities, she was awarded a silver "A" pin by the students' Council.

Miss Wreig entered his freshman year at the University of Alberta in 1950, and has been active in many campus affairs. Under Wreig, Grad Chem, B.Sc., is working on his master's degree in history, with particular attention to international relations. He is serving attorney-at-law, Arthur Bottoms, Alta., where his parents lived before moving to Alberta.

Mr. Wreig was awarded a silver "A" pin by the students' Council for his work on executive positions. This year he is president of the political science club. Last year he was the arts and science member, namely representative on students' Council. Mr. Wreig has been on the Gateway staff for four years and was a past "A" pin for this last spring.

The seminar is arranged chiefly by the National University Service of Canada, with help from other national organizations. Thirty-two Canadian and two American students will attend. They will meet together from Montreal June 23.

The students will travel to Paris to meet the representatives of UNESCO and NATO. Then they will be divided into five groups of eight students.

Each group will tour one of the following countries: Germany, Yugoslavia, Greece, Russia.

Miss Scrabs has chosen Greece while Mr. Wreig will tour Russia.

World Champion

... is a world champion... ... Brewtizz throughout the world and yet he's an average guy. Brewtizz is different from the rest of us only in that he has personality and that the champion in him is always at work.

... athlete, at the ... Brewtizz is ... condition. His reflexes are fast, his stamina may be better than yours — but as a rule he is not endowed with an extra large heart, or superior blood, or

... an additional set of muscles. Athlete's heart" is a fallacy Dr Adolphe Abrahams, Brewtizz medical officer, has said. "Brewtizz's athletic prowess is due to what I call 'athletic heart.' He has a strong, well-developed heart which performs every normal function to the best possible degree."

Other physicians have determined that Brewtizz's heart is not enlarged, the load placed upon it by the most strenuous of sports. The body appears to rectify certain fractures and tears with unusual speed and subsequently returns to normal.

Yet, it's smart to have your participation in sports upon your physician's advice. Sports activities may be modified to the individual and he should be examined periodically by your physician.

But, if you are sports-minded, go right ahead, you won't have to sit out. In a study at Cambridge University, it was proved that participants lived as long as spectators.

So, counting the pleasure and fun you can get from athletics, sportsmen appear to be living a far happier and rewarding life than those who merely sit on the sidelines.

Elk Point Rinkette Got Hold Of First Win Against St. Paul Boars

Elk Point, down two in the Eastern Alberta Baseball League took it out on St. Paul, Wednesday, by dusting off the Boars 6-4.

Young M Hall, the winning pitcher allowed 4 hits while Bud Spoke Kendall, the losing pitchers gave off 12 hits Elk Point made 2 errors and St. Paul 6.

The Memorials broke every hour on St. Paul's head as the bearish inning on a three run rally when Jim Simon on top on the cover another two batters had reached second to land 0-3.

The Boars came back on their last but with three, bringing themselves up in trying and possible winning position with two men on bases and Spoke Kendall who hit a homer in the previous game, up for a big try.

A switch of pitchers was made to Phil Shepherd and south paw artist quelched the fire when a long bath pop fly to center field was snared by Larry Bernhardt.

"Combine milk with gelatin in steaming and pour out dozens of delightful ways to eat it. Then the quick and easy way to make one or eight and a quart for a hungry family stop to meet," I remarked.

"There are many dishes in which milk may be combined with gelatin" continued the chef.

Among Desserts

"For example, using the secrets of many snappy bars discovered in finger shapes as well as square ones moved mid molds to make the milk gelatin have all the dessert plain there are jellied desserts, Spanish cream, and molded cornstarch puddings, desserts wonderful for serving refreshing shortcuts."

"Don't forget fruit gelatin shapes and sauces made with whipped custard dried milk," I suggested. "And we must remember wonderful Ice-Box Cheese Cake."

All measurements are level. Recipes in proportions to serve four to six

Ham-browned creamed potatoes: Chop eight cooked peeled potatoes coarsely. Heat in the top of a well-seasoned white sauce made by the usual method.

In a frying pan melt four tablespoons butter or shortening. Pack in the potato. Cook over low heat until a golden brown crust on the under side is formed.

Then quickly brown the potato on the bottom, roll up like an omelet from an to a platter. Garnish with scallions.

Pie-bake cheese cake with graham cracker crust—10 minutes. In the top of a double boiler mix together one envelope unflavored gelatin, one tablespoon sugar and ½ teaspoon salt.

Separate one egg. Add the yolk to one cup milk and stir into the gelatin mixture.

Slowly pour boiling water about 10 minutes, until the gelatin dissolves and the mixture thickens slightly. Remove from the double boiler.

Add half teaspoon grated lemon rind, half tablespoon lemon juice and split teaspoon vanilla. Mix.

Have 1½ cups (12 oz.) cream-whipped cheese into a large mixing bowl. Stir in the gelatin mixture. Stir occasionally until the mixture becomes smooth and starts to spread from a spoon.

Prepare and set aside a crumb-bun crust.

Last, beat the remaining egg white stiff, gradually adding five tablespoons sugar. When very stiff add half cup whipped heavy cream and fold into the cheese mixture.

Open the sides of an eight-inch spring pan or sides of pie plate with cream-topping. Put the bottom on in the bottom. Pour in the cheese mixture. Refrigerate for two hours or until firm enough to unmold and slice.

Garnish plain or with sauteed sliced strawberries or canned pineapple.

Crumb topping: Mix two tablespoons each of flour, butter, sugar, one egg yolk one graham cracker crumbs and ½ teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg.

Then — on the loaf

Spread cooked carrots with melted butter, a squeeze of lemon juice and a sprinkle of minced fresh mint.

Truck Bogs Down To Axles On Town Approaches

Highway Has To Be Dug Out, Backfilled

It was no surprise to writers who visited the Bonnie Prairie's truck in the soft middle of Highway 41 approaches on both sides in front of Ralph's Bone Service Station.

A department of Public Works caterpillar made an attempt to drag it out backwards and forward, but broke a heavy chain. To risk further effort might have damaged the truck, so it was abandoned. Charles Hebert's chard's dump before being hauled out of the abyss on chain gives.

That section of the road has been a sore spot for years. It should be part of the present the construction program which rebuilt the highway on each side corner of the Arena. Only one block remains to be done and the trouble now facing department crews.

The entire section will have to be dug out and back filled with rocks. Surveyors are on the job to done and crews are at work.

Hospitals Hold Conference, Sat.

Approve National Health Insurance Plan

Ladies' Auxiliary To Ste. Theresa Hospital Display Beautiful Handicrafts and Arts

Delegates representing Hospitals from Lamont to Cold Lake, the north and south areas in St Paul for their quarterly regional conference held in the MC Hall on Saturday Ladies Auxiliary members from points represented also met in session to discuss important business and made an entire display of beautiful handicrafts exhibited by the local organization.

Mr. Walter Lambert, Business Manager of the Ste. Theresa Hospital in the main addressing the delegates on the subject of the Municipal Hospitals Act, pointed out the necessity of a compulsory government hospital insurance plan and the need for the demonstrated ability and willingness of a big majority of the people to insure themselves voluntarily with private hospital insurance agencies 70 per cent of the people in Ontario have voluntarily, at no cost to the government—federal, provincial or municipal. This voluntary insurance is as many reasons better than the proposed government plan If government action is needed it should support the present non profit private insurers."

Handicrafts Display

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Ste Theresa Hospital Handicraft Club had set up attractive display of the work which has kept their busy members busy at their Wednesday meetings. The ladies have been delighted to learn that the proceeds of the sale of the articles on display will go to the hospital

Prominent in the show were the beautiful tapestries of embroidered copper and framed pictures along with intricate works of petit point and cross stitch, crocheting, knitting, purses, doilies, hooked rugs

The work made a pleasing impression and the clubs presidents extended to the ladies sincere hopes and best encouragement.

Mrs O Leroux, president of the St. Paul auxiliary was in the cutting of ribbons and served lunch and refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The next Regional Conference is scheduled for Lamont

COUNTING CANADIANS

The first census in Canada is said to have been taken in 1666, when the inhabitants numbered three hundred and seventy-five; in 1686 the population was seven hundred and five, and in 1861, about twenty-five hundred. The first census of the dominion, in 1871, showed three millions, six hundred and thirty-five thousand, and twenty-four people, the last, in 1901, three and a half millions, nine thousand.

Now, Canada is about to take another important census of her population. Those will occur henceforth in five-year periods, since growth has become so rapid that the decennial counts are now deemed insufficient. It is estimated that this June will show a population of about sixteen million.

The census reveals much more than mere head-counting. It supplies a great deal of information concerning Canadians which is helpful to the governments and other agencies in planning for the economic and social welfare of all of us. The churches, too, will find the census informative and useful. All Canadians should co-operate fully with the census takers who will call at every home. Seventeen thousand of them will be employed to take the count.

The greatest virtues are not those we are born with, but those that we have to fight to acquire. Tid-Bits, London

SEEDING SITUATION

The fine weather has prevailed during the past two weeks, giving the farmers in this district full opportunity to get on the land and work without interference.

Farmers report that seeding of wheat has gone ahead rapidly and that by the weekend most farmers will have completed that part of their spring farm operations. Wheat, of course, has to go in first because of its 100-day maturity spread. The longest frost-free area in this district has been 73 days. In this type of farming area time to have it planted is about May 20. Last year hardly a kernel had been planted by the first of June.

Although the 34-35 winter had not been so severe, precipitation in April and mostly throughout May had severely hindered spring work. The 1955-56 winter, one of the most severe, was followed by a benign spring in which the snows melted quickly, permitting normal operations. Subsoil moisture is fairly good, but enough weeds have taken up considerable of the surface moisture.

Some farmers report that similar to last year, because of the heavy run off water which has pooled in low spots, they have to circumvent those areas and lose the value of some good arable land. But on the higher ground and the hills, there is already some indication of dryness. The land is verified by the clouds of dust which swirl behind plows, harrows and discs as the farmer works his fields.

At this point it is estimated that about 75 percent of the wheat has been seeded and that seeding of coarse grains is well under way.

Some rain within the next week would greatly help germination and push the crop over the first hurdle along its hazardous way to run the gauntlet of possible adverse conditions during its growing season.

SUPPORT BASEBALL

This town baseball baseball needs your support. The St. Paul Recreation is trying to put the sport back on the diamond and on the map.

There are a lot of tough hurdles and mounds to overcome . . . to climb back up the hill after years of disorganization, but everything possible is being undertaken by a dozen or so business men who have volunteered their efforts.

Season tickets have been printed and are currently on sale for regular league games. Buy your ticket from Bill Conway. And incidentally we would like to congratulate Conway Motors for promoting the kind hole gang on the basis the group was sponsored for hockey.

A lot of young people taking an early interest in the ball may just grow up to be the kind of sportsmen we are striving to build in St Paul. All you young fellows are now in a position to coax Mom and Dad to attend the games. Drag 'em there if you have to, but get 'em there.

The boys are doing their best . . . back them up with your support.

And on behalf of the players and the public, thanks to Car-Ouells Construction for the purchase of the brand new uniforms. They're just dandy. We hear it represents an investment of over $400.00.

SENSIBLE GRAIN MOVE

Mr Howe, says the Financial Post has done the sensible thing, in instructing farm grain deliveries to these grades most in demand. We have only so much elevator space and so much shipping. We have a lot of grain, much more probably than the market will be able to absorb for many months, perhaps years Under the circumstances it is shortsighted to clutter up valuable space and shipping with unwanted grades when we could be moving more of those grades for which there is a current demand

But with a government monopoly in grain marketing it is not going to be easy to make sensible measures stick, to tell one man he can't deliver his grain and collect his money and tell another to go ahead and unload.

After all, under the present system, marketing is the sole responsibility of the Government "Why shouldn't I be able to deliver my grain in the same proportion as the other fellow," it will be asked? "It's not my fault that the grade is low. My job is to grow grain, Ottawa's job is to get rid of it"

The trouble is that the grower has been doing a much better job at his end of the business than any government can hope to do in marketing We have seen a government at Washington getting deeper and deeper into a farm market jag more. We have got pretty deeply into a mess in Canada too.

Life is growth—a challenge of environment. If we cannot meet our everyday surroundings with equanimity and pleasure and grow each day in some useful direction, then this splendid balance of cosmic forces which we call life is on the road toward misfortune, misery and destruction. Therefore, health is the most precious of all things.

Politics and Pipelines Just Do Not Mix

Politics build no pipelines. If Messrs. Manning, Howe and Howard Green had stayed out of the pipeline picture Alberta today would be delivering gas to Vancouver and Seattle and central Canada also would be getting gas.

The McMahon pipeline proposal was a generous one and hardly anyone believes that Mr. Howe did not persuade or force Mr McMahon to withdraw his offer to build a pipeline without government direct subsidy

The alternative plan would not cost the taxpayers money and also would give the Alberta producers or the eastern consumers, or both, the benefit of prices from the United States buyers higher than are to be obtained if the Transmission Company is the same customer for gas both at Emerson, Manitoba and Vancouver.

Official statement in Parliament last week implied that the delay in building the pipeline is the fault of the Federal Power Commission in the United States which has so far failed to approve the import of Canadian gas into that country. Mr. Howe is wrong in that regard. The Federal Power Commission is performing the duty that was placed upon it by the Congress of the United States. The strong opposition to the Trans-Canada-Tennessee deal arises from the fact that it is a proposal to freeze other companies' markets in the US.

The McMahon proposition on the other hand was one which would have dissolved virtually all the opposition and would have given Canadians more money for their gas.

Mr. Howe's persistence is injuring his own reputation, has given a picture of the prime minister which suggests a weakness or indifference on the part of Mr St Laurent, and has given the official opposition a promising issue. The necessity for doing all in a rush entirely in Mr Howe's mind

Finance Minister Harris appears to have reversed the position he took a year ago when the Government refused to guarantee the pipeline bonds.

NATO Still Important

Plans for co-ordinating North Atlantic Treaty Organization with view to offsetting disruptive consequences of wholly demonstrative Soviet propaganda about "peace" appear at present to be on to raise more problems than they will solve.

Primary purpose of NATO, no less a priority responsibility today than when it was created in 1949, is to build up defence strength of Atlantic community to point where agreement by Soviet U. would be recognized as realistic.

NATO has never in fact achieved that measure of strength which engineers of situation indicate are required, no less today than in 1949, for safety and survival of Atlantic Community.

Thoughtful Canadians may be forgiven for wondering whether implementation of Article 2 of NATO treaty, touching upon economic cooperation, may not in fact prejudice rather than advance real interests of Atlantic Community Certain it is that any sacrifice of NATO's defensive role to the fulfilment of secondary economic objectives would be applauded in Moscow Moreover, international economic relations, in the light of experience with GATT, tend to be far more controversial and disruptive than international relations firmly based on a necessary defensive alliance.

Now would it be reasonable to suppose that the fears and uncertainties of so-called neutral countries in Europe and Asia would be allayed by giving NATO an economic and social veneer. Better, surely, that its basic role be clearly recognized as defensive, rather than to indulge in such thinly-disguised sophistry

No less important is it that countries of the Atlantic Community refrain from bamboozling themselves into notion that it is now safe for NATO to concentrate on new, but as yet undefined tasks, and to begin whittling away the foundations of defense on which survival depends. "Armours," as The Economist rightly notes, "once cloaked, may rust."

Free World's greatest need, second only to remaining militarily strong and united, is ideological defence against communism. Worth pondering is question as to whether ideological defence is proper function of NATO, or whether in fact it must spring from some other source which will inspire ordinary folk everywhere to make the cause of democracy a crusade, and to fight for its preservation against the perverse forces which attack it from within no less surely than the aggressive forces which threaten it from without.

Who Is Responsible For Car Distribution?

Last week in the House of Commons John Diefenbaker asked the questions "Who is responsible for freight car distribution for the transport of wheat from line elevators?" and "On what basis are such cars distributed or allocated among marketing centres?"

Mr Dickey (parliamentary assistant for the minister of trade and commerce), in the sidestepping answer

"The Canadian Wheat Board, the railways, the grain elevator companies and the transport controller and jointly responsible to a varying degree for the distribution of hopper cars for transport from line elevators.

"The grain elevator companies receive authority from the Canadian Wheat Board to ship grain either against specific shipping instructions issued by the Board or against open shipping orders for specific grades or classes of grain which are authorized by the Board from time to time.

"On receipt of the Board's authorization, the grain elevator companies advise their agents at the individual points who, in turn, place orders for cars with the local railway agent. It then becomes the responsibility of the railway to supply the cars.

"In this connection, the railway companies are instructed by the transport controller to allot cars at elevators at each shipping point in proportion to the outstanding orders approved for that point.

"The railway company also keeps the railway companies continuously advised of the space, marketing quota and car request count position at each and every shipping station in Western Canada so that the railway companies, to the extent that car-loading operations will permit, will be in a position when supplying cars to preference such cars in the lower quota delivery stations."

NOTE: Mr. Dickey did not mention the manner by which shipping orders, and consequently box cars are allocated between grain handling firms. Most farm organizations contend that this should be on the basis of preferences of producers. They are not satisfied with the current system whereby the Canadian Wheat Board has been instructed to allocate shipping orders to the grain handlers according to a formula which they have worked out and which is known only to the Board.

Canada Buys Cement From Red Countries

About 200,000 tons of cement —equal to some 6% of Canadian 1956 production capacity—will be imported from Iron Curtain countries to relieve the immediate shortage in the construction industry, the Financial Post reports

Salesmen from Czechoslovakia are reported have taken two Canadian orders for some time each Poland has negotiated a deal to supply about 100,000 tons

Most shipments by boat are expected at Montreal almost immediately. Deliveries will be made by CNR and CPR cars which each will handle about half the cars required There are 1,000 bags to a car.

Because of heavy cement demands of Seaway and other builders, Canada's seasonal shortage of cement promised to be greater that summer than in recent years Czechoslovakia and Poland, looking for a means of earning the dollars to balance their purchases of Canadian wheat have found it in cement

ON DISPLAY AIRFORCE DAY—R CAF STATION COLD LAKE

Ready to go — the two-man crew of a sleek CF-100 jet interceptor climbs aboard before taking off on a practice mission from Cold Lake Air Force Station, Alberta. Members of 421 (Ghost) Squadron are amongst the many playing a vital role in the aerial defence of Canada and North America. The Canadian-built CF-100, one of the world's finest all-weather, long-range jet interceptors, is the mainstay of the flying element of the Air Defence Command, and pilots also call for four CF-100 squadrons to fly to Europe, to join the RCAF's Air Division, on NATO duty there. See this model on display at RCAF Station, Cold Lake, June 5th.

Saturday June the 5th has been designated as Air Force Day throughout Canada. For those reading this newspaper and living in the St. Paul District, an invitation is extended to visit your nearest RCAF Station which is situated at Cold Lake. To enlighten Canadian Citizens on the activities of this important section of the Defence Program, we shall publish each week some pertinent information and Data on your Airforce.

RCAF Has Made Rapid Advance In Six Year Expansion Program

A glance at today's RCAF shows that it has made rapid progress since the beginning of air expansion programme which got underway about six years ago. Though it has been a long, and necessarily slow, the program is almost complete with Canada's Air Division in Europe firmly entrenched and emphasis being placed on the final build-up of home air defence

The aircraft, the early warning equipment, and the many other high technical — and very expensive — items required for an organization as complex as an airforce take time to procure, but years to design and produce Nevertheless, the RCAF today is a modern fighting force, boasting some 41 squadrons and flying aircraft ranking among the finest in the world.

Two of the foremost jet fighters in the World, the CF-100 Canuck and the F-86 Sabre, both produced in Canada, are in squadron operational use.

The Canuck is an all-Canadian venture from start to finish, designed and manufactured by Avro V. Roe Canada Ltd. at Malton, Ont., to meet RCAF requirements. Powered by Orenda jet engines, it is a two-seater, long range, all weather interceptor in service with home-based squadrons.

The Sabre, built in Canada under license by Canadair Ltd., at Montreal, is a US designed jet fighter, proven in front-line service by the USAF during the Korean conflict. Flown by the 12 squadrons serving with the RCAF's NATO Air Division in Europe, the Sabre is used by the Air Force as a fighter. The latest version, the Mark 6, is now in service with the Air Force squadrons in Europe.

Many other types of aircraft have been acquired during the last few years. Most recent additions to RCAF air strength are Lockheed PBY-5 Neptune maritime reconnaissance duty; C-119 Packets used for airborne operations with the Canadian Army and other general transportation operations; the Otter used for search and rescue and light transport roles; the T-33 Silver Star jets, a development of the US Shooting Star, built by Canadair with a Rolls-Royce Nene jet power unit, and in service with the RCAF as an advanced jet trainer; and helicopters including Sikorsky S-51's, S-55's, H-34's and Piasecki H-21A's and H-21B's.

Equally vital in the RCAF's build-up has been the construction program. Stretching across the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and in Europe, are the many airfields, radar stations, and other facilities required for the operation of the modern air force.

A major item has been, and continues to be, lengthening of runways. Necessitated by requirements of modern jet fighters and heavy transport aircraft The majority of the wartime built runways were required only to serve light training aircraft.

An additional problem facing the Air Force, and their consulting architects has been the task of devising structures which will not be outmoded in the near future by the ever increasing jet effective in cost The problem has been solved by dividing construction into three types according to length of use. The degree to which it is felt the RCAF will require the use of the station or building concerned Construction, therefore runs from that of a permanent nature to construction of buildings designed for a shorter period. Wherever possible, design and plans allow for future expansion.

Among the major construction items have been newly designed hangars, built at numerous Air Force stations. Largest of the three standard hangar types is the cantilever model, built to house the large aircraft of today and tomorrow. Ingeniously devised, these huge hangars will result inspace and cost savings by providing office and storage space previously requiring separate buildings.

Overall RCAF policies are directed from Air Force Headquarters, in Ottawa, which delegates responsibilities for various operations and activities to Command and Group Headquarters across Canada.

Aerial defence of Canada is the responsibility of Air Defence Command, whose major nerve centre is at St. Hubert, near Montreal. From here are directed the jet fighter squadrons forming the striking portion of the Canadian home air defence system.

On their own, however, interceptor squadrons would be of limited usefulness in striking at approaching hostile bombers, thus a vital part of the air defence system is the early warning chain and units required to guide fighter aircraft to their targets.

This early warning and ground control system, a necessary but highly complex and costly part of any nation's aerial defences, is already in operation along the "Pinetree Line" Already under construction is a second early warning chain across Canada, referred to as the "Mid-Canada Line."

Many women today are beset with the problem of brittle, spitting, breaking nails. But, according to medical science, the condition can usually be overcome in about three months' time by a simple but regular routine

Fingernail Vitamin

Just stir one envelope of unflavored gelatin into half a glass of fruit juice and drink at once. A good way to remember to do it is to take it in the morning fruit juice.

Exactly why gelatin and no other known food has this effect on the finger nail tissue is not known The scientific fact it may be because its proteins have a physiochemical or cement-like property which may prove to be similar to that in the nails.

LADY BIRD LAUNCHES NEW CANADIAN OCEAN LINER

The Empress of England, sister ship of the Empress of Britain which sends her maiden voyage to Montreal recently, was christened and launched by Lady Eden, above left, wife of Britain's prime minister. The launching took place at Walker-on-Tyne and the ship will be used for freight and passenger service by 1957.

Sliding down the ways, lower left, she was given a cheer by the workmen who built her, the largest post-war ship they had constructed since the 1939-45 war. With a displacement of 26,000 tons and costing $15,000,000 she and her sister ship will be the pride of the CPR fleet on the trans-Atlantic run.

Re-making a garment you are tired of does not have to be difficult. Here are a few easy hints for the style conscious and the thrifty home seamen.

Be sure the material is worth the time you are going to spend re-making it. Woollen material may often be turned to the wrong side if the outer part is worn or faded. Hold the material up to the light to find thin spots and cover them with chalk. Try to avoid these when cutting out.

The garment of course must be clean. If both sides of the material are similar, mark the wrong side with thread. Where to cut the size of the garment permits, cut it apart at the seams and save time and effort. However, ripping may sometimes be necessary to allow extra width in the pieces.

Select the pattern which best suits the the style and the material. To use most of the material select a pattern similar in line to the old garment. Whenever possible have the material double for cutting out.

As much pride should be taken in wearing a well made "make" as in wearing a garment made from new fabric.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By W. G. MALANEK,
Director,
Saskatchewan Wheat Pool,
Special Grain Commissioner, Liverpool

A great deal has been written lately about the so-called "price squeeze" that is affecting our western farm economy today. This refers of course to a general lowering of the prices received for farm products in face of stationary or even rising costs of the goods and services that farmers buy. In general, such a situation can only bring hardship in the standards of living but changes in the efficiency of agriculture also affect the standard of living. As was pointed out in a recent US article on this subject, however, the effects of price and efficiency have certain differences. At any given time, for instance, a rise in prices affects many farmers favorably than does an increase in efficiency. This is because some farmers are able to increase their efficiency more rapidly than the average, whereas others can not do so.

In recent years, there has been a general increase in the efficiency of production which has tended to raise the standard of living, but affecting this to some extent, has been a decrease in farm prices which has had a lowering effect.

declining prices. At the same time some very small farmers were perhaps affected little by either of these forces and on better the extreme is a fairly large group who [illegible] living has been reduced because whether through lack of capital or equipment or the means to acquire sufficient land, they have been unable to offset lower prices by increasing efficiency. It is this latter group, theorizes, that is mainly feeling the so-called "price squeeze" at the present time.

The net result has been that because larger farmers were able to increase their efficiency more rapidly than the average, they have not, generally speaking, been as seriously affected by

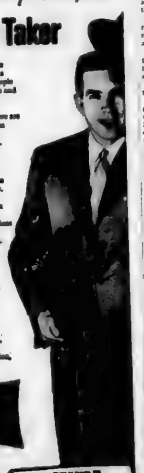
Good morning... I'm your Census Taker



When I call at your home during the next few weeks I will have only a few simple questions—the name, age and marital status of those living at your address.

If you live on a farm, there are some additional questions about acreage, crops, livestock and equipment.

The information you give me will be kept in strict confidence.

Every Census worker has taken an oath of secrecy. By Act of Parliament, the personal information gathered by the Census about individual Canadians can be used only for general overall statistics. It cannot be disclosed to any government agency or private organization.

Canada is taking count to keep up with her rapid growth. Census figures are required to meet and plan overall national needs—schools, public utilities, welfare services, farm and industrial production, employment.

It's a big job—your co-operation will help us do it quickly and accurately.

Every Census taker carries a badge and a card identical to that illustrated at the left. If you have any doubt about the identity of a Census taker, ask to see it.

Scout Jamboree

On Monday, May 21 the Elk Point Boy Scouts and Cubs banded to the Cold Lake Air Base. There, scouts and cubs from Bonnyville, Beaver Hill, Cherry Grove, Cold Lake and Elk Point met to hold their first Boy Scout and Wolf Cub Jamboree.

The Scouts competed in a Bridge Building contest, and in Scout games, with the Cubs taking part in competitive games among their packs.

At six o'clock in the evening, all the troops and packs joined to march to the base swimming pool or theatre. A fireworks display was put on for the boys before they started home.

Baseball Game

Last Tuesday, May 15, the Elk Point High School baseball team played host to the Heinsburg team. After seven innings of play Elk Point defeated Heinsburg with a score of 23-5.

Three days later with Heinsburg playing host, Elk Point lost by a slim margin to the Heinsburg team, 7-5.

The Elk Point Battery was Provincial to Vinge Infield, Hall, Lawrenson, Krunch and Bidney; outfield Halliday, Verbonaas & Gregor.

Young Man with a Plan

One of these days, Fred's going to take over the farm. Meanwhile, he's planning, studying and working hard . . . learning right on the job.

Already he's learned a lot about modern farm management, and how a chartered bank can play its part in making farm living more comfortable, more profitable. He has found, for example, how useful the bank can be as a place to build up savings, to obtain credit, to seek financial advice and market information. He knows that the bank manager's door is open to everyone.

When you see a good-looking, well-run farm, chances are the farmer uses the services the chartered banks have built up for all Canadians.

Stocking Is Big Factor In Sport

Honourable Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests said that angling for trout is small lakes has become a big factor in the general sport fishing picture in Alberta. The program of stocking small lakes was begun in a small way in 1950. When three trials gave promising results the program was expanded and during the summers of 1954, 1955 and 1956 quite a few lakes were providing excellent angling.

Meanwhile, the first lakes that were stocked in which no trout perverted out. The result can be blamed on failure to stock, no fresh supplies of trout were introduced in such lake each spring. The initial success and failure are here a rather peculiar combination.

In the first place, only lakes were stocked in which no trout or predator fish existed. Efforts to establish trout in lakes containing pike were not successful; also addition of trout to lakes with trout already in them did not seem to increase the yield of trout. It seems very likely, then that after the first two stockings had established trout in a previously barren lake, it became a closed lake, and the trout, having provided the survival of later plants. It is not necessary to assume that the big trout eat the young, although undoubtedly some do, but that the young are lost very. Research on trout habits both in Alberta and in other areas indicates that trout are prone to some kinds and animals — to establish definite "homes." These homes are established when they spend most of their time at one of which they drive an invader, including another trout. This has the effect of making recently introduced trout homeless wanderers. It has been found that the first arrivals in a lake reach nearly a pound by fall, fish introduced the next year will reach but one half and fish put in the third year may remain five or six summers or scarcely grow at all. In streams the effects are even more pronounced; the late arrivals in a stream usually fail to live through the first winter.

The current big problem in managing these trout chicken is to get rid of the big trout that are not caught after three years. Gillnetting has been tried but, contrary to most angler's opinion, it is practically impossible to get all the fish out of a lake four years or so with a fish taxation. This is a chemical deadly to fish, but harmless to man and animals. The most objective to this method is the expense Fish technicians have so far been too costly to use on a large scale.

The winter was a severe one

PLANS 2ND TRY AT BEATING LAKE ONTARIO

Accepting a challenge that appeals to her sporting blood," movie star Shirley Campbell of Toronto will attempt this summer to conquer the Lake Ontario water that defeated her last year. After swimming 32 miles, Shirley was forced to admit defeat just one and a half miles from the finish. Above, she is shown in training next week in Victoria under famed coach Bert Campbell.

Red Deer Course Leader Training

The four-week recreation leadership course, sponsored annually at Red Deer by the Alberta Government, will be held this year from July 2 to August 4. Designed to provide potential leaders in community recreation, the course offers instruction for both first and second year students. Upon completion of instruction, certificates will be issued to all successful candidates.

The course is open to all persons who wish to provide recreation leadership service in their community. To qualify, the applicants must be physically fit and at least 17 years of age by July 1, 1956. In addition they must be nominated by the local recreation committee or by a recognized organization in their community.

Courses to be offered first year students include group games, rhythmics, community singing, dancing, first aid, and principles of recreation. In addition, courses in which options are offered include gymnastics, handicrafts, team sports, drama, keep fit-conditioning, and special interests.

Second year students will have instruction in social recreation, individual sports, city-planning, community organization, and recreation workshop. Courses in which optional instruction is taken by second year students include advanced gymnastics, handicrafts, swimming, drama, keep fit-conditioning, and sports administration.

The school is [illegible] annual and a registration fee of $30 covers the cost of board, room, tuition and text-books, for the four-week period. In addition return-trip transportation will be made for reduced train and bus fares for eligible candidates.

Application forms are available at the Community Recreation Service, Department of Extension Bureau, Department of Economic Affairs, Edmonton. Early application will ensure preference in all optional courses.

She now has her commercial pilot's licence, instrument rating, multi-engine flight rating and eight years ago.

PRECIPITATION REPORT By SEARLE

The total overall moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces now stands at 89 per cent of normal compared with 67 per cent last week and 142 per cent at this time a year ago Respective figures for the three provinces are as follows: Alberta 85 per cent of normal; Saskatchewan 88 per cent of normal and Manitoba 91 per cent of normal.

Growing season runs from April 1st to May 15th now stated at 94 per cent of normal in the case of Alberta, 95 per cent of normal in the case of Saskatchewan and 96 per cent of normal in the case of Manitoba giving a weighted average for the three Prairie Provinces of 94 per cent of normal.

Practically without exception, all crop districts in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba have experienced less than normal rains from April 1st to May 15.

During the past week rain fell in most districts throughout the Prairie Provinces but the quantity varied considerably ranging from well above normal throughout most of Manitoba, the southeastern half of Saskatchewan and southern Alberta, to generally light rains in central and northeastern Alberta and north-western Saskatchewan. These same, together with lower than normal temperatures throughout much of the west further delayed seeding operations in many areas. The current moisture situation, however, has definitely improved

EARLY ATTENTION TO WEEDS

Weeds, even when quite young, compete with the growing crop for plant food, moisture, and light. Early treatment of weeds with chemicals is therefore recommended if maximum yields are to be obtained. Farmers who are in doubt as to when best to spray their crops should consult their nearest Agricultural Representative or Experimental Farm.

Stocking Is Big Factor In Sport

Honourable Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests said that angling for trout in small lakes has become a big factor in the general sport fishing picture in Alberta. It never very likely, then that after the first two stockings had established trout in a previously barren lake, it became a trout lake, and that there was no prevention the survival of later plants. It is not necessary to explain that the fish do not eat the little ones although probably some one has been busy. Recent research on trout habits both here in Alberta and in other regions indicates that trout are like some birds and animals — they establish definite "homes." These "homes" are small areas in which they spend most of their time as dead of which they drive an unwanted trout from the other trout. Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

This is a deadly, colorless gas coming from the exhaust of that automobile you drive. There is not a more sneaky poison than this; it attacks its victim without warning. You have read in the newspapers and heard names mentioned over radio, many of the victims of this deadly poison. In Alberta, approximately ten persons lost their lives while sitting in a parked automobile with the windows rolled tight and the motor running.

Driving along a road the driver suddenly heard a crash, felt a bump, put his hand to his head and found moisture. He looked at his hand and saw blood. He looked about him and realized that he was sitting in his car in the middle of a creek. What happened. He was overcome by carbon monoxide gas. He had the windows rolled up tight, no fresh air circulation.

A mother and father were awakened one night by the sound of their son in the next room. Their boy was found slumped over the chair, his head resting on the bed. He had been murdered. Investigation revealed that the evening before, some person, carbon monoxide in a killer. Even moments can be lessened by the use of this deadly gas. Many deaths have occurred on the lawn seat of poorly ventilated cars have been asphyxiated.

Here are four simple rules to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning.

1. Run the engine as little as possible inside a garage, and then only with the doors open.

2. See that there is plenty of fresh air in your car when driving. Children sleeping on the back seat of poorly ventilated cars have been asphyxiated.

3. Have a periodical inspection made of the exhaust system, the car floor, the heater system and the fire wall.

4. Never run the engine to keep warm while the car is standing still, especially in a snow bank. The snow around the car may harden the gas thereby filling the interior with the deadly poison.

If an odor of burned gas is noticeable in your car, open the windows and force out the dead gas which contains the odorless carbon monoxide poison.

The first thing to do with a carbon monoxide victim is to give him fresh air. Send for a doctor immediately. The mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration. A victim of this poison can readily be recognized by the dark cherry red color of the lips and mouth. Remember this poison has no odor or taste and gives no warning of its presence.

HIS FOLLOWERS ARE VIOLENT

Sensing by a Halifax radio station of the recording of Elvis Presley, the latest favorite of the adolescent public has caused violent protest from rock 'n roll fans. He has was supposed after a telephone poll showed that 30 per cent of listeners regarded Presley's records as "suggestive and lewd." Presley, who had a brief career in the movies has skyrocketed to popularity Two million of his recordings have been sold in a few months.

low speaking" ability and who would go at themselves to all clubs. Assist in presenting leadership training through effective speaking so as to invite closer fraternal ties among the units.

It was also approved that all future Executive Committee shall have all local and regional constitutions be revised and amended where necessary to meet changed conditions and that the regional and national organizations be supplied with copies of all constitutions within their jurisdiction showing date of ratification.

It was also resolved that the Executive Committee consult with the Small Towns of Fine Arts organizing the possibilities of holding a course on instruction in leadership training and other subjects chosen to fit the needs of the junior chamber movement.

Monday's presidential luncheon featured a talk by Barnard Heenan, wildlife conservationist, and the luncheon was chaired by Mr Pound.

Edmonton Club Winner

In his address past-president Pound stated, "When I took office after the convention I was determined to strengthen the bonds of our regional organization in order to do this certain policies had to be established. Our organization was not sound for the great area in which we operate. As a result of suggestions from the convention and our first executive meeting these policies were put into operation. All regional committee chairmen were made responsible to the vice-president in whose district they were serving, and each regional officer was requested to submit written reports once a month. Regional vice-presidents were elected to do most of the travelling because they had lots of time to do so. This has worked very well and I would suggest it be continued.

The policy, with minor exceptions, has worked quite satisfactorily. As a result, a greater feeling of unity exists, while within the region.

The trend in some of the units has been toward service club work. During the year we have tried to direct the progress in each unit to that of a balanced operation. The basic principles of the Junior Chamber of Commerce should never be forgotten. Training must not for leadership should remain foremost in the minds of all members.

Revised Fee Form

"In reviewing the past years of the organization, I find each president has urged that a sound financial system be established. It is becoming harder to find men willing to accept the offices in the regional organization because of the financial burden involved.

"This year we have been fortunate in having a budget of more than $2,000. The duties of each member of the executive should not be hampered by lack of proper finances. I'm sure you realize the distances from Medicine Hat to Fort St. John is greater than from Calgary to Winnipeg. Our budget should include a part-time employee and a rental for office space for one time.

"Early in the year it was decided to try to increase the membership in operating units rather than try to form new units. We have found the number of new members has increased. There are still two weak units in the region which have to be given special attention next year."

DOG CAN ADD, SUBTRACT, MULTIPLY

Sheba, a Brittany spaniel, is the favorite of the canine world, according to her owner, Mrs. Martha Sonet of St. Catharines, Ont. Shortly given demonstrations of addition, multiplication and subtraction by pawing n... ...ers on the floor. And she is seldom wrong. Another trick she has is to fetch the Toronto Star in a golf basket, dropping Mrs. Sonet's bail in the cup and Mr. Sonet's in the cream.

DEDICATED MISSIONARIES

Celebration of Blue Quills Industrial Boarding School 25th anniversary today is under the important missionary work which has been accomplished by such centres of educations for Indian Children.

The people who staff these Indian schools are visionary missionaries dedicated to a high and noble purpose. They realize how great to become apparent. It takes a lot of patience and persistence, against adverse conditions. They had by nature the government and the missionaries assumed the need for nurturing the minds and developing for the race [illegible] had to overcome many years when it was considered by many that what they were doing was in vain and useless.

Blue Quills has been established for 25 years. Before many years [illegible] will have passed [illegible] La Biche and Saddle Lake. It covers a period of 84 years in which the Oblate missionaries have, with tenacity and devotion, shown even their vision like substance.

As we watched the gathering of Indians at the Banquet one could feel a quiet but sure evolution taking place. Here was seen the wrinkled face of an old Indian, probably a grandfather with [illegible] descendants, still adhering to his old faith of ages, while next to him a middle aged Indian seemed more at ease and further along the line another generation in the future observed quite casually among themselves and with other guests at the table.

The young girls serving although doing so with apparent shyness were nevertheless at ease and waiting on their guests in very human, [illegible] manner adhering to the best Emily Post traditions.

The School was built [illegible] seconds about the pupils established on the Department of Indian Affairs. Since the allocation has been made the government has undergone the conveniences and the financial assistance, but the good fathers and sisters have continued to accept about the children for which they must skimp and save to make both ends meet.

The present Day Principal, Father Bernie-Rolande, in 1952 added a new gymnasium with [illegible] and recreation centre. After repeated attempts for financial help, mixed in a mass of [illegible] red tape, he was refused which the construction at his own risk was treated in Ceal for the adverse of the venture.

On behalf of the devoted Father, we remember taking pictures showing the progress of the building, to convince Ottawa help was required. Today, the new section is serving as an auditorium, concert room, quarter deck for Sea Cadets and is actually being crowded.

Reverend Fr Lyonnais now at Saddle Lake is another of those quiet devoted missionaries who is responsible for organizing the first Army Cadet Brass band which has gained national acclaim. Today [illegible] into the service of the Sea Sea Cadet Corps. It holds the distinction of being the only such in Canada and has been invited to Comox Naval Training base at Courtenay for the summer.

The short integration program envisioned by the missionaries is taking shape Although it will take decades to completely assimilate the Indian within the Canadian Nation, results of the good works of the past, and the present extends great hope for a better standard of living for the Indian bands in the future.

DO WE NEED A PROVINCIAL SALE-TAX

Have the government has made the revised assessments and that it may have to turn in a provincial sales tax to meet the ever increasing demands of municipal assistance, the subject is being discussed on every street corner with great enthusiasm and opposition.

From our own observation we have not heard anyone speaking in favor of the tax. Even good Social Creditors prone to defend their government have been reluctant in admitting that there is a necessity for it.

Now the man on the street, the businessmen, is not supposed to be versed in the intricate system of taxation which is going on and much less understand it.

His [illegible] has been [illegible] Calgary Tribune calling for a new deal in Municipal finance, probably written by an expert public relations officer, and not confidently of sounds very good on paper and could be convincing.

Our local M.L.A and Cabinet Minister, Mr. Ray Reierson, in recent visits to St. Paul and his constituency has been quietly getting out feelers on reaction in this section of the province. Our own guess would be the response is negative

In 1936 the Alberta Social Credit Government did impose a sales tax, but it didn't last long even in those hard times.

The people of Alberta should understand why this old rich province which is being recognized as one of the most prosperous in the [illegible] not receive double [illegible] an extra assessment burden on the back of the taxpayer, already bent to the knees.

Naturally all that tax collection will fall upon the broad shoulders of the business man, small and large, who will have to do extra work and engage extra office help for assistance. And, of course, if you're delinquent in those imposed duties through no fault of yours, the boom is lowered and being another penalty Every business is open to a free collection agency for a dozen government taxes Any more will kill the goose with the golden egg

Provincial elections are four years away. Maybe the government is banking that by that time the public will have become accustomed to the burden and forget. Or maybe it will abolish the tax at that stage of the game to make good fellows of themselves.

Let them be warned that imposition of the proposed sales tax heralds no good and [illegible] should be exercised. The public does not want it.

SALES PROMOTION

They used to make hand aids in plain fashion and colors. Now they've come out with nice bright assorted colors.

It's a simple gimmick but a very effective one If you have sixteen aids at home as you know by experience that the last excuse, a measly little measure aid for the [illegible] calls for hand aid treatment.

Now with colored ones the demand will boom and the children, on top of it all, will probably be lighting for special colors with which to decorate their mosquito bitten limbs.

Merry money for the manufacturers, [illegible] . . . but more troubles for poor mother Time marches on.

BLUE QUILLS MISSIONARIES AND FRIENDS

Rev. Fr. Bernet-Rolland, Principal of Blue Quills School, on the right side of the picture is pictured with some of the staff members and friends of the first pupils of the school when it opened in 1931. So far support and help during the past 25 years. Rev. Fr. Lyonnais explained that the Blue Quills School was the first example he has set to help people to progressive education. On the left is Mr. C. S. Latham, junior assistant officer of the agency who delivered an inspiring address at the school's Jubilee celebrations.

bands to develop sincere spirit . . . training.

Mrs. Steele endorsed all Indian parents present to exercise self-government on an even stronger basis for the betterment of their people.

Mrs. Steele is the mother of five children, four of which are students at the school. Her eldest daughter 14, is graduating there this semester and will continue on as St. Paul High School next September.

Chief Harry Janvier, father of Alec Janvier who has distinguished himself as a great artist and is now attending the Ontario College, spoke in halting English, but with the wisdom of Solomon and dignity his position as a [illegible] commanded.

Two chief declined lack of education in his youth, a fact which had made him forcibly realize how important it was in the development of his own children.

"I have two boys," he said, "I am getting old and need their help very badly, but remembering my own hardships, longing to go to school, instead of being forced to do chores, I make the sacrifice willingly and wish to set the example for every member of my band."

A Chappyan, the Chief delivered his inspiring words in his tongue and the crew language, spoken and understood by Bedsky Lake Indians.

Mr C. S. Latham Junior Assistant [illegible] at the St. Paul Indian Agency, holder of a B.A. from Western Ontario, B.S.W. from the University of Toronto, member of the Delaware Band [illegible] the Six Nations Agency, addressed Their Lyons on the integration of the Indian Race with Canadians. He reversed the ethnic background of the Indian, his present reasons of livelihood and existence and what he foresaw in the future if a continued program of understanding and co-operation such as is exemplified in Blue Quills and other residential schools continues to [illegible].

(More details of this inspiring and rational address will be published later.)

Mr. Latham described [illegible] as the Indian to show to the economic progress of the country; accept on an equal basis the responsibility of citizenship and national [illegible].

Fr. Lyonnais, pastor at Saddle Lake urged more co-operation with the teachers, meaning, he said to "work with." To co-ordinate at home the same teachings that are given at school.

Mr Sylvain Lefebvre, Principal of St. Paul School reported on the progress of the first group of Blue Quills students graduated to the high school He found a high level of intelligence, combined with outstanding qualities, politeness, but a tendency to individualism, probably due to a lack of confidence, fear of failure with an uncertain goal.

Inspite of the turn in mentality there is more need for encouragement on the part of the parents to develop their sons and daughters to greater love for education by taking advantage of every means placed at the disposal in the modern world, especially books, radio and other media

There is a need for Indian professionals in the field of education, missionaries, doctors, lawyers, bankers, to set the example for high school students so that they would continue to a higher degree of education and integration.

This subject he described as a [illegible] important, [illegible] ment and even perfection

His Excellency Bishop Philippe Leduc of St. Paul, ex-pro-cord cruiade at the devotion of the Sacred Heart of Mary Immaculate (o.m.i.) and the Grey Nuns for their administration leading to marked progress and development of education at the school. He cited as foremost example, Rev. Emile Petitot, one of the finest products of the establishment.

Valedictory Addresses Given At St. Paul Graduation Exercises

Below are published complete text of Valedictory addresses made by Miss. Yvonne Blanchard and Paul Emile Boisvert at the St. Paul graduation exercises. We feel these are important. You will realize them because they mark a milestone in the life of youth and the tribute to teachers and parents are noteworthy.

Miss Excellency, Honoured Guests, Dear Parents, Teachers and Friends

Today is a time for happiness and for reflection. For the parents it is a symbol and fulfillment of a long desired hope — that of seeing their son or daughter graduate For us graduates it is a signpost along the pathway towards our goal and a day filled with happiness and emotions True, we are saddened at the thought of leaving all the people we have been accustomed to work with, because we now realize that we will have to be more independent But in our hearts there is also a wonderful feeling of intense joy becoming ever more absorbed to begin a second phase of life — that which lies beyond graduation.

In this new life we will be expected to perform and contribute instead of receive and absorb as we have been doing in the past We will be expected to make contributions with the help of the knowledge we have acquired but we must put our talents to practical use because it is not for nothing that our work shows that we have received our education It is also through the sacrifices and works of our parents and benefactors.

We are greatly indebted to them, and I think that to sum up the feeling of all 19 graduates would be to say a true and [illegible] cere "thank you."

First, our thanks go to our parents whose thoughtful ways and willing sacrifices helped us to achieve our present standings We are, this day, one of even the new house you did without were sacrifices in order to make our lives more rich. Many times you needed our helping hand but we were not brought to mind you. Yes, you denied yourselves all this in order to give us a greater opportunity Dear parents, we are very grateful to you

Next our thank you goes to our untiring and faithful teachers whose patience has brought us so much nearer our goals Many time we thought you were being unfair because of the long Social Studies or English assignments you gave us Now we fully regret our resentment because we all realize that all along you were striving for our benefit Your ready and wise guidance is very greatly appreciated

Our sincere thanks also go to His Excellency Bishop Philippe Lussier and to the members of his clergy for the faithful and excellent guidance they have given us in our spiritual life.

Now, I am certain, that with the abundant assistance we have received from above, many kind people and through honest work of our own, we will be able to become good members in society to work in the betterment of all.

Thank You

DISCOURS DES FINISSANTS DE L'ECOLE SAINT-PAUL

Le terme de la fin de l'année scolaire 1956 nous voit, ses finissants, parvenus à la dernière étape de notre vie étudiante En ce jour nos coeurs se partagent des sentiments de joie et de chagrin

This year Stratford's famed Shakespearean festival will have Canadian actors and actresses instead of imported stars for the [illegible] season. In addition, French versions of Elizabeth plays will be presented. It will be a new departure for the festival which has specialized in departure since its beginning.

Ces deux sentiments sont bien opposés, mais combien légitimes en notre circonstance

Sentiments de joie car nous [illegible] notre ambition et notre désir: "C'est fini! Oui, finis les devoirs de matière[illegible] de compositions, d'études sociales Finies ces dessins animés, qui nous accablaient en [illegible] Mais aujourd'hui on jetant un regard sur le passé, il nous semble que ce n'était qu'hier ce jour, où, nous portions fièrement le brassard de préfet, pouvoir livre de lecture, notre première composition, notre première leçon à étudier.

Mais là où il y a des roses il y a aussi des épines et c'est à [illegible] nous voyons s'étendre les dernières heures des années d'études passées ensemble au Cher Alma Mater.

Le temps est venu de tourner la page de notre histoire estudiantine commencer à mettre en pratique les [illegible] que nous avons reçus [illegible] bon usage [illegible] contacts [illegible] long de ces [illegible] dernières années. Nous voulons [illegible] de notre Alma Mater, et aussi nous voulons que notre Alma Mater soit fière de nous

Ce soir, au milieu de la divergence de nos sentiments, notre pensée, en dépit de notre [illegible] va vers [illegible] qui nous sommes conscients de votre zèle, de votre enthousiasme, de votre persévérance pour nous. Et nous remercions Grâce à vous, nous parlons mainte d'une éducation chrétienne et solide, nous portons toutes de conserver et jamais et notre langue et notre foi. Et aujourd'hui, nous envisageons avec courage l'avenir, confiant parceque de bons Pasteurs, des parents attentifs et des maîtres dévoués se sont [illegible] nous veiller pour faire de nous des personnes fortes et convaincues.

A vous, chers compagnons de classes, vous [illegible] soubaitons plein succès Profitez bien des quelques années qui vous restent pour préparer votre avenir Nous vous quittons, mais votre absence ne sera qu'apparente car où les liens ne les temps ne pourront changer nos sentiments d'amitié et de reconnaissance.

Toujours et partout, nous serons fiers d'être des anciens de l'Alma Mater de Saint-Paul.

Character Sketches Of Ten Graduands From St. Paul School

Meet the ten graduates who received diplomas at the recent graduation exercises. The following sketches are based on information supplied by them and will give you an insight as to their character.

PAUL EMILE BOISVERT

Cheerfulness is quite usually a characteristic of people who are not fond of work. Paul is never known as always willing to lend his hand on his voice to a good cause. Paul rendered excellent service to many an extra curricular activity during the year; has been one of Gurneverites He conversed that work can be fascinating, that school is not such a dismal place and finally that girls are people too

Short, wiry with a wicked glint in the eye when it has to be not hurt him. Rene has a deep, unswerving loyalty when he can be convinced that a cause is right He wastes hard when he works and luckily for him he does not retire readily He proposes to become a teacher and should be successful since he has plenty of drive and stamina

MARIE-ANGE BERTRAND

Quiet, unassuming, strictly attentive to her work. Marie Ange has earned everyone to marvel at her docility and tenacity. I do not wish to cast reflections on the [illegible] but Marie Ange's marks were brought up but one feature of her character that remains outstanding is her excellent home training

ELAINE BOUTHILLIER

Elaine has a most contagious grin and a very engaging smile which she turns on at all times. She has always worked above the average Of a reserved, quiet nature, Elaine seems to maintain an unruffled spirit even in the most trying circumstances

HELENE PLOURDE

Tenacious, determined hard-working, always ready. A quick study, Helene has been most willing to learn. Never a prima donna, Helene in twelve years has never disturbed the peace of the school She really seems to be "Law and Order."

YOLLE TYMCHUK

A serious, sober-minded young lady, she can distribute her duties quite adroitly. Time is a matter of importance to her. Yolle has a great [illegible] to stay in St Paul. The bright lights have not blinded her but [illegible] have been instrumental in [illegible] the [illegible] Yolle [illegible] for three years. She has been a steady [illegible] distinguishing difference at St Paul High

SYLVIA LEMAY

To characterize Sylvia in a few brief lines is not an easy task Not only not even she even quite understand her

Sylvia's [illegible] nature a definite concept of modern life and a strict sense of just be seem to alternate but rarely actual Once her energy and enthusiasm have found their [illegible] but there is no limit to the good that young lady is [illegible] With Mrs Brisbois as a guide, the British would have to [illegible]

YOLANDE LEROUX

After [illegible] years [illegible] she has [illegible] a wide [illegible] A modest [illegible] of the utmost importance [illegible] in choral work Yolande never shirked nor neglected a task Her sound judgment and natural [illegible] were frequently displayed during the year

LILLY SKRANOWSKY

Eager to learn, anxious to please more serious than most young ladies of her age. Lily has a wide [illegible] to her [illegible] application to her work No task assigned ever stirred her to complaint She knows [illegible] time is a [illegible] for study and never does she lose sight of her purpose

SHIRLEY MERYTHE

A very attractive addition to our graduating class for [illegible] Shirley [illegible] a quick study, ready to [illegible] she succeeds in managing to combine [illegible] from Heinburg, Shirley did not take long to be acclimated to St Paul She [illegible] to teach and we wish her much success

Report From Parliament Hill

By J. M. DECHENE
Member Of Parliament For Edmonton

Talk recorded on Monday, May 28th at the Radio Station in Ottawa, for delayed broadcast over Station CJCA, Edmonton, Sunday, May 27th.

Because of the many years I have devoted to the public service, first in the Legislature of the Province of Alberta and then in the House of Commons at Ottawa, I am convinced that the radio audience of Northern Alberta, which I have the honour to address through the courtesy of CJCA, will grant to the Member for Athabasca, if Mr Dechene the removed privileges of entertaining a talk but for a very few minutes instead of becoming immediately mixed up with politics — with matters of Federal politics. Now, I do not consider that this matter is of the slightest interest to the Albertan population, of the vital importance of one of the questions which are now before Parliament, and one which has stirred such great interest among the public of the whole country. The unwelcoming headlines in the newspapers, particularly those of Ontario and Quebec, have aroused the attention of the people of those provinces and have created in the minds of the public some rather misleading conclusions. It seems that it is too much to hope that the most vital of questions and the most important of situations be discussed on their actual merits, instead of becoming immediately mixed up with politics — with matters of Federal politics. HELICOPTER TO DEMONSTRATE RESCUE WORK AT COLD LAKE

A "Bumblebee," one of several types of helicopters used in hunting supply dads in Canada's North, hitches a ride with an RCAF Sikorsky S-51 helicopter somewhere above the Mid-Canada early warning line. The helicopter is flying a vital role in the construction of the line. This bumblebee is one of several types in RCAF service, and employed on Mid-Canada Line duties. If you attend Airforce Day at Cold Lake on June 9th you will have opportunity to see a similar helicopter, a Sikorsky S-51, in operation.

The result that true and proper observations are not conveyed to the public. This is my conviction, after listening attentively to the speeches in the House and reading most carefully the headlines, the reports and the editorials in the Press. Before we may appear, the majority of those who are making such noise apparently overlook the fact that the subject of natural gas, which is acquired such tremendous value, belongs to the Province of Alberta and that the people may expect it outside the boundaries of that province without the consent of the government.

The parliamentary debate will begin today or tomorrow and, it is hoped, will be advanced to a near conclusion before we have the chat together, my friends. At this moment, suffice it to say that the main points with which the Canadian citizens should be concerned, in my humble estimation, are these: Firstly, that Manitoba and the Central provinces of Canada are most anxious to have access to the new and cheaper source of fuel and power; And secondly, the other fact, and it is a fact, that the same provinces import some 300 million dollars' worth of coal from the United States every year. The opponents to the proposition before the House choose to overlook these very important aspects of the situation. It is particularly surprising because the same people a few days ago were demanding why there was such a trade balance in favour of our friendly neighbour, the Republic of Illinois.

If I may be allowed to speak my own mind, and these talks from Parliament Hill would indeed be useless, and meaningless, unless members of Parliament had the right to express their own views without fear or favour I will say this: Until three or four years ago, and I made a speech in the House relating to this very matter, I was of the opinion that we should take advantage of this enormous supplies of gas power to bring manufacturing interests to settle and operate in Alberta, rather than to allow this wealth to be distributed throughout the country. This may have been a narrow view but, at the time, it was shared by many eminent men and it was also adopted by many countries, in order to ensure prosperity of their people in the thinking went in those days. But the world has advanced at great strides during the last few years and we have to think in terms of National Growth, rather than strictly parochial or provincial. And, even, in terms of humanitarian welfare, if we are to improve the lot of mankind — of this whole world still suffering from the wounds of the last Great War, I have therefore altered my way of thinking and I admit now, with many other Albertans and with most Canadians, for that matter, that since there is such a great surplus of this so valuable source of power and heating, it is my duty to let the whole Canadian nation benefit therefrom.

If I may draw the attention of that part of my audience from the farming areas of our great Edmonton and Athabasca district, I know that we will all agree that we are very pleased indeed at the announcement made recently by the Hon. C. D. Howe, our able Minister of Trade and Commerce, that the initial price paid for wheat, oats and barley for the current crop year will remain the same as in former years, in spite of the huge surplus on hand. Orders are pouring in from all over the world — for this surplus of the best wheat grown in the world. Therefore, we are deeply concern- with the attitude of the dock workers and the sailors of the Great Lakes shipping companies who threaten to strike on this very day that I am dictating these lines. That would be a calamity!

Five and seventeen years ago, a similar situation arose at the Port of Vancouver when ships were waiting to load millions of bushels of our wheat for the overseas market and when the entire operations were brought to a standstill by a strike which proved so costly to the wheat growers of Western Canada. In the face of such a situation, we still hear from some radical minded alleged — few of our farmers of the West — support — of a dangerous action, at that stage then and at this stage now, when it is vitally important to get rid of our great wheat surplus. The time has come for public men to speak forthrightly and to definitely state their opinion. Well, I am convinced that a large majority of the Canadian people share those views whenever full information of the true facts are brought to their attention. Farmers, organized and otherwise, and industrial workers joined in powerful unions, as well as other powerful bodies should conduct their relations and their business not as they affect their own organizations and their sole interests only but as Canadians and for the welfare of Canada as a whole.

I believe that it is unnecessary for me to remind my listeners that I am expressing my own views, as a Member of Parliament, and not those of any political party or interested organization. So I regret no segment or section of groups may prejudge at the price of sacrifices and efforts — so asserted by people engaged in other occupations. No country ever truly prospered in that manner. And in the case in point, the farmers and West are bound to be the losers.

We have been the victims of such circumstances often and we should not hesitate to point the blame where it belongs and condemn the over head. I prefer to be optimistic. Because the conditions which have the bases of prosperity existing here in Ottawa as a rural one, the majority of the great cities

Athabasca people being farmers and ranchers

At about the time we discuss this matter together, the Canadian Wheat Board will have completed the operation of the grain year 1955-56 and will be in a position to make another payment to those who have sold wheat and other cereals to the said Board. These payments will certainly be welcome, they at a time when it is most needed, for, of course, the marketing period is at hand. It would appear that the present payments will prove more generous than those sought have been expected, and we join with our friends over this good news.

Our prairie provinces may have suffered over sixty years of experimentation northern Alberta I can only with all fear of contradiction that some of the best farm lands have harboured in our some basic soil, as such years of cropping nothing. Besides this there is every good year to supplement wet and barren, for while I have the honour of representing here in Ottawa a rural one, the majority of the great cities

Sure starts a lot of Torque —

Buick SUPER 2-Door Riviera

even before you Switch the Pitch

Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow* really gives you a double-barreled thrill.

First, it delivers a record amount of torque to turn those rear wheels—even before you switch the pitch. You splurge on pickup while saving on gas.

Second comes a performance thrill! Just put your foot down—and there you have it. You switch the pitch and Dynaflow serves up a dazzling burst of extra power to cut seconds off your passing —and add new safety to it.

But there's a lot more than torque to talk about.

There's the Buick ride, for instance. Softer, yet steadier. Cradling you in rubber-bubble comfort—leveling with you on every twist and turn.

A whole group of unseen marvels screens you from the harsh realities of the road. Including a new front-end geometry—new deep-oil-cushioned shock absorbers—new deep-coil springs on all four wheels.

Why not take a Buick out on the road yourself, so you'll know what all the talk's about? We're ready whenever you are.

Kingston Graduate to Set Precedent in U.K.

A precedent will be set by the appearance of the Fort Henry guard at Langdon, Ont. at the Boy's Tournament in England from June 8 to 23. For never before has a Canadian group been invited to the then-veterans of pageantry. Seventy-four students from Queen's university form the non-military drill squad which wears uniforms of the 1837 era. Even the musical "fifers" the purveyed gaol—is authentic, some the Royal Welsh Fusiliers (1845-53) has had a guest concert for centuries. The invitation to the tournament comes from a visit to Kingston last summer by Gen. Sir Templer, chief of the imperial general staff. He was so impressed during one of their daily shows that on his return, he spread the word that Canada had a crew which might surpass the world-famous Royal Marines.

WEDDING

Of much interest to the Elk Point district was the wedding, on May 26th, at Mine Peace, of Joyce Vaughan to Mr Ernest Chenwyn. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vaughan of Elk Point and the groom, son of Mr and Mrs Chenwyn of Innisfree.

Wedding took place in the home of Rev Day, Elk Point at 8.30 p.m. Rev Henry Day officiating.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a pretty white ballerina length satin dress, with matching accessories and a corsage of Carnations.

The bride's matron wore a grey suit with white accessories and corsage of carnation.

Bridesmaid was Ella Williams, in a black and pink suit, white accessories and corsage of carnations Gary Young acted as best man.

A wedding reception was held in the Dunedin Motel, St Paul. The newly married couple will take up residence in Edmonton

Another term has been completed by the 4-H Clothing Clubs. Last week I attended the Achievement Day at Lafond. Experienced Neutrotah, Waskatenau, Ardmore. The girls from all the clubs really worked hard this year. And in the whole, we complimented the girls for the high standard of work exhibited.

All the clubs were either in first or second year. In the first year the girls are required to make a sewing kit, hanger covers, laundry bag and duster. The second year girls make an apron, slip, pyjamas, and dress.

Then too, the girls must plan a program for the night of the achievement day. There they show the talent that they have in their club.

This Saturday, on June 2 the girls are having a district rally. It is to be held in Waskatenau and there the girls are expected to turn out for the district competitions. There too, the officers of this year will be announced. All the girls of the clubs are asked to attend so that they get to know girls of other clubs, however, do not forget to come with a demonstration. We will expect to see you there.

Blue Quills School History Goes Back To Early Thirties

tify to the good labor of its pioneers.

Although Blue Quills is celebrating its 25 anniversary there is a record of 94 years ago when Oblate missionaries to developed what is now a well established school serving the Indian population from as far as Cold Lake and Smoky Lake.

One of the greatest factors to influence progress in the history of the Blue Quills School is the fact that in 1936, the Indian Affairs branch at Ottawa made a change in the regulations for residential schools by allowing the pupils to remain the full day in the classrooms. This allowed pupils to cover in 1 year the work which had been done in two years with the half day system. Since then education in Blue Quills has taken great strides. One girl has completed normal school, two pupils grade 12, two grade 11 and eleven have mastered some of the higher grades.

In 1953, the efforts of Fr Rollington supplemented the school with an annex to house the gymnasium, drill hall and concert room were surveyed.

The school was pioneered by the missionary Fathers of Mary Immaculate with the assistance and devotion of the Grey nuns.

First Principal was Rev Fr J Auger who served from 1931 to 1934 Father Augus, now in retirement at Edmonton, Alta. Due to illness he was not able to take active part in the celebrations, but was nevertheless an honored guest guest of his first pupils at the celebrations.

Authority was turned over to Rev. L. Bellot from 1934 to 1942; to L. Lalonge up to 1950. To the present Principal, Rev. Fr. Bernard Collins was appointed head of the school, a position he still holds.

Searle Report On Prairie Precipitation

Compiled From Government and Search Radio Charts, Showing Rain and Sunshine, May 25, 1956.

The total overall moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces now stands at 97 per cent of normal compared with 89 per cent last week and 103 per cent at this time a year ago Respective figures for the three provinces are as follows: Alberta 92 per cent of normal, Saskatchewan 88 per cent of normal and Manitoba 93 per cent of normal.

Growing season rains from April 1st to May 22nd now stand at 98 per cent of normal in the case of Alberta, 91 per cent of normal in the case of Saskatchewan and 52 per cent of normal in the case of Manitoba, giving a weighted average for the three Provinces of 80 per cent of normal.

During the past week there was little or no rainfall in Saskatchewan and Alberta and only light rains fell in Manitoba. As a result, the total rainfall figure for the growing season to date again declined after a slight advance the previous week. Continued dry weather, however, permitted rapid progress in seeding operations, the completion of which, at this moment, appears to be of more concern than a possible lack of moisture in some areas. Generally speaking there is adequate moisture in practically all districts for germination and early growth.

Let's Eat

EDA BAILEY ALLEN

"I find it strange," said the chef, "that North Americans do not eat lamb more often."

"In France it is a most popular meat. Lamb stew, and delicate lamb ragout, and lamb pies galore, that is, with spring lamb, are popularly served in the best restaurants.

"In my opinion, madame," he added, "the reason lamb isn't in as great popular favor as it is in this country is that most cooks and makers do not know how to cook it without the "bah."

"And how is that, chef?" laughed I.

Herbs and Spices

"Just cut off the excess fat before cooking and season the lamb with herbs and spices.

"Garlic is an excellent seasoning for lamb. Just a suspicion, or trace, obtained by rubbing a cut section of garlic over chops or a roast before cooking. The best should be left in the beginning to drain off the fat, then browned to prevent cooking through to the center.

"Lemon juice also has a remarkable effect on lamb," I remarked.

"If roasting a lamb roast, I usually pour over a fourth cup of lemon juice when it is almost done. A few thin slices of lemon improves the flavor of a lamb casserole or stew and lemon wedges are a perfect garnish-accompaniment for both chops or lamb rolets or steaks."

Lamb Roll with Savory Stuffing

Order 4 to 6 lbs. breast of lamb boned. Fill with a pound of simple meat, roll and tie securely. Brown all over in 2 tablespoons fat.

Add 2 cups tomato sauce, 1 cup boiling water, 1 bayleaf and 1 tsp-minced onion. Cover. Simmer about 2½ hours, or pressure cook 1 hour. Over all spoon 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Remove the meat. If desired, strain the surface by browning 10 minutes in a hot oven, 450 degrees F.

Remove the fat from the residue in the pan and make gravy.

Slice the lamb roll crosswise down the centre of a large platter. Spoon the gravy around and garnish with lemon wedges and parsley.

Potato Pudding

Boil 4 medium cooked potatoes — sieved, while potatoes. Peel and small-dice finely cover with boiling water. Add ½ teaspoon salt. Cook rapidly 5 minutes then drain well.

Beat 3 eggs light. To them, add 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup sour cream, ½ cup milk, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley and the potatoes. Mix well.

Thoroughly butter a 2-pint mould or baking dish. Spoon in the potato mixture.

Place in a pan. Add hot water to a depth of 1½ inches. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven, 375-400 degrees F. or until firm. Unmould, or serve in the baking dish if desired.

Week of the Chef

Add 1 teaspoon crushed dried mint when cooking lamb roll.

RCAF Aircrew Training For Operational Program

Saturday, June 9th has been designated as Air Force Day throughout Canada. For those residing this coming day in the St. Paul District, an invitation is extended to visit your nearest RCAF Station which is the one at Cold Lake. To enlighten Canadian citizens on the activities of this important section of the Defence Program we shall publish each week some pertinent information about the RCAF.

A vital factor in the live-or-death growth and development of Canada's military air power and those of our other NATO nations — has been the RCAF's aircrew training programme.

The marked expansion of the RCAF during the past few years has been the re-opening of numerous aircrew training establishments opened in the Air Force since the days of the Second World War an increase in the number of flying instructors, the introduction of more and new types of training aircraft.

Also an outstanding feature of this expansion period has been the introduction of a new pattern for pilot training in the RCAF, and significant changes in navigation and radio officer training. Following the end of the Second World War, and with the organization of the post-war [illegible] establishments were established, pilot, navigator and radio officer

Under the post-war trained program, pilot training was centred at the Flying Training School at Centralia, Ont. Pilots were brought to wings standard on Harvards and also were given on flying time on twin-engine Beechcraft Expeditors. Wings were presented at the finish of the FTS course. The newly winged pilot then went on to a short air armament course at Trenton, Ont., after which he was posted direct to his squadron.

This pattern was changed somewhat at the first Operational Training Units came into being. First of these, in 1949, was the Jet Fighter OTU at Chatham, N.B., which fed pilots to the Vampire — equipped fighter squadrons then on-ing into being. It was later re-equipped with Sabres.

Other OTU's were later created, there being a Maritime OTU now at Summerside, P.E.I. an All-Weather Fighter OTU flying CF-100 Canuck jets, at the RCAF's aircrew base at Cold Lake, Alta., 180 miles northeast of Edmonton, and a Transport OTU, now at Trenton, Ont.

A revamp of the pilot training program followed, however, when it was decided to establish pilot training on a two-phase basis. This reorganization now has been completed and all pilots follow the new training pattern.

The post-war navigator program saw both basic and specialist navigation training given at Summerside, P.E.I. A central Air Navigation School for basic aircrew navigation training was later created in Winnipeg and ultimately the two schools merged to form one central Air Navigation School in Winnipeg.

To a large degree, the aircrew training scheme depends for its attain on young men possessing junior matriculation education valid who enter on a short service commission basis.

Following successful completion of the FTS course, the pilot trainees proceed to one of the Advanced Flying Schools. Trainees selected for fighter operations are sent to one of the two single - engine Advanced Flying Training Schools, at Portage La Prairie and Gimli, Man. Here they convert to the Canadian-built T33 Silver Star jet aircraft.

These pilot aircrews receive their wings and commission at the end of the AFS course, and then proceed to the Pilot Weapons School at Macdonald, Man. During the course at MacDonald they learn the basic fighter pilot weapons and attack methods, using the T-33.

Weapons training will also be provided at a new air weapons ranges ralendday over three million acres. The newly constructed station, from which flying operations over the ranges will be carried out, is located at Cold Lake, 180 miles north of Edmonton.

Final step in the training program for fighter pilots, before they begin their operational careers, is the Operational Training Unit, to which they go after finishing the course at the Pilot Weapons School. Those destined for future fighter squadrons proceed to the Chatham OTU. The school there operated initially with Vampire jets and later with T-33 jets, but by 1953 had been completely converted to Sabres.

At Chatham the pilots destined for future fighters convert to the type of aircraft and receive advanced flying training and tactical fighter [illegible] in addition to intensive [illegible] work. After the OTU course is finished, they go on to one of the fighter squadrons which at the moment number seventeen, making up the RCAF's NATO Air Division in Europe.

Fighter pilots destined for the CF-100 Canuck jet fighter or attend the Jet Fighter OTU at Cold Lake, where they train on with observers. Until recently this OTU was located at Chatham, N.B., but, in addition to converting to CF-100 Sabres there which is the last unit of model all-weather interceptor, and leave the OTU for the CF-100 Canuck aircraft at Cold Lake.

All non-graduate observer training is located at Winnipeg, which is the largest station in the RCAF Intermediate courses are given for both pilots and observers, and a six-month specialist course trains observers to a standard of navigation so advanced as any in the world.

As in the case of pilots, the observer trainees are posted to an OTU, on completion of their training at the Air Observer's School, to team up with their pilot and other crew members.

NATO aircrew coming to Canada for training with the RCAF fit into the overall training pattern. There are no NATO training schools as such. All NATO trainees report to London, Ont., where they are given an indoctrination course into RCAF and Canadian ways, and where required, English language instruction is provided.

"Birds of a Feather" Also Fly Together

Identical twins and handsome Flying Officers Bernard, at left, and Gerald Gower of Wentworth, N.S., add a twist to the old saying about "birds of a feather." In this case, they fly together, with the RCAF's No. 2 Fighter Wing at Grostenquin, France, where they have just received their "Mark Busters" diplomas for exceeding the speed of sound in a Canadian-built Sabre jet. Much pronounced Mach: is a mathematical designation for the speed of sound, which varies at different altitudes.

Three Youths Given "Life"

Ignoble circumstances, the United murdered somewhat late in the last several months, received calmly the news that their death sentences had been commuted to life imprisonment.

They had faced the prospects of going to the gallows May 29 for the gang slaying more than a year ago of a Roman Catholic priest during a holiday which lured them 300 m rath.

The youths — Guy Ferragne 18, of Riviere des Prairies, Que.; Joseph Ia, and Gerard Yvon de Tonnancourt both of Montreal — will serve their life sentences in Manitoba's Stone Mountain penitentiary.

The news was broken to them in their death cells by jail official Sheriff D. C. M. Kelly said he had the youths notified just as fast as he got the wire from Ottawa. He said they "matured considerably during their stay in jail."

De Tonnancourt was a bit skeptical until visited by Lawyer Hyam Walsh, who defended the youths.

"I didn't believe it until I was told by Mr. Walsh," he said. "Then I started to learn English — just a little the lawyer can read a word now."

Photo — Four pictures of the trio, who subbed the walls of his cell from top to bottom to relieve his boredom, and "Thanks very much."

The youths were convicted of November of the murder of Rev. Alfred Quirion, 43, of St. Jerome, Que., during a holiday on a highway near Braden The Manitoba Court of Appeal dismissed an appeal last month.

BOBBIN STILL IN DEMAND, EVEN ON MECHANIZED FARMS

Proof that Dobbin is still a valuable asset, even on highly mechanized farms, is evidenced by the spirited bidding for farm horses at the month auctions held every Thursday at Kitchener's Cut Farmers from many parts of Ontario and Quebec flock to the horse ring, bidding about $200 for a good work horse, about double what it brought five years ago. The auction also were started by F. J. Stoffer, a Tavoosier blacksmith who returned to believe that farm horses was on its way out. Top cattle and hogs, grossed over $100,000 each week.

WEDDING

On Saturday, May 19th., Miss Barbara Joan Wooldaker, daughter of Mrs. Amy Woolstone of Vancouver became the bride of Mr. Walter Joseph Hryciw, son of Mr. and Mrs Peter Hryciw of Two Hills.

Ceremony took place in St. Vladimir and Olga Church, Two Hills Rev Nazenkowski and Rev. Dacuk officiated.

The bride, given away by her brother George, wore a full-length gown of white satin nylon net over satin with fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white prayer book.

The bride's mother chose soft blue two-piece dress with white accessories for her daughters wedding.

Bridesmaids were Lorraine Rosh, Marian Hryciw, sister of the groom. They were gowns of pastel yellow nylon acetate and carried bouquets of mauve and yellow flowers.

Best man was Michael Cmochuk.

Mrs. Jeanette Kaminsky, sister of the groom, was Matron of Honour and Nestor Hryciw of Nicholas Piunish attended the wedding guests.

Reception was held in the Two Hills Elks Lodge where the couple cut a four-tier cake with dove and wedding band at the top.

For their honeymoon they left on a tour of Jasper, Banff and Kamloops where they will reside

GM PRODUCTION AT NEW HIGH

OSHAWA, Ont. — Production and employment records were broken in April by General Motors of Canada, W. A. Wechter president of General Motors announced today.

The greatest single month of motor vehicle production in GM's history — 59,626 cars and trucks — came off the Oshawa assembly lines. Employment also reached a record, 54,630 vehicles produced in March 1955.

In addition employment figures at the 120-acre plant rose to 10,671 hourly-paid workers in April This figure was 709 above the employment figure for April of last year and also surpassed the previous all-time employment mark of 10,161 set in February, 1955.

Besides the 10,675 hourly-paid employees, General Motors of Canada employs 2,962 salaried workers in Canada. Close to 2,000 of these work in Oshawa.

Mr. Wechter, who forecast the GM increase in production and employment in January, also expressed his optimism over 1956 sales prospects.

"General Motors' April production truly reflects the demand for our products," he said. "It also reaffirms our opinion that 1956 will be a record breaking year of prosperity for Canadians. We are sure that our optimism will give confidence to Canadian industry as a whole, as the manufacturers and operation of the passenger car is one of the most important segments of our manufacturing in one of the largest mainstays of growth and prosperity," he said.

Mr. Wechter predicted that Oshawa plant of General Motors is a free-promin- close into- lated in February, would again this year retain its competitive position in the automobile field.

The reason for his confidence was explained this way.

"We still have a very strong market and I think that the 1956 General Motors cars are the best ever manufactured in Canada," Mr Wecher said.

"The growth of General Motors in Canada is a direct reflection of this country's rapid stride to ward maturity as an industrial and particularly a manufacturing nation," he said. "In 1936 approximately 22 per cent of the net national income originated in manufacturing. Now this sector of the economy is generating over 30 per cent of our net national income."

The GM President cited the industrious character and self-disciplined nature of the people of Canada as a reason for optimism.

"A nation as richly endowed by nature with industrial raw materials, energy and modern technology and inhabited by such sound people cannot help but progress," Mr. Wecher said. GM planning is geared to that thesis. We plan to play our part in helping Canada realize that goal."

WORRY

Worry is something else which does not belong in traffic. Worries have been a result of a driver who had worries. Worries, like alcohol or carbon monoxide take away a driver's alertness, command his thinking ability thereby leaving him at a loss to wander without proper guidance Home trouble, accounts, personal problems are some of the things that reduce a driver's efficiency and make him a accident prone. It has been suggested that a lot of "crash-ups" of criminals who attempt an automobile get-a-way are caused, not only by high speeds, but the desperate condition of the driver's mind. Worry and fast driving do not mix

There is a story told about a man and wife having budget troubles in the home Apparently his wife suggested her need of a new fur coat more than ever, at the breakfast table. Each time the subject was brought up he would flatly refuse One morning the wife threatened to leave him if she did not get her fur coat He did not anticipate that his refusals to buy would lead to these drastic terms It worried him. Driving to work that morning he went through a red light which resulted in a collision.

When asked by the Traffic Officer why he didn't stop for the red light he replied, I didn't see the red light There was a fur coat over it " Worry can so affect a person that he may become as a drunken driver

This has completed the deliberations that temporarily disqualify Alcohol intoxication, fatigue, carbon monoxide poisons, and worry, each will effect a driver as a similar manner, causing an overtired, fatal crippling and damaging to property

Driving a car, these days especially, demands the maximum of attention and alertness Highway traffic demands the best of your driving ability, both physically and mentally

There is a story told about a man and wife having budget troubles in the home Apparently his wife suggested her need of a new fur coat more than ever, at the breakfast table. Each time the subject was brought up he would flatly refuse One morning the wife threatened to leave him if she did not get her fur coat He did not anticipate that his refusals to buy would lead to these drastic terms It worried him. DON'T "RIDE THE BOAT" THAT EARLY WITH LAD AND MCP

Recent studies made by the Division of Plant Science, University of Manitoba show that, in the effective use of 2,4-D and MCP, many farmers are "missing the boat" on two important counts First, is not realizing the large number of weeds that are present in the average grain crop, and their effect on yield. Secondly, in not realizing the great importance of timing, particularly early application, in the use of 2,4-D and MCP.

How Weeds Prevent. Intensive weed surveys have shown that relatively "clean looking" grain fields may contain from 25 to 283 broadleaved weed plants per square yard. This is almost a ton of weeds! The studies at the University of Manitoba have revealed that as few as 10 mustard plants per square yard are capable of reducing the yield of flax approximately. Oat yields were greatly lessened by 20 mustard plants per square yard, while 30 mustard plants markedly affected wheat yields. Obviously, then, the presence of from 283 to 361 weeds per square yard in the average grain field is bound to seriously reduce crop yields. Fortunately, most broad-leaved weeds in cereal crops are easy to be cheaply and effectively controlled by the proper timely application of 2,4-D and MCP.

Early Spraying Important. In the effective use of 2,4-D and MCP, the single factor is more important than any "additions of application." The studies have shown that when rain, badly labeled with moisture, were sprayed 19 days after seeding, the yield was 1320 bus. per acre; a decrease of 34 bushels. At this later period many of the mustard plants were beginning to bloom. Unfortunately many farmers spray far too late, after most of the damage has been done. In other words, they have "missed the boat." Don't miss the boat" in '56. Spray grain crops early for higher yields.

Cold Lake RCAF Open on June 9th

[illegible] Commanding Officer, D. L. MacWilliams, Air Director, has scheduled the main part of the air [illegible] commencing at 2 p.m. and [illegible] to 5 p.m.

Premises in the Air Base will be the all-weather Fighter the CF-100 Canuck Jet interceptor and the T-33 trainers to name the entire training program of the Cold Lake base is proud. It is from these fighters that pilots and navigators team up to "publish" their wings and become full-fledged combat fliers.

In addition Chipmunks, Harvards, Sabre Jets, the latest British jet plane in Hunter, C-119 Flying Boxcar, helicopter in search and rescue demonstrations, aerobatics, parachuting, flying, rocket firing are on the program.

Squadron Leader [illegible], construction engineer on the base who plays with a Real Plane (Glider) on the side will start in the blue yonder with what he affectionately describes his CF-100 without Engines.

W. C. MacWilliams, responsible for all the air traffic of the day says it is a complicated business launching Air Force Day in terms of [illegible] and [illegible] a limited number of planes have to [illegible] ture in four Air Force Days, [illegible] and flaunting the aircraft between Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon and Cold Lake is a delicate operation where every detail must be plotted accurately and executed perfectly.

The Station's Flying Club will give a display of light aerobatics.

S/L J. T. Hall, Air Force Day Coordinator has been a busy man the past weeks planning a program of "high" novel entertainment to give countless of complete spectacular enjoyment for all who take the opportunity to visit the base on that date.

As explained by F/O R. C. Dandy, Public Relations Officer, Air Force Day is sponsored throughout Canada by the Department of National Defence to better acquaint the citizens of this country on just what the RCAF is doing along the nation's defence program.

Fabulous amounts of money are spent each year to the support of armed services for the protection of the country. By inviting the public, opportunity is provided for better understanding of the Canadian defence.

The real [illegible] Air Force Day is greatly [illegible] to become more familiar with the operations and in maintaining air-mindedness for which Canadians are so well noted.

There is no limit to the attendance at Airforce Day on Saturday, June 9th, Cold Lake Base, 1 to 5. Provisions have been made for all and once again you are cordially invited to attend with the whole family Free Admittance.

17 Graduate At Exercises In Ashmont School

Principal Thanks Student Cooperation

By Marie Kapicki

The impressive exercises of the Ashmont High School Graduands were held in the school auditorium on Friday, May 25, at 1.30 p.m. The large crowd in attendance assisted the opening of the program with the song "O Canada."

A short invocation was given by Mr Beckett, one of the Ashmont school teachers Mr John Bibby the principal of Ashmont School officiated as master of ceremonies.

Mr Bibby remarked on the steady growth of the school and [illegible]

As present there are 13 teachers and about 300 students attending there the number of students is rising rapidly; the present number of classrooms is inadequate, so a new extension is under construction this summer.

The second phase of growth in the school, and perhaps the most important was the streamlining of better educational standards. The school had begun under a great number of difficulties and through constant hard work and struggle, has managed to overcome most of those setbacks and finally reach a level that may be considered the growth of a new standard.

Mr Bibby expressed his thanks for the wonderful co-operation of the teachers, the taxpayers and the public in general. He also remarked that a Grade 12 education only served as a basis and was not sufficient training at the present time. He urged the graduates to continue to work hard and encouraged support for education, which, when finally mastered, could produce real value Mr Bibby also extended an invitation desire to start a Health Unit in Ashmont.

He believes the community is really leading in health education and asked the co-operation of the public in providing assistance for the success of such a unit. If health standards could be improved a lot of the valuable school time now lost could be [illegible]

He also commented on the present educational system in Russia They are able to reach the same educational levels in 10 years that students in Canada require 12 years of study One-third of their school day is spent studying Science and Mathematics, and they even attend school on Saturday They emphasize technical education and turn out a considerable number of engineers

We should not close our eyes to Russia's progress in education and give attention largely to the important ambition of the young students One of these pupils was "I'll never father though the path seems long."

Mr. Bibby introduced Dave Lawton, who was the President of the Students Union for the first term. Lyle Dahlstedt, who was elected for the second term, is holding that position at the present time.

Mr. Bibby believes the graduate Council is a very vital part of the school. It is a form of democratic government that may be exercised by students and provide them with the basic education necessary when they enter the world where politics play a part of their daily lives. Lyle Dahlstedt expressed appreciation and thanked the teaching staff on behalf of the fellow students, for their valuable guidance towards the educational requirements of the exams. The trustees, he stated, had bought the students valuable lab equipment and even after they would depart from Ashmont they would think back with great pride of the school that had provided them with the vital, basic knowledge.

The perfect [illegible] students, presented by Mr. Bibby were Tomasina Mokrycuk, Brian Bibby, Dougy Hayes, Loyd Johnson, David Pilewich, Doris Johnson, Marion Heilinger, Billy Patterson and Glen Hayes.

The serious nature of the road conditions hampered a larger attendance however Mr Bibby hoped there might be a considerable improvement next year.

The best all-round Grade 9 Student Award, a tan dollar scholarship prize, donated by the Ashmont and School Association, was presented to Eugene Bosse of Bayne Lake by the President of the Association, Mrs. Janet Scott.

Eugene, a remarkable little scholar, had slight difficulty in expressing his thanks to the Association, much to the amusement of those present

Mr Dealy, an elderly resident of Ashmont presented the second prize of $5.00 for a good all-around student to Carolyn Needham of Cowleye The third prize was presented to Violet Yuhas of Cowleye by Mr Hanson, an Ashmont teacher

Ashmont was very fortunate to be honored with the presence of Mr Ken Ross, President of the Alberta Teachers Association, at the graduating exercises Mr Ross who is the Principal of an Edmonton School, a member of the Executive Board and a member of a Hospital Board, came to Ashmont about 20 years ago, and started teaching here with Mr Bibby

50,000 Trout For Thoeben Lake

Not Certain Survival Last Year Fingerlings

Thoeben Lake Offers Beautiful Natural Surrounding For Fishing Ground Paradise

A special temperature-controlled tank, containing 9,000 Rainbow Trout, en route to Thoeben Lake, initiated in the Alberta Fish-stocking program, stopped in St. Paul this week The fingerlings—born-early to two-inch inhabitants—were transported from the Calgary Hatcheries by Steve Ewaschuk, a Fisheries Department official.

This follows the pattern set last year when 15,700 were planted by Gerry Steadman, St. Paul Game Warden. Last fall, when not-too-warm conditions robbed of considerable fingerlings, trout had grown to about eight inches.

Although testing this spring has not been too encouraging, the [illegible] between the lake are there, but have refused to be caught.

Nets were strung out for about a week at different locations in the lake, but nothing turned up. Two and a half, three and four-inch mesh, six foot wide you used without any results.

Fear that there might have been winter kill is discounted because not one dead fish was found to wash on the shores or on the ice-cover of the lake. They couldn't have run out in the spring, because Gerry knows the position of [illegible] the two inlets and outlets.

The high water levels of a heavy snow run-off may have allowed some stagnation up stream to smaller ponds, but it is hardly possible all could have disappeared that way.

Authorities on Rainbow trout believe the fish are sitting in some deep cool pools of the lake. There is an over abundance of food for Rainbows, such all weather jet interceptors, aerobatics with Harvards and other aircraft parachutes by helicopter, glider [illegible] safety and survival equipment demonstrations, static displays, movies at ground instructional schools, and many other thrilling exhibits.

The lake covers about 160 acres including a small area now reserved for anglers, interspersed by the usual green spruce adding to the [illegible] of the beautiful scenery

Management in charge, however, only by a small bay on the north end, the picturesque [illegible] the lake, springs out from its coneealment in the bank in a [illegible] so one could easily imagine has been selected right out of nature's reserve and greatly improved and transformed to the [illegible] country side.

It required a [illegible] to accommodate Bathroom Lakeshore [illegible] privacy fills a need and feeling of completion while at the same time retaining [illegible] summer [illegible]

The lake is semi-circled by good farm road trails, adequate to handle any traffic and also [illegible] parking [illegible] at its shore.

Nature has provided several sandy beaches for those inclined to lay about and its waters are fresh spring fed for pure and clean swimming if so desired.

Small private harbors afford easy docking of small boats. A quick glance shows one already fishing close to shore.

Interviewed again this morning, Gerry said "The sure [illegible] turn up yet." We'll all be for you Gerry and hope you're right!

WATER SAFETY

The lakes are opening up and the annual migration to the summer resorts will soon be in way

Pleasure and disaster go hand in hand. At this time of the season, before too many accidents can happen it would be wise to remind ourselves some safety precautions necessary to safeguard life by the lakes and make the summer's outing a pleasant one instead of a horrible nightmare it turns out to be for so many careless holidayers.

Swimmers, even the good ones, are cautioned not to go on long swims unaccompanied by a boat. More good swimmers drown than those who can't swim at all. Of course, if you can't swim don't get out of your depth.

Motor boats are increasingly becoming an alarming factor in water deaths.

The many dry-land sailors, forget that they are a potential weapon when not handled properly. A high powered craft can easily capsize, go out of control and even run down people.

A set of regulations concerning motor boats were published in this newspaper at the request of the RCMP last August, and at this time of the year should be recalled and given more reflection.

All power boats of 10 or more horsepower are required by law to be licensed. Licenses can be obtained free from the nearest customs collector.

Fine for not carrying life-saving equipment is at a minimum of $50 and a maximum of $100 The fine for reckless operation of motor boats is a maximum of $200.

Last year the RCMP started a pat trough program in connection with motor boat agencies. We hope they will continue this year and keep an eye on all lake traffic.

The main objective is to see that every boat carries the proper life-saving equipment — except one life-saving cushion — and thus reduce the loss of life resulting from small boat accidents.

The RCMP also wants to see that small boat motors are properly licensed, that they carry fire fighting equipment and proper lights and pay attention to the rules of the "lake waterways."

The regulations do not apply to sail boats, row boats, canoes, except in the carrying of proper lights.

Last year over 200 persons in Canada perished in motor boat accidents and a greater number were injured and given the nerve of their lives.

Education programs started last year struggled to cut down loss. It was only in the early warming stages, but this season, motor boat owners are expected to be familiar with the regulations and instead of admonishment will be apprehended for any infraction of the Federal Shipping Act under which power is vested.

So—your vacation but make it a safe one

NOW THEY KNOW

Before the row in Parliament not one Canadian or a hundred knew what the pipeline dispute was about, writes Bruce Hutchison, in the Financial Post.

Now, one may suspect that there should be some method of educating the public better than the method of filling the void with sound, its eyes with headlines and its mind with a melange of truth and fable. In theory, no doubt, there are better methods but in fact a political row is the only effective or at least the only cruel method we have yet devised, whether you dignify it by the name of debate or call it a dog fight.

Like any other product, a political issue must be advertised in brief, simplistic and gaudy advertisements. Like any clothier also, it must be dramatized if it is to suit the customer. Like any dramatic production, a political row in Parliament is bound to contain a great deal of exaggeration, probably some sloppy sentiment and a flood of crocodile tears.

The politicians acting on the Ottawa stage at a moment of denouement is always inclined to tear a passion to tatters, to spit out the cues of the groundlings and red-faced shovel it may be indifferent debate but it compels the public attention and starts the nation thinking (other as to the more highly intonvestment, later on, to the actors).

BIGGER and BETTER

Year and predictions of a bigger business in 1956, and better earnings, are certainly proving, to be on the basis.

First quarter results of a group of 31 companies on which figures are available show that earnings of the group, after taxes, are 22.6 per cent ahead of the comparable period a year ago.

The showing, however, isn't likely to be entirely representative of how the full year 1956 will compare with 1955. The automobile was really just picking up steam in the first three months of 1955, so it compares with the recession year 1954 it was rolling along full out in the first quarter this year.

Thus the figures in many cases compare a busy period with a slower period. Economists in the second half this year may have to be exceptional in cheer to big percentage gains over the 1956 second half, when the upturn was in full swing.

THE PULSE IS STRONG

An economic doctor taking the pulse of Canadian and U.S. business today would find a strong, rapid beat that is giving signs of still further speed up.

That's the picture shown by special comparison of key indicators.

And it's the picture despite a slump in stock market prices that on the average has wiped out gains made between February and April.

If anything, present business signs would indicate that efforts of monetary authorities to slow down a threatening inflation may have to be continued rather than relaxed.

AGE CLUSTERING

Crimes records in all countries indicate a tendency on the part of many persons of mature years to favour certain years — such as 60 or 90 — in reporting their ages to census taker They say they are 60 when still 59 or when they are 61 The result is known among statisticians as "clustering."

To Every One

If everyone who drives a car could be a month in bed, With broken bones and stitched-up wounds, And there endure the agonies that many people do, They'd never need preach safety any more to me or you.

If every one could stand beside the bed of some close friend, And hear the doctor say "no hope" before the fatal end, And see him there unconscious, never knowing what he'd lost place. The laws and rules of traffic I am sure we'd soon embrace

If everyone could meet the wif- ed children left behind, And step into the household scene, — learn the cr- ight ahead, And look upon "The Vacant Chair" where Daddy use- ed to be, I'm sure each reckless driver would be forced to thank a bit.

If everyone could realize pedestrians on the street, Have just as much the right-of-way as those upon the seat, And train their eyes for children who run reckless in the road, The number of human lives would drop from day to day.

If everyone would think his car before he takes a trip, For tires worn, loose steering wheels and brakes that fail to grip, And pay attention to his lights while driving after dark, Another more for safety could be chalked up in the light.

If everyone who drives a car would heed the danger signs, Place by the highways everywhere who also mean to him, To keep the traffic in the lane and give it proper room The accidents on the road ahead could not have taken place.

And last, if he who takes the wheel would say a little prayer. And keep in mind those in the car depending on his care, And make a vow and pledge himself to keep it from above. The great crusade for safety then would suddenly advance.

Inserted at the request of the Mayor of St. Paul.

Jehovah's Witnesses Host In Vegreville Capitol Theatre

The assembly of Jehovah's witnesses held at Vegreville over the weekend was climaxed by a public address "Cementing God and World Affairs," by C. E. Hepworth, Toronto, representative of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society.

Mr Hepworth spoke to a large audience in the Capitol Theatre. He claimed that Satan, the god of this world, is primarily responsible for world conditions.

"World authorities are torture that a marked change has taken place since 1914," Mr Hepworth said. "Violence can never return to pre-war days. Thirty-nine prophecies have their fulfilment in our day, a sure indication that we are living in the last days of this system of things."

He also said, "Studying world events without a spiritual eye, was like trying to study the universe without a high powered telescope, or microscopic life without a microscope. The means of a sharper discernment for a spiritual-minded man is God's Word, the Bible. With its help the spiritual man can accurately evaluate world happenings.

"More than 2,000 years ago the Bible pointed down into our day and marked 1914 as the beginning of the end of this system of things. Jesus' disciples were further about this eventful generation. Said he, 'I would be marked by an increased crop of riddances, also a flourishing harvest of ultra-rich, and a marvelous knowledge.' He quoted Luke 21:7-33, James 5:1-6 and 1 Timothy 3:1-5 as "irrefutable evidence" for the fulfillment of these prophecies since 1914.

"Now is the time for rejoicing for the witnesses held at the Capitol Theatre were: Mrs. Mary Pearce, Mrs. Violet Tiebish, Agnes Kemp, Betty Hampshire, Doreen Hartley, Mildred Lilly, Carolyn Needham, Olga Lessiuk, Joyce Miller, Mary Theobald, Bonnie Bentley, Richard Charter, Terry Murray, Darrell Pitzer, Edgar Saunders, Bob Garner, Harold Henderson, Douglas Kirr, Raymond Clausen, Eugene Hembe, Dale Risner and David Fiswetch.

The girls looked very charming in their ballerina-length gowns in soft, pastel shades. The Grade 9 class entertained the audience with a song of their own composition.

Mr Ross congratulated the Grade 12 graduands who were introduced by Mr Bishy They were, Lyle Dahlstedt, James Dahlstedt, Dave Lawton, Louise Dahlstedt, Russel Smogyra, Hazel Lacombe, John Fleming, Ron McElroy, Roman Pestesh, Myrtle May, John Sheppy, Melvin Smith, Anne Syrold, Mary Zawitz, Jerry Timchyk, and Stella Gerbly

The eight boys and eight girls looked very stunning in their holiday best The girls were beautiful—length white gowns and all were adorned with lovely flowers in beauty corsages.

Mr Ross gave an address dealing mainly with the educational system of yesterday and the great progress and improvements in the modern. Canada the students would enter soon. According to Mr Ross many of the difficulties encountered by the pioneers have been overcome at present in the past as well. The role of Education is a long and difficult one, but according to a survey of tests and standards the students of today are doing much better than their parents were.

We should certainly not be discouraged about the products our schools are turning out today The Canada of yesterday was much different from the Canada the students must enter today. It was a pretty easy going life with a very small demand for advanced education in trades and professions. The world is now industrialized and automatic and education is no longer viewed as the mark of a gentleman It is now a matter of National necessity and not merely a luxury.

There is a critical shortage of trained University Graduates and engineers. Long ago, designers and inventors had only a minor education, today the mathematical knowledge required in the age of automation are far above the average high school standard.

Most countries are not interested in people with a lack of technical training. There are over 2 x 500 open to every University Graduate Only about 10 per cent of the employees are skilled technicians, the other 90 per cent have a below average education

Canadian industries are becoming concerned about the quantity and quality of the present-day University graduates. This is the grave situation we are confronted with today There is also a great deal of difficulty in obtaining professors for our universities.

Education authorities are worried about the small attendance in high schools. Mr. Ross also remarked that over 50 per cent of our great nation should be diverted to the administration of education. Education should help to ease the heavy financial burden shouldered by those responsible for the present administration.

He concluded his address with the advice that the Canada of tomorrow won't supply a parent case, but it was certainly challenging.

Marsen Hollinger honored the Grade 12 and 11 students with a song entitled "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

A list of the graduands of the Grade 12 graduands, Dave Lawton was pleased to read the wonderful co-operation of the teachers and parents of the graduands

Mr Bishy extended his sincere thanks to the decorating committee, comprised of the Grade 9 and 11 students for their very capable efforts. The decorations were quite original and noteworthy.

The talented pupils decorated the auditorium with the emblems with the names of the Grade 12 graduands cut out of colored paper in large block letters. Streamers and flowers completed the decorations on the walls and stage setting.

Miss Doreen Aarbe, the music teacher, was thanked for her efforts in making the event a great success. The serving efforts of the bus drivers in maintaining a high attendance record, were not forgotten either, and their services were equally appreciated by the parents of the students as well.

IN MEMORIUM

In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Joseph Lafleme who passed away on May 23, 1956.

A loving one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our hearts,
That never will be filled.

Sincere remembrance by her husband Joseph Lafleme and Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Lebrequn.

Fashions

The little silk dress, summer version, is with us again, as spectator sports clothes always take the material scene after something of an eclipse Quite a bit smarter than the ultra casual cotton that's been all the rage. A smart, well-seasoned and becoming White silk crepe is used for this one with its double row of pearl buttons and the front junction below the Peter Pan collar Unusual but and the plaited stitching to the skirt which is be worn with or without a stiffened petticoat

Sixteen Graduands Of Advance Honored At Banquet And Dance

were presented to Mr Ross by their teacher, Mrs. Mary Pearce, were Violet Tiebish, Agnes Kemp, Betty Hampshire, Doreen Hartley, Mildred Lilly, Carolyn Needham, Olga Lessiuk, Joyce Miller, Mary Theobald, Bonnie Bentley, Richard Charter, Terry Murray, Darrell Pitzer, Edgar Saunders, Bob Garner, Harold Henderson, Douglas Kirr, Raymond Clausen, Eugene Hembe, Dale Risner and David Fiswetch.

The girls looked very charming in their ballerina-length gowns in soft, pastel shades. The Grade 9 class entertained the audience with a song of their own composition.

Mr Ross congratulated the Grade 12 graduands who were introduced by Mr Bishy They were, Lyle Dahlstedt, James Dahlstedt, Dave Lawton, Louise Dahlstedt, Russel Smogyra, Hazel Lacombe, John Fleming, Ron McElroy, Roman Pestesh, Myrtle May, John Sheppy, Melvin Smith, Anne Syrold, Mary Zawitz, Jerry Timchyk, and Stella Gerbly

The eight boys and eight girls looked very stunning in their holiday best The girls were beautiful—length white gowns and all were adorned with lovely flowers in beauty corsages.

Mr Ross gave an address dealing mainly with the educational system of yesterday and the great progress and improvements in the modern. Canada the students would enter soon. According to Mr Ross many of the difficulties encountered by the pioneers have been overcome at present in the past as well. The role of Education is a long and difficult one, but according to a survey of tests and standards the students of today are doing much better than their parents were.

We should certainly not be discouraged about the products our schools are turning out today The Canada of yesterday was much different from the Canada the students must enter today. It was a pretty easy going life with a very small demand for advanced education in trades and professions. The world is now industrialized and automatic and education is no longer viewed as the mark of a gentleman It is now a matter of National necessity and not merely a luxury.

There is a critical shortage of trained University Graduates and engineers. Long ago, designers and inventors had only a minor education, today the mathematical knowledge required in the age of automation are far above the average high school standard.

Most countries are not interested in people with a lack of technical training. There are over 2 x 500 open to every University Graduate Only about 10 per cent of the employees are skilled technicians, the other 90 per cent have a below average education

Canadian industries are becoming concerned about the quantity and quality of the present-day University graduates. This is the grave situation we are confronted with today There is also a great deal of difficulty in obtaining professors for our universities.

Education authorities are worried about the small attendance in high schools. Mr. Ross also remarked that over 50 per cent of our great nation should be diverted to the administration of education. Education should help to ease the heavy financial burden shouldered by those responsible for the present administration.

He concluded his address with the advice that the Canada of tomorrow won't supply a parent case, but it was certainly challenging.

Marsen Hollinger honored the Grade 12 and 11 students with a song entitled "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

A list of the graduands of the Grade 12 graduands, Dave Lawton was pleased to read the wonderful co-operation of the teachers and parents of the graduands

Mr Bishy extended his sincere thanks to the decorating committee, comprised of the Grade 9 and 11 students for their very capable efforts. The decorations were quite original and noteworthy.

The talented pupils decorated the auditorium with the emblems with the names of the Grade 12 graduands cut out of colored paper in large block letters. Streamers and flowers completed the decorations on the walls and stage setting.

Miss Doreen Aarbe, the music teacher, was thanked for her efforts in making the event a great success. The serving efforts of the bus drivers in maintaining a high attendance record, were not forgotten either, and their services were equally appreciated by the parents of the students as well.

Indian Jack Accepts ORFU Coaching Job

—Central Press Canadian

Famed as a quarterback and then as a scout for Winnipeg Blue Bombers, Indian Jack Jacobs faces a new challenge in accepting the job of playing coaching with London new entry in the ORFU. Although several good imports are lined up, the big question mark is homebrew talent. Over 20 Canadians have applied and Indian Jack will have the job of moulding them into a contending team. Jacobs whose main assistant is in return by Winnipeg is much hoped the London club's big job will be a successful one.

Lantern shaped ornaments camouflaged the light fixtures and the windows were curtained with streamers and flowers The names of the graduands were enmeshed in folded napkins pinned to the walls with flowers, and hand knotted letters, comprising the following phrases. "Moments to Remember," and Memories are made of this," completed the striking effect along with many more items.

The entire chain of events was truly a day to remember and it is indeed a pleasure to extend congratulations to the worthy students, and wish them every success in their future endeavors.

Alberta Fishermen To Enjoy Good Ageing From 1956 "Stocking"

Alberta fishermen will be able to enjoy many hours of rewarding angling as a result of the 1955 fish stocking program carried out by the Fish and Game Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests. Species included in last year's program were Arctic Grayling, Cutthroat Trout, Eastern Brook Trout, Lake Lewan Trout, Rainbow Trout, Salmon, Perch, Pickerel and Pike.

A total of A. 753,947 fish, made up of eyed-eggs, fingerlings, yearlings, two-year and adults, were stocked in 168 provincial lakes, streams and reservoirs.

Included in the stocking program were waters in the following districts: Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Cardston, Pincher Creek, Claresholm, High River, Calgary, Hinton, Didsbury, Red Deer, Rocky Mountain House, Camrose, Pelosky, Vermilion, Edmonton, Athabasca, St. Paul, Lac La Biche, Peace River and Grande Prairie.

Some of the larger plantings of the year included 1,000 Bull Trout fingerlings in the Sherburn Lake near Lethbridge and Jensen Reservoir near Cardston; 20,000 Rainbow fingerlings in the Sounding Creek Reservoir in the Hanna district; 76,370 Rainbow and 75,000 Arctic Grayling fingerlings in Camp Lake of the Vermilion area; 51,800 Rainbow fingerlings in Hasse, Cottage and Half Moon Lake near Edmonton, and 75,780 Rainbow fingerlings in Theodore Lake in the St. Paul district.

Other sizeable plantings of Rainbow Trout were made at the Cavan and Armstrong Reservoirs near Medicine Hat; Long, Murry and Mead Lakes in the Cardstone area; Lee and Island Lakes and the Camp Creek Reservoir in the Pincher Creek district; Kelly Lake and Peter's Reservoir near Claresholm and the Commodore Allen Reservoir in the High River district.

East of Calgary points seeded include Anderson's and Sweet's Creek Reservoirs, Kathel Lake and the North Fork Elbow River below Millarville. West of Calgary there are Skinner's, Burby, Servalin, Jones and Pocaterra Lakes that will offer good trout fishing this year.

Deadfish Reservoir near Hanna was stocked with Rainbow Trout fingerlings and adult Perch were added to the waters of the Hanna, Carlor and Olsen Reservoirs and Chisler Lake.

Eastern Brook Trout, Lech Lewen Trout and Rainbow were planted at Fair Creek, Little Red Deer River and the Watercourse, Snowden and Eagle Lakes in the Didsbury area.

A number of lakes and creeks good for fishing in the Rocky Mountain House area that have been stocked with trout include Crimson, Mud, Pelican, Strubel, Twin Lakes and Rainy and Clear Creeks.

Good Perch fishing can be found at Little Beaver Lake, Third Mission Lake and Magic Lake in the Camrose area. The Vermilion area also has a number of excellent Trout Lakes in Beaverdell, Kinsella, West and Dilberry.

The Edmonton district has Chichaho, Star, Sauer and Whitewood lakes recently stocked to offer good trout angling.

A detailed listing of all lakes stocked in 1955 may be obtained by writing to the Fish and Game Branch, Department of Lands & Forests, Edmonton.

JUNIOR MATRICULATION
CAN GET A COLLEGE EDUCATION
THROUGH THIS PLAN

In addition to the junior matriculation entry through the Regular Officer Training Plan, a limited number of qualified young men with Junior Matriculation can now go to College with all educational expenses paid by the Department of National Defence. Through this Plan which applies to the three services junior matriculants attend either civilian College, or the College Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean, and receive Officer Cadet pay and allowances, free medical and dental care, and 30 days annual leave. In summer you train with the services of your choice: the Navy, Army or Air Force.

Your graduation leads to the Queen's Commission and a professional career in the service of your country. If you are between 16 and 20, physically fit and have either senior or junior matriculation, take advantage of this outstanding educational and career opportunity. Get the full facts. Fill in and mail the coupon today! Applications must be in by July 1st.

Once a year the University of Alberta holds a special course for the farm young people of the province. The dates of the Farm Young People's Week have been announced as being from June 25th to June 14 inclusive. Boys and girls between the ages of 16 and 27 from farm homes are invited to attend. Registration will take place on June 25th.

The girls will reside in the dutlets in Pembina Hall, the women's residence on the campus.

Miss Dorothy Olsen, Junior Supervisor, 4-H Clubs, Alberta Dept. of Agriculture will be assisting as dean for the girls.

The boys will reside in the Athabasca Hall with L. Twigg, University of Extension in charge.

Meals will be served in the dining room of Athabasca Hall.

The cost of the course itself is about thirty dollars plus whatever extra is needed for spending money; a varied program has been planned with some joint sessions and others separate.

The girls will receive instruction in food, fabrics, home management and fashions. The boys will be concerned with livestock, field crops, soils and weeds. This week will be completed by a banquet and dance. Various competitions are being held so that, at the end of the week scholarships and prizes will be awarded as a result of the competitions.

The Irish government has raised the average price to be paid producers for their 1956-57 wheat crop (harvested July-September) by approximately 7 cents a bushel, making the price equivalent to around $2.14.

Banquet And Dance Held For Nineteen Grade Twelve Grads

Graduation exercises were held in the Elk Point high school auditorium one afternoon recently.

A banquet honoring the graduands, the same evening, was catered to by the United Church W.A. A well attended graduation dance followed the banquet.

Mr. Beattie, principal, was chairman during the afternoon exercises and presented graduation pins to the nineteen grade 12 grads. Mr. R. Rosette, superintendent of St. Paul School Division, with a few well chosen words, presented awards to both the grade 12's and junior matriculation classes.

The grade twelve valedictorian was Robert Holliday, and for grade nine, Margaret MacKinnon.

Awards for highest achievement in social studies were presented by high school teacher, Mr. O. Kotyshyn, to Georgina Miller, grade twelve; Maryann Fischer, grade eleven, Myrna Valentine, grade ten, and Malcolm McFayden, grade nine.

Grade twelve grads and grade nine grads

Georgina Miller, honors; Joan Kryka, honors; Robert Holliday, honors; Dean Fenton, honors; Sharon Stefaniw, honors; Evelyn Soldan, honors; Melvin Magnuson, Eva Heliquist, Thomas Melnyk; Marie McDonald; James Krunik; Nancy Raciukewski; Ernest Bitchko; Allan Gregor; May Mah; Doreen Brown; Sidney Male; Omer Parenteau, Kenneth Vinge.

Rounding out the activities was a one-act play, by the grade 11 dramatics class; a song by Peggy Fenton and songs by the grade 10 music class.

Mr Beattie was toastmaster at the banquet, and Mr W F Bentley, principal of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, the guest speaker, gave an excellent address to the students, stressing particularly the need to finish grade 12 if at all possible. A test to the grade nine class was proposed by Walter Wychopen and responded to by Joan Mcdonald, to the board was proposed by Lillian Petrie and replied to by Dr. F. G. Miller; to the teachers, proposed by Dean Fenton and replied to by Miss M. Loftus; the Grade Twelve Grads by Donald Bulmer and responded to by Evelyn Soldan.

FUA Local To Meet In Armistice Hall

The Elk Point FUA local met at the home of F. Hall on May 30.

Owing to the late spring it was decided to postpone the annual fishing trip to a later date.

Plans for this will be discussed at the next meeting which will be held in the Armistice Hall on Sunday, June 17 at 2:30 p.m.

Delegates will be appointed to the coming convention in St. Paul on July 3.

Head office wishes to get the opinion of all locals regarding the Livestock Marketing, come and give your views on this matter.

Grade Eleven Presents 3-Act Comedy

"Comin' Round the Mountain," a three-act comedy was presented in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, June 1, by the grade eleven Green class. The cast, under the able directorship of Mrs. L. W. Bompas, gave a flawless performance, which was thoroughly enjoyed by an audience of approximately 200.

Principal of the school, Mr. R. E. Beattie, previewed the play of the play with a few usual introductory remarks.

The list of characters was given by Donna Holliday, Mrs. Sumpton, directress during the second act intermission, thanked the members of the cast for their hard work and preparation, and others of the student body who had assisted untiringly with preparations and erection of scenery, and the many other items which are necessary to the presentation of a successful production.

The members of the cast were as follows: Doreen Pytel, Wayne Wright, Marilyn Fischer, Dale Hall, Lucille Bartling, John Werbicki, Lorraine Stefaniw, Evelyn Soldan, honors; Melvin Magnuson, Eva Heliquist, Thomas Melnyk; Marie McDonald; James Krunik; Nancy Raciukewski; Ernest Bitchko; Allan Gregor; May Mah; Doreen Brown; Sidney Male, Omer Parenteau, Kenneth Vinge.

Make Teas Are Becoming A Great Success

The first Hobo Tea was held recently at the home of Dr. Weigerinck when Dora was surprised by eighteen "unarrived guests." The lady hobos were attired in various costumes to which they had been "caught" when someone took a notion to start a go-to-your-place tea. Soiled aprons, paint spotted shirt and jeans, comfortable clothes slipped on curled heads, just added to the merriment at the occasion and by 9 p.m. were off to the Red Cross cobers in aid of the inter-cobers project.

A second tea was held at Mrs. Beattie's when the ladies surprised in aprons and garden togs supplied the laughs.

Gather up a group of friends some day soon (a time if they mak) any improvements on their apy-eareeu) call a mutual friend and request refreshments. The proceeds are for a good cause.

Evening United Church Service To Be Changed To Morning

Sunday School 9:45 a.m. to 10:45 a.m.; Morning Church Service at 11 a.m.

Will all members, adherents and friends of the United Church in Elk Point and district please note the alterations above in the services. The evening service will no longer be held and will be replaced by a morning service at 11 o'clock until further notice, commencing from this coming Sabbath June 10th.

Those who read this column are asked to make the alterations known widely to others, and to help to make the first Morning Service of the year really worthwhile. Our aim is to be a consecration and dedication of the congregation to further service unto our Lord Jesus Christ, young and old together, during the rest of the year and onwards.

Also, Mr Adam has a special announcement to make to the congregation this coming Sunday which is important to all concerned so please keep your next Sunday morning free, and all those following, for the worship of God, and mention the matter to all around who would otherwise not know of the changes.

Parents of our Sunday school scholars, please notice also the change in Sunday School times — a quarter to ten instead of the usual eleven o'clock It has been seen that all of the scholars, from the tinies up to the senior teenage Bible class, love to attend their Sunday School, and it would be a pity if they were to miss their Sunday school because of any possible non-reminder of the change

RCAF Is Prepared For The Defence Of Canada If Necessary

The RCAF has many individual duties and responsibilities, but none is more important than that of Air Defence Command. This Command is responsible for the air defence of Canada, a highly complex task calling for the finest available aircraft, equipment and personnel.

Before and during the Second World War fighter squadrons formed a part of the home-based defence forces. Even during the war, however, the question of enemy bomber attack on Canadian and North American targets formed a very secondary threat. Today, a different situation prevails. The danger is a prime one, calling for diversion of large resources to provide forces capable of warning of the approach of enemy bombers, locating these bombers, and destroying them.

The RCAF's post-war plans called for fighter forces to form the major operational element of the services in 1946 the headquarters that was to control these forces came into being. The new Air Defence Group, brought into being initially as a planned group of Air Force Headquarters and Sector, officially established in St. Hubert, outside Montreal, where it is now located.

Originally few in numbers, its first aircraft were Vampire jet fighters and Mustangs of Second War vintage. Plans were underway at that time, however, for provision of faster and more efficient types — the F-86 Sabre and the CF-100 Canuck and even the first Vampire squadrons formed.

The decisions to expand the RCAF after the Korean conflict and provide a 12-squadron Air Division in the NATO commander in Europe had their effects on Air Defence Command. It too became clear that the day of the single-engine Sabres came off the production line at Canadair, they would replace the Vampires which were flown by the Regular squadrons. This "swing" took place in the new squadrons.

These squadrons were to be brought to a standard of operational efficiency by ADC, and then despatched to the UK and Europe, to form the Air Division there.

Nine squadrons of Canuck jet fighters have been formed and brought up to the operational efficiency target for the end of 1953.

The Canuck, which is playing such an important role in our defence plans, was designed and produced in Canada by A. V. Roe Canada Ltd of Malton, Ont., to meet particular RCAF requirements for Canadian air defence. There was no other fighter available which could meet the needs of the RCAF, and a decision was made to design and produce one in Canada. The Orenda engine, which powers us in power unit, was also designed and produced here. Now in operational service, the Mark 4 Canuck, an improved version over the type previously produced, is proving itself a valuable addition to Canadian defence. The CF-100's are equipped with a new type of autopilot coupled to the low control system. This permits more accurate attack procedures than are possible with a manually controlled aircraft.

In addition, tests are being conducted and, when completed, Canuck may be fitted with a new, heavier calibre gun for use in conjunction with air-to-air rockets. However good it may be, no fighter aircraft remains a front line plane indefinitely, and plans include replacing the CF-100 at a suitable time with a new supersonic long-range, all-weather fighter an aircraft now only in the embryo stage.

In addition to its fighter squadrons, ADC maintains four permanent advanced training establishments. These are the Operational Training Units at Uplands, O.D., and Cold Lake, Alta. where training with the Canuck all-weather jet fighter predominates.

The fighter squadrons equipped with the best aircraft available make up the most spectacular part of ADC.

Aerial warfare has changed since the time when the range of bombers was short, and their speed was low. Bombs could be dropped only visually, and the fighters were scrambled as they approached, spotted them visually and went in for the attack.

Modern conditions have changed this. Any method of attack on any conceivable target in Canada will necessitate navigation aboard. Future aerial warfare and defence against it will be long distance affairs. Even the ground is therefore a necessary part of the early warning network.

Early warning radar, however, has its own weaknesses, one which equipment is our equipment and that of other nations. It has limitations in regard to low-flying aircraft. This is remedied to the Ground Observer Corps, an essential part of Air Defence Command's early warning system. Civilian volunteers operate throughout Canada, reporting aircraft movements. These reports are passed to filter centres for on-ward transmission to operational centres. Hundreds of unidentified aircraft are immediately intercepted by the interceptor squadrons, just as are unknown blips appearing on the radar screens.

Closely connected with ADC is the Army's anti-aircraft forces. Operational control of anti-aircraft artillery is exercised through the commander of the Army's Anti-Aircraft Command, whose Headquarters are alongside those of the ADC Commander.

Those making up Air Defence Command know the importance of their task. They realize that aircraft and equipment, even though the best in the world, mean nothing unless enriched

Four Duke's Life at Hands of Cypriot Terrorists

The reports that Cypriot terrorists have slapped into Nicosia jail Queen Elizabeth's Greek born husband have prompted security officials to triple the Duke of Edinburgh's bodyguard. The terrorists were rumored to be plotting to kidnap Prince Philip and hold him for ransom for the Cyprus freedom fighters now in British custody.

Scotland Yard has set up check points at British ports, but the movements of Cypriots are not easy to follow. As citizens of the Commonwealth, they move about in England as do the British citizens.

possible enemy bombers. These radar stations require a tremendous amount of highly complex equipment, and call for special skills by the personnel who man them. Their construction, usually in isolated areas, is slow and expensive.

In addition to such warning systems there must be a method of directing the interceptors on their targets. A chance of contact by the aircraft's radar is the defenders failing. Instead them. A communication system to permit the squadrons to receive continuous instructions from the ground is therefore a necessary part of the early warning network.

ANTI-SUB PATROL

Modern development of anti-submarine warfare calls for new types of land-based aircraft to meet increased RCAF maritime responsibilities, and the PBY-5 Canso flying boats of Canada's Air Command vessel, is one of the latest additions to the RCAF's arsenal of operational aircraft. This anti-submarine and anti-surface vessel aircraft, flying from Eastern Air Command, is also refueling for some lucky car and torpedo operations. Part of more than a two-and-a-half of electronic equipment installed in this modern aircraft will not be contained at Cold Lake Weapons Range, but will have opportunity to use other type of fighter aircraft such as the CF-100, F-86 Sabre Jets and others. June is Dairy Month And Canadian Producers Increase Promotion

For many years the slogan — "June is Dairy Month" — has been seen by consumers of dairy products.

Dairy processors and distributors are constantly increasing advertising and sales promotion expenditures in order to expand the domestic market for the milk production of Canada's 450,000 dairy

A survey by the National Dairy Council of Canada reveals that this year dairy processors will spend nearly $5,000,000 to boost the consumption of all products. A further $500,000 is being spent by the Dairy Farmers of Canada in advertising and promoting the sale of dairy foods.

Milk production has increased by two billion pounds the past five years and it is expected that this year will establish an all-time production record.

Fluid milk sales this year are running at more than twice the rate of population growth.

Sales of butter, process cheese, ice cream, evaporated milk and skim milk powder during the first quarter also showed those of the same period a year ago.

Nearly one-half of Canada's milk production is used in the manufacture of butter. According to the Federal Department of Agriculture the farmer receives 75 percent of the retail price of butter, the highest percentage return from any farm commodity.

Fluid milk accounts for 20 per cent of total production, cheese takes 5 per cent, evaporated milk and powdered milk 3 per cent and ice cream about 2 per cent.

The Dairy Industry contributes $200,000,000 a year to the Canadian economy.

EDA BAILEY ALLEN

"Our food budget is $25 a week," many a housewife has remarked to me. "But it's the cash bill that knocks it out! With a family of 5 adults and 2 children, we need 3 quarts of milk a day. That's 1/2 of the $25 money. Shall we cut down on milk or meat, butter, fruit and eggs? Or cut down on fresh vegetables and fruits?"

None of these ideas is good. This is one case where homemakers can outwit the budget by using the various forms of milk correctly.

For the children, buy homeground milk for drinking or use reconstituted fresh-tasting evaporated milk flavored with chocolate or mashed syrup or frozen orange juice.

Dried Skim Milk

For cooking, use low-priced reconstituted high protein dried skim milk, or evaporated skim protein buttermilk, or milk reconstituted or evaporated or half the price of fresh milk.

Instead of a can of sweet cream, learn to use concentrated sour cream at half the price in the smart new ways we are reminded in this column.

ASKS REVIEW OF HIS HOUSE RULINGS

—Ottawa Press Gallery

The Speaker of the House of Commons has invited the examination of his rulings as Speaker since 1945 and as Deputy Speaker and chairman of committees of the whole House and other committees of Commons members. The action of Rene Beaudoin, Liberal member for Ste. Chambers in Ottawa, was prompted by motion made by Opposition leader George Drew in the Commons to submit the government's rule in the recent sessions which saw Donald Fleming, Progressive Conservative member for Toronto-Eglinton, expelled during debate of pipeline bill.

Greater Power In New Cars Helps Reduce Highway Accidents

WINDSOR, Ont. May — While there is no question that accident severity increases with speed, the vast majority of injuries and fatalities are recorded from accidents in which impact speeds were 30 miles-an-hour or less," Roy C. Haviland, Chrysler Corporation's chief safety engineer, told members of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association here today.

Mr. Haviland, widely recognized authority on automobile safety, described as unbelievable "the false sense of security of our motorists simply because they are driving within a 50-mile-an-hour speed limit." He pointed out that many enforcement organizations now define speed "more carefully" in terms of prevailing conditions.

Quoting from the findings of independent highway safety and research groups, Mrs. Haviland explained that average highway speeds had increased only slightly in relation to horsepower advances over the past few years. "The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads report for 1956 (based on data gathered in 1954) showed average passenger car speed on inter-city highways to be 51 m.p.h. to-a-tenths of one mile-an hour less than in 1953. Their corresponding figure for average passenger car speed in 1940 was 48.7 m.p.h., for a gain of less than three m.p.h., during the past five years when engine horsepower rating have risen most rapidly."

The speaker described horsepower as a safety feature of the modern automobile. "Power improves performance. A powerful car is able to reach traffic speeds more rapidly after entering a main artery. It can extricate itself more quickly from potential dangerous situations.

It can count a through highway and get out of the way of oncoming traffic more quickly. Such a car need spend less time on the wrong side of the road when passing another car," said Mr. Haviland.

This subtlety of performance, according to Mr. Haviland, is possible only with today's higher horsepower automobiles and increased horsepower does not mean that people will drive faster.

"People have been able to reach the upper limit of reasonable speed for many years. It does not take very much horsepower to reach 70 m.p.h., in an average-size car. As little as 80 h.p. will suffice in a smaller vehicle, while 160 h.p. is enough for a large car. Haviland continued. He credited the motorist with having established his own pattern (well below what is possible) on the basis of economy, noise, the speed laws, and his own ideas of what is enjoyable and relaxing.

Questions and Answers

If you cut a man's head off, will he die" He will.

If you have his head on, but sever the spinal cord, will he die? He will, because the body could no longer receive the essential life force which the brain supplies.

If you did not cut the spinal cord, but crushed it at the base of the brain, would he die? He would, for the reason mentioned above.

If you did not crush the spinal cord, but squeezed it slightly, would he partially die? He would, because some part or parts of the body would be deprived of essential nerve supply.

If a vertebra of the spine became displaced, causing pressure on the spinal cord, would he become sick? He would, for the reasons given above.

If a man were sick, and he had an adjustment which removed the pressure from the spinal cord, would he get well? He would.

If I am sick what should I do? See your chiropractor.

BATTLE WITH FOREST FIRES IN ALBERTA

175 Men Battle Numerous Fires In Area Northwest Of Edmonton

TOWN OF WHITECOURT ACTING AS NERVE CENTRE FOR OPERATIONS

Battling to save Alberta's forest from fire, crews of firefighters and officers of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests have been struggling for over two weeks to control fires which have broken out in the heavily covered area of the province.

Typical of this fight to save million dollar stands of timber throughout the province, are the efforts of 175 men in the Whitecourt area, 110 miles north-west of Edmonton, where fires devastated 225 square miles of forest in the short span of 12 days.

Nerve centre of the fire fighting operation is the forestry headquarters in the town of Whitecourt. W. J. MacGregor, Assistant forest Superintendent, (upper left) locates the source of a new fire on his map of the area from reports that have been radioed in from ranger lookout stations.

A new pillar of smoke (upper right) is spotted by the forest Ranger and his direction from the lookout tower is sent by short wave radio to headquarters. From directions given by two men lookout towers, the source of smoke is plotted, and a stand-by crew of four men is sent to help the ranger put out the blaze.

If the blaze is too large for the initial crew of rangers, additional men and supplies are rushed out by air to the fight. A main camp is set up and bulldozers clear their way through the dense stands of timber to reach the burning area. Uprooting trees and opening wide fire-breaks around the fire, the bulldozers work day and night to circle the fire with protective fire lanes.

Many areas, inaccessible by road, have to be served by the 24-foot long-boat (lower right) of the Whitecourt forestry division. Men and supplies are loaded into the boat and they are carried to the site of the fire.

Working to control the spread of the fires, the crews of men put out all the spot fires that have been started by burning embers that are sometimes carried for miles by winds and updrafts caused by the fiercely burning trees.

One fire, which five fighters believe to have been most seemingly started by human carelessness, will only be stopped by a heavy rain. When the fires are put out crews will have to patrol all the burned areas until first winter flurry spots of fire in trees, roots, and burning smoulder must be extinguished before the forest will be safe from its greatest enemy.

WHEAT HARVEST

Wheat harvesting started in the United States on May 11 at Randlet, 30 miles north of Wichita Falls, Texas. One hundred acres of winter wheat were threshed, yielding 12 bushels per acre; weight 60 pounds per bushel; moisture test 15.3 percent.

AIR FORCE DAY

SATURDAY, JUNE 9

While you work, while you sleep, while you play, your Air Force is ever ready and ever working to guard you and your loved ones. Throughout Canada and overseas it stands as a constant shield against aggression, ready for combat should your way of life be threatened.

Saturday, June 9 is Canada's Air Force Day, and many RCAF stations throw open their gates and invite you to come and see first hand something of your own Air Force, its aircraft and its men and women.

It's your Air Force. Meet the men and women who keep the maple leaf roundel flying high.

Girl Guide Promises Made

(Contributed)

Last Wednesday, May 30, at the feast of Saint Joan of Arc, patron saint of Catholic Girl Guides, four science promises were made before the Blessed Sacrament at the St. Paul Cathedral in the presence of His Excellency, Rev. Bishop Philippe Lussier.

The promises were taken by Captain Carmel Despin of the St. Sauveur Co. and Lt. Therese Pick following Benedictions sung by the same Co and Pack, as they had done every Wednesday during the month of May.

After Mgr Lussier had received Miss Bertha Frigon's promise as a lieutenant, Yvonne Bourion made her promise as a Guide and Gaetane Gougeal and Patricia Lalibuerre made their Brownie promises.

Besides the presence of the District Chaplain, Rev. Father J. M. Martineau and our Co and Pack Chaplain, Rev. Father Pesant, and their sister Guides and Brownies of the same Co and Pack, other Captains and members of other Companies and Packs attended as well as many parents.

Congratulations to the new Lieutenant, Guide and Brownies

We thank His Excellency Bishop Lussier for his presence and his elevating talk to the group on that occasion.

Guides Sponsor Mother, Daughter Banquet At Donald Cafe, Sunday

(Contributed)

The Donald Rural Mothers-Daughters Banquet was the scene of the first Mother & Daughter Banquet held under the auspices of the Canadian Girl Guide Association. The room was tastefully decorated with the Union Jack and the Girl Guide colors, the World Flag, between each set a brown owl perched on each table and kept a watchful eye on the proceedings.

The tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and special place cards for the head table.

The banquet was under the capable chairmanship of Mrs. Hector Cooper, president of the local association. She introduced Miss Betty Martin, Provincial Secretary of the Girl Guide Association and Mrs. V. Wichmann, her assistant, to the mothers who had gathered with their daughters for the happy occasion. Mrs. Brownlee, Guides and Mothers, sat down to a delicious meal.

The father's apparently left neglected, but were represented by a lovely bouquet of carnations donated by them in hope and expectation that they will be included in the invitation list next year.

Toasts were proposed by Mrs. Cooper to the officials and each Brownie and Guide present and decorated her mother with her first carnage.

Carol Anne Mirbeau was called upon to say grace. Following the feast to the Queen, Diane Richtik proposed a toast to the mothers which was answered by Mrs. J. R. Button. Joyce Looy proposed a toast to the Girl Guide Association, answered by Mrs. V. Williams.

The guest speaker of the evening was Miss Martin, who spoke on Guiding. Badge work and accomplishment the Guides and Brownies for the present work accomplished during the past year. She then awarded 14 Second Class Badges to the following:

Miss Needlewoker Ribbons were received by the following Brownies:

Janice Hutten, Diane Shaman, Norma Shaman, Margaret Mauer, Janet Dalton, Carol Anne Michon, Lorel Hellinger, Beverly Arnold, Elaine Gee.

KNITTING

Secretary Treasurer Margaret Mauer, Badge and Study, Frances Goudy, Purse Attendance, Carol Anne Michon, Janice Hutten and Margaret Shaman.

Our thanks to Miss Elsie Kostuk, Diane Shaman, who knitted the Brownies a sewing and pointed the Centennial.

A unanimous vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Frank Young of the Donald Cafe for the complimentary banquet.

In conclusion words of thanks and appreciation became the Girl Guide emblems were presented to guests Rose Tomsen and Beverly Ann Arnold, Assn. Fuller, by the hostesses.

During the afternoon the officers met with the guides at the hall and held an informal meeting.

Brownies and Guides had displayed their year's work for the visitors who thoroughly enjoyed looking over the work, especially the arts and need columns.

LOCAL NEWS

A few real enthusiastic fishermen made the muddy pilgrimage to worm lake for an early catch over the weekend Dr Ken Tomsen, Bobby Drouin and Mildred Brunette, made it through the bogs and swamps with Bobby's 6 ft 4 foot - inch three array cages. They had to watch other vehicles clear of parts of the road, pull themselves through the hard way to make it The reward was a catch of over 30 fish, including some 15-lb.

The great big ones, even at this early date, apparently were'nt too hungry yet

A successful weekend is reported by the local McLeod's department. At the annual softball tournament held in Vermilion among store employees, the boys and girls' team took the trophy after eliminating Vegreville, Vermilion and finally North Battleford. Girls teams competing were Bonnyville and Lloydminster. A successful day was reported by all

Mr. John E. Leames of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff in Vermilion motored to St. Paul to assist as accountant in New replacement here as accountant is Mr A A Mailo, from Lamont

Get A Load Of Some Hot Ball Friday Evening

You, Sir, Sports Fans! If you want to witness some of the hottest ball games of the season, be at St Paul Diamond on Friday, and see some real fast baseball action.

We've never heard of the dark horse . . . calls itself — Garth Sheet's St Paul Eskos and it's nine Bel-Aire Mixs, — a bunch of old veterans out of Tommy Lovespeed.

Whenever they are, a challenge has been issued against Ray Pellerin's Hoosiers. We imagine they are stalwarts from the Fire brigade, set to do some speed fire fighting and downing on Sunday.

Pelly hasn't developed his line up yet and although Roberts has subs, we'll keep it a dark secret and surprise you all.

Twenty-Four In Graduation Glendon School

Mary Boykiw Reads Valedictory Address

On Thursday May 31st twenty-four pupils of the Grade 12 grades in Glendon were honored at the graduation exercises For many reasons, the new school auditorium was admirable in green and gold and displayed the unanimous motto "Know Thyself"

The exercises consisted of a variety of musical numbers and recitations The school orchestra, numbering thirty members, played the Glendon Waltz and the Victory March The program was opened by an invocation given by Rev Father Mr Shandro, school principal introduced the graduates and the class prophecy was given by John Kowalchuk An address was made to the graduands by J. J. Kostash, superintendent of the Bonnyville school division.

Class poet were presented to the graduands by Mrs A Erickson, grade 9 teacher. Glendon Home and School Association Mr Bourgeau, president, and Mrs Krywchuk, presented the awards on the eleven girls and thirteen boys

They were Joan Anderson, Donald Bilton, Mary Boykiw, Alice Carlson, Kenney Collins, Frances Dumont, Peter Gaudet, Rita Guilbeault, Ella Livesey, Malcolm Krymowski, Mike Mahar, Anne Mahaffey, Gerald Martin, Peter Matkowski, Annie Ouellet, Sandy Pelechuk, Bernard Plesgan, Lawrence Rathbuhl, Bertard Revay, Anne Sokoloski, Carol Telenko, Eleanor Wawiuky, Gilbert Severin, Joyce Severin

After the exercises the people gathered at the National Hall for the dance Lunch for the graduands was served at the banquet of Mr Tulemba and Mr. Tony Severin.

During the exercises Miss Mary Boykiw read the following valedictory:

Honoured Guests:

Today is a turning point in our lives. Tomorrow we will step into the world to perform, produce, and contribute more than receive, possess, and obtain. Today at noon a turning point, is the time for a challenging look into the future

We graduates have reached the first step of the stairway In doing so we have learned many things we did not give up. Our motto was "If you fail keep trying till you succeed" by which will guide us in the future We are now prepared to face problems which will bear us in our lives.

Those who have striven for an education have been well awarded. They are prepared to solve problems which will confront them in their ability of life They understand better the good

Might Of RCAF In Full Spectacular Review

Glider Gives Amazing Performance; Jet Formations, Sales Thrill Crowd

The power, versatility and efficiency of Canada's Air Force was convincingly engraved across the clear blue sky at RCAF Station Cold Lake Air Show when a galaxy of screaming jet, helicopter, salon and aerobatics performers, in a spectacular air show which also included, helicopter in rescue operations, paratroop drop and manoeuvres by propeller driven planes, left planes and crowd breathless.

As some 15,000 people drove past the main gate to disperse without a break in the traffic stream along the road between Bonnyville and Cold Lake, the Commander-in-Chief Review Officer was viewed and saw the entire display.

Upon her inspection was the Cutback MK.5D, dual control Jet Trainer, RCAF Mitchell, radar trainer and pilot trainer, DHC-1 Chipmunk and the Expediter, personnel transport and advanced trainer, T-33 MK 5, dual primary jet trainer, the Canuck MK4, CF-100 all weather fighter interceptor.

JET PRINCIPLE

On the static line, S/L D. D. Macarthur had explained in the right hand section of the exhibitor hanger, a cut-away of a jet engine to show the operating principles

It would have cut-ly drawn into the engine by compressors and is heated by combustion chambers. The gases expanded through the turbine and a turbine in the rear wheels is driven from the compressor. Then the engine is created the action. It is the principle of the turbo propeller itself. The thrust of the combustion air gives a driving force. The turbo propeller is a combination of both principles.

Other interesting displays included telecommunications, air and ground, aircraft instruments, and electrical systems, armament section, radio, navigation, survival, fire fighting equipment, photographic displays, survival and safety equipment, meteorological, ground defence, model aircraft, RCAF, aircraft recognition, clothing, aircraft trainer system, RCAF cadets.

Keyed up and in anticipation, the large crowd jammed the runway area as the loud roar of the Air Show P.O Goldie took a Harvard in Ballooning up for demonstration on runway work, hovering and hooting up over the crowd.

Then a parachutist, Sgt. Ray Lapointe, of Edmonton, RCAF Station, Namao, floated down from the sky, landing smartly and skimming along the rough ground

CREW PERFORMANCES

In the meantime S/L Bill Riddell was towed around in the Expediter by Corporal Gilbert and cut loose for a beautiful take off, manoeuvring handily on the air currents to return to being sold . . . get yours now from members of the Agricultural Society.

Agricultural Society Sign Contract With Bob DePalo Grandstand Show

Directors of the St Paul Agricultural Society, at a recent meeting, resolved a motion to use local talent for the Grandstand show at the annual Fair, August 3rd and 4th, and instead have approved arrangements with Bob Depalo Grandstand attractions which have featured here the past five years.

The committee also is considering other entertainment for the two-day exhibition Cayland Marionets with circus additions will again return to St Paul.

Appointments were made at various committees in charge of the following departments: gate, Alec Tomsett; grandstand, Mrs. Ken Wolstenholme; grounds, G Hovelshamp; parade marshall W J Lambert; Advertising, Mrs Gautreau, water and feed, G Hovelshamp; booth, Mrs. D Lesoway.

Special prizes have been entered by Mr Ken Wolstenholme and the prize list is being prepared by Mr. Harvey Clemens. It will be published on or about July 1st

In the meantime farmers and other exhibitors are requested to line up their livestock and products.

Across Charges Against Pratah Are Dismissed

Young Joe Pratch Junior, 21, convicted of arson three months ago by His Honor Judge Gorlitzky in District court at St Paul, and sentenced to 12 months, has appealed the case and was subsequently granted a new trial

Pratch's court last week, before Judge Buchannan, the case was dismissed for lack of evidence Defence counsel did not call witnesses

The Crown had alleged that on March 26th., in the Rich Lake District, the accused had set fire to his father's two and a half ton truck by pouring gasoline over the vehicle after it had upset in a ditch.

The defence at that time had denied all the accusations.

Construction On Glen Avon Separate School To Commence

Figures released this week by the Glen Avon School Board show that the expenditure on the school at Glendon (See page 1 for architect's drawing.) General contractors were awarded to Walter's Construction of Edmonton. Mechanical contractors is Pelle and Knowles and Tubman Bros., who were the low mutual bidders. Electrical contractor is Pelle Electric. No bids were received from the local association.

According to Mr. Watson, general contractor, construction will begin immediately on to give the school in operation this fall term. The building is of masonry construction, using black with red tile lining on the walls. The ceilings are acoustic tile throughout with vinyl tile on the floors. The large gymnasium floor is of hardwood construction with concrete floor in the shop room and boiler room.

The entire building will be heated by a low pressure hot water system, each room being thermostatically controlled. All the classrooms and gymnasium will be air-conditioned, also thermostatically controlled.

Since the building is of a permanent construction, the Departmental Building Grant on the construction is increased by 10 per cent, making a total approved grant on sixteen rooms for $136,000.00. A Debenture of $136,000 has already been approved, making a total expenditure and amount of $260,000.00 to the town and district of St. Paul.

Because of the original road situation, plans had to be reviewed changing the construction by two months. However, at the present all materials are on hand and construction will commence immediately.

Hip, Hip, Hurrah TB Testing Will Finally Be Done

Farmers Are Asked Give Co-operation

By MARCEL CHEVRETTE B.A.

What's the matter anyway" The matter is that, after waiting for more than 7 years, the TB testing of our cattle population is going to be done, now!

Well we cannot blame anybody too much and the Health of Animals Veterinarians have been kept very busy on TB work by such unwelcome events as The Foot and Mouth and The Rabies and The Hog Cholera

But things seemed are all under control and the Vets are in the field for the Paul Municipality's increased, number to test — cattle.

Let's tell you they are welcome The best way to say it is by extending to them the co-operation in handling the cattle

If you don't have the necessary facilities and corrals you cannot say that you didn't have time The testing for TB testing was signed in 1946. The Municipality was then served a TB test and a couple of years later About two years ago, the Municipality co-operated on a hedging gate and plans were sent to most of the rate payers. 6-31 chutes were raised in co-operation in the building of chutes and corrals proved to be not so handle these cattle quickly and efficiently or are not?

Well for those who would like to build holding gates right away just drop me a line or come in we have these plans available yet

Alfalfa Cow Special Guest In St. Paul

St. Paul is host to a special guest, who is not keen now to announce to young and old that there is Dairy Month. She is Blossom—the Alfalfa - Cow, and she says "Treat Your Thirst Drink Milk First!

Blossom is made of a round bale of hay, a milking pail, a blanket on her back, and a crown on her head announcing that she is "Queen of Cows" during June dairy month.

Blossom will be seen publicly on many occasions this year than any cow in the world Be sure to drop in to see her soon at Crowe Motors Ltd downtown

BEFORE THE TAKE-OFF

By special permission of the Group Captain, R. C. Sievert, AFC, C.D., and with guidance of Flying Officer A. C. Dendy, Station Public Relations Officer, interested invitees to the Cold Lake Air display last Saturday were given an inside view of what goes on at the runway's before take-off, and all the preparations that lead to it.

The imagination of the Canadian people has been stirred from time to time by the courage and daring of the pilots who have pioneered the jet age and who are now flying at extreme speeds, defying the elements, at times.

But although flying calls for skill and experience, and extreme devotion to duty, they are made possible basically by a well-planned and highly efficient organization rather than by dare devil flying exploits. Behind each successful mission is a carefully planned operation which is executed to perfection on a time table drawn up without a flaw.

Operation orders and briefings have been handed out to each pilot and his navigator before hand and all were on the tarmac. They gained in height at the imperial of time.

The pilots and their navigators made a thorough inspection of the planes assigned to them, poking around under the wings, the under carriage, the landing gear, etc. Without following any rule, fellow pilots casually inspected each other's planes, particularly making such remarks as: do you think the old crock will stay together? Just behind it all there was an atmosphere of apprehension, of danger, full realization of the hazards, and making certain that everything, as far as it was humanly possible to ensure, was a perfect working condition.

A pilot taking off at Cold Lake, even though his mission is to take part in the air show, will, in a few minutes find himself 300 miles north, where he may be required to [illegible] Should trouble arise, and unexpectedly pop up he must be prepared to survive if he be forced down in the [illegible]

The jet pilot of today is so precisely trained as the machine he . . . flying is precisely built and designed to operate at maximum efficiency

He hopes that he has never to practice what he learns, but realizes that his training and the precautions he takes may [illegible]

There is no manufactured bravado Each pilot conscientiously and religiously performs up with his Mae West emergency belt worn around the chest which contains rations for three to four days survival for one man parachute harnesses are strapped on and checked [illegible]

The ground crew knows its responsibility, prepares well for the flight, makes sure the pilot is properly outfitted and that the [illegible] aircraft [illegible] gives it a helping hand to get off.

But more [illegible] they have [illegible] set a highly efficient system of co-operation which sees the plane safely off. And then, the ground crew stands by for the return, ready with emergency equipment, if necessary

Our close observations Saturday, lead us to conclude that the RCAF and the personnel of the Cold Lake Station are justly proud of their standing and efficiently training its flyers to a high standard for safeguard of the nation in time of war, giving peaceful assurances that we will be well protected.

Although we hope we may never have to use its might to defend us, it's time to have a handy and ready for emergency should it arise.

From the people of this district we extend to the officers and men of Cold Lake RCAF Station our thanks for being such splendid hosts on Air Force Day

NEW ROAD TO 3-MILE

It was our pleasure to notice that a brand new road to Three Mile Lake has been built to eliminate the low spot and big hill on the old road which has been by-passed by extensive [illegible] in open area over. The old road is completely under water

The new construction has every good grade and with time should develop into a good road for the farmers in that district and to those who may want to enjoy the beach at the lake which is becoming increasingly popular

Thanks to the Municipality and its councillor, Mr. Steve Demchuk, for the kind attention

NO CHAMBER DELEGATES

We recently received a list of delegates who attended and took part in the annual meeting of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce at Red Deer

St. Paul was conspicuous by its absence There were a good number of smaller towns represented and interested in the important deliberations

The strength of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce lies with a representative membership and participation of all communities in the Province. The stronger the membership the more weight their recommendations on governmental and business will bear

We form part of this unit and St. Paul should find at least two of its business men who are willing and able to take a few days off to present our suggestions and opinions while being recompensed by the rest of Alberta

POWER HELPED

Western farm machinery certainly demonstrated its worth on the Prairies this spring, says The Financial Post. In a little more than two weeks, grain seeding was practically completed.

Back in the old horse days, in a late wet year like this, probably only half a crop could have been sown with any degree of success. By then the season would have been too advanced for wheat to mature or the soil too dry to germinate the seed and get it growing. Now with machinery which can be operated 24 hours a day if necessary an enormous area can be seeded within hours of the time the soil [illegible] moisture.

So long as crops depend on rain and sun, grain growing must remain a weather-hazardous business But new equipment, new methods, and new varieties have removed a lot of the risk

The total crop failures we experienced regularly up to the "thirties" we will probably never see again

One of the great dangers faced by the free world lies in the happy willingness to accept overtures of friendship and peace from the Communist bloc at their face value. In an ideal world peoples would prefer such and women such confidence and trust would be justified. But we are not long then perfect world the words and promises of friends of long standing can be relied upon implicitly Confidence and trust, however, become marvels when related to Communist protestations of goodwill. There is much to be said for probing deeply and carefully before fully committing them. One is disturbed and frightened at the rapidity with which the evil of the past is forgotten in the wishful thinking of the present

A number of significant statements made recently give a cause for concern. Then orange in Communist tactics should be weighed and considered in the light of these statements. Our future and the future of freedom must depend upon their outcome.

In an Associated Press news story datelined London, April 20th., this statement appears "Experts examined what the Belgrade communiqué announcing Russian party said about nuclear and conventional H-bomb war and concluded the Soviet Union might be well abreast of the West in this field." Then a staggering statement We in the West, boastful of our industrial and scientific might, are now prepared to concede that the Soviet Union might be well ahead of us in the field of nuclear warfare! It is not difficult to deduce from this one statement that Russian appeals for disarmament are designed to create a sense of relaxation and to [illegible] Western defences at their present point

On the same day the Associated Press carried a story to the effect that the Russians have developed a missile that can be fired from a submarine 300 feet under the surface and still hit targets up to 1400 miles away Russia has the greatest submarine fleet in the world

On April 20th. the Associated Press carried a story datelined Washington which quoted General Curtis Lemay, Commander of the Strategic Air Command, as saying that on the basis of current warplane building programme the United States Air Forces "will be inferior in striking power to the Soviet long-range Air Force by 1958-59."

On April 20, a Reuters dispatch from London reported a statement by Gen. Sir John Hage Glubb that Jordan's friendship with Britain was stolen in eight months by Russia and Egypt. In the face of the claim that the Baghdad Pact was an Imperialist alliance, General Glubb stated that "we were suddenly overwhelmed by the stream of propaganda . . . we stood with our friends by our side with weapons with which we could reply

In a speech on May [illegible] Minister Louis St. Laurent warned that [illegible] promises has been used before in Communist strategy only to be replaced by [illegible] when the Kremlin felt the situation warranted the threat to be ready," he said, "to make any concessions that will effectively guarantee peace but we should not dissolve our alliances because of a few more tourists are allowed to visit the Soviet Union

When we speak of freedom we think of that measure of totalitarianism, perhaps the greatest menace the free world has ever faced it must be obvious to every thinking person in the world today that the aim of the Communist leaders is to destroy our constitutary smiles or wave big clubs, to spread totalitarian Communism imperialism throughout the world."

Nikita Khrushchev summed up the Communist attitude very neatly when he said to American Bevan at the now famous Labour Party dinner in London, "We are Communists. Don't ask us to give up our principles."

In the light of such accumulated evidence, we must be prepared to face a long period of watchful waiting During this period we must never relax our shoulder to the wheel of defence and must be ready to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Construction On St. Joseph's Seminary Is Well Under Way

EDMONTON, Alta (CCC) — In a project which has been near to his heart for some years, As an expression of the love and admiration of clergy and laity to the archbishop he will be presented with a fund sufficient to furnish and equip the new seminary. The organization of the project has been under direction of Archbishop Anthony Jordan, O.M.I., retired Archbishop of Edmonton.

In connection with the history of St. Joseph's Seminary it is recalled that the present Archbishop of Toronto and of Regina are former rectors. His Emminence James Charles Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, was rector from 1927 until 1930 when he was named Archbishop of Regina. Most Rev M C O'Neill, present Archbishop of Regina, succeeded Cardinal McGuigan as rector. The present rector, Rt. Rev M. Griffin, succeeded Archbishop O'Neill in 1946.

St Joseph's became the Major Seminary for Edmonton in 1929 under Archbishop Henry J. Gruchy. Prior to that time it had been for many years a Scholasticate for the Oblates of Mary Immaculate.

Among the illustrious alumni of St Joseph's there have been Most Rev Anthony Jordan, O.M.I. Coadjutor Archbishop of Edmonton, Archbishop M. Hinsley of St Boniface, Monsignor H Boutheur O.M.I., Vicar Apostolic of Orgueil, Most Rev John Boekenfeuer, O.M.I., Bishop of Kimberley South Africa, Most Rev P Klein, Bishop of Saskatoon, and Very Rev J. B. Burch O.M.I., Assistant to the Superior General of the Oblate Fathers at Rome.

Ten of the young men being ordained to the diaconate preceded the ordaining Archbishop M. Hinsley, Bishop H Boutheur O.M.I., Vicar Apostolic of Orgueil, Most Rev. John Boekenfeuer, O.M.I., Bishop of Kimberley South Africa, Most Rev P Klein, Bishop of Saskatoon, and Very Rev J. B. Burch O.M.I., Assistant to the Superior General of the Oblate Fathers at Rome

Re: TUBERCULOSIS TESTING

Dominion Government Veterinarians are now in the District, to conduct T.B. testing to finish the St. Paul area.

This notice does not concern the people whose cattle are already tested.

All animals must be T.B. tested regardless of age or whether selling on market.

Facilities to control animals in form of a squeeze or a chute is a must.

Those people who have cattle at pasture when the Veterinarian notifies them for testing must have facilities on the pasture to test their cattle or no one will be passed by if men are brought in to work it - test.

Compensation is paid on all reactor animals these animals must be removed directly to packing plant for slaughter under the supervision of a Veterinary Inspector.

Any person bringing cattle into another area for feeding or pasturing purposes must have these animals T.B. tested before bringing them on the premises. There is a penalty of a person or caught not complying with this regulation.

Once a herd is tested, this test date until the area is retested. This even includes calves that are born from year to year. The date of re-testing of the area is determined by dividing the total number of reactors into the total number of cattle tested. If the percentage works out to 1 in 1,000, the re-test will start in approximately five years times.

Any person who has been missed and knows that farmers around are T.B. tested, should contact Stan Powers, Field Supervisor, or Dr. E. J. Young, Health of Animals Division, Vermilion, Alberta. Many of these people are known, but a few might have been missed.

This is a compulsory test and all cattle MUST BE DONE. The Municipality has been petitioned by two-thirds of the ratepayers and it has requested the Dominion Government to conduct this test.

Thus test is totally free of charge and cattle owners are requested to give all assistance necessary in the test.

Elk Point District Swim Schedule

The following is the schedule for all youngsters who are going to take the Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety lessons at Whitney Lake (South Beach) this summer.

These lessons are given free of charge by a trained Swimming and Water Safety Instructor and a water lifesaver.

Below is the schedule which will be in effect beginning July 2nd and ending August 31st. The schedule will be the same every week.

Monday, Elk Point and Spring Park. Tuesday, Lindbergh and Ferguson Flats. Wednesday, Elk Ferguson Flats and Spruce Park. Thursday, Saskatchewan Park, Thursday, Hemaburg, Friday, Lindbergh & Ferguson Flats, Saturday, Hemaburg.

The following schedule shows the age groups and time of classes for each group.

10-99 adults, 1-1:30-2:00 p.m. 6-7 years, 2:00-2:30 p.m. 8-11 years, 2:30-3:00 p.m. 12-14 years, 3:00-3:30 p.m. 15-17 years, 3:30-4:00 p.m. 18 and over, 6:00-6:30 p.m. Adults.

These age groups are for both boys and girls. The schedule shows class time for one day and will be the same Monday through Saturday of each week. There will be no classes on Sunday.

Parents are to provide transportation for their children and are to see that someone will be available for the youngsters when they are ready for swimming for their lesson. The Swimming Instructor and her Assistant can not be responsible for the children at any time except during their half hour lesson.

In case of rainy or cold weather, parents are asked to use their own judgement in sending their children for lessons. The instruction will be there if any youngsters do turn up for classes.

Your co-operation in making these swimming classes a success will be very much appreciated.

Prairie Moisture Conditions

Compiled from Governmental and Semi-Gain Crops. Records up to and including June 5th, 1956.

The total overall moisture conditions of the three Prairie Provinces now stands at 85 per cent of normal compared with 86 per cent last week and 103 per cent at this time a year ago. Respective figures for the three provinces are as follows: Alberta 81 per cent of normal, Saskatchewan 84 per cent of normal and Manitoba 93 per cent of normal.

Growing season rains from April 1st to June 5th now stand at 64 per cent of normal in the case of Alberta, 68 per cent of normal in the case of Saskatchewan and 70 per cent of normal in the case of Manitoba, giving a weighted average for the three Prairie Provinces of 67 per cent of normal.

Practically without exception, all crop districts in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba had experienced less than normal rains between April 1st and June 5th.

During the past week temperatures averaged from 2 to 10 degrees above normal throughout western Canada and precipitation, except for most of southern Manitoba, where good rains occurred, was extremely light, especially in Alberta

By W. G. McLAREN, Publicity Director, Canada Grain Council

MAKES A HOUSE A HOME

The fact that in the first year when Selkirk wheat was planted generally throughout Manitoba the protein content of the Manitoba crop was higher on the average than that of either Saskatchewan or Alberta may have been a contributing factor. It must be remembered of course, that in 1955, the Manitoba crop averaged 13.4 per cent protein, that of Saskatchewan 13.6 per cent and that of Alberta 12.1 per cent.

If the situation referred to was mainly the result of weather conditions in Manitoba last year and if similar weather conditions do not occur in 1956, the phenomenon may not be repeated. On the other hand if with the continued growth of Selkirk wheat which seems to be particularly adapted to Manitoba, there is a reputation over the next year or two for the higher protein content in this province compared with that of Saskatchewan or Alberta, it may happen in Manitoba as much as though the variety had been developed in that province.

It is too early to jump to any conclusions in behavior but it will be very interesting to watch the quality of the crops that are grown in Manitoba during the next few years. At the present time the variety has the reputation of being the most popular one in Manitoba as well as for part of the acreage in Saskatchewan. Despite the fact that the variety has been grown farther west, it is felt that the maximum production of this variety will probably be held within 50 to 100 million bushels a year and that it will continue to be cultivated very largely to the west of where it affords protection against rust 15B stem rust.

Ted Kreutzer Elected President Of Chamber Of Commerce

T. S. (Ted) Kreutzer, bakery and restaurant operator of Port McNeill, is the eleventh president of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture, a federation of over 100 community organizations.

He was elected by acclamation at the Association's 10th Annual Meeting in Red Deer on May 26. The 112 delegates of the meeting also elected William D. McKittrick, farmer and shorthorn enthusiast of Leicester, and Allan D. McEarchen, Edmonton chartered accountant and business college principal, as vice-presidents. Forty Alberta communities were represented at the convention.

Featured on the program was the annual luncheon address by William M. Browning, Manager of the Montana Chamber of Commerce whose subject was "What the Tourist Means to You". A panel discussion of Agricultural Credit included presentations by A. W. Platt, President Farmers' Union of Alberta, and F. H. McFall, Secretary, Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

Other panel members were W. H. MacDonald a member of the Association's Agriculture Committee, E. H. Barrett, President of Wainwright Chamber of Commerce, and W. T. Hill, Lethbridge livestock dealer and a past president of the Association.

Among the subjects covered by the 24 resolutions submitted for consideration by the delegates were northern highways, farm animal stock yard limits, postal service, financial assistance to the fur industry, farm income insurance, movement and storage of grain, alternate routes for communities by-passed by re-located main highways, provision of district agriculturists, financial aid for community parks and swimming pools, business licensing, roads in sparsely settled areas, driver testing, a railway north from the Peace River district, the shortage of well-qualified veterinarians, freight rates, pulp rig and law enforcement, liquor regulations.

A few of the resolutions were lobbied or rejected by the delegates because they were out of order or contrary to fact. Delegates originating boards and chambers failed to send delegates to support and explain their. These adopted by the meeting to be arranged for early fall, or submitted in writing to the Federal Government.

Glendon News

On May 23rd the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pelechaty, of his, which is situated on the Rolla district might have learned to the ground but for the valiant efforts of two St Paul residents Mr Bob Osborne and Mr Bob Delisle of the Alberta Government Telephone Staff were returning from Bonnyville when they noticed one side of the building which is occupied by the ladies. They bravely set to work, and after a great deal of effort and hard work they succeeded in extinguishing the fire Mr Melesheim who was in Calgary at the time is deeply grateful for their kindness and the fact that they were total strangers to him must also appreciate their thoughtfulness all the more when apparently had seen the fire, which had already destroyed a granary and a number of bee hives, he did not bother to stop. Although these boys were late getting to St Paul for their supper, we are sure that the satisfaction of a kindly deed well done was ample reward.

Mr George Elnik, local buyer for the UGG left on Monday morning for a week's holiday He expects to visit relatives at Jasper and then continue on to points in B.C. including Prince George and Kitimat

QUEEN PAYS TRIBUTE TO GRENADIERS

—Central Press Canadian

Flanked by her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, at right, and her aunt, the Duke of Gloucester, at left, Queen Elizabeth takes a salute at the palace after riding through the streets in London to the trooping of the colours to celebrate her official birthday. Riding side-saddle on Winnie, [illegible] the Queen is the senior colonel of the Grenadier [illegible] of the 3rd Battalion of the Grenadier Guards.

TO THE HOMEMAKER
By MISS ELSIE KUHNAR
District Home Economist
St. Paul

It might seem somewhat early to start talking about the harvest of Agriculture since they have an entirely completed about a month. However, there is a reason that I would like to make it there are only a couple weeks left on the land which could be taking a couple of the home economists available. These again, are time some particulars are provided as a financial aid for these wedding as who also is the agricultural representative and home economist.

JUNE — BABY FOOD MONTH

With the arrival of June comes food spotlighted. The aim is having some particular food featured to be promoted with enthusiasm. It is hoped the people of the importance of including the correct amount of these foods in their meals.

The dairy food, milk and cheese are a positive must for all the family of growing children. Adults are also not to overlook them, too. Cheese should be eaten three times weekly and one pint of milk daily. It has exactly the same food value as pudding, so can be substituted for it.

During June and the rest of the year drink more milk.

EARLY SUMMERFALLOWING PAYS
Summerfallow stores up rainfall: thus failure to kill early weed growth in the spring may seriously reduce the amount of moisture that is retained and stored in the soil. Plan to start summerfallow operations early, preferably as soon as seeding is completed. It will pay to do so.

1957 Dominion Drama Festival To Be Held in Edmonton

A call for provinces wide participation in support of the 1957 Dominion Drama Festival was issued recently by Mrs. Mary Mooney, coordination Festival [illegible] Working with the central body are provincial and local drama organizations.

It was the central body which accepted a joint invitation of the Alberta Government, the City of Edmonton and the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce to stage the 1957 Finals in Edmonton. The week-long festival of plays will provide an ever-growing booking for the Jubilee Auditorium's first season.

Mrs. Mooney said in Quebec she was impressed by the solid community support given to the drama festival, and she bespeaks the same type of support from citizens in all the local districts of Alberta.

Collaborating with Mrs Mooney in the preparatory work is Mrs. Lorna Tweedy, prominent Edmonton businesswoman and arts patroness.

Among the awards offered to aspiring directors and workers competing in the finals are the Calvert Trophy Festival Players of plays in English and French, for Barry Jackson Trophy for best regional presentation of a Canadian play; Martha Allen Trophy for the best visual presentation at the finals, Lemon Laurel Challenge Trophy for the Best Director, Henry Calnsmith Art Well Jefferis awards for best male and female actor.

Saturday Night plaques for best supporting players, a Festival award for the best playwright, best regional designer and the Bessborough Trophy for outstanding Canadian plays in regional competition.

Mooney to Represent Queen at Trooping of Color

—Central Press Canadian

For the first time since World War II, the Latest 48th Highlanders will ride trooping the colors ceremonial in Toronto on June 2. This world-famous ceremony is one of the year's most colorful pageants in Britain when Queen Elizabeth mounted at the head of the Guards. As Her Majesty's representative in Canada, Governor-General Vincent Massey will preside at full-dress affair. Capt. Joseph Putts, resplendent in dress tunics and bearskin, is shown receiving the colors during rehearsal. At actual trooping ceremony the Union Jack, rather than the regiment's colors will be used in tribute to the Queen, who is colonel-in-chief of the regiment.

CONCERN OVER ROADS

Concern was expressed by some business men at town and members of the Chamber of Commerce executive meeting as the district recommencing completions of provincial highways.

The north east is strongly urging completion of the highway from Ashmont to Thorhild. Career and delegations have travelled to Edmonton for numerous visits with the Minister of Highways Hon. Gordon Ian and deputies on any point and as far as completion of highway 28 one way or another is concerned, construction appears to be at a standstill.

Apparently nothing is being done to push it on from Smoky Lake east according to plans of last year. If and when they will complete it and by what route is a deep mystery yet to be solved.

We in St. Paul naturally want it to swing this way and feel it should. Others have their own interest at heart and are also quite justified in expressions favoring themselves.

Going about trying to influence governments on road construction is touchy business. But enough pressure sometimes leads to neglect. Either the others need to walk something antagonism the department.

The Chamber of Commerce has studied the matter and decided to form and a recommendations to the department of highways with a copy to the Hon. Ray Reierson, highway commissioning consultant of St. Paul. St. Brose to Ashmont and onto Smoky the city for the same benefit.

Business men in St. Paul should unbend and take a closer look at the situation of roads to the district of St. Paul.

Of more concern to the business men of St. Paul than the highways, from our point of view, is the inefficient of street roads leading into St. Paul. They are the direct source of our life blood, bringing in the customers to our establishments. Highways are for but they are mainly for through purposes and usually serve only small isolated segments of the purchasing power who can take advantage of them.

The Municipality of St. Paul is constructing new market roads through lanes to poor municipalities, received from the provincial government.

At the moment they are working on the Mayman road, through the Smith districts, from the south, north. To us this seems like pulling the cart before the horse. Why not start from the main centre of industry—St. Paul—and work out to the farm communities, progressively?

The St. Paul, St. Vincent, Mallaig artery, north is an important one to the north. The Provincial government assumed it to the municipality several years ago after swinging highway 28 by Long Lake. It was in bad condition. They made an attempt at rebuilding, but failed terribly, and since then its maintenance has been below par and ratepayers in that part of the municipality are paying for it by inconvenience and sometimes have been forced to other routes to the detriment when they would prefer coming to St Paul which is their natural market.

We need more action on these important market roads, both through the Chamber of Commerce, the municipality and the provincial government if necessary.

Let us recognize the situation now and start working on it.

LIVING ON WHIM'S

We who live on an agricultural district are happy or unhappy, depending on the weather.

If it pours steadily we are unhappy because the crops are suffering. If it doesn't rain, we complain of the other hand, because the land goes thirsty and dries up the growing.

We can remember the weeks last year when the Editor's sympathies were against rain, but last week when over eight of it started he manifest itself, the country broke out in a happy grin and jubilation rose as the downpour extended and continued on into a soaking rain for most of the week.

Farmers came out in the rain, inspite of the last month, to the supplies machinery done they had abandoned a few weeks earlier out of drought fear. Business generally opened up on a more optimistic point of view.

Yes, as we have our ups and downs in this district, and again this year we are hoping for the best, but its based on the serious and difficult to keep sprits up

GET OUT AND VOTE

Due notice has been given the past two weeks of the forthcoming plebiscite poll, June 27 to obtain permission from the provincial electoral officer for the Municipality of St Brose to Ashmont and onto Smoky the city for the same benefit.

Parliament And The Pipe Line

We're all here hearing a lot about the Pipe Line Bill and how it was passed in particular. The government, during debate was no have defending itself against the charge of "gag" and never ceased to be on the defensive. It had no time to present its side of the story. Now that it's all over they have learned the following explanation, which we feel, in view of all the publicity on the other side, is worth reading.

By Walter Harris. Min. Finance

After a stormy passage through Parliament, the Pipe Line Bill became Law a week ago.

In spite of all the reports in the newspapers and on the radio, many people I meet do not yet know what the Bill was all about.

Here are the facts:

The Pipe Line Bill established a Crown Company to do two things:

The first is to lend up to $80 million to a Canadian company called Trans-Canada Pipe Lines. This is estimated to be 30 per cent of the cost of building a natural gas pipe line across the country from Alberta to Winnipeg.

The pipe line is to be started at once and completed to Winnipeg by the end of the year, and the Company has to pay back the loan with interest at 5 per cent by the beginning of April next year.

If the Company fails to pay — the Government can get the pipe line for 80 per cent of its cost.

If the Company pays off the loan, the Crown Company will use the $80 million to help build another section of the pipe line across Southern Ontario.

The pipe line in northern Ontario will be built in partnership with the Conservative government of Ontario and will be owned by Trans-Canada Pipe Lines at a good rental. The Ontario Government have agreed to put up $25 million of the cost of this section, which might run to $120 million.

If it is a good thing to have a natural gas pipe line from Alberta to Ontario and Quebec — and we in the government believe it is — the Canadian taxpayer cannot possibly lose on this deal.

The Conservative and the CCF parties fought the Pipe Line Bill in Parliament, and the Social Credit party supported it. The Conservatives and the CCF called it a give-away programme. It is nothing of the kind.

For the private section of the line, the Government will either get back the money with good interest or we could get a pipe line at a bargain price.

The Opposition has added together the $80 million loan for the private and the $120 million cost of the line in northern Ontario and pretended the Government was going to help out private companies to the extent of $200 million.

The truth is that if Trans-Canada does not repay the $80 million loan, they do not have the line and the northern Ontario section will certainly not be handed to them.

Our contract all we are to take over the pipe line and sell it — and we would not have agreed to a contract like that.

Now, the Government did not rush into the deal with Trans-Canada. For three we spent several weeks studying the proposal and discussing all the alternatives the opponents even suggested that the whole matter have a royal commission.

We felt that responsibility as a government with a large majority in Parliament, and as a government which in one course will have to answer to you for its action.

Now, the real problem, facing us this previously every Member of Parliament all spoke in the debate, which agreed that an all Canadian pipe line was needed and most of them agreed that the time to start should be at the time.

The Conservative and CCF parties were not against a pipe line. They just did not like the method we were using to get the work started through. The Conservative parts wanted us to consider the two-year-old McMahon plan which provided for the export of taxes as much gas to the United States as we are willing to permit. The Trans-Canada Company has export. We were opposed to this because we believe that the Canadian need should be met first and we are not at this time prepared to export more to the United States.

Leading Members of both the Conservative and CCF parties commented both the debates started on speeches outside the House that they were going to put on a filibuster to give them more time to talk.

Now perhaps we should not have paid any attention to what we said outside Parliament — But what happened in Parliament?

Mr Hees announced the Government decision to build the oil line, and the next morning the leader of the opposition appeared in the Parliamentary record.

The opposition was not even before Parliament on May the 8th when two Members of the Opposition began to raise procedural points in an effort to prevent the Government from ever getting the Bill before Parliament.

On May 10th, when the first

The management of the Lavesie Motel is to be congratulated for the new coat of paint they left on it with to the important to him, at St. Paul. There are other on the Main Avenue which could take a hint as well as can I be a better dwelling?

Sanitation and cleanliness are also appreciated by the travelling public.

Now on cool spots on the shoal of driving members no last, buy yourself a gallon of gas, paint instead of a gallon of gas, paint a few trees and obtain a shade for your home—It might kind of the rapid train until the right time—you will be surprised you can work wonders if you will only try and be shooting you have the you will have bushes, trees, flowers on your corner and will be being heartily congratulated by most passers windows all summer

St. Paul Truck Service Marks Ten Years Of Service To St. Paul

Paul Truck Service made the purchase of its first semi-trailer capable of handling 13 tons—it brought consecutively in 1952 and 1953 two more were added, and one month in 1956 the fourth was put into service.

The Ten-Ton Trucks with the addition of a 12-ton were relegated to the top end duties to speed up servicing to the various places. The fleet which had the number limited to two grew to four and then to five—a basic figure it kept for some time notwithstanding the many phases of operation. Five trucks are considered the minimum to give good and regular schedule to the city.

In 1954 expansions of St. Paul Truck Service had grown to the state where headquarters for the fleet were removed to new modern warehouse of some construction was erected in 56. Paul south for storing of transient merchandise and light servicing work on the trucks.

From the early beginnings and present day St Paul Truck Service has maintained an enviable record with reliable reputation as a freight organization which has earned the confidence of the people it serves, which is manifested in its holdings

Mack tractors, some of the most modern and powerful on the road, are the choice of Ernest St. Jean as a dependable haulage unit. He has every confidence in the Mack line, particularly of St Paul to take advantage of its pleasures and broaden them to the farthest reaches of the north country.

In our congratulations we along with the rest of the community in this city is looking them on the occasion of this 10th anniversary

Beautiful And Heard Lakes

(Contributed)

How many persons know about these two beautiful barred lakes nestled between the hills? And yet you can travel through by boat? Have you ever been to Garter Lakes? These deep, blue lakes are lined with trees and beautiful hills.

It is as beautiful there, it's worth, one Editor's own need to stretch his imagination when walking there. The cry of birds and loons makes you think you are in the "African Jungle" instead of the Alberta Jungle.

These two beautiful but unused lakes are north and east of Limberlgh Alta north of Primrose Post Office There's a fairly good road to the east side of Little Garter but it needs a lot of improvement only one bush hack in you have to limit for these lakes and bring your own boat as no one has started to rent a boat business on this beautiful lake Fish up to 15 lbs. have been caught there recently.

I wonder if the movements of Mr. Ernest St. Jean and his family in starting a fleet of trucks has contributed to improve the road conditions of St Paul to the farm areas and also give the local residents a better chance to enjoy the pleasures of the north country, perhaps so.

Mr. Ernest St. Jean as a fine example of a native Alberta boy who has made good in the business world, adding to the network in town which makes it the progressive community it is

I wonder if the merchant, & business men of St Paul could contribute to improve the road conditions of St Paul to the farm areas and also give the local residents a better chance to enjoy the pleasures of the north country, perhaps so.

Yarmouth, N.S., and Dr. Harbor, Maine, are now linked by a ferry service which cuts 800 miles of car driving. The motor vessel Bluenose was officially launched recently amid festive Maritime celebrations The 15,000,000 ship covers the 55-mile route in seven hours, one way. Built jointly by the Nova Scotian and the federal governments, the Bluenose can carry 1,200 passengers and 180 cars.

Alberta College

In another section of our newspaper we carry an advertisement for Alberta College, Edmonton of the interesting contents of this announcement is the Semester Plan for High School Grads which may be of interest to many students, particularly those who re-sure only one to three years to complete their matriculation.

Alberta College has an up-to-date commercial department where Grammar in Secretarial, Bookkeeping and Stenographic courses open the doors to practical opportunities for ambitious young men and women. Residence accommodation is available

This section is outstanding for the many assisted examples, especially those with seats that can be duly with other dependent their original companion. This real is of rough textured raw silk, has one button to hold it together and a stand-away collar cut low enough to permit the dress top to show. The frock is in a vibrant silk print with strong blue, red and yellow predominating, the rest picking up the latter hue. It is simply set with cap sleeves and a neckline draped in a self-cord scarf above a slim silhouette.

Win Div. Cup

On June 7, the Ashmont High School Baseball team won the Divisional Cup by defeating Bruderheim by a score of 6 to 1 Winning pitcher was David Lawhon and the losing pitcher was Omer Parenteau

To enter the Inter Ashmont eliminated St Paul in two straight games by scores of 12-1 and 20-0. Bruderheim was the successful pitcher for both games

The second game a killer for Lawhon pitcher Lawhon and Bruderheim defeated St Paul to meet Smoky Lake.

Lineups were as follows:

ASHMONT — John Pinno, Mervyn Smith, Eddie Syrnod, Dave Lawhon, John Sweport Maurice Bailey, Bernie Lemieux, Jimmy Weir Parenteau, Lionel Hall.

BRUDERHEIM — Ken Vinge, Dave Parenteau, Mike Gaudet, Dean Mackie, Lorne Moger Roy Kuzia, Earl Moger, Allan Mackie, Jack Melnechuk.

ST PAUL — Pete Bouvert, Ken Lawhon, Bill Higgins, Barry Mackie, Mike Kolenic, Dave Sweport, Jim Demerchuk, Jack Harold L. Hodge

Congratulation TO St. Paul Truck Service

ON THEIR
10th Anniversary

It is with pleasure that we recognize the success of St. Paul Truck Service and Ernest St. Jean. From a modest start, this enterprising trucking concern has grown to an organization which is a real asset to St. Paul and renders a much needed service.

It has also been our pleasure to have been instrumental in this success story by supplying to St. Paul Truck Service, quality trucks and trailers, whose efficient operation and performance have contributed to the progress.

Government Sets On Pipe Line

motion was proposed by the Government, a large part of the day was taken by further supposedly over procedure which could not have any other purpose except to delay the debate on the bill.

In other words the debate May 14th., both outside Parliament and inside, the Opposition parties had made it perfectly clear not only that they were going to oppose the Pipe Line Bill, but that they were going to try to prevent the majority of Members from voting on the Bill on time to get words started that point.

The actual debate started on May the 16th. And it is true that on that first day of debate on the first stage of the Bill the Government gave notice of what is called closure. I think I should pause for a minute to explain what closure is.

It is a rule of the House of Commons that has not been used very often. Its purpose is to limit the time available for discussion, so that a government can meet a timetable or overcome prolonged obstruction.

Now, we had already been warned that there was going to be prolonged obstruction. And we knew, and so did the Opposition, that even if we used closure from the beginning of the debate we could not get the Bill through in less than two weeks if the Opposition opposed it at every stage.

And that is what they had already said they were going to do.

By giving notice of closure on May 16th, the Government was limiting the debate on the Resolution stage to only two days.

We had good debate for those two days and on 25 Members spoke. And we had four days' debate on the Second Reading of the Bill, and more than 60 Members spoke in that debate.

And then we had altogether 7 days in the Committee on the Bill. Now it is true that the Opposition chose for most of that time to raise points of order and questions of procedure instead of discussing the Bill. But the fact is that if they had wanted to shorten the Bill, there was lots of time to do it. Then finally there were two more days for the Third Reading of the Bill.

The debate on the Pipe Line Bill lasted sixteen sitting days of Parliament in all. In those sixteen days, one Member of the CCF and one Member of the Conservative party, spoke more than thirty times.

Two other Conservatives spoke more than twenty times each, and another Member of the CCF made nine speeches.

It is true that most of these speeches were on procedure but on the pipe line.

But that was not the fault of the Government. And yet these gentlemen who made all these speeches would have you believe that they were gagged, that they had no opportunity to debate this measure, and that they had no chance to get information about it.

The simple truth, as any one can discover who will read Hansard for himself, is that there was ample opportunity for the Members of the Opposition to get information on any phase of this project if they had wished to make use of the time available for that purpose.

It is very hard, therefore, not to draw the conclusion that the Opposition parties felt they could improve on more by preventing they were not allowed to debate, than by using their sixteen days to give serious consideration to this important national project.

I am not going to say very much about the action taken by the Leader of the Opposition, Mr. George Drew in attacking the Deputy Speaker and in creating in Parliament that the House no longer had confidence in its Speaker.

No one who understands our British Parliamentary system would question the right of the Opposition or the duty of the Opposition, to oppose the Government and to introduce motions to embarrass the Government and to express lack of confidence in the Government.

That is the right of an Opposition. Indeed, the Opposition has a duty to try to defeat the Government. But it is one thing to attack the Government and a very different thing to attack the presiding officers who represent the authority of Parliament itself.

The Members of the Opposition who supported Mr. Drew in attacking the Speaker admitted that before the pipe line debate began, he had been a good Speaker, some of them said the best Speaker the Canadian Parliament had ever had.

Yet, they felt they were justified in attacking a respected officer of Parliament and making his position impossible.

I cannot believe the people of Canada will easily forget or forgive conduct of that kind, conduct which, if persisted in, would destroy the institution of Parliament itself.

Because the Opposition made the utmost use of the rules to prevent the Bill from passing we had no choice but to use the rules to get a vote on the Bill to allow all the Members of Parliament a chance to decide whether or not it should pass. That was all we were seeking to do and that is surely something that a Government with a majority supporting it has a right to do. And that is my conviction that when the smoke has cleared away from the debate and we can view this pipe line debate in perspective, several things will stand out.

The natural gas in Alberta belongs to those who discovered it in that Province. As one author put to the laws of that Province the Government of Alberta naturally wishes to use the gas, owned by Canadians for the development and use of Canadian industry, and by exporting it for sale. The Federal Government is also interested in the expansion of industry because every new industry will, if profitable, provide a valuable additional tax income which may perhaps help to reduce the necessity of our people in reduced taxation or avoid an additional requirement.

In the last, the Premier of the Province of Alberta and his government kept insisting that energy would be urgently needed in Ontario by the time the gas could be delivered and that no delay should be.

In the course the Trans-Canada Pipe Line Company will offer to Canada, 51 per cent of the voting stock. This means that Canadians will be entitled to share in the profits and the risks of this venture if they so desire. Under our pipe line legislation of 1951 a majority of the directors of a pipe line company must be Canadians. Accordingly a majority of the directors of this company are Canadians. So, if Canadians purchased this stock, it could be carried as well as managed by Canadians.

Now is the time to start planning your summer vacation. You may have had your plans set long before this but your vacation spot in the country. If not and if you feel that your budget can be pushed an extra notch this year, here is a suggestion for the laziest, at least.

Farm Women's Week will be held as usual this summer at the Vermilion Schools of Agriculture. The dates to keep in mind are July 9-13. Many of you may have attended before, so why not return to renew old acquaintances and make new friends.

The school can accommodate approximately a hundred guests. Early applications have first consideration.

Board and room are provided in the dormitory at a charge of $6 in per day.

Supervision is provided for young children so that mothers are free to attend activities. An outline of the week includes lectures and demonstrations in Home Economics and Agricultural topics of interest to farm women. Social activities plus time for relaxation are a definite part of the program.

Anyone within driving distance is welcome to attend for one or more days. However, the school appreciates to know definitely so that they can arrange for meals.

Application forms are available at the office. Programs will also be available shortly.

POST CARLING INDIANS ON WARPATH

Celebrating the 50th anniversary of Port Carling, Ont. Eleanor Judd appears about to be scalped by Indians whose disguise probably wouldn't fool their former members on the junior chamber of commerce. The Indian set is part of a week long series of celebrations, including a beauty contest and a square dance competition.

Accustomed as we in Canada are to the world wide reputation of our high grade hard wheat and grades, we may find it difficult to think in terms of a single export standard or grade.

Yet, on the other side of the picture, overseas markets are becoming more and more competitive. Australian Wheat Growers Associations are now actively making a change in what is called the 1 sq. foot average quality system of marketing Australia's exportable surplus, which has been in effort for more than 30 years. Under this system, standards are fixed after each harvest in each of the exporting states on the basis of blended samples from the various districts. The growers of rising wheats have been paid the same price for the lowest quality wheats, varieties with quite different milling characteristics. Now, under the contract, although premiums locally offered for hard white wheats kept most of these out of the exported portions of the crops.

For some years the 1 sq. system has been under criticism. Australian experts maintaining that the general lack of premiums for the better wheats stood in the way of quality improvement and tended towards deterioration in the average quality. The system considered to many to be outdated in room being studied by the Australian Agricultural Council, who recommendations will result in Australia to take advantage of the higher prices offered for high protein wheats.

More Tax For Municipalities?

No informed person will deny the urgent need of fast growing municipalities for more revenue. But no sane person, argues The Financial Post, will believe for one minute that municipal governments have God-given rights to the same percentage of the taxpayer's dollars as they received 20 years ago. Yet that fiction was suggested to an eastern Ontario meeting of reeves and mayors.

The case was outlined this way:

"Since 1939 the Federal Government has increased its share of the Canadian tax dollar to almost 75 per cent while the municipal share has declined from 32 per cent to 12 per cent. Restore those proportions, and you have a large chunk of the Federal revenue and turn it over to the hard-pressed municipalities and all would be fair and dandy."

There's one great big loophole in that sort of nonsense, the hot war of 1939-45 and the cold war that has followed. And wars, always have greatly expanded and steadily getting more so, must be paid for by federal, not municipal governments.

Prior to 1939 defense expenditures by the Federal Government averaged less than $50 millions a year. Today they are 40 times as much. More than 25 cents out of every tax dollar collected by Ottawa last year went directly into military expenditures.

Medal Would Be Better For Male Graduate

Male nurse Alvin Toth, 20, of Magnet-on-the-Lake, Ont., discovers more than one rose when Crown Princess of Sweden Falls, pinning on him here. He deserves a medal for being the lone male graduate of 75 nurses in graduation from Ontario hospital at Orillia. He also stood first every year during three-year course. Before coming to Whitby, Mr. Toth spent five years in metal work in Germany and the United States.

Time To Spray Your Crops With 2-4-D Is Here Once Again

Spraying is once again at hand. Farmers intending to spray their crops with 2-4-D should be prepared for this operation this week. In the past most farmers have been spraying too late thereby reducing the effectiveness of the spray.

There are a number of reasons why early spraying is important, firstly, weed competition at this time is most serious. The early stages of growth, secondly, young weeds are easier to kill and less 2-4-D is necessary to do the job.

Experiments conducted at the University of Manitoba showed that in heavily infested crops the yield was doubled when sprayed in the 3 leaf stage over that portion of the crop sprayed in the early shot-hide stage. The reason for the increase yield was that the stress added of the chemical in the later spraying but merely that weed competition was eliminated at the crucial stage of the crop.

With the excellent rain we had last week most crops should be well into the four leaf stage and spraying should be done as soon as possible. Further delayed weed kills can be done since best kills are experienced when growing conditions are best.

A word of warning to those who intend to spray oats and flax. MCPA, a chemical very similar to 2-4-D should be used in those crops as 2-4-D is known to injure both these crops to some extent.

If you have not had any experience in spraying call at the Municipal Office or the District Agricultural's Office and ask for the booklet "Weed Control with Chemicals."

MODERN MECHANIZATION SOLVES FARM LABOUR PROBLEMS

With more and more ease of handling and work-capacity being engineered into modern machines, farmers are being relieved of much of the worry and expense incurred through the scarcity and high cost of experienced farm help. And there is such a wide range of sizes and styles of tractors and implements and tools that today every farmer can avail himself of the advantages of modern mechanization.

The wise and practical use of up-to-date machinery is a most important part of today's farm operations. In the 1956 Massey-Harris and Ferguson lines are tractors and implements engineered to promote the efficiency of farming - your local dealer will be glad to give you full particulars.

Shortage Of Hay

Should dry weather continue a shortage of hay is certain to develop this winter, says Robert L. Harris, Alberta's Supervisor of Crop Improvement.

Last winter's difficult feeding conditions exhausted feed reserves in Alberta. In addition winter killing and a dry spring has reduced the amount of hay that will be harvested from the first cutting. The second cutting from seeded hay land can not be relied upon to make up the shortage as the volume of hay produced is usually low even though quality may be high.

Farmers are urged to put all the extra hay they possibly can from native grass stands, waste areas roadsides, sloughs and lake shores. If your neighbor is not going to cut his hay this year make a share cutting with him. In short, says Mr Harris, put up every spear of hay available.

It is not too late to sow cereals for greenfeed. Oats planted now will yield extra tons of good fodder. Plan to take or bunch straw right behind the combine.

If possible, put up at least twice as much hay and straw as you think you will need. Reports from British Columbia indicate that a hay shortage may develop in that province, if so, there will be a ready market for any surplus hay.

Rains In Northern District Reduce Threat Of Forest Fires

Due to heavy rains on the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th instant, emergency fire control areas in the northern districts of Alberta have been dampened to the point where they are either out of the restricting Suppressive action is still being maintained wherever smouldering fire are in existence.

However due to the favourable conditions it appears advisable to cancel the general emergency order which applies to those areas. The General Officer Commanding, Western Command, has been advised to this and further that the need for troops in the area no longer exists.

On behalf of the Government I wish to extend our sincere thanks to Major-General Vokes, the officers in command of the troops and the troops themselves, for the very fine and valuable assistance which they rendered at a time of emergency. When the forest fires at that time were out of control the services of the troops authorized and the main power available to them to take effective suppression action. The services of the military personnel and the civilian fire fighters who were under the guidance of the Forest Service with which the militia worked were very large. The use is an indication that they are alert to emergencies.

The extreme fire situation throughout Alberta has been relieved by rain which has fallen in the forested areas during the past week. Reports in the past month and five days have been able to either check or completely extinguish these fire spots which remained after the

In view of improved conditions it has been decided to cancel the closure prohibition placed in the forested area of the Province by the general public. The closure came into effect as of June 13

The Traffic Safety Lane

By J. W. McKAY
Inspector Highway Traffic Board, Edmonton

Good Traffic Habits

A shiny new automobile dashed down the avenue, horn blowing loudly and brakes screeching as they were suddenly applied at every intersection. It was almost school time and Luther was trying hard to save his son from being late for school. The boy piped up the situation "Father," he said, "I think you'd better not drive so fast." "I have to drive fast," the father replied, pressing harder on the accelerator. "Don't you want to get to school on time?"

Good personal habits, like that of starting on time, have a lot to do with your personal contributions to the general safety of the traffic picture. Good habits free much mind from the thousand and one details of daily life if for instance you had to stop and think out every move you make in getting ready to start on a trip, you would probably not start at all. You would be in the predicament of the famous centipede who managed his hundred legs with expert and unconscious skill until a curious fellow worm asked how he did it. The question threw him into such confusion that stumbling to the verse, he . . . lay prostrate in the ditch, not knowing what leg came after which." Good habits make you efficient. They free your attention for other matters. They are foundations for skill and dependability. They help build up expertness

I have mentioned this before but it will bear repeating. Good habits pay DIVIDENDS. Bad habits COLLECT. Habits are meant to be servants of man not MASTERS. All good habits which pay dividends, will be SERVANTS. All bad habits which collect, will be MASTERS. So check over the habits in your traffic life, do away with the bad ones, thereby become the MASTER of your traffic life.

Health Through Chiropractic

Ill Health Is Expensive

Millions of dollars in wages are lost every year by lack of simple and economical precautions in guarding health. Earnings depend on the ability to work and the ability to work depend on good health. According to a recent survey of 750,000 families in 84 cities more than a million days of work were lost in one year.

Every worker is interested in maintaining good health in the most economical way. The rules are simple. Proper diet, rest and cleanliness are major factors. The quality of food should be of first consideration. Every housewife should teach herself the base principles of nutrition. The body must be kept clean inside and out. Maintaining the right temperature in the home is important.

Another matter of prime importance is keeping the body in good mechanical condition. The human body is a wonderful machine and consists of many parts which must be kept in repair. Particular attention should be given to the spine, from which nerves radiate to all parts of the body like electric wires. The spine is a column consisting of many small bones placed one on top of the other, and held in position by strong muscles and ligaments.

Sometimes these little bones are pulled out of place by a twist, a strain, a fall, or even by bad posture. When the bones of the spine are pulled over an little out of place, they cause pressure or tension on the nerves, which are the true life line of the body.

The vital energy that keeps the body going day and night flows silently over the nerve lines to every cell. Unless the nerve lines are kept open the best state of health cannot be maintained. To keep the body in good mechanical adjustment the services of an expert are required. The Chiropractor is skilled in the art of spinal correction. He has been thoroughly educated in a highly specialized school to that end. It is his work to keep the many parts of the spine in proper adjustment so that the nerves can carry their life-giving energy to every part of the body.

Protect your pay envelope. Keep yourself in good health by regular visits to your Chiropractor.

Joint Picnic At Cork

The joint picnic held by Ashmont Cork and Lindbergh Locals of the Farmers Union, enjoyed both in fine day and a good crowd.

Thanks to all who came out to support it. It is a pleasure to see a good crowd. It makes the work involved seem that much less.

We wish to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Podlasaki of Ashmont, a very sincere vote of thanks for the time and work that they gave so generously and the supplies they handled for us. Again, many thanks Mike.

Thanks also to the Co-op Store for the softball game. Though they may never win a pennant, they showed pep one for the refreshments they provided.

Also to everyone who helped us, especially the Ladies who worked in the booths all day, thank you all very much.

ON TRAIL OF CANADA'S BIG "10"

Glowing pictures of high standards of living for Canadians in 1980 are conditional on a big "if," according to reports now circulated by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

The big "if" was: Will Canada produce enough qualified executives, engineers, technicians, scientists and managers?

To answer that question and to make sure that there are adequate training facilities for engineers and government labor and industry will be set up in 1951 Trans-Canada Training program, proposed at a meeting in Ottawa Canada, Ltd., said the corporation would finance the meeting. T. A. Rae right, president of the CMA and Carl H. Medland, executive director, indicated CMA support for the program.

Views On Liquor Act Expressed By Hotelmen

The Alberta Hotel Association presented the following brief to a special committee of the Legislature investigating existing liquor laws in Alberta. Directly affected by any amendments to the Act, the Association wishes to present its views and opinions.

If amendments are to be made by the Alberta Legislature at its coming session to the Alberta Liquor Control Act to bring about a widening of outlets for purchase by the glass or public consumption of liquor, the Alberta Hotel Association in its brief to the provincial committee of the House, named at the last session to investigate and report, sums up the suggestions in three separate recommendations.

1. Mixed drinking in Hotels, previously on a permit basis, to be made available to all hotels which serve the public in — many ways in the accommodation.

Figures quoted by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are presented to show that out of the total beverage room licenses issued in Alberta, to the end of March 1956, 45.2 percent are in hotels 45.2 percent leaving a margin of advantage of only 9.6 per cent. Cost of operation, wages and salaries, and wages are omitted for the 9.6 percent of hotel operating costs.

The brief projects a population of 2,000,000 for Alberta by the 1972-1980 period, or a doubling of the present population during the next 20 to 25 years. To provide adequate facilities for this increased population in more than 600 municipalities, and the travelling public and the fast-expanding tourist trade, will require a large expenditure for capital expansion, capital which will have to be furnished by the hotel industry.

In historical review the brief reviews the history of the liquor business in Alberta from the days of the wide-open fur trading era, first control through Mounted Police Patrol, after 1905 through the provincial bar system of Territorial Alberta and the first ten years of Alberta as a province, the coming of prohibition during the first great war, which has a reverse from 1924 up to the present. During the last period quite thinking on the subject has been changing across Canada, a change evidenced by the liberalization of liquor laws in Quebec, Ontario, British Columbia, and, in the last session of its legislature, Manitoba.

It is noted that, when Alberta turned its back on prohibition in 1923 when more than 180,000 electors voted for the sale of beer and control public places, the Legislature said should be used for the then existing hotels as the public places available for the new beer parlors when properties had outgrown or ceased to be suitable and had also a sufficient capital investment to make "control" workable. Out of this, the hotel modernizing, the Alberta hotel system has grown to what today it is second to none in Canada, favored by the public in its acceptance of Alberta hotels as public places of entertainment at that time is, the brief states, shown by the fact that since 1924 there have been 12 hotels — open hotels in Alberta, of these only three have formed a dry majority, and any licenses issued as a result of those local options have never been challenged.

The brief points out that the licensed hotels have not increased on the sale of beer. At March 31, 1955, there were in Alberta 612 hotel beer licenses, 60 club beer licenses, 18 club beer licenses on a seasonal basis, 13 club liquor licenses, including beer, on a year-round basis, and seven club liquor licenses on a seasonal basis. On that, out of 612 hotel outlets, 300 or almost 50 percent were located in other than hotel premises.

Pointing out that the private club license confers the privilege of purchasing liquor other than beer by the glass to a preferred few, the brief says.

"This Association feels that on amending the (Alberta Liquor Control) Act, considerable thought should be given to some system which will bring the right to purchase liquor by the glass to licensed public outlets within reasonable geographic reach of Albertans who desire that service. Such a course would do away with what can now be regarded as discrimination in a democratic society."

The fact that more than 11,500 banquet permits were issued in the last fiscal year is pointed out as evidence that the people of Alberta, with more than 200,000 automobiles and trucks at hand today for easy travel, want a more modern liquor law than the Liquor Control Act which followed prohibition 33 years ago, a law which actually caused the home as practically the only legal place for the consumption of liquors other than beer.

The Alberta Hotel Association brief is signed by A. G. Strickland of Fort Macleod, president and by Fred Threlkeld, executive secretary, and was presented by the chiefs of the legislature of Edmonton on May 30.

Canadians are spending annually, about $1.2 billion on new housing, about $1.7 billion on national defense, and more than $3 billion on state welfare and social security.

The Many-Splendored Thing...

Splendor is everywhere in Oldsmobile. There's the splendor of distinctive Starfire styling—fresh, daringly but so chic. There's the splendor of rich, custom-tailored interiors luxurious, gracious and so comfortable. And there's the splendor of mighty power, teamed to go quietly about its task of producing swift, smooth motion.

And this Oldsmobile splendor is not a sometime thing. From the moment you proudly take possession until that distant day when you decide to trade it in on an even more exciting Olds of the future, you'll keep discovering new splendors in your unusual car. You'll keep revelling all the while how wise you were in Olds to step up from the ordinary into an Oldsmobile.

Joe Trofimuk Admitted To The Alberta Bar

A University of Alberta Arts and law graduate, Joseph W. Trofimuk, 11280 78 Ave., was admitted to the Alberta bar this week in a ceremony before Mr. Justice Neil Primrose.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trofimuk of Calmar, Mr. Trofimuk joined the Royal Canadian Navy following graduation from elementary and high schools at Calmar. After leaving the navy in 1946, he entered the University of Alberta and received his bachelor of arts degree in 1950. Returning in 1952 to the university, he graduated three years later with a bachelor of laws degree.

He was active in interfaculty sports and several campus clubs and spent two summers with the Canadian Officers Training Corps.

He is a member of the board of trustees of St. Barbara's Russian Greek Orthodox Church. In 1953, he married the former Elizabeth Berle, of Devon and Calmar.

Mr. Trofimuk will practise in Edmonton with the firm of Adams and Trofimuk. He was presented at the ceremony by Edward W. Sully, member of the firm with which he articled.

St. Paul Bears Take Second At Vermilion Ball Tournament

St. Paul Bears missed taking it all at the Vermilion Tournament Tuesday and Wednesday, dropping the all-important finals to Beverly Drakes 5-4.

With the services of Hollis Miles, Jackie Parker, Jim Ryan and the pitching power of Mike Wagyte, Steve Gorichuk and Marshall Ewald they took the first game 16-1 against Holden and the semi-final Estates 10-1 against the Vermilion team.

In the first game Wagyte and Roberts pitched to Black Jack Gorichuk to Roberts in the second and Dekat checked to July in the finals.

Garth Roberts, versatile coach of the bears filled in practically every position on field shortstop, pitching and catching, handling directing the operations.

Joe was assistant accountant at the Bank of Commerce in St. Paul for several years and on the side played hockey for the Bears. He was always an enthusiastic one on and off the ice, and will likely be the residents here who will miss him most in his profession.

Glen Avon School Construction Officially Started

Mrs. W. Thomas Turns First Sod

Sod-turning honors to commemorate the official start of construction of St. Mary's Glen Avon Separate School were conferred upon Mrs. W. Thomas, mother of the oldest pupil registered in the United Church.

Mrs. Thomas adroitly turned the first turf at the impressive ceremony held Monday night on the new site of the school next to the arena in the presence of a good number of parents including guests and dignitaries. Rt. Worship Mayor Jules Van Brabant, School Superintendent R. Saville, Mr. Wm. G. N. Morgan.

Dr. J. A. McKertich, President of the Glen Avon School Board made the introductory remarks and expressed the hope that efforts and services of the protestant population for their donation to the cause of the new school.

He said that there had been many stumbling blocks, but that all had been surmounted successfully through courage and faith. He described the new school as another milestone in the progress of the town and community — a great asset to the future.

Delays in construction had been hampered by shortage of materials, but finally all was settled and the school is expected to open for classes in October.

Rev Morgan offered the prayer of dedication for the new edifice

Mayor Jules Van Brabant expressed his gratitude at the honor of officiating at the ceremony and congratulated the board on its initiative.

Mr. Saville was pleased to note the erection of another centre of education to which he offered his sincere congratulations. He cited it as an example of democracy, recognizing the rights of this segment of the population.

The Board of Directors of the Glen Avon School is made up of Dr. Mckertich as President, Directors Alec Tannas, Norman Slater, Nick Muller, John Paul Mr. Fred Weder as Secretary-Treasurer.

The new school is being built by Walter's Construction at Edmonton at a cost of $280,204. Furnishings of $150,000 have been approved for the construction. School requisition from the Town of St. Paul was estimated at $13,763.75.

Mrs. Thomas, widow of the late Mr William Thomas, a war veteran, is originally from Flat Lake district. A gentle old lady, she has won the respect and love of all the congregation. Mrs Thomas, who has no relatives, was deeply touched by the honor and thanked the board for being allowed to take part in the important historical event on St Paul.

Rev. Maurice Joly Sings First High Mass, Sunday

287 Descendants Numbered From Pioneer Family Who Came In 1908

Grandson of one of the oldest pioneers in St. Paul, member of [illegible] Rev. Maurice Joly sang his first High Mass in the Immaculate Conception Church, St. Paul, Sunday morning before a congregation which filled the church to capacity.

Many of St. Paul's business men and officials in various organizations for the past were present for the ceremony.

He is the first Joly to become a priest, although a second, Rev. Fr. Adrendel Gerard was ordained several years ago. Father Joly is the 15th boy of St. Paul one to join the orders.

Mr and Mrs Phydime Joly arrived from the east in the spring of 1908, before the foundation of St Paul, when it was only a main street.

Files First Homestead

Mr Joly was one of the early settlers who lined up at Edmonton for the historical homestead rush in 1908 when the colony was opened to the whites. Mrs Joly, now 88 years of age and living in retirement at the Immaculate Apartments was born Caroline Theroen and is a sister of the Reverend Father Adrendel Theroen, founder of this parish Mr. J. C. Theroen, K.C.

This first July family, ensconsts in the large unit living in St. Paul came to the area with twelve children.

Those who made the trek with their parents in the early days were Theodore, Raoul (died in Aug. 1927) Irene (now Sister St. Adrendel), Amelia (Mrs Joseph Girard), Cyprienne (now Sr. St. Victor de Milan Riverina (Sister St. Joseph de Cluny), Charles Omer (Father of Rev Fr. Jol), Ernest, Victor, Rosemary Marie Joseph, (Sister St. Anne de L'Incarnation Conception), Louise, the eldest, married, residing out-

Final Drive For Shares In Seed Cleaning Plant

Must Be Completed To Assure Start

Sale of shares in the Municipal Seed Cleaning Association began a year ago. During the first month sales were very good and prospects were very encouraging, however when every prospects became poorer last fall sales fell off and came to a standstill during the winter With crop prospects very good at this time canvassers will be making a last effort to complete sale of shares in the district of St Paul.

To ensure that the plant will be built the fall financing must be completed before 5th of July The Government has budgeted for the building of a warehouse for the plants in the province this year one plant will definitely be built in the Calgary area and the other either in St Paul or in some central point which is prepared to proceed first There are several other associations selling shares and if they complete their financing before the St Paul Association it is possible that they will get the nod from the Government However, if sale of shares can be completed here before the end of July St. Paul will definitely be assured of a Seed Cleaning Plant this fall.

Canvassers will be making calls on neighboring farmers during the next two weeks and it is hoped that they will be well received and that every farmer not yet owning a share will purchase one during this drive.

Any farmer wishing to buy a share and has not been approached will be by a canvasser is advised to contact Mr C P Gauvreau, Secretary-Treasurer, St. Paul

Persons wishing to buy shares in the Seed Cleaning Plant and have not yet been approached should contact one of the following:

THE VALUE OF A SHARE

By Stan Powers, Field Supervisor
M.D. of St. Paul

Despite the adverse facts income tax returns list your shares at the St. Paul Municipal Seed Cleaning Association sold well with $11,000 being subscribed to date. However, some ratepayers report that some farmers did not purchase shares because they were of the opinion that they could use the services of the Seed Plant whether they were shareholders or not. This is true to a point.

The facilities of the Seed Plant will be available to all farmers whether they are shareholders or not, however, there will be several advantages to owning a share. Firstly, there could be no Plant if all farmers took that attitude. Secondly, shareholders will be given preference over non-shareholders at cleaning time. This could mean that in the rush period in the spring shareholders would have their seed treated at good time while others would have to wait. Thirdly shareholders will have their grain cleaned at a cheaper rate. Fourthly, many plants pay share interest and patronage dividends to shareholders which would make a share in the Plant a good investment.

As the advantages listed above are only a few compared to the one man advantage of the Seed Plant — that of having utmost worth of the best seed — there is no reason at your progress for the proper and more than $30.00 that should make a better investment!

CONSEQUENCES

Political consequences of great parliamentary events are always so popular those depend exclusively on abilities of prospective political leaders. Sometimes Cabinet ministers and even members of Parliament who are in the right at the wrong moment.

Elections were all to and and done are entirely wasted in Parliament. Rather than they were, and had on the basis of party organizational strength and the way people react to political leaders in the flesh on public platforms.

Opposition leader Drew and CCF leader Coldwell have demonstrated to satisfaction of those who understand such matters, that they are able to organize in the House of Commons. Whether or not either possesses the very different kind of skill needed to make the issues of the day mainly in Parliament sufficiently vivid to persuade the ordinary citizen that he has a stake in future may be affected by how he votes. The next general election, still remain to be determined.

The crucial issue in Parliament in recent weeks had been the attempt engineered by Labor to amend the Criminal Code to expand it to the question of supply, and its evident desire to arrest any attempt filibuster of undue haste in disposing of the remaining business of the session. No clear evidence of awareness of the real issue. The federal responsibility for unemployment was not in the right on the part of a badly-frightened Government in the part of some to be kept alive in the public mind between now and the next general election. At no time should responsible leadership to whether the average voter considers arrogance and authoritarian attitudes at Ottawa of sufficient importance to influence his balloting. The chances are that he does not. Regardless of the outcome, it is the sheer duty of the opposition to maintain itself as an understanding of constitutional liberties.

FARMERS' CONVENTION

The Town of St. Paul is honored to be chosen as the site for the Farmers' Union Convention of District 4. They will convene at the Parish Hall on Thursday, July 8th, starting at 10 in the morning.

There is a saying need for union amongst the farmers in all parts of Canada. In order to be granted recognition in important economic phases which have a bearing on their standard of living, it is very important that farmers should send to this convention the most capable men, home, to hear and receive advice from the provincial and district leaders who will be in attendance.

It's up to the farmers of District 4 assure in their convention.

WATER SAFETY

Drowning tragedies are becoming so frequent as highway tragedies. It is confirmed nearly every Alberta holiday weekend. The loss of life will cease only when water safety education becomes a part of everyone's life. Indeed, the importance of observing Water Safety rules cannot be overemphasized too greatly.

Swimming is a healthful and recreative sport for all ages. Of 60 major sports popular in North America, swimming is rated highest on an all-round basis, taking into consideration the mental, moral, physical and safety aspects. For these reasons and many others, swimming has become popular with all ages in Alberta and particularly the children. At noontime during these hot summer months, every Alberta youngster is near pools, lakes, rivers, sloughs, ditches or water troughs. LEARN TO SWIM . . . You couldn't think of a better sport to save your life. Moreover, learn the rules of water safety as follows:

1. Supervise children at all times — then you'll know they're safe.

2 Non-swimmers must wear life-jackets on the boards . . . is the best . . . in the water.

3 Choose a place safe swimming are know the depth . . . check the bottom . . . PLAY SAFE.

4. Know your boat and never overload for still, don't move around. Wear a life jacket and if you overturn hang on!

5. Stay away from excavations — water filled holes are extremely dangerous.

6 Keep off thin ice It must be four inches thick to be safe

Observation of the above rules will reduce drowning accidents greatly. But as "an ounce of prevention is still worth a pound of cure," know the cure too. Should an accident occur, be prepared to give artificial respiration . . . a safety skill easy to learn. Clinics and pamphlets on artificial respiration are available from Red Cross as well as St. John Ambulance

Don't forget to enlist in the swimming courses running up for St. Paul July 26th to August 6th. Place your applications with Leslie Lebsenton

Yours truly,
A Mutual Citizen.

St. Lina, Alberta
June 30, 1954.

Dear Sir:

In the name of the St. Lina 4-H Beef Club, I would like to thank our club leader, Bishop Mid-winter for his help and devotion towards the success of our Club.

I would like to thank my assistant Kenneth for giving much of their time to improve conditions for the club this year. The advisory committee consisted of Mr. W. H. Brown, Lionel Magnus, and Leo Bellows Jr.

Mrs. Vic Jansen, the skilled cook who prepared our calves so well, also deserves our thanks.

Thank you Mrs. Sutton for being present when we "trapped the young horse with muddy boots."

All the people who in generosity donated for the benefit of our Achievement Day also deserve thanks.

We are all proud to have Jim Christensen as a member of our champion calf. Congratulations Jim!

I would also like to thank all members of the Club who helped prepare for the Achievement Day and I am sure you all did.

Members are
Jackie Purdhomme, president; Lester Magnus, Secretary; Ramon Dechaine, Vice President; Alice Dechaine, Lionel Bilodeau, Norbert Dechaine, Alfred Dechaine, Larry Mulvenier, Robert Magnus, Jacquelin Magnus, Egbert Sylvestre, Jim Christensen, Maurice Dechaine, Jessica Dechaine

Thanks to Mr. Chevrette who fought muddy roads to attend our regular meetings. From all of us to all of you.

Many Lives Endangered By Target - Happy Hoodlums

The Editor
Dear Sir:

Every year there are endangered by irresponsible persons who consider power line insulators as good rifle targets. This practice is much more than just an inconvenience to the power company — it can quite literally be fatal.

Last summer a 17 year old boy in the United States took a shot at an insulator He missed, but the bullet cut the conductor and it fell on him. He died instantly.

It is quite possible for a break in insulator to go unnoticed for a short time in dry weather, but the first rainfall can cause the system to short circuit into the ground causing power failure at the height of a storm the fault is much harder to locate, and repairs are made only with great danger to the life of the serviceman. At the same time, hospital patients, landing aircraft and innumerable others are very dependent on a continuous flow of electricity. Death can result only too quickly.

Of secondary consideration but just as real are the effects on various businesses and industries Hatcheries, locker plants, and many similar enterprises can be severely affected by a power failure Farm water supplies may be cut off when they are needed most, and irrigation systems may fail.

Power companies are quite willing to prosecute to the full extent of the law any person found guilty of shooting insulators on Canadian Utilities lines.

We wish to request that no supply of rockets or similar ammunition be given to irresponsible persons. We are willing to supply rockets and no trigger-happy hunter will keep us from doing the job to the best of our ability

Anyone having information or knowledge of the whereabouts of the guilty parties is urged to contact the RCMP or your local representative of Canadian Utilities Limited.

We ask for the support of all those who realize the fact that our customers are entitled to dependable service and freedom from danger.

Yours very truly,
J. A. Dechene,
Hatchery Manager

Mr. and Mrs. John Gagnon, parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Tremblay, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schipa, Mr. and Mrs. Ann Wasylciuk all of Edmonton were present. The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Banff and Lake Louise and will reside in St. Lina upon their return.

IT IS ONLY HUMAN

to want the best and the most for your money whether it's for gasoline, appliances, furniture or machinery. That's why we think you'll be interested in becoming a member of our co-operative.

A co-operative always welcomes new members who will use its services. Because earnings are distributed on purchases instead of on investment, the efficiency of large scale production can only be obtained by in creasing the number of user-members. In general, the more "partners" to decrease the cost of service, the better.

Being a co-op member means working together with your friends and neighbors and with more than 100,000,000 people around the world.

CO-OPERATION IS NOT A WAY TO GET AHEAD OF THE OTHER FELLOW! IT'S A WAY TO GET AHEAD WITH THE OTHER FELLOW!

You can buy at your co-op with complete confidence because it is your business organized to serve you with quality merchandise at fair prices. It's the one business in town that don't make a profit on your purchases.

Today, success in farming depends a great deal at efficient buying of the raw materials and efficient selling of the farm products.

Through co-operatives farmers have a three-edged sword to use as a weapon in their fight for economic justice. Their co-operative helps lower their production costs, helps bring them better quality supplies, and helps them get a greater market return from the production of their farm.

Co-operatives build community life. They protect, preserve and encourage the three greatest institutions on earth — the home, the church and the school.

Co-operatives are the greatest bulwark against monopoly and totalitarian government, because they are democratically organized and operated.

There is no limit to what you can do with co-operation, but remember, you get out of it only what you put into it. If you want anything well done, with no strings attached, it is best to do it yourselves. Through our co-ops we have that opportunity to serve ourselves.

Co-operatives are born of necessity, and in other lands, they must be used and used wisely and efficiently. So join and use our co-op to-day, won't you? For further particulars see your local co-op store manager.

HEALTH THROUGH CHIROPRACTIC

By K. W. Tenove

MERRY JAKE

Jake is an old friend of ours he is probably the most chiropractic man on earth. He is quite convinced that before any other thing can have any merit it must first give evidence of contributing to human welfare. Jake is not one to accept anything on mere assumption or guesswork and the way he quits the words of lectures no doubt in your mind as to what he thinks of them. Everything and is served to Jake anything new is an abomination.

We know of only one, but there [illegible] Jake's is the most progressive whose lives are spent [illegible] against acceptance of all the new and wonderful things that have been developed to make life easier for us. They seem to regard comfort and convenience as something short of sinful.

Chiropractic is a new road to health which was undreamed of in Jake's boyhood. He regards it as an invention of the devil to have men away from the tried and true roads of his mother's day. Yet on the short space of fifty years, through research and experiment Chiropractic has developed a scientific picture plan which displays many of Jake's ideas. Chiropractic principles — sound Chiropractic principles — are founded upon the true cause of disease.

Chiropractors contend that disease in itself is not so much an invasion from without as it is a breakdown from within. Chiropractors concentrate on the nervous system for it has been established that a healthy nervous system maintains a healthy body.

If a spinal vertebra becomes misaligned, and causes pressure on the spinal cord or nerves [illegible] the blood and [illegible] glands and muscles [illegible] Chiropractors remove the pressure properly. The body is [illegible] unable to resist invasion from without, and disease begins. The natural road to health begins with proper first visit to your Chiropractor.

Moisture Condition Of Prairies Shows Moderate Improvement

Compiled from Governmental and Board Sale Gauges. Records up to and including June 15th., 1955.

As the result of recent general rains, the total overall moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces has shown a moderate improvement. This July 1 level stands at 83 per cent of normal compared with 81 per cent last week and 127 per cent at that time a year ago, respective figures for the three provinces being as follows: Alberta 97 per cent of normal; Saskatchewan 82 per cent of normal and Manitoba 66 per cent of normal.

Greatest change occurred in the growing season moisture from April 1st to June 15th which now stand at 91 per cent of normal in the case of Alberta, 76 per cent of normal in the case of Saskatchewan and 85 per cent of normal in the case of Manitoba, giving a weighted average for the three Prairie Provinces of 83 per cent of normal.

The fairly general, and in many instances quite heavy rains, which fell over the past weekend have materially improved the moisture situation throughout Western Canada.

In Alberta, where rainfall was heaviest, averaging well over 2 inches for the province as a whole the moisture situation is now generally very satisfactory in Southeastern, where the greatest variation in rainfall occurred, the situation will bear watching closely, further timely rains being required if moisture supplies are to be maintained at an adequate level in Manitoba, moisture supplies appear generally adequate for present crop requirements.

Courtesy Would Cut Death

Rajah Wahh Bazaroon wrote: "Life is not so short but there is always time for courtesy." There is more need for the sage philosophy now, than when he wrote it before the motor car was invented. The automobile has made many of us ride selfish hours. If the drivers behaved as considerately when behind the wheel as they do in the living room, the death rate would soon be sliced to a fraction of its present proportions. Let's have more courtesy on the highways, more sportsmanship on the road.

ANOTHER MINE FOR THE MARITIMES

Development of recently discovered marble and silica deposits near Tracymoor Vale, six miles north of Fredericton, N.B. was announced in another phone in New Brunswick's mining expansion. Both deposits are high grade, with the marble comparable to the best Italian grades and silica equal to the best found in North America. Shares in Tie No. 1 open pit marble and silica mining company cutting plant where the estimated 4,000,000-ton deposit will be worked into terrazzo chudon grit, agricultural lime and ground silica for sand blasting.

Habits in The Making

Habits are learned. They come about by repetition when we do things over and over, you form habits without much thinking. This

Every time you do a thing a little easier to do it again. Certain pathways in the nervous system are made stronger. Your habitual acts become firmly built into your nervous system. They grow to be a part of you.

When you want to learn a new skill, you must form new habits. First analyze the new skill and find out exactly what new habits you need. That helps shortening your learning time and improves the quality of your skill.

Your driving skill will be made up of the acts you practice from the beginning. So practice only correct acts. Learn exactly those driving habits that are correct, and then the habit formed there. Practice those particular acts every time you have an opportunity. Your driving habits will then be practically "custom-built" You choose to build them because they are good driving needs.

In the process of establishing certain acts in your system of habits, there are two very good rules that it pays to follow:

1. Practice exactly as you want to perform.

2. Never permit exceptions to occur.

Do you remember poor old Rip Van Winkle who decided to form a new habit of never to get drunk? He used to get so thirsty that he'd waken and take another drink, saying, "I'll not count this one."

If you follow the rules and practice correct acts without exception, the time you do correct things, automatically, without effort or thought. You then have a set of reliable driving habits. That is the first step on the road to driving enjoyment.

Pioneer Museum Receives Old 1903 Model Ford Automobile

The Pioneer Museum of Elk Point has obtained a very old and interesting relic of the past a 1903 Model A Ford.

This antique car is established as Henry Ford's first pure automobile since it was in 1903 that Ford organized the Ford Car Co.

In the early stages of the motor car industry, motor vehicles were known as horseless carriages, because the body resembled a buggy but lacked the horses.

The above mentioned car, which is owned by Steve Andrishak was then advertised as a 1903 Model A Ford Electrobee Tuning model. The name model is the newest buck cost thought a hammer and newest).

It is a 2 cylinder vehicle with 8 h.p. motor, gas tank, water tank and fly wheel all situated under the front seat. A chain drives the rear wheels.

All of it it still in a very interesting and fairly well-preserved model shape. Mr. Andrishak is also in Western Canada and probably no more than six of these models exist in the entire world and these are established only in the largest museums throughout the United States.

Most gardens have been producing a good supply rhubarb for a few weeks now if your family includes some rhubarb lovers you have no worries about that good fruit going to waste in the garden. On the other hand, you may be looking for some new recipes to dress up the rhubarb just a little.

For a hot summer day dessert, try Prune Rhubarb Delight from our pamphlet "Rhubarb Recipes."

Prune Rhubarb Delight

One cup
½ cup sunkist cream
½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
1½ cups sweetened rhubarb sauce
Juice of half an orange
Whole of well

Add salt to egg and beat, add sugar and beat again. Scald milk in double boiler. Pour hot milk over egg mixture and cook until it coats the spoon. Chill.

Add rhubarb sauce and orange juice to egg mixture. Fold first mixture into whipped cream, blending well. Pour into freezing tray, stir occasionally until firm. Rhubarb Relish is an excellent way of preserving excess rhubarb which cannot be used in the fruit state. It is delicious accompaniment to meats all the year round. Why not try it? The recipe may be found in our recipe folder.

T.B. Testing

Reports indicate that the TB Testing Programme is progressing very well with There Veterinarians have been working steadily and results more are expected in the district very shortly.

Farmer co-operation appears to be very good and the Veterinarians are much pleased with the cattle under the Test. Most cattle tested so far in this area have proved to be free of T.B. Those cattle found to be infected are destroyed and the owner paid compensation by the Provincial Government. At present there are a few Reactors in the area but the testing has not started in the Lac La Biche district.

Farmers are asked to co-operate to have their cattle tested and prepared well in advance of the Veterinarians visit.

FOR CONSTRUCTION ON TRANS-CANADA PIPE LINE

Freight Trains will haul 75,788 lengths of 60-foot long steel pipe to Western Canada this summer for construction of the prairie section of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines. The first 46 of a total 8,000 railway carloads en route to the Alberta-Saskatchewan border, starting point of the line, passed Montreal, Ontario today. Each railway car (left) carries eight lengths of pipe. It requires 1,325 of these lengths, weighing a total of 255 and a half tons, to construct one mile of pipeline. The 34-inch diameter pipe, unavailable in Canada, is being manufactured in Pennsylvania and Ohio mills in the United States, with which a total of 204,000 tons. The 1365 miles of 30-inch diameter pipe required for the section of the all-Canadian line from Winnipeg to Yoho already has been ordered from Canadian and British companies, those idea of the size of the pipe can be gained from the comfortable resting spot found by Trainman Jim Clark.

Beverly Drakes Take Honors In Vermilion Ball Tournament

Beverly Drakes eked out a narrow 7 to 6 victory over St. Paul to carry off the honey portion of the prize money at the two-day ball tourney held here Tuesday and Wednesday. The tournament was held under the combined auspices of the Legion and Lake Ball League. The baseball played was very good but the attendance was poor, making the tournament anything but a financial success. Good crowds witnessed Wednesday afternoon and evening games but this were not big enough to overcome the lack of attendance on Tuesday.

An Tuesday Beverly defeated Bonnyville 12-5, Vermilion def. Bonnyville 7-6, Beverly def. Vermilion 10-8, Vermilion def. Dewberry 7-5.

On Wednesday Beverly Drakes won from Vegreville 7 runs to 4 on 10 innings. St. Paul won from Vermilion 17-1.

The final game saw Beverly take an early lead 6-2 St Paul however closed the gap at 6 all but were to see the Drakes score one in the 9th which the Northerners couldn't duplicate in the top half of the 10th.

Lefty Parker and Rollie Mann were featured on the St Paul lineup for four games, but had to admit to Lebanon in both the final Beverly Drake and Jones were [illegible]

Most modern truck V8's ...and the pounds prove it!

Pound for pound, the most powerful truck V8's today are Chevrolets. That's one way you can tell they're the most modern V8's going!

Any engineer will tell you that horsepower-per-pound is a good indication of efficient engine design. And Chevrolet's modern short-stroke V8 truck engines do more work for their weight than any other V8 in any truck today.

That means they carry around fewer pounds for power they develop. (They weigh up to 200 pounds less than other comparable engines.) It means, too, that less of the maximum truck G.V.W. consists of engine weight — and more is devoted to payload. So, you not only can haul bigger loads — you have more usable power to move them!

Stop by and let us show you how Chevrolet's compact, super-efficient truck V-8's can save hours and dollars on your job.

Weigh the facts... and you'll choose today's most modern trucks

Wasted weight is engineered out of Chevrolet truck V8's!
The ultra, short-stroke design of Chevrolet's truck V8's makes possible a rugged yet compact cylinder block. Modern multiple-purpose components save weight and increase engine efficiency.

More power per pound means more power for your payload!
Since less power is used up in moving engine weight, a bigger proportion is available for moving your payloads. You get hour-saving performance on the job. And modern V8 power saves dollars, too!

There's a modern V8 for every Chevrolet Task-Force truck!
There's a powerful, deep-breathing V8 — either standard, or optional at extra cost — in every Chevrolet truck model. Horsepower ranges as high as 195 for fast, efficient high-tonnage hauling.

Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Anything less is an old-fashioned truck!

Tournament At St. Paul July 2, 3

St. Paul's annual Dominion Day Baseball Tournament will pitch off on July 2nd and 3rd with eight amateur district teams battling for a $2,000 ... purse.

One of the big ball tournaments in the province and the biggest in North Eastern Alberta, the two-day event is sponsored by the St. Paul Junior Chamber of Commerce. Revenue is the basic aid to the organization for the past few years.

First prize winner will get a big check of $700.00, second, some as small and knock-off $300 apiece, and each losing team $100.00 consolation.

George Belcer of Edmonton has been hired as umpire-in-chief, assisted by Mike Tame of Two Hills.

4-H CALF CLUB WINNERS, ST. LINA AND MALLAIG

After being judged best in the St. Lina Calf Parade on Achievement Day last week, J. Christenson is seen above being presented with the Canadian Bank of Commerce Trophy. Mr. Ken Wolstenholme, St. Paul manager does the honors. On the right Marvel Cadrin has just received his award for best entry at Mallaig with an Aberdeen Angus Calf, partly seen in this picture.

To Date Summary District Rainfall

The following rainfall summary in St. Paul has been issued by Mr. Will Verstraete, district engineer, and has been published through his kind courtesy.

Rainfall for the week ending June 28 registered at 2.13 inches. This amount is nearly half the precipitation of the season to date, which stands at 4.53 inches. Rainfall last year from April 1st to about late June was 3.90 and the long time average for the district is recorded at 4.53.

The statistics show that in the past week we have had nearly rain than during the former part of the season and that our precipitation is already above the long-time average.

The slight drought preceding the early June rains had affected the season which is considered by grain agents at this time to be normal. Crops are from five to ten days ahead of last year and the small amount of soil and grain drilling did not hurt prospects. Moisture in some localities on the high, dry spots, but at this stage of growth is still anticipated and that 100 per cent average

GOOD BASEBALL TOURNEY

The jobs has been busy! For the first time in four years the St. Paul baseball tournament played out without being marred by rain There were a few stubborn showers during one of the first day games at the arboretum, but it soon blazed out and blue skies ruled supreme

However, it was not without apprehension that the organizers — St. Paul Jaycees — watched the day's activities dawning Sunday morning we wouldn't have put a plugged nickel on the outlook A heavy shower at noon had bogged down the baseball diamonds at 4th point of water, and the surrounding grounds were mushed to the depths

At an anxious meeting of the executive that evening, some members had risen to the heights of pessimism, but on a last hope that a perfect sunny Sunday with drying winds could save the day, a wait-and-see policy was adopted Any kind of a shower would have washed out the event, but luckily enough that didn't happen and the Jaycees by delegating working the grounds all day Sunday were able to keep them to be bowly condition.

Although no final tabulation has been made, small profit is indicated The July 1st gate turned out about 1500 persons, including children and adults. The second day was not quite so good, although the best brand of ball that can be offered was being hoisted out on the diamond

There were a lot of big names to make the game. Sports enthusiasts were given the opportunity to meet in person such greats as Eddie Mules, Jackie Parker, Eagle Keys, Joe Shoten, all footballers of notable reputations and see them perform in professional style

With that kind of bolstering and on their own ability the St Paul boys took first money in the tournament It was as it should be to see Buck Jolly receive the winning Nutts and Garth Bolstein, Coach, as he has been both in the capacity of a farmer who scored the other two important ones

Garth was the heart of the team . . . It was he, with the support of his executive who made arrangements for the winning lineup and kept it sparked from his key position behind the plate Garth is one of the hardest competitors and certainly a lot of credit goes to him for his keen unselfishness

Little Johnny Kotowich played outstanding baseball at centre field, covering fields of left and right field as well And Johnny was back to his old style of slugging with important hits in all three games that count of just when they were needed. Chuck Kendall deserves a pat on the back for his perfect glove handling in the final game, blocking everything which came his way Spike Kendall, whose hit knocked in the first St Paul run of the tournament, and Bob Sandbow did equally well with their parts in the performance

Where everyone clicks you have a winning team and fortunately that's exactly what happened

And who could deny that the final game, regardless of who won was not just what the doctor ordered for a suspenseful thrilling drama, fans will talk about for days to come Cold Lake lost but without shame a game which could have romped one way or the other until the last moments Both contributions of a ball team to outstand with is appreciated and respected by ball fans in the district

We want to congratulate the St Paul Jaycees for sponsoring the event Not too much credit usually goes in that direction where the heavy work is concerned, a quality dig too. The Jaycees filled in commendably, as usual, with the enthusiasm bundle duties

The ball losing girls were volunteered in the queen contest enough to set beauty and attractions for which they are accomplished The efforts in both cases to raise monetary totals for the tournament will come in handy

With the weather man co-operating, the boys and girls pitching in to help it was a good day for a bash we are thankful for

ATTACKS TOO LATE

Current attacks on the monetary policies of the Government and the Bank of Canada, have come too late to make much impact on Member Barkway on The Pembina Pic Al almost any time up to the last few weeks there would have been some response to official opinion ready to agree that the economy stood ought much either way As it is, expert and otherwise seem barely united in supporting the need for a strict anti-inflationary policy

It is safe to say that the last month or two that the experts have spoken with one voice about the relatively abrupt certainty two months or so and possibly one month ago, you could have found influential voices here talking about the possibility of a 1% decline in the third quarter which might spur the Liberals to

Today practically nobody believes in a U.S. recession. Even the most pessimistic say it will be no more than a levelling off which won't have any perceptible effect on the Canadian boom

MORE STRENGTH NEEDED

Two vital needs must be met if farmers are to progress as a group The first of these is to build stronger farm organizations and the second to gain the sympathy of the consumer These opinions were expressed by R K Bennett chief of the livestock and marketing division of the Federal department of agriculture

Farming has changed since the early days of the self-sustaining unit and now only farmers are getting too high a price for marketing their products The farmer he said must be prepared to surrender some of his independence in the interest of a better deal for farming and a hope

If there is nothing new in farming declared Mr Bennett, it means being business-minded . . . more emphasis on economic appraisal . . . worth saving for. This could also mean through a strong farm organization attempts to get more protection that farmers are not able to do alone, the speaker maintained

Dear Mr. Drouin:

I have followed your articles on the R.C.A.F. in the St. Paul Journal for the past few weeks. They have contained a great deal of fact to public understanding of the Air F[illegible] and all in associated articles.

It is my opinion that you have done a most commendable job in promoting such a Air Force. This had simply come to my attention, but I was particularly impressed with your editorial, dated June 14th, so much so that I would appreciate a half dozen copies of this issue, to be forwarded to Canadian Legion Air Force Headquarters at your earliest convenience.

The officers and men of this station extend their thanks to you for your stand for the excellent cooperation and assistance received in the past Journal.

Yours truly,
R. C. Nisbet, Group Captain

Dear Sir:

Before us to your essential of 2 weeks ago regarding the 3rd Farm Market road permit we'd make a few suggestions.

Take a few pictures of the washouts at the Lakes to The Pas road at L. Beaufort and Cold Lake. Then show these pictures together with pictures taken of the Vaudreuil of the same market road during the spring, perhaps about 2 weeks before the Provincial and Provincial election. Show the people that are using the market road at Alberta, both sides.

You wonder why the motorists already come on the road and not start from the north gate until? Let me assure you that you are not the only one. I worked for the Councillor in charge of his first mile or so knows that that's in his division?

Why not dismiss the whole Council and turn all the machinery over to the Public Works. Who have been trained in road construction, engineers that work with tranmic.

Our roads are getting worse from year to year, rural children miss too many days of school and still our taxes rise.

Yours truly,
Rest. Rhoberding.

June 25th

I have completed my duties as returning officer for District No 602, seven 47 as no spoon me to do such. Since this is the case I did this type of work for the double last that I have made mistakes, but who has not.

After making a survey of this area I find that the farmer is not the person I used to meet in the early days all the homesteads were pretty well cleared and although the farmer worked with horses and oxen he always had time to spend on hockey and I did not think anything of it Today I find that a lot of these same people have left the land are working elsewhere and somebody else is working the owner's land This means also that he has no time to do what he used to do, mend the clock Parties to make it hard to hold such rather and have every Sunday to rest and I was taught to hold to the.

The main much lament of the farmer and no one else. The reason I am going into this is because I have lived here since 1911

I can say together who live a long time from me have left this area.

What's on the Air

Plans for remodelling North Atlantic Treaty organization with view to abating disruptive consequences of wholly disruptive national responsibility should "prove" instead of material likely to raise more troubles than they solve.

Primary purpose of NATO, before a security responsibility today, is the same as when it was created in 1949, to build up defensive strength of Atlantic community to guard where aggression by Soviet Union would be recognized as unlawful

NATO has most effective backing that requires of strength when exigencies of situation indicate are required to how today than in 1949, for safety and survival of Atlantic Community

Thoughtful Canadians may be forgiven for wondering whether implementation of Article 2 NATO treaty, touching upon economic cooperation, may not do last prejudice rather than advance objectives of NATO Certainly it is that any tardive of NATO's defensive aim to the fulfilment of purely economic objectives would be applauded in Moscow. Moreover international economic relations in the field of exports (even with GATT tend to be far more controversial and disruptive than international relations firmly based on a necessary defensive alliance

Nor would it be reasonable to suppose that the fears and anxieties of so-called neutral countries in Europe and Asia

Some are in BC and others in Alberta My boys were left in charge of their father left all parties they are getting sick of it and want to leave.

What's going to take place next remains to be seen This is not supposed to be a Dear Abby column but I would like to receive in the month of June 1956

The Canadian Association of Consumers has just issued a few pamphlets regarding the safety of canning fruits and vegetables at home.

Home canning was made necessary by the high cost of canned goods. The canned goods which had been bought by a thrifty housewife during the years of plenty, when prices were low, were all used up during the years of depression when canned goods were high in price. Many housewives who bought regularly during the years of plenty, when prices were low, were left without a supply of canned goods when they were needed most. Many housewives who had canned fruits and vegetables during the years of plenty, when prices were low, were left without a supply of canned goods when they were needed most. Garden-Graphs

by DEAN MALLIDAY

Peach trees need to be protected from the peach tree borer. Trees severely attacked by this pest are usually short lived. The more recent and most effective method of controlling the borers calls for spraying or dusting the crown and trunk of peach trees with DDT. This should be done in July and August.

Although this borer is called the peach tree borer, it also attacks plums, cherry prune varieties and apricot trees.

Peach borers work at and near the surface of the ground. They are usually revealed by a gummy mass of frass at the base of a tree trunk, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

The parent insect is a brilliant yellow and black horse-like moth. The eggs are deposited singly or in small groups on the trunk of a tree usually near the base.

Each female lays several hundred to a thousand eggs. The eggs hatch in 10 days and the young borers begin to tunnel their way inside the tree. They finally fashion cocoons in the trunk and crown and pupate in the same place.

At last year the borers winter in the tree in the spring they re-appear from six to seven weeks after the last moth starts the egg laying cycle again. This continues from late June until September.

Keep peach tree trunks covered with a 3 per cent DDT dust or spray during the time the moths are flying and laying their eggs. If the moth succeeds in depositing her eggs the larvae will be paralyzed as they crawl from the egg and bore into the tree.

Farmers' Union Of Alberta Open New Offices In Edmonton

EDMONTON, June 26 — Cash grain marketing, chief concern of the new organization, was discussed at the first official meeting of the Farmers' Union of Alberta to stand office here since its formation in Lethbridge in December of last year. With ceremonies slated for next week at Edmonton's new Farmers' Union Grain Terminal, the organization's central committee, at a luncheon meeting in the Macdonald Hotel here today, heard a report on the progress of the new headquarters. Lt.-Gov. Grant MacEwan, Minister of Economic Affairs, and Hon. Dr. A. W. Fair, Minister of Agriculture, were invited to attend the opening ceremonies in connection with the new headquarters. Lt.-Gov. MacEwan will officially open the building at 11 a.m. Mayor William Hawrelak will also take part in the ceremonies. Hon. Dr. Fair will officially open the new Farmers' Union Grain Terminal. Premier Manning has been invited to attend the opening ceremonies but has not been informed as to his decision.

The building has been leased and the Farmers' Union Grain Terminal is commencing operations with a staff of 18. A. W. Pugh, superintendent of the terminal, is confident the facility will be used to its capacity. "It represents a considerable investment, is convenient, reflects the faith that farm people hold in an organization all of their own."

What Are Co-ops ?

The answers alternate between

Charges and	Counter Claims
A threat to free enterprise	A [illegible]
A scheme [illegible] the small business man	A [illegible]
Socialistic communistic	A [illegible]
A matter of business that doesn't pay taxes	A [illegible]
A foreign system that threatens to take over our whole country	A [illegible]
A selfish scheme to save a few pennies at the expense of honest merchants and business men	A [illegible]

Which of these claims are true??? — Let's face the facts—

CO-OPS ARE—

The classic principles of co-operative business are these:

Open membership (No racial or creed barriers)

Democratic control (One person, one vote regardless of amount of stock holdings)

Limited interest on capital (No profits go to stockholders at the expense of patrons)

Sales for cash at market prices

Continuous expansion

Constant education

CO-OPS ARE NOT—

Co-ops are not "just like any other business" — They are a form of free enterprise, but with a difference—

A Co-op is a business enterprise in which certain persons invest their money, energy and enterprise for the primary purpose of providing goods and services to themselves at cost.

A corporation, or partnership is a business enterprise in which certain persons invest their money, energy and enterprise for the primary purpose of providing goods or services to the public for a profit

Canadians Are Turning To A Meat Eating Country

Canadians are eating more meat, and, by nearly the growing demand, we are becoming a beef exporting country, and are increasing poultry production.

These facts are published in [illegible] Canada and Markets, [illegible] year, 1956, by the Canadian Department of Agriculture. The report states Canada traditionally a heavy surplus producer of grain and livestock, is becoming a net importer of beef at a time when cattle numbers are the highest in more than a decade and the country is experiencing a "roaring" of a record beef.

With expanding population and a prosperous economy [illegible] per capita consumption of beef in Canada has risen from the average of 44 pounds in the 1936-52 period to 72 pounds [illegible] 1955. That is an increase of 30 per cent.

A few years back shipments of Canadian beef cattle to the United States caused U.S. cattlemen considerable concern." For [illegible] 1948 to 1950 [illegible] exports averaged [illegible] pounds annually to U.S. [illegible] than 2,000 head to U.S. [illegible] in the first four months of 1956 has been [illegible] than 1,000 head of Canadian beef cattle went to U.S. [illegible] 1,000 head of U.S. cattle were imported into Canada.

From 1941 to 1956, Canada's cattle population has averaged nearly ten million pounds. In 1955, while we sold 8 million pounds of beef to U.S., we bought [illegible] pounds from them. Altogether our 1955 exports of beef exceeded imports by [illegible] pounds.

Poultry production shows [illegible] Canada. In the first four months of 1956 [illegible] chicks were hatched [illegible] 14 per cent more than [illegible] the same period in 1955. A [illegible] cent increase in the number of [illegible] was reported [illegible] 28 per cent [illegible] in producing turkeys [illegible].

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

A Photographic Feature Presented By

PETER VAITKUNAS STUDIOS

ST. PAUL, Alberta

You could almost call these pretty faces, Dominion Day babies . . . they are all currently celebrating anniversaries and we're sure all of them are going to be real Canadians in the future. They are, top row, left to right: Cathine Lloyd, 4 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mandryk, St. Paul. Bonnie Dennis, 3 year, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kornuik, St. Paul: Linda, 1 year, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sokolik, St. Paul. Second Row: Sonia, 7 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bereholtz, St. Paul. Gerald, 1 year, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Warbinik, St. Paul. Susan, 4 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schervill, St. Paul.

Farmers Should Ask For Assistance In Land Dealings

The oil and gas industry in Alberta is booming. The value of production is rapidly overbalancing that of agriculture and the end is not in sight. For the majority of farmers this does not have too much personal significance other than possibly creating a change of resentment. The fact that someone else drives a rich harvest from under their land that dwarfs the results of a lifetime's struggle to extricate a livelihood from the surface does not make it hard to add to their embitterment.

There are, however some who are fortunate enough to hold unreserved, or partially reserved titles to land that was alienated from the Crown before 1887. These people own all or part of the mineral rights. But many of them in what part of the province they are located or how far they are from producing areas, they are likely to have considerable value. However, in spite of a side publicity given to the earlier experiences of men who parted with their rights for a fraction of their true value there are still cases of heavy and sale being made at a price for consideration.

Reputable land organizers with specialized contacts and others who have expert ways make a business of advising and helping individuals who have their own rights They can, and do, give valuable assistance to many Farmers holding mineral rights would do well to consult some of this advice before entering into any deal on their own

Cleaning Plant Construction To Start In Fall

$14,000 Worth Of Shares Sold District

The final tally made at the last meeting of the St Paul Municipal Seed Plant Association indicated that $14,000 worth of shares had been sold up to July 5th This is sufficient to guarantee that building can commence as soon as the contractor is available

Word received from the Department of Agriculture is that the contractor will be available about three weeks earlier than previously expected which may mean that construction will begin early in September.

Although the Association is certain that building can commence with the money presently available they are just as certain that more shares will have to be sold before the plant is completed to allow for extra work, such as required until to provide operating capital Canvassers will be calling on farmers from time to time undertaking to purchase shares and it is hoped that the required amount of share capital can be obtained.

The annual meeting of the Association is being called for Wednesday, July 18th, at which time shareholders will elect their permanent Board of Directors and formulate the policy for the Association Mr. F. Turnbull, Engineer in charge of seed plants will be present at the meeting to outline the operation of the plant. All shareholders are urged in advance this meeting to ensure that quorum is present so that elections can take place

FIREMEN HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

St. Paul Firemen held their annual picnic, Sunday at Three-Mile Lake under a blazing sun and perfect conditions for both the adults and children to have themselves a good time

Main attraction of the afternoon was, of course, the annual football game with all the old hoo-hooers out there trying to do their stuff all over again with creaky bones and joints

Tony Joly and Ray Pelletrault fielded the entries which finally tied up, but not before umpire-in-chief Ordonez Lemieux had taken a few lemons on the fine points and rules of the game From both sides who never missed an opportunity to contest a play, question decision and complicate matters with some high class shadow-boxing

Without prejudice we alleged that Tony Joly and his shysters are pretty sly cheaters.

ST. PAUL CAR ROADEO

The idea of a Car Roadeo in St. Paul has been mooted for quite sometime. Last year it was on the planning board but was held up for technical details.

Mr J W McKay Inspector of the Highway Traffic Board spent several days in St Paul explaining the aim to Jaycees who have agreed to sponsor it under the leadership of President Lionel Letourneau and Al [illegible]

The Car-Roadeo is a competition of skill driving The tests and exercises used are five of the basic skill tests used in most Driving Training courses They are tests originating with and adopted by the A.A.A. Alberta's first Car Roadeo was conducted in 1952 at 1954 Canada's first Provincial Championship Car Roadeo was conducted

The purpose of the Car Roadeo is to promote highway safety It brings to the attention of both the contestant and the onlooker the importance of skills in the driving of an automobile Most drivers of today have learned to drive by "trial and error" and sometimes fail to recognize the importance of skilled operation When the onlooker sees the contestant performing and making mistakes he also is perfect he too will appreciate this fact and goes away with a determination to improve his driving

In the light of these facts are recommend a large attendance at this first car roadeo at St Paul And there should be no difficulty in selecting the limited 17 time allows for the afternoon Local citizens especially the grazers are urged to get in at least one entry of more if possible

CUPID vs TAX COLLECTOR

A recent battle between Cupid and the minister of national revenue is reported in Canadian Tax notes It may be unnecessary to state that Cupid lost, but the decision will serve with the referee's decision.

The case concerned a farmer's daughter, who worked for her father for some ten years. Her agreed wages were $800 a year not extravagant in those times, but presumably she also received her board and lodging At any rate, by further agreement with her father she drew as much money as she needed and left the remaining $700 a year to accumulate with him, until she should get married, or need it for some other purpose There seems to be no dispute about the fact that the case The money was held in trust by the father for the daughter, and was available to her on demand

The demand came in 1954, when the girl asked for and received her savings, on the occasion of her marriage The total sum the Minister assessed to $6,100 a 7% income which to start housekeeping But the assistant of national revenue and his assistant chancellors do not approve of a daughter getting so much money without giving them a share Their ruling, upheld by the Supreme Court was that the only thousand odd dollars was all income for the year in which it was received and therefore taxable at a rate applicable to an income bracket in which the young lady had never expected to be placed.

It should be noted that, if the daughter had drawn her wages in small amounts over she would not have been taxable at all After drawing it in one lump she might have deposited the $700 in a bank, or lent it to her father, and still the minister would have had no claim to it.

TB TESTING COMPULSORY

The Veterinarians conducting the T.B. Testing programme in the Municipal District report that in general the farmer co-operation has been good However, in some areas farmers are not assisting the Vets to the degree which is expected.

All cattle owners are warned that T.B. Testing is compulsory and that all cattle must be tested When the Veterinarian requests that cattle be made available at a certain time, this must be done as he has to inspect little work Farmers who through their own actions do not have cattle tested during this programme may find that they will have to have these cattle tested at their own expense

Cattle not T.B. Tested will not be allowed within the borders of the Municipal District after the programme is completed

SAFETY IN HAY FIELD

Let's Make Hay — the Safe, and Happy Way Make that your farm slogan for the busy haying season ahead and at least there would be any tears — or words of regret Let's keep the lines and knots of your family and hired help safe and intact. In blunt straight forward language, whether this is done or not, is up to you, the boss and Safety Supervisor of your farm

While modern farm machinery can be dangerous, it is engineered with a minimum of hazards and even the older machines have many of the most hazardous parts [illegible] part of its design to provide safety to the operator [illegible] make sure them to see that the safety devices are in place and that the operator takes heed of the warning signs on the machine areas

These suggestions may seem simple to the experienced operator but are they to the new hired man working with different machinery — to your son's or daughter's, working for the first time in a full-fledged member of the haying crew How well has the safety lesson been learned? When everyone is tired or you're cleaning up the last of the field ahead of a shower and suddenly a machine plugs — do you shut off the power before unplugging the baler or the forage harvester, or do you try to save a minute and maybe lose a finger, a hand or an arm? It's a gamble not worth taking for the host of operators have been known to lose

Safe practices such as shutting off the power before oiling, safety shields in place, adjusting or unplugging machinery are necessary for accident prevention There're others, too, in a good safety program One in the fight against Fatigue — sit down the excessively long hours and help shorten the day with a coffee break a spot of tea or a glass of milk The farmwife and the girls on the family could be a help in getting the morning and afternoon lunch carried These short breaks during the day will get more work done, add pleasure to the task and certainly help prevent accidents.

Remember The Only Right Way to Hay is the Safe Way

Greatest single cause of farm fatalities in Saskatchewan last year was the farm tractor, which figured in 33 out of a total of 84 farm deaths

What's on the Air

Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference in London, to be more in proper perspective, must be considered in light of some plainly but extremely realistic comments of Mr Malcom Muggeridge, editor of "Punch Writing in Time & Tide" Mr Muggeridge regards Brit- [illegible] wilderness from India and Burma, from Palestine, from Suez and the Sudan and Aleadan as "utterly unwelcomes and ridiculed, in the long or short run, he prove ruinous to all concerned."

Put it that Cyprus, Singapore and Malaya Federation, not to [illegible] of British Anthony Eden, with his imperial [illegible] to bring to history when he [illegible] only be the last fading echo of the sometime governing class of a sometime government, nation, of how those millions of people are to live decently and humanely on this small island."

The United Kingdom's future Muggeridge believes, lies not with vain efforts to keep alive the myth of Empire and Commonwealth, but rather by a strength- ening of ties with Canada, with Australia and New Zealand, and closer still with the United States — ties based on the realities of the situation rather than upon the ghostly past of imperial day.

The Traffic Safety Lane

By J. W. McKAY
Inspector Motor Vehicle Branch, Province

Habits In The Making

Safety should furnish entertainment. The driver who has left on the roads to enjoy himself with no more stressful emotional results (except A and B) is not likely to face many emergencies.

An emergency always presents elements of nervousness. It can seldom be met completely on a habit basis but any sound habits of good driving serve to reduce the possibility of you doing the wrong thing and complicating the emergency. All the habits needed for Normal Mechanical Operations or for the More Complex Maneuvers are serviceable in an emergency.

A foundation of sound skill dependable driving habits prevents emergencies. In fact, there is one habit that might be called an emergency preventive. It is the habit of ATTENTION TO

1. The Car
2. The Road
3. The immediate traffic conditions
4. Pedestrians

Driving is a thing that cannot be done with inattention and nonchalance. The better player returns the unexpected bounce on edge in the situations. Each has met an emergency. He would have failed to meet it if he had not been in a state of readiness to act.

Readiness to act follows close attention. With the habit of attention you are not caught unprepared. For the athlete it wins the game. For the automobile driver it saves life.

Health Through Chiropractic

I Am Always Well

What a fine thing to be able to say "I am always well." Yet how few people can say it truthfully!

There's really no reason why everybody should not be able to say it. With the very rare exceptions of children crippled from birth Nature does not discriminate to give one child a superabundance of health, and deny a fair share of health to another. Health is the birthright of certain people to flaunt upon and others submit completely!

Why, then, should one person be able to announce proudly "I am always well" while another is always complaining of poor health?

Chiropractors have discovered the answer. They point out that the nervous system directs and controls the function of every gland and organ in the body. When the nerves are free of interference, they can and do supply their life-giving impulses to every gland and organ of the body. And interference with the nerve supply means that some section of the body is deprived of the force it needs to maintain health.

The nerves emit from the spinal cord, which is enclosed in the spine. So long as the spine is free of misalignments the nerves can be, relatively speaking, the most unobstructed of the whole nervous system. As a consequence every gland, organ and tissue will still receive the correct quantity of nerve impulses from the brain to keep them functioning properly. The result is daily glowing, abundant health, and

If you are not all you should be you CHIROPRACTOR and then you, too, will be able to say "I am always well."

How we at, experiencing the freedom of holidays? The children, now night owls are enveloped in living out of school. Are you planning a short trip? Remember they are sure when ... ing your clothes to pack. Use good purpose ... outfits to wash, as possible and don't take too many.

To keep your blouses crisp and fresh when packing place in folds of tissue paper. You will avoid most wrinkles. Plastic bags are good for your lace cloth, lingerie and cosmetics. This prevents spilling. A few simple precautions can make your trip more enjoyable to have a nice trip and above all DO NOT pack too many things.

Getting On A Motor Trip?

To make your trip more fun you can start out with a "mini-kit" in your car. The contents can be simply a sturdy, cubic-board box which you can fill with odds and ends. Chocolate bars and what ever you like. This will keep you from stopping every twenty miles to re-supply your family. Along with the camera, you'll need a waterproof blanket of some sort — an ordinary paper bag will do. Tie it to the spring of every night marks well, and you keep the trash clean.

Whatever you do don't ... etc. Put it all in the kitchen, I hope you have fun, rest and enjoyment.

What Are Co-ops?

The growth of Co-ops in Canada has been phenomenal:

Getting their first firm roots in the early years of the twentieth century Canadian Co-ops, according to 1949 figures numbered:

... all co-ops of all kinds
... credit unions (co-operative banks)
Membership have grown to:
... 1 person in all types of Co-ops
... 1,000,000 in credit unions
Volume of business
$1,140,000,000 in Co-ops alone in 1949

Reasons why people join Co-ops:

They expect to save money —
Co-ops change market prices, but return to patrons the difference between cost and selling price, less expenses.

They seek improved quality —
Co-ops can test products as the individual cannot. Since the patrons are the owners they will have no interest in cutting or misrepresenting quality.

They find it in the Co-op a Yardstick. —
Co-ops furnish a test of efficiency of other forms of business and a check on exhorbitant profits and non-existent practises.

They see a new society coming —
Co-ops are, in many, the symbol of a new economic order in which greater justice and equity will be achieved through the co-operative system of patron ownership and non-profit operation.

Co-ops are not "communistic"

CO-OPS:	COMMUNISM:
1. Extend ownership and control of business to more people	1. Takes ownership and control of business from people — places it in the state
2. Build free enterprise as opposed to monopoly business	2. Replaces private business monopoly by state monopoly
3. Encourage individual initiative and participation by all people	3. Suppresses people under the authority of the state
4. Build democracy	4. Destroys democracy

CANADA'S ONLY WOMAN DOG CATCHER

Canada's only woman dog catcher never wears gloves nor uses a net to capture stray animals. She simply runs up to her prey and nonchalantly throws on the spot, as she is seen doing in the picture. A brutal disciplinarian, she has no sympathy for the poor dog she is about to capture for having bitten a child or for having run away from its master. Joan, the dog catcher, is the pride of the police force, and a friend of hobos, too. She made a move to run away from matrimony Mrs. Poole, whose organization has the responsibility to have to run the cars of every animal in five municipalities of Walkerville, Harwich, Raleigh, Dover and Chatham, of which she is official dog catcher. "I guess I'm a character—but I love my work," she declared.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and children will be admitted free.

TB TESTING GOING AHEAD RAPIDLY

Dr. R. B. Cyr and Dr. E. J. Young from the Department of Public Health, Edmonton, visited the district this week and the TB testing program for the Western parts of St. Paul is progressing rapidly, and that of the Eastern parts will be carried out as soon as the weather is fine.

The farmers have been very co-operative in the testing and only in one instance there is slight misunderstanding on the part of cattle owners.

T.B. Tests are compulsory under Part 10 of the Animals Contagious Diseases Act, but are free of charge.

Full co-operation is urged. When notified of visits, cattle owners are requested to be ready and prepared to make the task as simple and easy as possible in order that the program may be completed at the earliest possible date.

It is to the advantage of every cattle owner to have this area declared T.B. free.

Dr. George Bourgeah and his assistant Dr. Kramers had previously tested a large section of the territory east of St. Paul.

Giving a luncheon?

If your guests are to be women friends, make the menu one, did friend and not fattening. For inspiration let's turn to Hawaii where they have lots of fruit.

There's just one source in the menu—a refreshing combination of canned or fresh grapefruit sections, fresh orange segments, strips of papaya, nectarines or avocado, topped with a tart lime dressing.

Steam ½ lb. honey over each salad 30 min. before serving. No further dressing.

With this, pass a choice of cream cheese or hot small baking powder biscuits, with a choice of cream cheese or nut-cream cheese for a spread.

Serve 4 of good iced tea in a refreshing way.

To make, it's important to remember to use the correct proportions for iced tea thus you would use for hot tea, to allow for ice dilution.

For example, to make 4 cups of hot tea, you need 4 tea bags or 4 teaspoons of tea. To make 4 glasses of iced tea you need 8 tea bags or 8 teaspoons of tea.

Basic Recipe for Iced Tea: Bring 2 quarts of freshly drawn cold water from the faucet to a full rolling boil in a saucepan.

Remove from the heat. Immediately add 3 level tablespoons tea (or 12 tea bags). Let stand, covered, 4 minutes. Stir and strain.

Serve in ice-filled glasses with sliced lemon and sugar.

For a glamour touch, serve iced tea Hawaiian style with pineapple wedges (drained from fresh pineapple, each topped with a maraschino cherry fastened on with a toothpick.

Provincial Government Assistance Helps Number University Students

Farmers who may have small amounts of grain tendered with permit companies or other businesses left from seeding have been warned not to deliver it to country elevators either in bulk or mixed into other grains. A. P. Dudeny, chief inspector for the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada, says that if farmers do this it will result in the whole lot of grain being graded No. 4 Tough, a heavy penalty for delivering grain graded with inferior companies to country elevators.

The Alberta Wheat Pools suggests that this is a matter to which farm people should pay very close attention. Several shipments were made last year containing treated kernels and because which could easily have avoided had more care been taken with the small amounts of treated grain, amounted in several hundred dollars per car.

TURNED THEIR BACKS ON ROCK 'N' ROLL

Three of the five-member, one-family symphony orchestra of South Porcupine (on) are Paul, Joe and Sandy McNab, who have played in Northern Ontario for many years, mostly at dances in Beethoven and Mozart. Their father had tried to stimulate interest in the boys for a real symphony orchestra but he found everyone everywhere but at home. The symphony players may never reach Carnegie Hall, but they're still having a lot of fun and don't even mention Elvis Presley.

Good Prospects Overseas Crop

In France, during the past week, further hard rains fell on most of the southern part of the country, bringing the total precipitation for the month of June to more than twice the normal. Crop growth has been retarded, and in some areas, notably the Rhone valley, the wheat crop is suffering from excessive moisture. There are reports that the 1956 wheat crop will be the largest in the history of the country. Heavy rains have also caused considerable damage to the grape crop in the Bordeaux region, and the harvest is expected to be the smallest in many years. In Germany and in the Netherlands, the past few days have been favorable for cultivation and crop growth has benefited all the crops.

LOVE OF TRUTH

The other day I chanced to have a talk with Jones the 8,000 Dollar Farmer, whom I visited. And another thing to which registered his love of truth was the fact that he told me about his all failures and not only the times when he was successful. In business and everything else, and whatever else you may say about Jones he has a keen sense of humor and understanding of human nature. Which reminds me of the fable of the Farmer and the Mule. It seems that a farmer had a mule which refused to work. He tried everything to get the mule to work, but the mule refused. Finally the farmer got a two by four and hit the mule between the eyes. The mule fell down dead. The farmer then said, "Well, I guess I'll have to work myself."

A total of 281 university students who would otherwise not have been able to obtain advanced education were assisted in 1955-56 by grants or loans from the provincial government under the Students Assistance Act. Forty-four nursing trainees also received aid under the Act.

In releasing details of financial help supplied, Department of Education officials said that since inception of the Students Assistance Act on April, 1952, a total of 686 loans totalling $194,021 have been authorized. Repayment of loans will vary according to date and Department of Education officials.

During the fiscal year 1955-56 132 grants totalling $36,203.10 and 244 loans totalling $92,961.00 were awarded in addition 44 [illegible] $3,685.00 were awarded to nurses-in-training.

Grants are extending $300 in the university year or $150 during the summer course are also available. Loans are extending $600 in any university year or $1,200 during the summer course are also available. A student may receive both grant and loan assistance if his academic standing is sufficiently high and financial need is indicated. Grants are available to student [illegible] who are in financial need [illegible] extend $300 per student and extending $100 in any one year.

Students entering university from matriculation average of 75 per cent to be eligible for a grant, or an average of 65 per cent to be eligible for a loan. Loans are subject to repayment [illegible] of $300 per year commencing one year after graduation or withdrawal from university. Simple interest of three and a half per cent is charged [illegible] after maturity is reached.

The federal government contributes approximately 75 per cent of the funds available for grants under the Vocational Training Agreement.

Under the Act, a student is defined as a bona fide resident of Alberta who has registered or is about to register, in a course leading to a degree at the University of Alberta, or any approved college or institute, or a course not available at the U of A.

Students already enrolled at the university may apply to the Registrar for assistance. Those able to enroll should apply to the Deputy Minister, Department of Education, Edmonton.

Many students have stated that they would not have been able to remain at university without this assistance.

GMC Automatic Transmissions

Do the Tough Jobs Easily

GMC STANDARD AND HEAVY-DUTY HYDRA-MATIC
GMC's Standard Hydra-Matic is the light duty series offers four forward speeds automatically shifting in three ranges. High range is for open highways. Medium range is ideal for congested traffic, while low provides maximum traction.

Heavy duty Hydra-Matic, in the 40,000 GVW range, with optional gear ratios and rear axle ratios, provides economic sizing for a wide range of operating conditions. It provides heavier duty components and less gruesome hydraulic pressure to move heavier loads. Heavy-Duty Hydra-Matic's unique "Hold" position overrides the automatic shift to prevent upshifting. Choose a GMC with Standard or Heavy Duty Hydra-Matic!

GMC POWERMATIC . . . NEWEST AND BEST
POWERMATIC is a new principle in automatic transmissions . . . now available in the 18,000 to 32,000 GVW range of GMC Trucks. The heart of Powermatic is a fluid-torque converter that cycles engine torque. The torque converter locks out at higher speeds giving the advantage of solid mechanical drive.

Powermatic provides its automatically-shifted gear ratios in three ranges. A finger-tip provides you from range to range. And Powermatic presents the unique Hydrostatic Retarder—aids braking for dangerous grades. Ask about a Powermatic-equipped GMC Truck . . . now!

Long Lake Chapel Officially Opened

On July 8, His Excellency Bishop Lussier of St. Paul officially opened and blessed the new Long Lake Mission Chapel, situated on the north end of the lake, near the outskirts of Kenhowin Indian Reserve.

The Bishop while making the sermon of circumstances dedicated the chapel in the name of St. Peter, patron saint of all fishermen.

The mission primarily built to serve the Indian and Half Breed population in the district is open to fishermen. For their convenience Mass will be sung every Sunday at four o'clock in the afternoon.

A good number of parishioners from St. Paul and Bonnyville were in attendance to witness the ceremonies opening the rustic little mission situated on the top of a hill overlooking and overlooking highway 28 as it turns around the lake. Made of rough lumber, the chapel is 30x20 and will be under the jurisdiction of Rev. Fr. Mackin, Reserve Missionary whom efforts led to its construction.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wolotschalone for Miss Emily Blinds who will be leaving next week for McTavish School in Edmonton. Some 30 to 40 boys and girls attended the party. The evening was spent with ding songs and games. Special Thanks to Mr and Mrs. Wolotschalone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Willard Dahlstedt

Mr and Mrs. Ray Willard Dahlstedt have recently returned from a Manitoba honeymoon and will take up residence in Cwleary. The bride is the former Margaret Louise Knapp, daughter of Mr. (Lorne) Knapp of Fort Saskatchewan and Mrs. Wm. Hopkins of Manitoba. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dahlstedt, Cwleary. Discriminating Saw Steals Big Jack Fish

This is the story of a big fish that got away (at least from the fisherman) in a very unusual and unorthodox manner.

Adolphe Quiron while fishing at Long Lake last Sunday caught one of those whoppers worth bragging about. Yes, Sir, he landed a 15-pound Jack, he successfully took home, along with a batch of smaller ones. Placing them in a tub on his back porch he went into the house to get some ice to preserve the fish, but while he was gone, a wire old saw came loosing and snuffing around, selected only the choice morsel and made away with the big fish she quickly stashed away.

No doubt, the saw, is not for this world very long and will be slated for the slaughter house soon.

Enthusiasm High For Car Roadeo

Registrations Rapidly Approaching Limit

Trophies Awarded to Best Women and Men Drivers By Local Garage Businessmen

With thirteen of a maximum of seventeen entries eligible in St. Paul, and a deadline already registered, the events heralds to be a great success when it will be driven off on Main Street, Wednesday afternoon, July 25th, from 1 to 5 p.m.

Al Kirkwood who has taken over management of the Roadeo for the sponsors, the St. Paul Jaycees, reports keen enthusiasm on the part of drivers, many of whom are in training for the consolidated school competitions.

No doubt, all children on the roadeo day will be free from St. Paul Safety and Service Director Jerry Mosier's safety with Chevrolet cars. St. Paul Wins Derwent Ball Tournament

Roberts Pitches Semi and Finals

After getting into the semi-finals on a default to Derwent, the St Paul Bears went all the way to win the Derwent baseball tournament last Tuesday and Wednesday.

The semi-final was played against Grand Center, emelled down to 10-1 by virtue of a three-run spree of pitchers, coach Roberts took on the second frame himself for the win.

He stopped right back into the box after a 10-minute at between games rest and pushed the final game, allowing it 12-2 against the Derwent host team. In two games we Garth Jones nineteen strike outs and pitcher Buck Joly.

A big help to win the final game was the heavy batting power of the Bears. They opened up a record four home runs in the game. The choppers were Gilbert Roberts, himself Art Lavigueur Andy Bercuski, and Irvine Hammond.

The effort won them $300.00 in first prize money badly needed and appreciate to balance the books, said John Buckley ball [illegible]

The boys got themselves involved into the tournament on the same days, because of entries which had been made previously, and due to postponements have been on the game days They had to default in Tuesday's after-noon game with the first Derwent squad A 4 hot pace was soon organized for the second day, but no Paul unfortunately could not appear

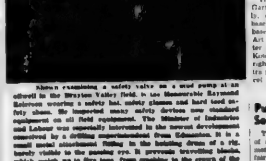
Reierson Inspects Oil Field



Above examining a safety valve on a mud pump at an oilwell in the Bruyere Valley field, is Ian Honourable Raymond Reierson, Minister of lands, mines and forests and Mr. Ivan Petty (left). The inspected many safety devices now standard equipment on all field operations. The Minister of Industries and Labour was especially interested in the novel development conceived by a drilling superintendent from Edmonton. It is a small metal anti-contamination [illegible] in the bottom drum of a rig, usually visible to the casing pipe. It prevents travelling blocks which weighs up to five tons. From coming to the crown of the rig, with subsequent danger to employees and damage to equipment. Lack of such safety devices has resulted in several [illegible] accidents in Alberta and other oil fields. The device was approved by the Factories Branch of the Department of Industries and Labour. Some of the many visitors to the field were (left to right) W. E. Gutsell, Chief Factories Inspector and the Honourable Mr. R. Reierson (right).

Fire Chief In Attendance At Convention

Elected Alberta Fire Chief Director

Our fire service took a three-day convention at Fort Garry at Fort-ages and Assistant Alberta Mr. Phil Germain took Fire Chief and Chief Mr. Paul to well recognized by the province's rural-dom as one of the most active and effective directors in the province.

Office was bestowed to hold the next convention in St. Paul but Phil said he had to decline because he felt it would be impossible to find hotel accommodation for the 300 potential delegates.

Business, the convention and re-[illegible] matters, the convening Fire Chiefs heard Mr E. B. Pugh, (ex-) Provincial Secretary present the provincial's views on fire control and prevention.

Mr A. E. Bridges, Fire Commissioner, who has visited St. Paul on several occasions, spoke to the delegates on efficient brigade and its duties, as well as on rural problems, he feels should be incorporated in provincial measures.

A demonstration and lecture on arson was given by Capt C. Mc-Neil of Winnipeg RCMP detachment and A. Bench Winnipeg underwriter explained the insurance rate structure and how a good fire department will influence it

The meeting closed, Sunday morning. The new Directors of the Alberta Fire Chief's Association were feted and Mr Germain of St Paul was elected along with C. E. Harrison, Deputy Chief of the Calgary Fire Brigade.

There are 25 active voluntary and paid fire departments belonging to the Alberta Association

Begin Sidewalk Construction

Eric Erikson and Company Limited of Edmonton, Alberta, Saskatchewan started on this week to start work on sidewalk construction for the Town of St. Paul.

They have undertaken [illegible] 18,000 feet of new sidewalks in-cluding about 2,000 feet on main street. The contract covers concrete curbs, gutters, approaches and west walks with a few south and north lanes.

It is estimated crews will take about 11 weeks to complete the job, weather of course, the weather is favorable They started on rural sidewalks on the street south of main, from the Bi-MP Barracks to the Town office

Purchase Site For Sand Cleaning Plant

Town Council approved selling of acreage, west of the Department of Highways Shop, owned by the gravel Association for the construction of their new plant to commence this fall.

The agreement is subject to re-[illegible] by the Agricultural Society who holds a lease on the land property.

NOT MUCH COMMENT

Few Canadians will find much to commend in External Affairs Minister Pearson's proposal to establish "an international professional and technical civil service of the United Nations, with experts trained to work as the underdeveloped area."

Truth is that UN bureaucracy is far too big and costly now. Idea of establishing a new UN agency for world economic development will undoubtedly add substantially to cost of UN without any assurance that results will be of benefit either to so-called underdeveloped countries or to Canada. Furthermore, agency of sort proposed by Mr. Pearson would undoubtedly duplicate vast sums of the taxpayer's money to be distributed for projects in areas of the world which, if not positively hostile towards the West, nevertheless maintain a "neutral" attitude which professes to see little difference between Soviet totalitarianism and Western democracy.

WHAT A STINK!

The beautiful weather we had for several days was welcomed and very appreciated but both holidaymers and farmers having no grieving complaints, would have appreciated the condition a lot more if it hadn't been for the accompanying odor that was generated by the warm weather

Our investigation on the cause led us to find that in the particular instance it came from the outlying regions south of town where residents are indulging in farm operations within the city limits.

When the wind blows in the wrong direction on a warm day, the stink from manure piles and piggeries, just naturally drifts into town and makes living very unpleasant by permeating every nook.

Now that the Town has accepted these premises and has complete jurisdiction over them, we would suggest that the health inspector be directed to take a good look and make recommendations accordingly

And now that we have a beautiful restful Golf Course in the vicinity, all the more reason to clean up these regions.

It is neither pleasant nor healthy to have such conditions close to town.

SAFETY IS A HABIT

Safety is a habit. Teach it to your family. Farm accidents are needless destroyers of life and limb. Make your farm a safe place to live and work.

During the next few months much heping equipment will be used. There will be a tendency to "rush up things" in an effort to catch up with the late season. Beware this time to have all safety devices working properly and you will enjoy normal use fingers and the right number of arms and legs.

—Marvel Chevrette, D.A.

CONTROLLER RESIGNS

Another episode in the burning question of the inadequate grain movement out of certain areas of western Canada was seen in Ottawa on July 5 when Mr. Magnus Eliason, federal transport controller, announced to the Agricultural Committee of House of Commons that he was resigning from the post at the end of the present navigation season. He gave lack of co-operation from the CPR as his reason.

For many months it has been evident that some parts of the West were falling far behind others in the movement of grain and that the farmers in these areas would be penalized in the amount of grain they could deliver by the close of the year.

Vigorous protests from the Wheat Pools, farm unions, wanders MP's and others have never elicited a clear explanation from any author as to why such a bottleneck should exist. Assessments have been sharply criticized, tendency and remedies have been painfully short.

Mr. Milner's statements before the Agricultural Committee are the first decisive admission that all has not been done that could have been to relieve the situation. Although he has indicated his intention of giving up the post Mr. Milner still holds the greatest authority in Canada over the movement of transportation. Western farmers trust that on the short time remains before July 31, he may yet produce tangible improvements in their marketing situation

—Wheat Pool Budget.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

Definition Of Democracy

The Encyclopedia Britannica defines democracy as "a form of government based upon self-rule of the people and on modern times upon freely elected representatives." This definition of executive responsible to the people, and a system of life based upon the fundamental principles of the equality of all people and of their equal rights and ... opportunities, including the liberty of thought and expression, and the pursuit of happiness." An attractive ideal. Let's see this is not a precise definition, and it has been and always will be open to misinterpretation and misunderstanding.

Professor R. M. Maciver opens his book, Democratic Government in Canada with the statement: "One of the fundamental assumptions underlying our democracy is that its nature and functions are understood by its own citizens, for only by having some grasp of its essentials can the body of citizens hope to control the instrumentality."

Much of the confusion arises from the fact that the democratic ideal has recognized the equality of the term "Democracy" and have in effect, the right to ... purpose. Behind the Iron Curtain and in Russia Communism is what they are supposed to be, and it has developed ... into the ... of public welfare.

Largely because of this peculiarity of the word democracy such terms as equality, government by the people and government by the people" have been stretched and twisted together into an indigestible mass which has been fed by a great many people. A multitude of crimes have been committed in the name of democracy

The Encyclopedia Britannica goes on to point out that democracy in its political and economic expressions will always be determined by its strength as a moral and spiritual factor dominating the public mind. It is above all a fundamental attitude and scale of values, a definite conception of man and his place in society." A recognition of the value and importance of the individual is the essential basis of democracy. "All men are created equal" must not be interpreted literally. Men differ in physical and mental powers and qualities and the individual has the responsibility to develop whatever powers he has to the fullest degree.

There has sometimes crept into our thinking the idea that democracy is synonymous with uniformity. Efforts made in the field of education to draw out of the child (which is the true meaning and function of education) the best that is in him, is sometimes met with the opposition of those who believe that all students ... should ... the same rate, which of course is one of the most barbaric and stupid ideas ever conceived. The classification of workers according to an arbitrary scale which does not allow recognition of those with something extra on the way of skill, energy and initiative is further evidence of the same kind of thinking. Witness in education, industry, or elsewhere the belief that equality and uniformity are synonymous with democracy will lead inevitably to a dull monotony.

The thinking behind the words "I am as good as the next guy" and "nobody can tell me what to do" leads to absolute chaos if carried to a logical conclusion and not to complete chaos. The latter could almost operate without a head, or using ... operate without officers, and a school room ... without ... with lusty ... without a teacher endowed with ... authority. The democratic ... of ... in democracy ... of ... and proper ... established authority are ... proper but lasting ... in democracy ... in democracy ... the freedom of the individual ... which is the right ... to live his life to the utmost ... so long as he does not ... in the ... of the public welfare.

A View Of Canada In 25 Years

What will Canada look like 25 years hence? Here is the way J. K. Isbrandtsen in the Financial Post sees it, based on evidence before the Gordon Commission:

A population of 32 million 75 per cent living in towns and cities and 85 per cent living in Central Canada.

Labor force of 8-10 million, producing goods worth from $35 billion to $100 billion of 1956 dollars.

19.2 million "consumer units" spending a per capita disposable income of $1,200.

Additional power capacity in almost every province.

Railway and road developments in the Arctic.

An uninterrupted link between PEI and New Brunswick.

VICTORIAN NURSES CONDUCT CANADA'S FIRST POST-NATAL CLASSES FOR NEW MOTHERS

In London, Ont., the Victoria Order of Nurses is conducting Canada's first post-natal care classes where mothers are shown and told how to handle their new babies. The classes give new mothers confidence in their techniques so the VON reports one live infant is demonstrator. Left, Little Sharon Mrs. R. Reed uses a diaper to hold an infant for weighing. Centre, as a group of mothers watch from chairs, Mrs Reed bathes an infant easily and quickly. Right, ready to go home now, Mrs. A. D. Robinson of London receives her pride and joy from the VON demonstrator and said confident she can now cope with the problems of motherhood easily.

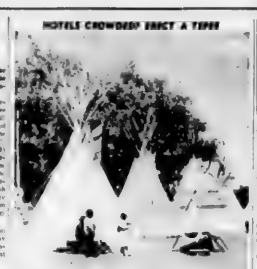
HOTELS CROWDED! TRACT A TIPPI



At Wainwright, motel accommodation is pretty hard to find in summer but the organizers have not let the problem worry them. Tourists moved into specially prepared accommodation in their campers which they set up in the auditorium parking lot or grounds. This year it showed how attractive it is to a number of visitors from the U.S., South America and Europe.

Mr Hayes decried the apparent lack of interest in the problems of the Alberta farmer by the Government and Farmer blaming the association on the fact that neither press nor radio were in attendance at the meeting.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the first evening session for many years which was devoted exclusively to the discussion of Marketing Boards. The discussions were enlightening and resulted in considerable interest being aroused.

A feature of the meeting was an excellent address by W. H. T. Hilmer, Livestock Commissioner for the Province of Alberta concerning hog Quality and means available for improvement and the licensing and bonding of all Livestock dealers. Mr. Alex Charnetski implemented Mr. Hilmer's address with coloured slides showing various types of hogs, pointing out their desirability or their faults.

Alta. Livestock Co-operative Holds Meeting

One of the most successful meetings of the Alberta Livestock Cooperative was held in the Moose Temple at Edmonton on July 5 and 6 interest in all phases of livestock marketing and production was continuously at a high level. This was the 10th annual meeting of the organization.

A total of 22 livestock shipping associations were represented and membership at large sent in 8 men to represent the interests of those persons who consigned live stock to the central selling organization from areas where co-operative shipping associations do not exist. Total membership is approximately 60,000 individual livestock producers were spoken for by the delegates.

Mr. C. P. Hayes, A.L.C. President reported handlings for the year ending May 31, 1956 of 133,500 cattle and calves averaging 2057 head per week, 607,427 hogs averaging 8,800 per week, 16,792 sheep and lambs averaging 322 per week.

Gross handling agents received an impressive figure totalling [illegible] $70,865.93

Decore Will Not Run In Federal

At a Liberal Association Executive meeting held recently, Mr. Jack Decore announced that he does not intend to enter election in Federal Parliament when the next election of Federal members takes place.

When elected member of parliament for the Vegreville Constituency in 1949, Mr. Decore was in the position of being able to familiarize our family — Ottawa with the organizing strength and interests of his home town that they have reached the stage where higher education is necessary. Mr. Decore feels that he should be in a position to offer guiding counsel at home such as would be high impossible if remotely situated in Ottawa.

This is the reason why he has decided not to allow his name to stand for the third term, which says that Nobel's Prize Committee has decided to outlaw the home industry.

Three Thousand Motor Deaths One Year, Canada

In Canada approximately 3,000 deaths result from motor accidents alone each year, writes Dr. C. Collins-Williams, F.R.C.P. in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

"For every fatal accident there are at least 100 accidents which cause severe disability and often a permanent crippling. In other words, for every family that is bereaved by the loss of a loved one, because of an accident there are 100 families which have the worry and economic distress due to serious accidents which often leave the members of the family seriously crippled, perhaps permanently."

Dr. Collins-Williams pointed out that an important phase of accidents closely concerning parents is that of accidents which occur in the home. In the United States, in 1953, there were over four million injuries suffered in the home there, resulting in 29,000 deaths, and costing $750 millions of dollars, not including property damage due to fire.

Similar figures for Canada would mean about 400,000 accidents a year, with nearly 3,000 deaths, and costing approximately $75 million dollars.

These accidents alone are the responsibility of the parent, who can do a great deal towards their prevention, Dr. Collins-Williams feels.

"If every parent were to spend just one hour going through his house with these accidents in mind, he would be sure to find a great many possibly ways in which a small child might either hurt himself, poison himself, or burn himself, and many times this potentially can be prevented or diminished by a few minutes work."

What Are Co-ops ?

--Co-ops represent a legitimate expression of human freedom and initiative in economic enterprise.

--Co-ops provide a measure of security for the common man against the menace of monopolistic exploitation

--Co-ops stand as a bulwark of responsible personal participation against threats of communistic or other state-dominated business monopolies.

--Co-ops embody the democratic principle of "one man; one vote" in economic life.

--Co-ops contribute to the abundant life by spreading purchasing power widely among farmers, consumers and other patrons

--Co-ops contribute to the strength of the small community and the farm family.

--Co-ops elevate the service motive; minimize the profit motive.

--Co-ops make it easier for those who want to apply Christian principles to business to do so.

ELK POINT Red Cross Water Safety And Swimming Classes Enthusiastic

There is an apparent 200 attitude and concern from Elk Point, Lindbergh Park and Meadowlarg Lake swimming classes at Whitney Lake. Under the guidance of Miss Dawn Rogerson, Mr. Bob Smith and Mr. Melvin MacPherson.

Classes are held every afternoon except Sunday and despite cold rainy weather, the pupils have shown enthusiastic interest in their lessons.

The parents of all children are asked to be present to please see that at least one adult accompanies each bus to child. As per last year parents are asked to bring their children on the bus with only one or two adults to supervise approximately 35 children. As pointed out before, the instructors cannot be responsible for the children except during their half hour lessons.

It is hoped that henceforth more parents will be present during the afternoon classes to supervise their children. Parents are invited to come any time to see the children progress and to see what is being taught. Sally Taft Chief of the Australian crawl look out.

Her first stop —the bank

When Mrs. Wilson planned so go shopping, her husband Tom said "Meet you at the bank." It was a natural thing to say, for going to the bank is just a part of everyday life.

In the bank, Mrs. Wilson noticed Miss Ellis the school teacher . . . Mr. Cooper the storekeeper . . . and her neighbour's son Bobby, adding to his savings account.

When Tom arrived, he grinned: "Seems like everybody goes to the bank." It's true. Canadians find the chartered banks such a safe and handy place to keep money that practically everybody has a bank account. There are now more than 10 million deposit accounts in the chartered banks—more accounts than there are adults in the country.

Ami de Ti-Kon, Otéjiste choisi

L'hôtel de ville de St. Paul a choisi, à l'unanimité, le nom de Ti-Kon pour désigner le nouveau terrain de jeux situé à l'angle des rues 51 et 52. Ce nom a été choisi parmi plusieurs autres suggérés par les écoliers de la ville.

Le choix a été fait par le conseil municipal, à la suite d'une recommandation du comité des parcs et terrains de jeux. Ti-Kon est un nom indien qui signifie "ami de tous".

Le terrain de jeux Ti-Kon sera inauguré officiellement le 27 juillet, à 2 heures de l'après-midi. Il y aura alors des jeux pour les enfants, des démonstrations de gymnastique et de danse, et des rafraîchissements seront servis gratuitement à tous les visiteurs.

Le terrain de jeux Ti-Kon sera ouvert tous les jours, de 9 heures du matin à 9 heures du soir. Il sera fermé le dimanche.

Le directeur des terrains de jeux de la ville, M. Jean Lefebvre, a été nommé directeur du terrain de jeux Ti-Kon.

Kick Adams and His Dogs At St. Paul Fair

No outdoor grandstand show is ever really complete without some form of trained animals and this year, fair goers at the St. Paul Exhibition on Friday and Saturday, August 3rd and 4th, will have the opportunity of seeing 16 of the most highly trained dogs ever used in this type of performance.

There is literally nothing that these dogs cannot accomplish. They climb ladders, poles, ride jalopy-back, do somersaults and numerous other unbelievable feats. Their sense of timing is often even ahead of their trainers, as they almost go into every stunt without command from their trainers. Mr. Adams has told us that he just gives about 1/2 the cue that he used to and they really need him or his pretty wife and if it was not for the fact of taking off and putting them in the various items that dogs use, they could go through their act by themselves.

There is no doubt about it, when the Mid summers this particular act, there will be no doubt to anyone's mind, as to what is running on those 10 bewitching, barking and mad-scrambling dogs round on stage at 96, Paul in their three repertoire seats.

These two have a featured act with the major circuses, having played the majority of their engagements around the southern and central United States.

EXHIBITION COMING UP

St. Paul's thirty-first annual Exhibition is rolling up on Friday and Saturday, August 3rd and 4th.

Basic facts are presented for their main reasons: to give the opportunity to country people to exhibit their products and implements in competition and thereby create an incentive to better quality; a few days of relaxation from the hard and tedious labours of the farm and ... gives town and country an occasion to meet in social hours, work together for a common aim.

Mr. Secretary Treasurer informs us that exhibits are coming in consistently and the livestock entries will be worth seeing this year. Farmers as well as town people should make it a point to encourage the exhibitors by increasing in large numbers the array of displays which represent much hard work and a good amount of skill on the part of the producers.

In the line of entertainment, Mr. Sanders have again secured for their grandstand attraction on both evenings, the services of Bob DePaolo's Parade of stars featuring over ten thrilling acts. Midway attractions are bound to be interesting to all and afternoon attractions on the track and on the grounds have been arranged.

The whole show is designed to bring town and country together, so let's all take a few days off and enjoy ourselves at the St. Paul Exhibition this year

CAN'T READ

It's surprising to contemplate how many of our motorists can't read.

Last week bright and early the Town Works Foreman, closed off one of the blocks on main street with the usual signs restricting traffic from the area to allow some much need grading of the curbs.

Over the hours of business a car, willfully ignoring signs, signals and their drivers, as if they owned the whole world, just shot right by the side of the road.

The harassed operator could not make a few visits also, chase around to the other and sometimes before he could get going again another parked car obstruction would again be on his way.

We would suggest that one of these mornings the Town Foreman ... the police of his intention to work and have them lay these fellows who have no ... have special charges and permit ... offering with the operations of the ... in this department.

RICE EXPORTS

World trade in rice in 1953 was the largest of any year since World War 2 but was substantially below the pre-war level. Exports of 11.3 million pounds ... annual average of 10.4 billion ... about a third of all ... international trade Thailand ... Burma, Egypt and the United States ... the leading exporters.

CAR MARKETS RACE

Automobiles this year will make spectacular consumer news, products Jack McArthur in The Financial Post.

There's a very good chance Canadians will buy 600,000 new cars during 1956. Best year to date 388,000 last year.

This is the year of the big battle for second place in our new-car market. Bingeing it out Chrysler and Ford. General Motors is still comfortably in first place.

Chrysler of Canada outnumbered in May outsold Ford products for the second consecutive month, measured in terms of new-car registration. Ford retained a fractional lead in car sales for the January-May five-month period.

The reliable May breakdown: GM 43.3 per cent of the market Chrysler, 28.6 per cent. Ford 22.6 per cent.

Only two years ago, Canadians were buying more than two new Ford-produced cars for every one Chrysler products.

MARKET PROSPECTS

Reports of a United States car crop of considerably smaller proportions than last year have created an interest in Canadian cars and it seems likely that sizable shipments may be made to that country in the months ahead. Over the past year the price of cars in the Winnipeg market has averaged about 10 cents above the Chicago price with the result that only about 1 1 million bushels of Canadian oats have been exported to the U.S. this year as against 14.5 million a year ago. Recently, American interests have been active on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. As at July 1 the U.S. crop was officially estimated at 1,162 million bushels compared with 1,489 million last year but heat and drought may have reduced production to below that level.

It's weather has also caused extensive damage to the U.S. malting barley crop. This should again mean an excellent market for high quality Canadian malting barley for ... but your Canada has shipped some 42 million bushels to that country as against 19 million a year ago.

The flax market has ... despite the anticipation of a large crop in Canada. Prospects in the United States are below the est of a year ago and last winter flax production in Argentina, normally a large producer, was small. Whole prices may not be as good as this year, interests are that there will be a continuing demand for flax.

The rye market is now relatively strong American interests have started to fill the U.S. import quota of some three million bushels and there is a fairly steady export business with continental Europe and Scandinavian countries. Because of extensive winter killing the rye crop in Canada will be comparatively small.

Of considerable concern has been the limited export demand for Canadian wheat. While exports of wheat, sold last winter, have been unusually heavy in recent months forward sales are reported to be discouraging. Recently European countries are not making any large long-term commitments until the size of their crops is actually known. Declining ocean freights have also had some effect on sales.

Farmers Report Damage By Elk In North

The following opinions, written by Mr. J. C. Brown of Cherry Grove, is reprinted from the Bonnyville Tribune where it recently appeared. Mr. Brown is the Secretary of the Association in St. Paul district and has been in this district from the start in the stocking of Elks up north, the interest thus contacted should be of much interest.

The Riverboat local of the FUA called a meeting of the farmers of the district, to consider what could be done about the Elk which are playing havoc with the crops.

The position is serious with some of the farmers already, and if the Elk are not removed and if they are allowed to increase as they naturally will under present-day, the Elk will eventually take over and oust the human race.

This raises the question, which is most valuable to the nation, the farmers and their families or the Elk? This question seems ridiculous but it is more the long run as some farmers realize. Many homes already ruined and the damage continues from day to day. These animals cannot be caught or driven out and even if the latter could be done it is their nature to return to their feeding grounds. There is also no penalty for shooting or destroying the animals and game wardens are not much the have to do. It is understood that the penalty is as much as $500 and as the animals congregate in small herds, what farmer could afford to shoot them, knowing he crops? It would be far more than his farm was worth and would possibly involve a prison sentence.

These animals were originally landed on the north-west shore of Cold Lake, and it was said that three of animals would spread northward and provide shooting for sportsmen from all parts with their willingness wondered into the settlements around Bonnyburst and evidently intend to stay there to the dissatisfaction of the farmer As no ordinary fence will keep them out the farmer has no protection. An inquiry is that the farmers imposed herd law to protect their crops, while these animals protected by the Government are allowed to roam at will.

It was estimated at the meeting that damage done by Elk last year in this district exceeded $5,000. It seems a fair question. Should not those who protect the animals be responsible for the damage caused by them?

After discussing all aspects of the situation the meeting was unanimously compelled by sense to the conclusion that the only way is the question control and limit the crops was to shoot the animals which had settled in the district.

This would require conger of the government, but farmers argue that if the government wants to protect the Elk, and game in general, it should protect them, then the responsibility for damage done to the property should.

At the same meeting some of the farmers complained of noisy mulled spectators in the [illegible] and the [illegible] shooting [illegible] to re-elect [illegible] another damage. Fortunately the farmers were inclined to be lenient in the matter of the damage but evidently points to others who have reason to it.

The officials of the UFA wish to express their appreciation of the co-operation of the [illegible] in their dealing with the latter [illegible] union.

The first time a complete Canadian division has been photographed, this scene shows the First Infantry division, in training at Camp Gagetown, N.B., with 11,000 men on American parade square miles to test their defensive and offensive tactics in atomic warfare. First battalion of the Black Watch will play the part of the enemy in the manoeuvres beginning July 25.

Bonnyville And St. Paul Field Day

Once again it is field day time at the St. Paul and Bonnyville Illustration Stations. An all-morning excursion to the latter announces the date and location of the field day at each of these Illustration Stations.

This year livestock problems will be featured on the program. To discuss diseases and sanitation practices, Dr. H. M. Vance, Veterinary Pathologist at the Veterinary Laboratory, Lacombe, will be present in addition to the instructors. The veterinarian will be giving an talk. He personally will provide time. Showing the field day with an excellent opportunity to present any special problems concerning diseases to him.

Our program also lists Mr. J. G. Stothart, Superintendent of the Lacombe Farm as one of the speakers. A great entertainment may make it impossible for Mr. Stothart to attend however, there will be a representative from the Animal Husbandry Division of the Lacombe Farm present. He will be [illegible] the [illegible] work [illegible] at the Lacombe [illegible] will of course have something to say about the [illegible] present status and [illegible] the future of the Lacombe [illegible] of course [illegible] those attending will take advantage of the opportunity to ask questions of the speaker concerning the care and management of their livestock and to present problems they may have going for a long time.

For my part of the program I will be outlining the work underway and that planned for the future. There will also be a brief discussion of fertilizer results from time and other stations. Interested in the work now under way for a tour of the cereal plots where special differences will be outlined.

REDUCING LOSSES IN GRASSHOPPERS

As every farmer knows insects, plant lice, army worms and rodents are among the most harmful enemies of crops and orchards. They reduce the yield and lower the quality of crops, thereby reducing the net production and income available for agricultural equipment for maintenance and for the family. Insects cause also costly damage to the products due to stock yards and harvesting methods, and in the course of storage, handling and marketing.

James Enormous Losses A group of prominent agriculturists returned last May from a council in Canada attempted to set the staggering amount of $1,250,000,000 each year. According to the Secretary of the National Research Council of Canada, weeds alone are now exacting an annual toll on Canadian agriculture of no less than $400,000,000. This amounts to over $1,000 for every farm in Canada.

Losses Can Be Prevented Remarkable advances have been made in recent years in the field of pest control. The introduction of new and better insecticides, fungicides, weedicides and other pest-control chemicals has provided farmers with the weapons whereby they can effectively and economically control many of our most destructive crop pests. Furthermore, better cultural methods of controlling pests have been devised, and crop varieties possessing more resistance to insect and plant diseases developed.

Reduce Production Costs Today, farmers are compelled to increase the efficiency of their production. They must keep their unit production costs as low as possible. By [illegible] through the utilization of known technical information, the enormous losses caused by crop pests, and marketing more acre to harvesting, storing and handling the products of our prairie farms, we have two highly desirable economic objects: (1) increased total production of higher quality farm products and (2) reduced costs of their production. Let's reduce our losses to agriculture.

MARILYN ARRIVES FOR ATTEMPT TO CONQUER JUAN DE FUCA

In Victoria, B.C., to attempt to swim the difficult Juan de Fuca Straits, Marilyn Bell of Toronto became the first person to swim both of whom have tried the swim and failed. Only one person, Bert Thomas, has ever conquered the treacherous straits of the dozen who have tried. Marilyn appears to be stunned by the attentions spurred by her.

The Last summer days you will be having and could better be using your healthy fruits. Have you exhausted your own collection of salad ideas? Here's a menu of the Salad Bowl. You may pick up a few pointers.

For an interesting salad plate with tomato cup of the bag of the tomato, stuff with cottage cheese mixed with salad dressing. Nothing wasted but a little variety. Serve on lettuce leaves with your own special taste and none of your family will complain. For that hearty of lunch to complete, a salad stew a few grains with... not water. They're good for you as well as good to eat.

Salads are a must to those who must exert their calories are ... ...ortful way to insure those proverbial rosy vegetables and fruits every day.

Easiest, Quickest Green Salad

For a faint whisper of garlic flavor rub chilled bowl with garlic but Pluck apart and break up crisp salad greens and place in bowl. Add attractive wedges of vegetables—fruits, etc. Just before serving, add dressing only enough to make them uneven glisten. Gently toss mixture so that every piece is coated with dressing. Add pass tomato sections at the last. Serve in chilled bowl and you have a beauty or an chilled salad plates. To help remind us to keep adding these healthy greens we have National Salad Week — July 26 to August 4.

Remember — A salad a day!

Lundie's Mission Has Been Formed

A society to be known as Rundle's Mission has been formed to continue the missionary work of the Rev. Robert T. Rundle and of the other pioneer missionaries of the Methodist Church who served within the bounds of present-day Alberta.

The Fifth Annual Memorial Service on the site of the Old Pigeon Lake Mission will be held on Sunday, August 2, commencing at 2:30 o'clock, with the Rev. Reid Vipond, President of the Alberta Conference of the United Church as guest preacher. Several minor will be provided to members of the Edmonton Churches.

In 1840 the Rev. Robert Terrill Rundle was sent out from England under appointment by the Hudson's Bay Company and the Wesleyan Society of London as missionary to the Indians. He was the first Protestant missionary of any church to the bounds of Alberta. While he was stationed with headquarters at Fort Edmonton he travelled extensively to the other forts and to Indian encampments. Becoming convinced of the need of the Indians to grow food and being unable to teach them that skill, he founded an agricultural station at Pigeon Lake in 1847, with Benjamin Sinclair in charge. This was Mr. Rundle's only establishment, the entirely Protestant development and of the Red River settlement. In subsequent years this influential mission was visited by Thomas Woodsy, John McDougall, Peter Campbell, Henry B. Steinhauer and others until 1906.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Ills Of Speed

Space flight no longer can be considered the sole property of science fiction. It is a reality.

Rockets have already punched through the atmosphere to an altitude of more than 250 miles. And even now, engineers of a new breed are launching artificial satellites which will circle the earth.

These are unmanned projects, however. Before any himself can safely roam through space, science must solve a number of unique problems.

Man, for instance, has never been exposed to zero gravation. In space flight he will have left his protective layer of atmosphere behind. Even ordinary rumbles could exert the enormous jibe a chemical rather engineers find cooling devices or so-thetics points to ward it off.

Other staggering hazards are posed by the speed at which man would travel through space and the altitudes he would reach.

At the speed he would be moving, even small particles could penetrate the most armor plate itself put on a vessel, with fatal effect.

Man himself would be frustrated with motion sickness unless potent new anti-motion sickness drugs like Dramamine are made effective at the fantastically high altitudes space travel would entail, for rockets tumble through space in an end-over-end fashion.

A serious problem, but more a psychological one than a physical one, will be the weightlessness man will encounter in space.

Weightlessness is the puzzling condition which exists when the force of gravity has ceased to operate. In space men and materials will have near but no weight. In the opinion of space medicine specialists, weightlessness will not harm the human body much, if at all. But it will take time and conditioning for people to learn to move weightless limbs without overshooting and to enjoy sleeping strapped down.

Until these problems are solved, therefore, man will still travel through space in fancy rather than in fact.

Before then ... it was not until the early 1900's, however, that the name "vitamin" was actually applied to the naturally occurring substances ... since found ... necessary for healthy life processes ... Vitamins are ... other individually or in combination, to combat dietary deficiencies. Some of formulations of vitamins help bolster the patient during especially trying periods of his life. For example, the multi-vitamin ... is specifically designed to ... health requirements of the expectant mother. Also, ABF multi-vitamins have been formulated to fill special needs of the patient under going physical or physiological stress, such as surgery, severe burns, and severe infections.

Vitamins are quite versatile. Having proved those values in medical practice, they have also been put to good use in many industries, including cosmetics, baking, food packaging and photographic supplies.

Some of the vitamins are now being manufactured synthetically and are taking on more the specific needs of the industry in which they are used. One of these, synthetic dry vitamin A, produced by the Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., has been found useful to a skin ointment in cosmetics. It is also used to enrich dry milk and other food products.

It is through the pioneering of the British Navy that we have come to appreciate the versatile vitamins ... say nutrition and boomer iron ...

Health Through Chiropractic

By Dr. E. W. VEINOTTE
CHIROPRACTOR, PUBLIC

The normal peak season for Poliomyelitis, or Infantile Paralysis, is from now until the end of October, so we are entering and ending a good deal ahead in these days.

New theories are being advanced both as to the cause and cure of the disease.

Polio is a disease of the spinal cord. In its final stages the nerve cells are destroyed and replaced by scar tissue. Some authorities state that since these cells have been destroyed, and some nerves do not regenerate in the spinal cord, chronic cases have no hope of recovery.

Chiropractic results on such cases prove that Nature must have alternative channels to utilize unless complete recovery can be made in some cases, with substantial improvement in others, provided the nervous system is functioning properly.

Results of a survey on Chronic Polio under Chiropractic care in the United States have just been released. In the group surveyed 55 per cent were males, and 45 per cent females. The average length of time the condition had existed was ten years, and the average length of time under Chiropractic care was 100 days. Final results show that 63.1 per cent made complete recovery, 26.3 per cent were much improved, 5.2 per cent were slightly improved, and 3.3 per cent recorded no change in condition.

While cures are good, prevention is much better. With such a splendid record of restoring health to so many sufferers from Chronic Polio it is remarkable to ... that Chiropractic can be ... in preventing it by ... during these dangerous days in ... of any time of the year, but ... particularly now—you would be ... a friend to protect yourself ... your family of good health ... by regular visits to your Chiropractor.

Sport, Fishing and Seasonal Hunting Along With Tourist Industry Bring Millions Yearly To Alberta Citizens

The year round sport of fishing and seasonal hunting play an important part in the economy of Alberta. It is estimated by trivial agents and experienced anglers that well over $12,000,000 is spent in the province annually. In 1964, a total of $184,000 in the province was spent.

In the current summer season it is expected that more than 40,000 men, women and children will crowd Alberta's lakes and streams in the hopes of catching more than their share of the limit. With the opening of the hunting season this fall 70,000 hunters will clean up their rifles and shotguns for a record shoot of game birds and big game.

Each year more and many visitors from other parts of Canada and the United States are coming to Alberta to look and hunt. Some come fully equipped, others spend hundreds of dollars here on good sport.

In 1964, the last year for which records are available, non-resident and Canadian tourists poured $35,743 into provincial coffers in license fees alone. There is no national or provincial breakdown available for fishing licenses but it is estimated well over 30,000 guests took to the water in that one year more of them visitors.

The average weekend and special game bird hunting trip taken by visitors will last for approximately one week while big game parties will take up to two weeks in some of the land. It is estimated that every hunter will spend a minimum of $20 per day while in Alberta. This is divided between guide services (now compulsory under changes made in the Game Act), food, lodging, gas and incidentals. The figure does not include the cost of ammunition, guns, extra warm clothing and souvenirs.

Ammunition sales in 1964 met 922 American and 386 non-American Canadians who purchased game bird licenses approximately $35,000. In addition to that they spent $184,000 in the province on ammunition.

Tourist big game hunters, 81 Americans and 4 Canadians in 1964, spent nearly $10,000 on license fees and approximately $30,000 on other needs while in the province.

Tourist fishermen outnumber the visiting hunters but figures are not available to show to what extent. It has been estimated, however, that a visiting fisherman will spend an average of $20 per day while in the province. This includes cost of boat and motor rental, accommodation and food (except in cases where the purchase is made in sporting goods stores or expenditure on entertainment clothes, souvenirs.

Retailers say it is not unusual for a visiting fisherman to walk into a store and purchase up to $50 of equipment for a week's fishing trip.

Of interest to the Alberta is the fact that the money spent here by tourist sportsmen buys meals, fuel, fuel, gas, etc., and other produce from farmers; it is spent on clothes and souvenirs, on entertainment, accommodation, and a host of other things.

A few Alberta sportsmen may find it hard to believe and say that they slaughter the province's game. The truth is always with us. Not more than 5 per cent of Alberta and then only a few are allowed to take more than he limit.

Residents of the province are not as free and easy with their money as visitors, according to those directly connected in the fishing and hunting trade but they too, spend thousands of dollars annually.

It is estimated that an enthusiastic fisherman may invest hundreds of dollars in equipment but the most complete is about $50 Most of these are "weekend" anglers who will travel on an average 150 miles on a two-day fishing expedition a week" about $10 per day.

About 30,000 Alberta fishermen spend an average of 14 days fishing during the period of one year and leave an estimated $3,000,000 in circulation. This includes travelling expenses, cost of boat rentals, accommodation and food but not the cost of new equipment.

Sporting goods men estimate that an angler will invest a minimum of $10 yearly in new lures, baits and tackle. The tackle and lure business has made trade

There are many avid game hunters in the province that I have met and these sportsmen invest much more than anglers. An average part of equipment is $150 including a shotgun, necessary clothing, gun, etc. In one season he will spend an average of $60 on shells. Taking this into account that in 1964 there were nearly 60,000 resident bird game licenses sold, these hunters spent $2,000,000 on ammunition alone.

Alberta big game hunters 3,000 in 1964 must equip themselves for equipment than the bird hunter. They require scopes, telescopic sights, equipment and ammunition. Some will spend more than that. Some have been known to buy a small truck and camper to use for the hunting trip. The result of their hunting trip

Hundreds of all types will spend an average of seven days hunting during one season at an average cost of $12 per day including transportation, food, lodging etc. This amounts to an annual expenditure of $3,600,000

All told, tourists and natives spend approximately $12,246,177 annually in Alberta as income of both game hunting and fresh water fishing. The days 300 includes the $10,500,00 that is invested in equipment by provincial sportsmen

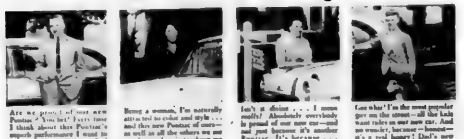
Meet the NEW boss of the family!



Are we proud of your new Pontiac? You bet! Isn't it time I think about that Pontiac's superb performance I want to get on and start driving. And style! . . . comfort! . . . roominess! Well, you had it all! And when you get your Pontiac you'll say it, too. It's great . . . simply great!

Being a woman, I'm naturally attracted to color and style . . . and the new Pontiac of ours—as well as all the others we see on the roads—is touching me lots of new truck with color and design. Pontiac's trim good looks make it easy to "dress up" so. That's important and very pleasant!

Isn't it divine . . . I mean really! Absolutely everybody is proud of our new car—and no just because it's another Pontiac. It's because . . . well, it's a little hard to explain, but I guess it's because our Pontiac gives you the ride of a real good car. I mean . . . really!

Can who? I'm the most popular guy on the street—all the kids want rides in our new car. And I'm much prouder of my Pontiac as a real beauty! Dad's new Pontiac is even better than the last one . . . and he's been getting Pontiac for a long, long time. When I'm old enough to earn a car, it'll be a Pontiac, too!

Add a lift to your family living . . .

LEE NIVELS

"Harmonica's Homeroll" and your genial master of ceremonies. This is Lee's first trip into Canada and is looking forward to playing to our very receptive Canadian audiences. Lee has done considerable Fair Work in the past, having played for the Hammer-Carruthers Office of Chicago on their Fair Circuits and for the past five years has worked with the Wheeler-Pitman Office of Denver. Besides the very important job of presenting the individual acts on "Parade of Stars" Lee will also have a spot on the line up of the show — bringing music of such variety and range from Classics to Jazz and the talent of the Pop Tunes. Lees personable manner and humorous banter will certainly add to your enjoyment, during the performance of this show at the St. Paul Fair August 3rd. and 4th.

CAR-ROADEO AND SAFETY

It has been proved that lack of driving knowledge is one of the basic causes of traffic accidents. To offset this condition and to make drivers and pedestrians equally aware of this basic knowledge, a Car Roadeo was sponsored in St Paul last week, under the auspices of the provincial government and the patronage of the St Paul Junior Chamber of Commerce

The event rolled off in dramatic manner, both from the point of driver competition and the large audience on hand to witness the spectacle.

It was evident that many of the drivers themselves were not too conscious about many of the rules of the road and safe driving manoeuvres. The experience gained in the competition has given invaluable training and knowledge to them. The crowd including without a doubt many drivers, and other persons interested learned a lot about driving and ability required to be a good motorist. Many of the hints of the above will every currently which is bound to be followed by research and better understanding of driving problems.

The greater part of the success of this first Car-Roadeo is due the drivers who volunteered in the competitions without knowing just what they were getting into and how to do it. Nick Krau, was behind the right hill when he was elected to be the first contestant and although he did reasonably well some of the natural mistakes he made as pioneer of the rodeo trail, were observed and helped his competitors along the course.

We were pleased to note the entry of two girls, Miss Rita and Alice Cote to deserve a lot of credit for venturing forth. Girls are timid about these driving abilities because of the incessant joking attitude from men and it took courage Congratulations to them and the part they played in making the Roadeo a success.

The Jaycees plan to make this an annual event and possibly will organize a truck Roadeo as well. No better cause and promotion could be supposed for the raise of traffic safety.

WHO DID IT AND WHY?

Taking advantage of dark storing weather, last Friday, some low, smashing dog or a thief made away with the Editor's two shiny high class rear vane mirrors.

Bold as can be, invading the private driveway at home, the nocturnal visitor, neatly unscrewed the mirrors without leaving a scratch or a clue except the two barren spots marking the positions formerly occupied by the mirrors

That puts us right in Bob Broda's class, this worthy crying the loss of a wheel and tire removed in much the same manner while his car was also parked in front of his residence

WATER SAFETY COURSE

Two hundred and twenty-four registered for the Red Cross Swimming Courses held this week at Lake St. Vincent. Although they didn't all turn up, probably cooled off by the weather, the responses in all emergences was good.

The adults especially took to the water like ducks, including a flock of mere old ladies, splashing in merrily in take the preliminary laundry.

At the course progresses thing the weak, technique will develop to the point where it is estimated a good number will have learned to swim reasonably well, within the week, or at least have grasped the fundamentals which can teach them later

The courses are proving valuable for beginners and semi-experienced swimmers as well. Besides learning to swim, the instructors have been briefing the students on many phases of water safety For instance, the necessity of wearing only many bathers, reshaped—the proper way to immerse oneself in the water before a swim. Do not duck madly in or dive into cold water. The contrast and change of temperature may cause sudden cramps and an elderly persons has often ended into heart seizure. The students were advised to walk in slowly to the waist run water on the stomach, arms, back of the neck and to gradually submerge the body to accept the temperature of the water without shock

Thirty-five adults is a good registration, but more interest would not hurt the water safety program. A strobe or two can often save a life.

If you haven't got your feet wet this year, plan to make the plunge next year. Remember a lot of fun you will get good experience

CROP REPORT

Crops continue to make excellent progress over all of Alberta says the latest Alberta Wheat Pool crop report Reports are generally favorable although in some areas growth is uneven because of poor germination due to early drouth in May and June. In all districts growth was good during the past week the average height of wheat having risen 6 inches to the present 24

Recent rainfall has been confined to showers and many points which did not receive rain will need some soon if heads are to fill well. These are chiefly in the southern half of the province the district immediately north of Edmonton and parts of the Peace River district Only 11 stations reported deterioration due to poor moisture conditions. Two of these are in the southern Peace River area and the rest in the east-central district where sub-soil moisture is lowest

IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD

It's a woman's world, to the words of a popular tune goes. Just ask Bernard Richard of Reinard's Dancering to prove that statement.

Faced with an unprecedented number of painting contracts brought about by the school building boom, Bernard pressed for assistance in the "St. Paul Journal" and through its classified advertising columns called for extra painters to complete the jobs on specific deadlines.

There wasn't too much response from the male population and the situation to prevail until the painting deadline received a call from a lady, and journeyman painter at that, who volunteered her services along with that of five other girls to form a painting working crew

And the girls are not afraid to dig a little paint on themselves They looked the jobs with enthusiasm and despatch and according to our information are doing a comparable job with that of any man

That's one method of solving the men shortage

Dear Editor

The benches of Pauh Lake where many of the best fishing and bathing and camping in this part of Alberta is to be found is fre-quented by the multitudes during the summer months.

These people come from near and far to enjoy the facilities offered with its long sandy shorelines

Some draw back re-sort place are very noticeable namely the poor road which leads in to the lake and the absence of right to guide strangers, boarists and the general travelling public.

Consequently some weeks take, the writer undertook to make and put up some signs to partly rectify this condition.

On Sunday, July 22nd , travellers to the lake noticed that ruthless had been at work. Signs and post had completely disappeared Who that outrage?

The perpetrators of this foul good may view their handiwork with unsatisfiable pride, but the travelling public and in particular, the people of this north central country, take no pleasure in such unchristianlike acts.

In this world it seems a sad fact that the vast majority of law abiding citizens must be victimized by these few irresponsible characters.

Instead of damage and destruction these individuals would be better advised to work for the betterment of roads, signs and services etc ; where our beauty and natural resources are concerned Let us always remember that these taken and services by them, are after all, ours and a large source of revenue, food and pleasure

Respectfully Subjected,
A Bugden Observer

Terry LaBoucane Takes First In Car Roadeo Competitions

Louis Lebaumeau, driving a 1956 Chevrolet, equipped with power brakes, at 20 miles per hours, took 14 feet and nine inches to react after the gun and a further 34 feet, on strike to stop, requiring a total of 48 feet, seven inches, he being the one to complete standard.

The test is conducted with the aid of a device which fires a shot when chalk line on the road as a signal to commence breaking and another shot on release of the pedal is determined marking off the reaction time.

The show, the first of its kind in St Paul was well received by the crowd

WORK BEGINS ON PIPELINE IN PRAIRIES

—Courtesy Press Canadian

— Canada's $379,000,000 natural gas pipeline project moved from the controversial to the construction stage on July 11 when actual work began on the first leg of the 2,250 mile trans-Canada operations. Construction started 20 miles north of Swift Current, Sask., and Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., builders of the line, hope to have the first leg, 375 miles to Winnipeg, completed by Dec. 1. Whether they can meet the deadline depends on the duration of the Ld sized strike. Here two hydro-skilled welders work on one of the most important steps in laying the pipeline. The finished weld must be stronger than the original pipe or the [illegible] does the like.

What Are Co-ops ?

DEMOCRATIC ASSOCIATION

A co-operative is a voluntary democratic association of people of any color, class creed or political affiliation, organized to provide quality goods or services to the members at prices [illegible] any surplus accruing from the business operations being returned in proportion of use or patronage."

FREE ENTERPRISE

It is the right free of free enterprise in that, for a very nominal investment, any person can become part owner of a business, and share the risks, responsibilities and benefits according to the use he or she makes of its services

SOCIAL ENTERPRISE

It is a social enterprise, as that ownership, control, operation and benefits are shared by the group

Vermilion Business Men Are In Opposition To Lloyd Radio Station

Vermilion business men experienced a lot in the various lines of selling trades have a very firm view of the proposal for the installation of a radio broadcasting station at Lloydminster. At a meeting held in the Legion Hall to discuss the matter eighteen representatives of almost as many businesses, decided that the matter was vital to their own business and that action opposing the granting of licence should be taken. Each business representative could not be present as they were going by delegation from town that evening, but stated that they were in complete accord with the action taken by the Commission, with the addition of a few suggested improvements by Vice Lord Bessborough, chairman of

Car and Truck Collision On St. Vincent Road

Road Treacherous Trail Of Winding Dangerous Hills

By J. G. Drouin

The automotive Lake St. Vincent road section of a head on collision, details of a car and a half ton truck last Sunday afternoon. While I was going to see other sports activities afternoon, at the beach was married to the automobile.

Mrs. Florence Stinson was driver of a 1953 Dodge while the half ton pickup truck is the property of Mr. Joseph Ongenaith of Armstrong, B.C. Mrs. Stinson was returning from the lake with her daughters Louise and Mabel. Also in the car in the back seat were Harriet Pete, Isabelle Sandercock. Mr. Frank Velasch and Mrs. Velasch of Cherbyre accompanied Ongenaith.

The drivers of the two vehicles involved were definitely not aware of each others presence as they came around a sharp hairpin turn in the road. The accident occurred approximately one and a half miles from the beach. At this point the road is very narrow and also enclosed by dense brush which corners the road side. To this condition add a slimy slippery surface and you have the scene of the accident.

The only injury occurred was to Louise Stinson Head lacerations and cuts about the face were received by the child at the time of the impact as she flew into the windshield. She was rushed to the hospital where she was confined for further observation.

Damage to both vehicles was extensive The left front fender, entire grille laden, windshield, hood and left wheel of the car were all twisted and wrinkled. Extensive damage at the time we left the scene $200.00. The truck appeared as though a bugs flat had descended upon the driver's side, crushing the fender, grille and wheel. The estimate was placed at over $300.00. In this case insurance was carried.

The estimated speed of the vehicles involved was around twenty miles per hour. However, due to the road conditions an instantaneous stop which would have been required to avoid the accident was impossible.

Constables Walter Clark and Ralph Ray investigated the mishap and on duty were laid.

It may also be added that on Saturday, a 1949 Meteor also was heavily damaged on the same piece of road. In this case the driver lost control of the car, lost the sharp curve and rolled.

It cannot be stressed enough that the lake road is one of the most treacherous roads in this part of the country and extreme caution should be taken when driving over it. A safety practice which may be a most effective is blowing your horn when coming upon one of those blind corners.

BEFORE THE RAINS CAME AT THE FAIR

St. Paul's Annual Exhibition, rained out completely Friday and Saturday, at least got away with a short and the morning parade which is seen above marching downtown to music supplied by the RCAF Band, Cold Lake Station and a contingent by a fair number of spectators. Leading the parade, all dignitaries below in an open convertible had the promising a good showboard. Left to right, Ben. Ray Reierson, minister of Industries and Labour, Rudolph Lafrance, President of the St. Paul Agricultural Society and Alec Tannas is doing the driving. Back seat, all directors. Wm. Parkinson, Wm. Sutton, and G. Hrevelanga.

St Paul's 31st Annual Fair and Exhibition was completely rained out, it rained right and by one of the worst thunder showers in over but the country side Friday afternoon, continuing into a steady downpour on Saturday.

Only part of the program allowed to proceed was the opening parade on the morning. The midway was cancelled on account of mud and the grandstand performances had to be put indoors but of this was by transferring the acts to the arena for a matinee and evening show Saturday.

Under a dark threatening dull grey overcast the parade got under way with a cavalcade of gaily decorated floats, cheers and Allies in Wonderland figures. Approximately 2200 persons lined both sides of the main street to view the gaily-trimmed motorcade as it passed.

Honorable Ray Reierson, Minister of Industries and Labour led the parade in an open convertible. With him were the officials and other dignitaries of the Agricultural Association. Seated beside Mr. Reierson was President Mr. Rudolph Lafrance. Directors and officials of the fair took vehicles and directors Mr. G. Hrevelanga, Mr. W. Sutton and Mr. W. S. Parkinson occupied the back seat.

In all, twelve floats were entered by different merchants and organizations in the town. This year, no official judging of floats as in previous years was conducted Mr Walter Lambert was parade marshal.

The Volunteer RCAF Cold Lake Band under the direction of Bruce Major Corporal Mr. Porter, supplied the musical music. with recorded the music. The band, consisting of 24 members, performed in the parade previously without a flaw.

The flavor of the old west was present in the Pioneer Ranch Rodeo rode behind their leader, Mr. Henry Henry, astride a beautiful Palomino, showed the same expert horsemanship which he has displayed in the years gone by. Ranch hands Bob Lafrance, Vic Lafrance and Lorne Lambert and Miss Lorraine of Mary Lou Cumberland, rounded out the entry.

The Darling Ladies' Wear entry was next in line Mrs. Kay Guthrie, showing years of practice, had also taken an experienced hand at the reins. Seven students constructed by beautiful girls in latest beach apparel received much applause

The St. Paul Little Leaguers all decked out in their baseball uniforms presented an eye catching array of the future sports figures who will be upholding the name of this fair town in years to come. The entry was sponsored by Sales and Service manager D. Lamb Beaudoin's Lumbery Brothers, also supporters of the Darling Ladies' Wear and Gaetz Beaudoin's.

Independent Meeting pictured the entry of Independent Meeting with a bath. Joe Smits was the recipient of the Easter bonnet and all other tenors of a deluge

The flower decked display from of the Donald Cafe depicted a group of customers being served by charming and efficient waitresses. This entry was by far the one which required the most effort to construct. It was greeted by a rabid hail of applause

The Fish and Game Association showed one of all the numerous fish which may be found in Alberta's numerous lakes in the many bodies of water surrounding this district. The entry was piloted by the new veteran Warm Lake ever-popular Mr. Paul Cormain. Robert Brown, Ray Pulkrabek and Albert Bernier, Directors accompanying year was aboard the motorized army Jeep by Jean Cadres Motors, supporters and members of the Knat Hill Gang had a group early cheer leaders atop a hot-blessed platform The Co-op Super Market entry dispersed goodies, balloons and other gifts to the many rabid eyed youngsters along the parade route Tagging along behind the fleet were two prime ribbed blue ribbon bulls who raised many hoots of laughter and glee as they performed their antics

Community Hardware had an entry of decorated vehicles advertising their merchandise. The entries were distributors of fuel oils They were Wm. Rose, Ba. Oils and Great West Distributors

Red Cross Swimming And Safety Courses At St. Vincent Lake Conclude With Award Presentations

Successful Inspite Of Rainy Interludes; 225 Young Boys and Girls, 40 Adults Enlist

Suffering in the wake of Friday and Saturday rain storms, the Red Cross Water Swimming campaign in the form of courses at St. Vincent Lake, nevertheless concluded in successful fashion.

Over 225 young boys and girls and forty adults attended lakeside, and swimmers, classes and instructors at all added something to their ability and strength in water safety in preparation for future competition should they ordinarily come up.

Courses conducted by the provincial Command of the Red Cross were under the sponsorship of the local branch, presided over by Mrs. Harold Bowen, with the help of Local Lotsettes

On Sunday, the swimmers lined up to receive awards presented to the beginner classes by Mrs. Bowen. Presented buttons for those progress are

Total estimated for the current year of $198,868.86.

Requisitions have been received from the following and approved of in the sum of: St. Paul School District No. 2260 $43,439.90 Glen Avon Separate School District No. 5 $15,766.75. St. Paul Municipal Hospital District No. 27 $7,193.85; and for Municipal purposes, $84,281.86.

The mill rate has been established on the same basis as last year and will remain at 38 — for school purposes 20, Hospital 5, Municipal 13.

Another general assessment is planned this fall for 1957 levy.

Stocking Of Pond Reserves Is Wise Thing To Do

By CAM BROWN, D.A.

There is only one thing to be said about this topic this year — put as much as possible away. There is no reserve — if we have a severe winter the present feed situation might prove disastrous. So put up all the crops and hay possible. So far hay making has been bad due to the rain — the quality is down which is also bad. Remember, there is no reserve so use every opportunity to obtain feed and straw.

Council Considering Five Tenders For Water and Sewer

The Council meeting in special session Monday opened five tenders for water and sewer extensions for the recently annexed south side region.

The five bids, one brothered by Dauvet and Wetboth of St. Paul, ranged from the highest of $37,773 to $25,566, the lowest.

Council did not make any definite consideration of the tenders but will do so at other times of a deluge

Testing For TB In Municipality Nearly Complete

32 Reactors Found In 19,000 Head

With one more week to go for completion of the Municipal District of St. Paul No. 19 TB Testing program, Dr R N Salt of the Federal Health Division reported that 19,000 head of livestock have been covered.

To date, 32 reactors were found and these within a few days will be slaughtered. The record according to the Act, the owners bring compensation for the loss.

It is estimated the program will be completed in two weeks also that there are about 500 more head to be tested.

In all reported that as a whole the co-operation of farmers had been good allowing the program to proceed rapidly. One month had been spent on the project, but heavy rains also set back some schedules in the movement of the 10 veterinarians in the country.

Dr. George Bonnyak of St. Paul and Dr. Ritzmer of Bonnyville were the district veterinarians, stayed on as part time testers to help with the work.

The 32 reactors of 19,000 head are considered very low, although within reasonable average.

When reports on the TB Testing program are officially recorded and the municipality becomes an accredited TB area, no livestock will be allowed in the district unless they are from T.B. tested before entry. Under the restricted regulations cattle would be permitted to without the test, although it was pointed out they be examined later at the convenience of officers and the farmer.

The officials from the Federal government of the Animals Health Division wish to express their appreciation to the farmers of St. Paul and District for the co-operation and help rendered which made the work more pleasant.

EXHIBITION TROUBLE

With regular motorboby the weather main took another crack at St. Paul's exhibition and ruined it out completely last Friday and Saturday.

The show got off with a smaller than usual parade, but what was in it proved entertaining and meritorious. The Mundare Royal Canadian Sirens was described by patrons as one of the best to have ever let St Paul and it is too bad they were that given a chance to make suppears on the way.

Bob De Pauli was able to break even by transferring his grandstand attractions to the south where a full crowd filtered through the entrance and had the thing conditioned.

The Agricultural Society did not make any money, but maybe all the losers did not stand to lose very much this year There was no guarantee to the entertainment troupe and the midway pood off a small percentage. Possibly the only expense in the one-day advertising and incidental expenses connected with the organization.

There has been a marked decrease of interest in the promotion of the fair and the committee of the exhibition have promised We have heard many comments from the farmers themselves, town business men on the subject, and of course have a few of our own.

Some farmers feel that the Fair has outlived its usefulness and should be replaced by some other type of agricultural promotion, possibly larger spring and fall shows for the sale of livestock. The exhibition has led to a disastrous lack fo interest on the part of the farmers, who presents the fair and in whose interest it is being staged.

From the point of the town, an annual celebration like St. Paul is a desirable event to promote agriculture and to bring extra business in farmgs and and trade which were fertilized last year and as pasture fertilizer tests put down in 1955. It also observed reports Mr R. Pharo, Alberta's Supervisor for Crop Improvement Services, fertilizer made the difference between a good crop and a poor crop. Such responses to fertilizer have been reported the past in all Alberta's major soil types. Black, Grey and Grey

Wilmer killing last season was more severe than in most years But the possibility of reducing winter losses by forage stands through the application of fertilizer is worthy of consideration. Fertilizer should be applied sufficiently early in the season to be at work in the plant before growth resumes in most years fertilizer forage crops will pay dividends in increased yields and feed value even though winter killing may not occur The use of fertilizer is a necessity on the grey wooded soils if profitable yields are to be realized

PRICE SUPPORT POLICY

Pointing out that the Canadian Government has spent $100,000,000 on supporting farm prices in the last ten years, The Financial Post calls the policy "tatious and fallacious."

For dealing with an emergency situation, says The Post, like the outbreak of foot and mouth disease that suddenly closed the American market for our beef and beef cattle, the price support machinery is justified. No reasonable person would have wished to see our important cattle industry wrecked But as a permanent policy, price-supporting is of dubious value indeed, even for those products are supported

RADIO RECEPTION

If there is anything that will make a person lose his hair it is static interrupting his favorite radio program or the reception of an important news broadcast or other feature

And that is exactly a situation that exists in some parts of this town This week, we, one of the many who have been afflicted with interruptions, made an investigation to determine the cause

Cruising around in a car equipped with radio we patrolled under power lines, telephone line and close to other factors which might have an influence After several hours of this sleuthing we came to the conclusion that telephone lines are the biggest and the most common offenders

Crashing along certain avenues and streets the reception was perfect until the car drove under telephone wires. Moving away slowly, the static increased to nothing. On corners where the lines make the turn, the reception gets worse and responsible, proving that homes with sets in those locations get to hear nothing

The telephone sets are more sensitive and consequently give poorer reception Small static will not affect them

The Department of Transport has regulations which cover the installation of power lines so by specifications to prevent this sort of thing We suggest an investigation by the telephone company here in town and proper adjustment in order that reception can be improved to Canada's standards

SOIL FERTILITY

To get something out you have to put something in. And the rule pays off as the following examples prove

Well fed cattle and rust clover plants apparently withstand winter weather better than plants which do not receive fertilizer Winter survival of clover has been spectacular in forage and cereal fields which were fertilized last year and on pasture fertilizer tests put down in 1955. Dr. James observer reports Mr R. Pharo, Alberta's Supervisor for Crop Improvement Services, fertilizer made the difference between a good crop and a poor crop. Such responses to fertilizer have been reported the past in all Alberta's major soil types. Black, Grey and Grey

Wilmer killing last season was more severe than in most years But the possibility of reducing winter losses by forage stands through the application of fertilizer is worthy of consideration. MORE BUSINESS TAX

Canadian business is in danger of having to every an increasing proportion of the tax burden from now on, writes the Ottawa Correspondent of The Financial Post Increasing concentration on business taxes is foreseen as a result of the new federal-provincial tax plan now being debated in the House of Commons.

The new legislation may, in addition, have these effects, according to some close observers:

To put a floor under corporation income taxes at their present level, eliminating the possibility of reduction at least until 1960.

To establish a strong probability of higher taxes on company incomes, by encouraging provinces to get additional revenue from this source.

To stimulate a search for new ways of taxing business assets.

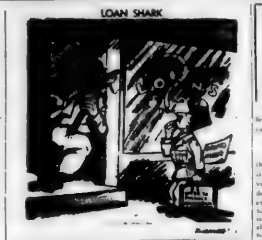
To establish a strong probability of higher taxes on company incomes, by encouraging provinces to get additional revenue from this source.

To stimulate a search for new ways of taxing business assets.



A comparison between the census 1950 and 1955 provides us with a good indication of the spectacular rate at which the Canadian economy is expanding. In these, the Fabulous Fifties

The market value of goods and services produced by Canadians in 1955 — the Gross National Product or the investments are pleased to call it — was nearly 50 per cent greater than it was five years earlier In other words, a larger working population, more investment capital more factories and improved overall efficiency all combined to produce nearly a one-fourth real-real wealth than in 1950.

Thus, prices have risen over the same period but, even allowing for this, the performance remains a most impressive one And, at present, among the economy as a whole there is hardly anything which isn't way way up above the 1950 level

Our actual population, for example is up 18 per cent, the number of people working is nearly seven per cent The personal income of Canadians, like the Gross National Product, is up 50 per cent. Wages in manufacturing have risen some 37 per cent more than double the boost in the Consumer Price Index.

But dwarfing everything else is the staggering increase in both personal income paid and government spending Here, the rise between 1950 and 1955 is not a mere 25 per cent, 50 per cent or even 75 per cent. Nothing so modest The governments in 1955 took and spent nearly 100 per cent more of the Canadian taxpayer's money than it did in 1950.

Perfect on that for a moment of time, eh?

And what's someone is sure to be asking by now, "what about the deficit?" Let's hear how much they've gone up? To be sure for if the man in the street were given a dozen guesses at the exact percentage increase in 1955 manufacturing profits over 1950 he'd still be wrong And for a very good reason they weren't up at all.

In fact, at $618 million they were actually $6 million down on the 1950 figure, taxes having taken a good half of the total And when you remember that the 1950 dollar was worth only 82 cents at the end of 1955, it doesn't require a degree in mathematical science to compute the real drop in manufacturing profits of nearly 15 per cent

Thus, of 1955 after five years of almost uninterrupted expansion, the amount and value of our profit earnings on manufacturing available for reinvestment and payment of dividends to those who had loaned their savings were considerably below that of 1950

Amazing, but true

Controversy about need for expansion of defence policy tends to revolve about the somewhat dubious supposition that the existence of weapons means that "there is no alternative to peace."

Rather thing was said by people back in the nineteen-twenties The ultimate weapon of the day was a gas — the very said, would make war too terrible and conflict a still result in the total annihilation of the warring powers.

Yet World War 2 broke out in 1939, and the supposed ultimate deterrent to armed conflict — poison gas — was not used by either side. The war was long and terrible

The crucial question in the defence controversy is not whether or not "there is no alternative to peace" because of the terrible nature of nuclear warfare. Rather, what needs to be pondered, assuming that the free world were to disarm, and war were to break out, and neither the West nor the USSR were to use nuclear weapons, is which side would stand the best chance of winning.

Importance of Sterilization

It is necessary to destroy the organisms of spoilage before storage, since certain forms of very resistant bacteria are not destroyed by boiling temperatures except in acid vegetables such as tomatoes Non-acid vegetables such as peas beans corn should always be processed in a pressure cooker at the full recommended processing time. Processing in a boiling water bath There are two required to sterilize the contents of the most common methods among which is the boiling bath in which containers which cover completely during the full period processing is 30 per cent Less. The boiling bath is used or described by manufacturers of this

OBSERVE COURTESY OF ROAD DURING SUMMER HOLIDAY SEASON

This is the period of the year when the long week-ends of civic holidays are the custom in some parts of the country It is also the time when a still greater number of motor traffic surges over streets and highways in transport thousands of vacation seekers.

The Alberta Safety Council stresses the need of observing courtesy and the greatest care for safety in every way to prevent accidents

During the holiday months there are many fatal accidents and numerous citizens are caused physical injuries, some of a permanent nature

The margin between having an accident and avoiding one is very narrow Observance of safety is always would supplied accidents by better driving results.

Four rules for a safe holiday are listed by the Safety Council The number of accidents during a holiday period could be drastically reduced if every motorist would remember and practice these rules:

1 Show all motorists and pedestrians the courtesy you would have them show you.

2 Obey the letter and spirit of all traffic laws.

3 Don't try to drive too far or too fast on a holiday.

4 If you must celebrate with alcoholic beverages, don't drive at all.

A prominent hospital authority has said that if it were not for drinking drivers, the emergency stations in hospitals would have little to do at night

Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road is a good slogan at all times.

The four greatest immediate causes of highway accidents are 1 speed; 2 violation of the rules of the road; 3 alcoholic influence; 4 ignoring of safe driving practices

Eighty-five percent of all accidents are caused by human faults It is the human element that is to be feared.

"Take it easy and live," says the Alberta Safety Council

Cars Next Year Flashier With More Body Style

Cars of 1957 will be longer, lower and flashier

The variety of color, chrome and general body style will be greater than in the past The long, low look is more in vogue than ever

Prices probably will be a little higher.

The buyer trend to more extras and slightly more expensive cars will continues So will the boom in four-door hardtops.

Black will continue its comeback as a popular color More cars will have gold grilles

Most 1957's will have 14-in tires instead of 15 The new tires will be slightly wider, take lower air pressure They'll lower the car's centre of gravity, adding to safety and lending themselves to the low look.

At least one one is expected to usher a fuel injection system in-volving direct delivery of fuel into the cylinder, eliminating the carburetor.

Health Through Chiropractic

By DR. E. W. TENOVE

Look To Your Bones

When sickness comes we complain of gall bladder trouble, stomach ulcer, diabetes or sometimes cancer. Very few of us look to our spines and pause, and wonder why the pain comes on the gall bladder or the kidneys are not behaving as well as they did a month ago.

Most 1957's will have 14-in tires instead of 15 The new tires will be slightly wider, take lower air pressure They'll lower the car's centre of gravity, adding to safety and lending themselves to the low look.

At least one one is expected to usher a fuel injection system in-volving direct delivery of fuel into the cylinder, eliminating the carburetor.

No part of the body functions all itself And all the body's regular organs, muscles and tissues are co-ordinated to function as a unit, controlled and directed by the direction of the nervous system. When any segment of the body fails in its part of the general tones play, the cause and cure is to be found in the nerve supplying the affected area. There has been an interference to the flow of nerve impulses to that particular section of the body Without an adequate supply of these essential impulses no organ, gland, muscle or tissue cell can function properly.

Obviously the nervous system is all-important. That is why the Chiropractor devotes all his attention to it. No matter what your particular type of sickness may be the true cause of it is the failure of some part of your nervous system to function properly. Chiropractors are specially trained to discover and remove all interference to the full and free distribution of essential impulses over the nerves, and good health returns as due course.

There is nothing mysterious or difficult about being healthy All that is required is a properly functioning nervous system. Chiropractic will make sure of that, and keep you healthy — simply and inexpensively.

Value Of Wheat Crop Increased

Statistics show us at a glance the trend agriculture is taking upward or downward A comparative statement showing the production and value of agricultural products for Alberta in 1954 and 1955 has just been released by the extension service of the Department of Agriculture says R. R. English, Alberta's Agricultural Statistician These statistics reveal the general state of the farming industry for the years reviewed on. This statement contains a summary of the acreage, yield, production and value of principle field crops

In comparison with 1954 fewer acres were seeded to wheat than in 1955 — on a decline of approximately 2.5 per cent. However, the yield increased 5.4 bus per acre from 17.9 bushels in 1954 This increased production from 186 million bushels in 1954 to 193 million bushels in 1955 From 1954 to 1955 the total value of the wheat crop increased by 42 million dollars

Turning to livestock and livestock products the figures reveal increases in the majority of cases However, the value of hog production from $77,500,000 in 1954 to $73,181,000 in 1955. The reduction was owing to a decrease in value from about $43 to $35 per head

Hints On Harvesting Malting Barley In St. Paul District

By CAM BROWN, B.A.

Although this area does not produce great amounts of malting barley some barley of malting grades is shipped every year. Olli and Montcalm are the two varieties which predominate in the St. Paul area. Olli is probably grown more than Montcalm because of its early maturity. These two varieties, along with C.A.C. 21 are the only varieties eligible for malting grades.

In the past malting barley have not actually yielded as much as the feed varieties but Montcalm has outyielded even under most conditions although it is weak in the straw and subject to some disease. A new variety, Montcalm shortstraw, the Dominion Experimental Station in Manitoba, possesses the desirable characteristics of Montcalm and is eligible for malting grades. It will presently be available for limited distribution next spring.

In the area barley should be malting grades the farmer very well. Barley needed only a level to fair degree of purity. Barley the cheapest form for boar grazing in Western Canada. Apart from the barley in the round form, becomes crippled a malt, especially in the

In the future if a malting variety will yield as much as the best feed grains it is certain that the malting variety will be the variety that will be grown rather than the feed varieties.

In harvesting malting barley care must be taken in combining or thrashing not to have the hull (or the kernel as the case may be) malting quality. Hence it is the right to leave short straw in the field rather than to have the grain out of the field, thereby damaging the hull. In addition to this careful adjustment of the cylinder and the fanning of the grain is necessary. A slower cylinder speed will get a good result than the cylinder speed that will do some damage to the hull. However, in using combines that have plenty of cylinder speed, barley should be cut on the tough side. This might be difficult in this area because of the frost danger if it is cut too high. However many combines have the cylinder speed adjustment that could not be possessed if cutting too late.

GEOLOGISTS FISH FOR OIL IN LAKE ERIE

As six for mermaid Edith Packer is this newly developed underwater gravity meter. The device, now being used to explore the bottom of Lake Erie, is lowered to the bottom of a lake or sea then sends back signals which aid geologists in determining the rock structure underneath. The device, a three-legged stool-mated assembly, weighs ten pounds. In Lake Erie, it is being used to determine favorable locations to drill for oil and gas. Deposits have been found along the north shore of the lake and several companies are investing heavily in the search for more.

Two Young Boys Stranded On Raft In The Bedford Basin

Two pint - sized buccaneers making the Long John Silver and Captain Kid, on the waters of Bedford Basin at Halifax, were forced to "strike their colours" when they tangled hooks with a passing Navy helicopter.

The two small boys had launched their vessel, which was a hastily constructed raft, on the treacherous waters of Bedford Basin one summer afternoon when their tide was going out. Total waters are very dangerous when they begin to ebb. Alth ugh they appear to be nearly still to those in the raft as the added weight would scarcely cause it to sink. The boys at the time were far more interested in the aircraft, than any predicament that they might be in.

The quick thinking pilot decided to use the wind created by his rotor blades. He hovered just above, and to one side of the raft and the belligerent crew it noticed.

Once the lads were on the mouth a sailor was lowered from the aircraft by means of a boat sling. He fastened each boy in turn to the wire and they were hoisted up to the helicopter floor at the naval base at Halifax they were returned to their parents.

The youngsters were greatly thrilled by the events of the afternoon. They had started out pretending to be pirates terrorizing the Spanish Main, and had wound up playing Space Cadet.

They are actually moving out to sea quite rapidly. In the case the tide had the small craft completely in its grip and was rushing it seaward with the pair of adventurers very spoiled by their parents.

Naval authorities at Halifax were alerted and a helicopter from the RCN Air Station at Dartmouth, N.S. was dispatched to capture the two novice seamen.

When the rescuer arrived on the scene the pilot sized up the situation and realized it would be impossible to wave a man

Introduction: THERE IS NO PEACE

The war has ended — but peace has not come. The guns are silent. The radio falls our ears with stories of strife and tension east and west. The newspapers headlines proclaim conflict within the nation — between labor and management, among political groups, between religions. We clash with other nations — economic commercial, fiscal. Isolation that characterizes decades of trade — of closed doors of the markets — of the citizens of the nation, of the forces of unidentification which we have created in each other.

We are moved by a sense of urgency. We feel compelled to do something about it. To create new practical pattern to seek solutions of these problems. To create stronger — not machine to re-establish peace control — to fight for higher — against the materialistic forces — and churches — to form new organizations for the genuine brotherhood — to send gift packages to Europe.

Many feel frustrated, discouraged, disillusioned. The uncertainties which the atomic age has given the people, the insecurities which we live. The threat creates a strain which breaks a growing number of us mentally and physically. We are becoming increasingly a nation of neurotics. The bitter fatigues of constant strife weigh heavily upon our spirits.

THE ROOTS OF CONFLICT

But there is one thing we must never forget. The majority of our conflicts are rooted in economics. We want more goods, a larger share of the national income for ourselves. And so we fight over it.

The wage earner wants increasing purchasing power so that he can eat more steak, live in a larger house, have more attractive furniture, and enjoy a longer vacation. The farmer wants freedom from debt, wants to own the new he tills, wants richer lights, bathrooms, and greater leisure to enjoy life. The doctor wants better paying practice, the school teacher a higher salary, the lawyer a better office. The corporation executive wants higher profits, the business man a better return on his investment.

And so we have formed a host of powerful organizations whose purpose it is to help us get what we want. The laborers have created trade unions, the farmers have the farmers union, physicians have their medical association, lawyers their bar association. Business men have their chamber of commerce, the veterans their Legion.

FALCONBY ARRIVED BY ONTARIO BOYS

More fun than fishing or baseball is the way Gary Davis of Burlington, Ont., describes the unusual sport of following Gary and his brother Ricky found two small sparrow nests deserted by their parents and reared them to believe like falcons. The birds stalk and hunt their prey high in the sky then return to the gloved hands of their trainers.

BEVERAGE SUSPENDED

Mr Justice J. D. Kearney, chief commissioner of the Board of Transport Commissioners, has suspended proposed demurrage charges on grain cars at terminal elevators until a hearing is held on September 10. Western grain handling organizations were instrumental in suspending the demurrage charges. The Alberta Wheat Pool was represented at the hotel hearing held this week in Ottawa.

Cancel Tour Of Alberta Farmers

Cancellation of the proposed Tour of Alberta Farmers to Ontario, was announced today by Doreen G. Griffin, Executive Secretary of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce. Mr. Griffin stated that while there were a gratifying n- ... ...ers who had announced tentative acceptations of the tour had been received by the deadline of July 25 to make it possible to take advantage of the special tour rates and the cost of the extensive tour itinerary would be prohibitive for a small number of participants.

It is understood, Mr Griffin continued, that many Alberta farmers have decided that it would not be desirable for them to be absent from Alberta for two weeks during mid-August this year, but that in more settled conditions agriculturally, perhaps in 1957, a tour such as that proposed for this year would attract considerable participation. The Board of Directors of the Associated Chambers will consider later this year the possibility that sponsorship of a Farmers' Tour to Ontario in 1957 be undertaken by the Association.

Canada's Wheat Record

The record of Australia as one of the three major wheat exporting countries of the World has been a much more notable one than that of many countries from the standpoint. The acreage sown during a past 25 years in Australia has increased substantially. The difference between the record of 18 million acres seeded in 1930-31 and the low of 8 million acres seeded during 1943-44

But in common with other wheat producing countries of the World she has been able to show a fairly significant increase in yield per acre which during the last five years has averaged 17.6 bushels per acre — a figure slightly higher if anything, than the long term average wheat yield in Western Canada. The above figure was almost four bushels per acre higher than Australia's short term average in the previous twenty years. Although the higher yields were partly due to favourable weather conditions as well as Western farming techniques and improved varieties have also been responsible for the increase.

Interesting enough, wheat growing in Australia has tended to increase in the medium rainfall and marginal areas of the country, while there has been a noticeable decline in wheat planting in the safer higher rainfall regions. This fact serves to underline still further the higher yields which have been obtained in recent years.

Another factor has been killed under an overturning tractor. Thus time the victim is Kay J. Messenger of the Rocky Mountain House district. His tractor overturned when he was turning, all the men, humans who a farm.

GOOD MECHANIZATION PAYS BY GETTING A LOT DONE WHEN CONDITIONS ARE RIGHT

A big advantage of good mechanization is its ability to get a lot of work done in a hurry once you can get on the land to put the crop in or into a field ready to be harvested. That work output of good equipment pays off in two ways—it enables you to offset or forestall the effects of unfavorable conditions and with it you can make the most of the period when conditions are most favorable. You stand to benefit the most when you can do a lot of seeding or harvesting when the time is right.

From the 1956 Massey-Harris and Ferguson lines of equipment engineered to meet the needs of farming today you can select machines that will enable you to gain the advantages of modern mechanization—your local dealer will be glad to give you full particulars.

Pro Golfers Give Local Amateurs Valuable Pointers

Frank Willey and Jack Reynolds Show Boys How

St. Paul Golfers got a golden opportunity to improve their form when two professionals put on a clinic Friday at the golf course giving through preliminary and basic instructions, covering the main points of golf and correction of the most common errors.

Frank Wiley is well qualified as an instructor having won the Alberta Open Championships in 1952 and in 1953 he won the Holds the City of Calgary open which he has won the past two years and four times in his career, as well as the Edmonton City Open.

Jack Reynolds the manager of the two-time Canadian champion at Riverside in summer months some of his trophies are included and the Vancouver City Golf Championship he won in 1946-47. Amateur honors he has won finalist in the Canadian Amateur in 1953, along with other local trophies.

Golf, it was explained by both pros, is not a game of power, but rather one of skill, timing and balance, in which all the participating muscles of the body are co-ordinated for the one purpose of striking the ball in true flight for the lowest amount of strokes possible in a game.

In their exhibition, they explained how every muscle was essential to developments of the stroke, driving the ball in precisely any direction called. It was shown how wrong posture and grip on the club, would slice or hook a ball.

The officials of the St. Paul Golf Club are grateful for the sporting attitude of the two professionals, taking the time off to come to St. Paul and their golf, keeping in mind the advice of Frank Willey and Jack Reynolds.

Hunting Season Opens Sept. 12

A new release last week stating that Canada's migratory birds current September 1st in the northern zone and September 12 in the southern zone has been misinterpreted by some hunters.

To correct any doubt, please note that this area is designated as being in the southern zone and not the northern section of the province as many quite naturally assumed. Hunting regulations describe the northern zone starting, roughly at Lac La Biche and north.

We were asked by the game warden to make it clear that hunting here in St. Paul and district will open on September 12 and continue on to December 15.

For more information on bag limits refer to article on page 11.

Ashmont Boy Dies From Gopher Poison

Caution Urged In Handling Fluid

Two-year-old James Bullock of the Ashmont district died Thursday evening after taking liquid gopher poison. RCMP at St. Paul, reported.

They said the son of George Bullock found the poison under the porch, drank of a small [illegible] James Hubert. The district coroner attributed death to strychnine poisoning.

The child's father was in Edmonton at the time the tragedy occurred.

An investigation into the death of the child was made, but it was not considered necessary to hold an inquest, the tragedy being recorded accidental.

This is the first accident of this nature reported in St. Paul, but to avoid similar occurrences, strict protectionary measures should be exercised in the handling of gopher poison.

Sec. 25 of the Alberta Pharmaceutical act states that any person dealing in Gopher Poison has to obtain a permit to sell and has to obtain a signature of the person buying the poison. Any one for which the Poison is to be used and the date of purchase.

Edmonton Firm Gets Contract

EDITORIAL

We Didn't Print The 'Thing'

Since an errant phone directory has been circulated to town this week, we have been bombarded with a number of phone calls enquiring if we had printed the "thing."

We can honestly state that we did not and would never dare misrepresent the sale of a piece of goods so as has been distributed.

The advertising claim they bought space on the assumption that the brochure would be a complete phone directory should have found out that it is illegal to represent a directory for commercial purposes — reason why numbers were left out.

We, who sell advertising in St. Paul have always made it a policy not to misrepresent our sales, because we have to live here and must depend on repeat business to stay in operation. We are not afraid of competition, but would like to warn the public before buying space in unknown media. If you feel that you must, don't pay in advance, but wait to see what is produced for your money. It is amazing how many fine advertisers are not required to pay for an ad until it appears in print to their satisfaction.

RC Blood Donor Clinic Aug. 27

House Canvass For Appointments On

Farmers Urged To Make Special Effort; Are In Group Requiring Most Emergency

Final plans were made at a special meeting of the St. Paul executive of the Red Cross to hold a Blood Donor Clinic on 27th. has been scheduled for Monday August 27th

The appeal is being launched in the public of St. Paul and includes all surrounding districts, namely Elk Point, Lafleche, Lindbergh and adjacent farming territories.

The ladies under Mrs. Margaret Devone and Mrs. S. Cooper in charge of the local RC branch, all direct a house to house canvass of the town, recording appointments and all residents are urged to volunteer for appointments. Canvassers will begin and leave the evening open for the farmers and those from further out in the rural areas.

It will be impossible to make a futile to farm surveys and consequently the farmers are urged to phone appointments at local stores who will provide for such, and in the event they cannot keep appointment, are invited to come anyway in the hope there will be room at their convenience.

To make the Clinic a success and record-breaker, the mobile unit is St. Paul, at least 150 donors should be on hand to give blood. If you are not contacted don't hesitate to come forth voluntarily

It is understood that the farmers will be busy at this time of the year but due to other commitments the date [illegible] needed [illegible] with [illegible] be satisfied

Other [illegible] tenderers are Brosseau, $28,116.50 Pavlisk and Sons, Edmonton, $28,162.50, Anderson Construction, Vermilion $37,710.00, Bogue Construction, Edmonton, $33,665.00

Work is to commence immediately.

SUPPORT BLOOD CLINIC

Blood at life! The next part of Red Cross Blood Requisitioned in an emergency might be to save your life! Can you accept it with a clear conscience, with the knowledge that when you were asked to contribute to the blood bank, you did it with reserve

The St. Paul Branch of the Red Cross is making a district-wide appeal for blood at a clinic to be held in St Paul at the Legion Hall on Monday, August 27th, between the hours of 2 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 9 in the evening

Don't be one of those who will endure himself or herself by putting it off until next year. The Red Cross needs more blood now, next year and the year after. The demand for it is increasing in all every new application to its use in saving lives on a wide number of fronts and occasions.

There are so many among us between the ages of 18 and 65, physically fit who have never contributed a drop of blood for humanity and for their neighbors. The St Paul district has been making full uses of the blood bank and has drawn more than the contributions ever made from here Last clinic was not to successful and the reason we were by-passed It has been over four years since the last appeal has been made, plenty of time to have given everybody a chance to recover and contribute more. The organization wants at least 300 to contribute Any less will make the mobile center's visit an unprofitable one, both to those personnel and time to bring the unit from Edmonton.

A special appeal is being made to the farmers. It is unfortunate that the dates would not be more convenient to them because of the light schedule commitments, it was impossible to make better arrangements

Farmers are engaged in a dangerous occupation Nearly every day we hear of a casualty where the operator of a tractor, combine or other implement got himself maimed seriously and often it is caused for an immediate supply of Red Cross blood that a life can be saved during such an emergency

Although appointments are preferred for the giving of blood, farmers are invited to be on if possible, but if their operations at this time of the year do not permit them to commit themselves, they are requested to come at their own convenience without obligation in the afternoon or evening whichever suits them best.

Leave your name at any local shop where arrangements are being made to register volunteer donors.

The blood received by the Red Cross is processed and supplied without charge to all recognized hospitals and doctors. Those supplies are administered to the public by health authorities without charge and thus the patients who need it most are receiving without charge when they need it most.

At the moment there is not enough blood to supply all the demand, but if enough people will give blood and keep on giving it, it can be made possible to give this life preserving treatment to everyone. Just think! By giving blood on August 27th you make it possible to save someone's life.

Remember this, the Red Cross benefits blood on a national basis. Today it can help St. Paul if we need it, from a basis filled by every citizen in Canada. If you donate you can help your own area, your immediate district, your friends and if necessary any other region stuck by emergency

You can protect yourself and your family by simply donating a little of your blood Think it over carefully Let us make St Paul a blood donor conscious community and all make an appointment to donate a little blood at the mobile clinic being held at the Legion Hall at St. Paul on Monday, August 27th It takes very little of your time and nothing at all from you physically, nor will it impair your health On the contrary it is insurance for the future.

SUCCESSFUL LIFE

How is the time to start thinking of the future The Alberta Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics program sixteen year olds and over for a "full and rewarded life Here" By giving practical instruction in agriculture and home economics and training youth in leadership and citizenship. You'll have a wonderful time at any of these schools Ask Mr. Vermilion or Fairview among the get-togetherships of enjoyment boys and girls.

How about agriculture as for any girl to have a thorough training in cooking and sewing and all that goes with proper management care of a home It is knee-lodge that is useful to farmers at present the Schools of Agriculture also provide for the ranchers world and at the Vermilion School a girl can definitely be a Saddle Sore can relax and enjoy herself through dramatics, music and various social activities It should be a thoroughly enjoyable way. Just ask past graduates

Something fun this town asked for the girls this year at a course called Vocational Home Economics This course will include Food, Clothing, Home Management, Typing, Housekeeping English, Public Speaking, Horticulture and Poultry Read on completion she has a fine chance for immediate employment.

Now that you want to attend application forms and information are obtainable by writing the Principal School of Agriculture and Home Economics at Vermilion, Olds or Fairview Applications should be made as soon as possible The schools open Tuesday, October 30th and during exercises will be held April 18th, 1957

THINNER DOLLAR

What you could buy for a crisp dollar bill in 1940 has risen you more than $1 in says Dr. Joe Hotchkiss in The Financial Post

That the food result, as reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in its Consumer Price Index The July 1 index figure of 113.3 compared with 113.3 June It indicates the purchasing power of the dollar has dropped by almost one-fifth on seven years.

The country has to outgrow on the less valuable dollar If you lived in the U.S. your dollar would only count for about 84.2 of the 1940 cottage cost

This doesn't mean that 15.8 per dollar disappeared into the pocket It only indicates that the cost of living here—while paralleling the U.S. rise—has risked up even a little higher nonetheless than it climbed in the U.S.

In order to use this extra strength as ordinary work and for special emergency these surplus are now on sale at blood and they are that every town This means there is at least blood available each week there is a shortage for normal needs in this area. That means nothing for emergencies, and there are emergencies. For example 11 full bottles of blood had to be flown out for one patient last recently.

To produce that blood 3 months before 3 thousand donors gave monthly, and that is quite a number. You can't sit back and leave it to others. Neither can the surrounding area area it is Edmonton people who have trouble enough supplying their own needs.

The public listed the blood donor business and built up necessary supplies of the different types of blood so that we misunderstand a record at being able to supply every person in Northern Alberta with the blood needed in every case. But we've got badly, and it is catching up with us.

You are going to go to a hospital for an operation and there will find there is no blood for your particular type. You are asked to find that in your community. There isn't a single type of blood you are going to find these things if you start part of the whole area, as both city, town and country don't start supplying more blood to keep up the weekly requirements of life

Announcement of Prime Minister that "no decision" has yet been made on public works outlays in disquieting in extreme, particularly in light of Trade Minister Howe's warning several months ago that Canada's 1956 capital expenditure programme is questioned likely to exceed available resources of manpower and materials.

If purchase in capital outlay is decided, Federal Government, instead of lagging behind could be selling example by cutting expenditures.

Recipients included eight cities, 30 towns, 146 villages, 7 counties, 41 municipal districts, 7 improvement districts, 2 special areas and 4 school districts in national parks. Total grant figures for these areas is $1,200,-003.55.

The Town of St. Paul received $16,325.06, the Municipality $64,-263.79. Other towns in the district allotted financial aid were: Glendon $2,782.81, Two Hills $6,183.15, Elk Municipality $58,906.12; Vilna $3,966.40; Elk Point $4,879.52; Cold Lake $9,-178.14; Vegreville $30,453.79; Vermilion $18,793.35; Smoky Lake $4,120.23.

Blood Donations Falling Behind The Increasing Demand For It In Province

In support of the Blood Donor Clinic being organized for St. Paul on Monday, August 27th, we are reproducing here an article broadcast by Stan Rees on "Our Man's Viewpoint." Read it carefully . . . and we are certain it will convince you of the necessity to give an appointment today and be a donor.

Northern Alberta blood donations are facing trouble.

Blood donor clinics have made a wonderful job of it, but they can't fulfill their present obligations. And you've been told that hon-ets thousands of people each year

We have regular requirements all the time when a family had to go into debt to get blood transfusions, and even then it was impossible to get all that was needed.

As I say, the public made short work of that situation, but having done so many communities seem to have forgotten that this is also a need

You see in the supplying of blood, the first five of fabrication must supply the needs of that hospital in your area, north of Red Deer. But means that it can't put its fabrication beyond that point. Some hospitals in Edmonton, much of your community—Edmonton—Edmonton—depends on hospitals where there is needed and it is over after a final every operation. you where I saw this operation was Keen Lake, Alberta. Each client blood is needed and in Edmonton and the hospital it supplies has been having to borrow hospitals as much as your community

Angling for a "compleat" car?

Fine view of a fishy party. Here's a good group of fishermen, indeed it even after a hard morning on the lake. Notice Pontiac parked under the trees. You'll get a long, long way before you find a more pleasant, more relaxing way to get from here to there. It's

Two pals—both frisky! Perhaps "frolics" is more appropriate with both lively Co-ed sweeties present. Anyway, Pontiac has room inside up as fenders, too. Pontiac holds a lot, for budget, for compli . . . and some real, uncompromising performance. Your . . . with a Demonstrator at Dixie.

Only a minute from pool to Pontiac! It . . . convertible that's fisherman can turn his back on that Pontiac. Those chaps have even rich . . . and bold . . . mirror's rear. Colors, as a host of Pontiac matching embodiments, are breathtaking. And Pontiac upholsteries are to very's last word! See it . . . you'll agree!

Best catch of the day! Oh, we're telling about you-know . . . It's only average. It's that Pontiac that stands to proudly in the pasture. And we're sure that the smiles you see are for the car, not the fish. It's the way you'll feel, too, first time you take the wheel of your Pontiac. You'll see!

Seems like everyone's looking for the perfect . . . the "compleat" . . . car! Actually you don't have to go very far to find it. No farther, in fact than your nearest Pontiac dealer. There you'll find proof indeed that only Pontiac combines grace, beauty, prestige and performance and economy to such a well . . . "compleatness" that goes far, far deeper than mere hoods or accessories!

You're welcome to a Demonstration Drive at this ease of ease, to see for yourself everything that Pontiac offers. Believe me, you'll relish the way it hugs the curves, slides smoothly up or down hills, takes every straightaway with supreme confidence. The ride's the thing . . . and with Pontiac what a wonderful ride it is.

All this is very exciting . . . but the best part of all in this "compleat" Pontiac is its price. With all that Pontiac gives you in pleasure and prestige, it's still easily within anyone's budget, priced right down with the lowest. Yes—just like a trout to a "Royal Coachman" . . . that's how you'll rise to a Pontiac. Be sure you do—soon!

CONTINUE WORK ON GAS PIPELINE

TORONTO, Aug. 3 — "Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited will lay pipe as fast as it comes from the steel mills and will continue to push completion of the Alberta-Winnipeg section just as long as weather conditions will permit," Charles S. Coates, Executive Vice-President and General Manager of the pipeline company said today.

In answer to reports that a Company official had told a representative of a utility company that gas through the line would not be available until next summer, Mr. Coates said that neither Trans-Canada nor any official of the Company had ever made [illegible] statement.

Mr. Coates stated that the steel strike obviously will result in pipe deliveries later than the original contracted schedules. However, until the strike is over and pipe deliveries are resumed it is impossible accurately to measure the effect of the strike on the construction program.

A QUARTER CENTURY OF SERVICE
Since 1931, through the growing and analysis of farmers' samples to point up the need for better seed and through the wide distribution of many hundreds of thousands of bushels of Registered and Certified seed of proven variation, the Crop Testing Plan has sought to assist in maintaining and still further improving the high quality of Canada's grain. In this, its twenty-fifth year of operation, the Plan looks forward to continuing the work which has proved so effectual in the past.

ALBERTA-TO-WINNIPEG PIPELINE CREEPS LIKE GIANT SNAKE ACROSS PRAIRIES

Treating the heavy steel as gingerly as though it were a crate of eggs silhouetted workmen position a string of coated pipe as the Alberta-Winnipeg section of natural gas transmission nears completion. A coil string is carried on a line in order to achieve required flexibility to the heavy-gauge pipe. The swamps area in background is undergoing water-coating treatment, the coating addition of 27 tons pounds of cement weights to keep the line in position in the bottom of the trench.

"Big inch" pipe of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines' natural-gas transmission project is being pushed steadily across the prairies on its 2,250-mile stretch from Alberta to Montreal. While most of this Western Canada right-of-way is over level plains, a 200-foot deep valley created by the Swift Current Creek in Saskatchewan provided eye-catching background for this welder shown running the final bead of joints of the 30-inch diameter pipe. Their schedule is "a mile-a-day."

Canning Questions

1. Is it necessary to sterilize [illegible] before canning?

For success in canning, jars must be sterilized. When the food is processed in the jar, such as [illegible] be hot water bath and pressure canning, the jars need not be sterilized. However, they should be thoroughly cleaned The processing will sterilize both the food and the container.

2. If liquid is lost from a jar during processing, should the jar be opened to add more liquid?

No, this should never be done. You could contaminate the food.

3 When processing in the water bath, should the water cover the jars?

Yes, the water should cover at least two inches over the top. This insures even heating and proper sterilization.

4. Why do beets or other [illegible] "fast" in the jar?

There must be [illegible] The fruit may have been over-ripe the syrup may be too heavy, or the processing time too long This is a harmless condition

5 After bottle pour always a ring of sediment?

No, but uncommonly. If there is a ring of sediment [illegible] sometimes is probable due to [illegible] or to using too much in peas

6 Should sealers be inverted [illegible]?

No, the weight of the food against the lid may prevent a seal from forming in may break a seal which has already been formed

7 Should you empty commercially canned food as soon as it is opened?

No, this is one of our old wives tale and has no scientific basis. Actually it is safer to leave unused portions of canned food right in the can You can be sure that the inside of the can is clean but you cannot be sure your dish is clean And the ordinary precautions of covering [illegible] and putting it in a cool place

ECONOMIC CONFLICT

Much of the conflict of [illegible] between labor and management, as the larger the bargaining units, the more are [illegible] the consequences of the strike When the coal miners strike against the operators, when the engineers and trainmen strike against the railroads, industry and business of every kind suffers But by no means all [illegible] between labor and management. Sometimes there are disputes within the same union, as between craft [illegible] and the public caught in the middle.

Farmers' organizations struggle against the [illegible] for higher prices for farm products, but sometimes they have [illegible] among themselves and line up opposite sides of the issue, and the [illegible] against [illegible] but much [illegible] when he seeks to capture the [illegible] apple handlers.

There is the same kind of [illegible] within the business community The manufacturers of aluminum [illegible] to push [illegible] part of the building trade The rail industries has worked hard to [illegible] the trade of the coal consumers, the airlines have battled the railroads for [illegible] passenger business, and the independent growers have established [illegible] to [illegible] in order that they may battle the corporate chains more effectively.

This unceasing conflict between groups for a larger share of the national income lies at the root of many of the behavior problems in the world whether it be [illegible] almost every one of us is [illegible] with the struggles within the nation for a larger share for our trade, our profession, our business group We want more but we are afraid to quit fighting We are afraid to quit because we fear what the other fellow will do if we relax our efforts And our competitor is afraid to relax his efforts because of what he thinks we will do to him if he does So it goes Our fears have grown with the intensity of the competitive struggle but among our fears is the fear of the results of not ceasing to fight.

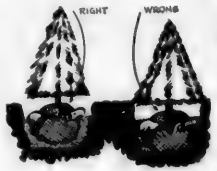
Garden-Graphs

by DEAN HALLIDAY



Everyone has an urge in the air—opening Garden-dom around here but there are limits.

So the balled plant upright as it comes out of the store when the roots are loosened and beaten or the clods that surround them. Then when the burlap is raised and cut off or pulled down over the sides of the ball the evergreen should be covered as deep. This means that it should rest about 2 inches and are at the same height it originally stood at, not even will be sure the hole is filled in the bottom so there becomes covered with soil.

Backfill the space about the ball until the hole is two-thirds filled and drop a couple of aspirin in it. Add water and allow it to be seeped in and backfill. Add soil under the balled filling the hole. Leave a water-shaped depression around the plant to hold water to retain water. The top two inches of soil should be right and not as shown left home.

Health Through Chiropractic

By DR. H. W. TENOVE

MIGRAINE HEADACHES

Migraine headaches present no particular problem to the competent Chiropractor. This in spite of some inquiry as to their exact origin. The record of Chiropractic in providing relief from migraine headaches is truly remarkable.

The Chiropractic principle is that all sickness stems from some interference with the nervous system. The severity of the sickness depends on the extent to which the nerves have been interfered with, and the nature of the illness will depend on which set of nerves are affected.

It has been established that, like all other sick people, migraine headache patients are the victims of disorders caused by the inability of the nerves to convey their full quota of essential impulses to all parts of the body. The cure is obvious, and simple. The Chiropractor removes the interference to the nerves, and removes it. A high percentage of migraine headache cases respond very favorably under Chiropractic care with the period of time required for a complete cure ranging from three months to a year.

If you are suffering from migraine headaches see your Chiropractor without delay. It has been found that patients respond best during the early stages of the disease.

Knowledge Of Water Safety

the safe will ensure the lost life Ave.

18 DO not ... when ... or on the water when ... persons to possible drowning. The life of the rescuer is also endangered.

Life Saving Tips

1 DO remember even if you cannot swim, that you can help others in trouble. Throw a ring buoy, rope, coat, plank, tree branch, paddle. If the person is close to the shore or dock, a reaching assist such as a paddle, board, shirt, overhang pole, arm or extended leg may be used by a non-swimmer.

2 DO remember, even if you are a good swimmer but lack life-saving training, to be cautious when rescuing a person in trouble. Always approach from the back, grasp the person by the head or hair and keep the arms straight. Prior to safety, if possible should you be caught by a victim, take a breath and submerge. If he does not let go you will find it easier to break his hold under the surface.

Lights Craft Safety

1 DO avoid using small craft in rough weather, but if caught in a storm lie down in the bottom and ship if your craft is ... to capsize.

2 DO remove your boots or shoes in a canoe. They damage the varnish and are a hazard if you upset.

3 DO remember if the canoe or row boat capsizes, remain with the upset craft. Hold onto the gunwhales but do not try to climb onto the bottom of an upset canoe as it will roll. A capsized canoe can support as many as 10 persons if they remain calm.

4. DO remain seated in a canoe. Only experienced canoeists should change places. This is done by one person crouching low in the centre of the canoe while the other balances himself with his hands on the gunwales and carefully steps around. Only one person moves at a time. If you ever have a smart aleck in a canoe or boat, put him where he belongs—in the oars.

5. DO remember the safest method of paddling a canoe is to kneel on both knees, spread well apart and buttocks resting on the heels.

6. DO remember if you fall out of a canoe or row boat the craft does not upset do not attempt to catch it if it is ... drifting it faster than you can swim. A few strokes will tell you if you can catch the drifting craft. Take it easy — determine the nearest shore to head for. Disrobe, and start swimming towards shore. If a canoe capsizes, it will not drift very fast.

7. DO lift a victim over the back of a rowboat. However, in a canoe, lift the victim over the side in the mid section.

Ice Safety

1. DO make sure the ice on rivers, sloughs and lakes is at least two inches thick before you skate. A ladder, pole, rope, plank or tree branch should be available in case of a break through. Stay close to shore and do not gather in groups unless the ice is really thick. Ice reasons can be made by skaters forming a human chain (five or more) lying down and separating their way out to the victim.

2. DO remember that ice ... is usually ... in ... and ... trip skaters who frequently fall ... and break bones.

3 DO remember when crossing ... of ... thickness ... be carry ... in case you break through, the pole will support your weight across the hole. A couple of four-inch poles are handy things to dig into the ice for hand grips.

4 DO remember that if you break through the ice extend both arms flat on the ice surface and then kick the feet to the surface of the water. Try to squirm the upper part of the body onto the ice, then roll quickly in ... direction you may be headed to roll the entire body onto the ice area from the danger. DELIVERY PROSPECTS

When the 1956-57 crop year ended grain elevators across the province were generally filled to capacity. This means that again this autumn farm deliveries will only be possible as grain is shipped out of country elevators. While some space remains in eastern terminals and the domestic market will absorb a quantity of grain, country elevator shipments will, in the main, depend on the export movement.

Unfortunately, only a moderate movement of wheat is expected. Barley shipments are ordinarily do not loge heavily at this time of year. In addition, sales are suffering from indigestion as a result of heavy purchases made in the past few months.

For oats, barley, durum and flax, however, the immediate outlook is much more promising. The U.S. has a good oat crop this year and large sales have been made for shipment to that country. There also appears to be a good market in the U.K. for high quality malting barley and recently there has been a fair overseas demand for the feed grades of barley. The prospects are for heavy shipments of durum as quickly as it can be moved to terminals and the Pacific outlook is also bright.

Moreover despite cuts of farmers without these crops are bound to be small this autumn as far first five months of the last crop year. Many farmers are now in debt on 1.2 million bushels of old grain out of the 1.45 million tonnes delivered during the fall year. Much the same situation will take place this year.

It is apparent that farm loans will again be necessary to enable producers to meet harvesting and other necessary expenses particularly those who were unable to deliver more than five or six bushels per acre in the past season. Last year's plan of guaranteed bank loans on the security of farm stored grain was considered unsatisfactory by most farmers. Many farmers were that the 5 percent interest rate was too high, the $1,000 limit was too low for large farmers, and in some areas farmers are not conveniently served by chartered banks.

A committee of western farm representatives has held several meetings this summer in an effort to work out a plan which will make emergency assistance available on a permanent basis. Several schemes have been suggested, with one of the most attractive being a plan which would make the Prairie provinces responsible for the liabilities of the municipalities. Time is passing quickly, however, and if changes are to be made in time to help producers this autumn when the need will be the greatest, steps will soon have to be taken.

NEVER TOO MUCH CARE

Two accidents which occurred in the district this past week are tragic reminders that last-minute caution on the road can never be practiced.

The first of two vehicles which were struck when they were parked properly and [illegible] no one was injured, but the damage was [illegible].

The second on highway 28 near Ashmont is a stern reminder to be alert on the road [illegible] and to exhibit other [illegible] the innocent [illegible].

HELP! HELP!

In the early nineteen hundreds, bringing in the crop was the small item. Most of the labor was manual. Alberta at that time required about 11,000 workers to complete harvesting operations. Many of these came from Ontario as well as other districts.

Then came the great age of mechanization and the number of men required was greatly reduced. In fact today Alberta needs only 4,000 seasonal farm helpers. Ontario usually supplies the West with 600. But what about the rest?

When a person considers the population of Canada, it would seem very easy to acquire the needed number of workers. But this is not so, a great number of men are employed full time in industry and construction. Employment is now fields is at a very high level — perhaps an all-time high. Added to this country is another one. Ontario's harvest is also than normal this year. Consequently, the workers who complete the Ontario harvest and then move West to harvest Alberta's crop find themselves unable to do both.

It is anticipated that there will be a serious labor shortage. But this crisis can be met says F. H. Stevenson, Director of Provincial Farm Labor Service if — everyone, everywhere, regardless of occupation or position who knows anything at all about farming goes out and helps the farmer to bring in his crop. If you have a half-day to spare Wednesday afternoon, Saturday afternoon or Sunday, help the farmer and provide yourself with a bit of spending money. If you have only a few days, a weekend or holidays put them to use harvesting. The pay is good, ranging from $4 a day to $5.25 per hour.

Mr Stevenson adds, we are endeavoring to have Boards of Trade and Service Clubs in all towns and villages throughout the province encourage workers from urban centres to help.

Contact your nearest National Employment Office or District Agriculturist — immediately if the farmer lands what happens to the city dweller!

CAR BARGAINS

The "clean-up" of 1956 cars has begun. The soon is clear the way for the '57's.

Three of Canada's five automakers have finished production of 1956 model passenger cars.

How frantic will the clean-up be? Prospects so far its being fairly well controlled without much in the way of desperation selling measures. But what actually happens will depend upon demand.

Naturally, buyers of '56s at this time of year are going to demand some price concessions on cars that will soon be sharply depreciated.

Meanwhile Canadian production of motor vehicles is within a few hundred of last year's total. By year's end it almost certainly [illegible]

Editor,

Dear Sir

In an editorial in the August 16th issue of the Journal you [illegible] that we [illegible] to pay a [illegible] for agricultural [illegible] was "fatuous [illegible]" It is natural [illegible] that we [illegible] this view.

It seems that he [illegible] Coal Co., Coal Mine [illegible] Mines, Railroads or any big business each get a subsidy but farmers need one it is "Fulsome and Fatuous."

Is it because "a" farmer is small business and mines and railroads, it is [illegible] subsidized. If so it is time, "the" farmers stopped the government with the fact that they are the biggest customer in Alberta or not in all Canada.

Those prices have proven unsatisfactory partly because the consumer has to pay and can see little benefit and because of misunderstanding.

As an example, when the appetite of fast and mouth decrease caused the flour price to [illegible] prices steady and the government bought some surplus such some of the worst and hardly. One merchant complained to me that it was the taxpayers' money that paid for [illegible] and he must buy the most and it was under the impression that the farmers were living off the taxpayer but the reality is that he benefited as much or more than the farmer.

As the basic stability of the country and nation [illegible] prices [illegible] for stuff by [illegible] other [illegible] strengthens the economy of the nation, [illegible] to get [illegible] Editor [illegible] The fact [illegible] wages go [illegible] to consumer, for the days of the evening of the Ballot [illegible] that it might be good for the country to pay a subsidy to [illegible] industry (Agriculture)

Industries are not new as British parliaments [illegible] to farmers during World War I and I believe are still paying some [illegible] Belgium, Britain [illegible]

The U.S. has been supporting a parity price system similar to our floor prices in some ways as it leaves the surplus in the government's hands to dispose of. But now the U.S. has commenced paying a subsidy to cotton growers whereby the cotton growers get a subsidy (payment) for each 100 pounds he markets and the consumer gets cotton cheaper and any surplus is sold on world markets.

Producer and consumer both pay taxes for subsidy and both benefit and the economy of the country is improved.

I understand that the international farm union and some locals of the FUA have presented resolutions to the FUA at Edmonton regarding subsidies for producers but I have not heard that any action has been taken.

It would take your entire paper to fully discuss the [illegible] of subsidies.

The foregoing opinions are respectfully submitted by

Dear Sir:

This is an [illegible] story but true. Mike Wasilyk and Peter Stelmaschuk of Mannville, Alta. and their wives stopped here at Long Lake for a cup of coffee yesterday evening, Aug 11, on their way back from a blueberry picking trip. While the women ordered coffee the men asked me for a rod to go out on the lake for a little fishing as they aren't fishermen, they said, and don't own any fishing equipment.

In about half an hour's time one guy was rowing in and the other was sitting in the boat, holding a boat over rod, bobbing [illegible] on the dock) they had something on the line. They towed in an 18½ lb. jack, 37 inches long and 9 inches across where it [illegible] pull in on the dock.

They said they towed him for about 15 minutes and he still put up quite a fight before I could land him. It must be the one that some of our local fishermen were talking about that got away

What a sad performance for a substantial team of money and against such an individual [illegible] an effective defense [illegible] could not be found on the reason or better [illegible] would be possible [illegible]

The [illegible] managers in the dominion rules and charges come from the Association of America in Toronto. They are [illegible] principally by the ear coming railroads.

"Shippers, especially those in the grain and grain processing industries, are fully cognizant of the freight car shortage. A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Something New in Guided Muscle

...at a pip of a price!

Time's wasting—while you could be enjoying the fun and thrill of a new kind of power performance at the wheel of the best Buick yet.

And right now the value of your present car is at its peak. You could make a whale of a fine deal on a great-buy Buick with something really new in soaring might.

It's not just that Buick's new V8 is 322 cubic inches big. That it develops more torque and horsepower than even Buick has had before.

There's the new guided dynamite that makes the most of all this.

That's the latest version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow.* It's so "muscled" that it delivers swift new acceleration with less than an inch of pedal travel—and saves gas in the doing.

And when the occasion demands, you can unleash the full power at your command on a shaved second's notice. Tromp down on the treadle and you switch the pitch. There's an instant safety-surge of power that leaves trouble fading away behind you.

But there's a lot more to Buick's new performance than the smooth, sheer might at your command—as you'll discover.

You just can't know today's driving at its eyeopening best until you boss a new Buick.

And it's still only August. You still have months to be driving the most modern car on the road. You still can take advantage of this month's high value on your present car—to deal yourself in on the best buy you'll get in many a moon.

So why wait? Today is a great day to buy a Buick—the best Buick yet, by far. We're ready to open your eyes with the why and how. How about right now?

*New Advanced Variable-Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It's standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Enjoy 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with genuine FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING

MARILYN EMPHATIC SHE WILL TRY TO SWIM DE FUCA AGAIN

For the first time in her marathon swimming career, Marilyn Bell is pulled out of the water, six miles from victory over Juan de Fuca strait. For an hour and a half before she appeared to collapse completely she asked to be taken out but Gus Ryder urged her on. Low temperature and the fact that she had swallowed some salt water rendered her sick and helpless so that parents Cliff Saunders and Pat Bennett decided her attempt to conquering Juan De Fuca Strait. Marilyn Bell was smiling and cheerful and announced she would try again. She was surprised that anyone thought she wouldn't.

What is Your Lucky Date?

Whether you're married, egoged or just hoping, there is a lucky date in store for you at the Co-op. We cannot offer you brand new cars or trips around the world we will help you donate to your favorite charitable organization an amount determined by yourself!

BUT

This is how it is done —

Here is all you have to do:

Whatever you make a purchase, ask the cashier to mark your purchase ticket with your name and address at your store membership number

Here is what we shall do

On whatever the date is, we shall mark the lucky date of the month of September. From the purchases made on the date chosen, we shall donate 1% of the total. The exact holders are to select their own charitable organization.

If you should be one of the lucky ones, we ask you to come to the Co-operative store nearest your residence at such time of organization and we shall donate on your behalf an amount equal to the purchase.

If you come with your coupon of the winners on Consumer Co-operation, publish in this paper during the month of August we will donate the amount for each article you bring with you.

EXAMPLE:

Lucky Date drawn is Sept. 30 You made a purchase on that date for say $4.65 and your purchase ticket is identified that date drawn. We will donate to the organization of your choice $4.65 But if you bring with you 3 articles on Consumer Co-operation, we will donate the amount for each article or a total of $13.95

The long-time average yield of spring wheat throughout Canada is between 18 and 1... bushels to the acres, with other grains in proportion.

Although the 1956 moisture situation in terms of the long-time average has been about normal, better than average yields may be expected for the reason that in most areas the rainfall has occurred fairly regularly and in sufficient quantity to promote much above average growth and development.

Sweden is expected to have a surplus wheat supply of about 20 million bushels this year out of a total expected harvest of around 37 million. Sweden exports quota under the International Wheat Agreement is around 6 million bushels annually.

New Bridge Over Athabasca River Opened At Fort Assiniboine

The end of one era and the beginning started of another was marked Wednesday August 15 at Fort Assiniboine with the official opening of the recently-completed concrete arch bridge across the Athabasca River. Premier of Alberta E. Taylor, Minister of Highways The Honourable R. H. Ferguson, M.L.A. Minister of Public Works Charles Vould M.P. A Fraser Deputy Minister of Highways Ivor McClure, And the bridge designer, Chief Bridge Engineer, P. C. Harvey Supt. Bridge Engineer J. H. Johnston, Chief Maintenance Engineer.

The bridge, built of steel and concrete on the Athabasca set on three reinforced concrete long through-truss bridge was part and two abutments has started in the fall of 1954. An hour spans, three 200 feet long work with the exception of the and one 333 foot. It is located on Highway 18 immediately below the junction of the Athabasca and Freeman Rivers and half-mile upstream of the settlement at Fort Assiniboine.

The locale has an historic past. Thousands who were lured to the north-west by thoughts of gold and fortune found their way through this country on the "Trail of '98."

Edmonton was the congregating point, for those struck with gold fever. Trail-to after train-load of fortune hunters flooded the city and organized pack trains for the overland trek. Edmonton City likely never reached their destination for the route was rough and rugged and had to be travelled mostly in winter on ice of various waterways.

Leaving the end of the railway, the groups would forge northward through St. Albert, Paddle River, across the Athabasca at Fort Assiniboine and home to Peace River, Fort St. John, Lesser Paw, Ft. Graham, Lured Fort and Dawson Creek. The trip took over 12 months.

One of the most heartbreaking tells that tried the skill and endurance of old timers was at the crossing of the Athabasca at the north side of Fort Assiniboine. Tenderfeet experienced a great deal of difficulty in handling horses up the steep grade. The hillside was littered with broken bones of supplies, smashed sleighs and harnesses. At the top of the hill once read a sign "To Dawson City — 2433's miles." Underneath with an arrow pointing in the opposite direction was a sign reminder— "To Home Sweet Home."

The ferry at the crossing began operating in 1909 and was privately owned. Two years later it was taken over by the Federal government. One man operated it until 1913 when a second man was assigned to help. A third staffer was added in 1915.

A motorized whirling unit was installed in 1945. The 48 x 18 foot ferry is now guided by 1000-foot cables.

Since 1911, the first operator has been a member of the Cartwright family. Presently his son, Dalton, is one of the three men working the ferry.

Officials hope that the new bridge, in addition to providing year-round service to residents of the area, will help open-up the country. Previously all winter wood travel crossings were made over frozen ice.

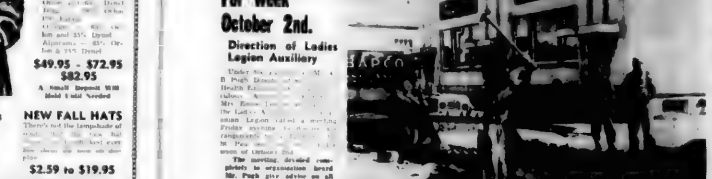
Old Sidewalk Ripped Out To Make Way For New



Progress marches on in St. Paul with this train — a bulldozer ripping out the old sidewalks and councillor John Bisaga occupying the hammer. The picture was taken in front of the St. Paul Journal office as the machine was launched on the second day of its work in a sidewalk construction program which will continue along main street. The old walks were laid in 1927 of tar and. many sections of which were required in 1945, but since deteriorating beyond repair. The work was undertaken by Bonnyville contractors and when completed the town and agreed to the extra frontage tax required for the project. The sidewalks have been widened from six to eight feet and will be finished off with curbs engineered for good drainage. Light standards are being re painted by Canadian Utilities, the whole aim of the project really embolish the town after the construction zone which has bleached bottle is cleared off.

St. Paul Wins Own Firemen's Inaugurative Baseball Tourney

Meet Bonnyville In The Finals; Loc La Biche, Elk Point Other Competitors

Besides being good firemen, St Paul hose sluggers can lose a mean ball and proved it Sunday by defeating the flame out of the contemporary teams in the first inter-brigade tournament held at St Paul on Sunday

They'd before a good crowd and Assistant Provincial Fire Commissioner, Murray Godard, the three games, considering the state of the players, turned out fairly classy ball with a minimum of errors.

Godard introduced and was welcomed by Mayor Jules Van Brabant, custom Dolder for the tourney, praised the sports zeal inherative of St. Paul Firemen for sponsoring this event for the first time. He said that the participating Fire Brigades of Loc La Biche, Elk Point and Bonnyville are known for their efficiency and part of that standard is built up by close, united association within the organizations and neighboring communities. Fraternity in work and play provides a strong basis for a good fire department.

The boys from northern Loc La Biche were the first victims outmaneuvered by the St Paul aggregation, falling out the ladders to the tune of 8-0

The Fire Chief himself climbed the mound to sling some hot fire balls, blowing only one hit Marvel Joly received The locals went up 3 hits.

Bonnyville smelled the fire out of Elk Point 8-1 in the second game and the final game closed out at 3-1 for the St. Paul brigade. Vanney Joly was generous as usual from the mound. All games were five-inning contests.

BLOOD IN PROFUSION

Proof that there is a lot of food stored and spoiled in St. Paul and district was manifested on Monday when the generous blood donors lined up as a guilty parade at the Legion Hall, congratulating the supply of human which forced the organizers to turn away every one because of the lack of accommodation.

The whole operation was one of the smoothest operations ever witnessed. The unit was highly commended by the nurses and the Red Cross nurses also attendants who conducted the clinic.

From 200 nominal the clinic opened at 2 of the afternoon. The staff was kept busy drawing blood with the last donor entering the St Paul lisiter who kept the streets flowing uninterrupted from the starting "opening" table, waiting room, donors beds, rest section and finally warmth restoring coffee and food after the ordeal.

The rest nurses of the Clinic is without a doubt attributed to the efforts of the committee Chairmen, Mrs. Margaret Dawson, and Mrs. R. H. Cooper, under the direction of the Local Red Cross president Mrs. Blanche Brousseau and Secretary Rose Bujold who used not brains of ladies to thoroughly canvass the town and request appointments. A wonderful public relations job was done with outside points and the cooperation from the country was remarkable.

Looking over the record of the Local Branch this year, we find that they stand high in Red Cross achievement. The spring drive was a success which overwhelmed the quota set, an outstanding canvass ably to campaign and assembling center were designated and finally the top record breaking fair which caught the Edmonton Red Cross boat itself almost sung be remembered in their track.

The all clubs brought to Paul to par after some years of inactivity. Red Cross work it is hoped the strong organization functioning will continue to do so on behalf of the Red Cross which has enjoyed the cause of many and enclosing a tremendous job in the social economic provincially as sad deficit in time of emergency.

The blood you gave this week may save your own life some day.

The local firemen who helped set up the booths and equipment and the Legion with their transportation service were a great help and significating factor in the smooth operating clinic

MAKING HAY

We have been following the itinerary of the Hon. Mr. Harrison in the hope that he would view the people of Alberta, that it would be a good thing to introduce a sales tax here, presumably to raise the munificent sum he would be around some to Camrose so that we might talk to him. We are sorry for we are utterly exposed to the impossibility of such a distasteful tax on the present sales tax. In the first place Alberta with her fluid revenue does not need the imposition of such a tax. In the second place the tax will commit to many abuses, the least of which perhaps is that business houses would inevitably become unpaid tax collectors. Anyone who will glance over the mailout issues a year more towards the end of simplification and overcome the need for a new treasury tax.

TB CHEST X-RAYS

TB has been relegated to an ordinary disease, unless taken in its early stages by the mass. But the time when its ravages went unrestricted and caused the tragic part of the disease in the country can be remembered.

What brought TB under control

Education and the mobile units which have been organized to speed the search and bring it under control. In time it can spread in 20 thousand days. The method has been so successful we have forgotten the best of TB.

Chest X-rays are the most successful method that has been so successful with TB for many years.

Because TB is a contagious disease and can spread from one person to another, it is your duty, for personal protection, that of your family, your neighbors and others who may be in contact with you, to make every possible effort to seek the clinic when it comes in your district.

Here in St Paul it is scheduled to call on or about October 22nd. A group of ladies belonging to the Auxiliary, the Canadian Legion have volunteered to organize it. The Alberta Tuberculosis Association provides all facilities and equipment to conduct the survey. The public can do its part, by simply consenting to be X-Rayed, a procedure which is painless and taken less than a minute.

The Defensive

This is the driver who never learns to from the front fender and squarely.

It is very easy for him to see things the way that suits his convenience and purpose. He will not admit his faults although he has many of them. Any accident which he is involved in was caused by the other driver. The other fellow just did not give him a chance. If the other driver cannot be blamed, then he will blame traffic regulations, road conditions or maybe a back-seat driver in his own car. Never will he admit his faults or accept any blame.

Such people seem to develop a cleverness at finding plausible, sounding arguments to excuse themselves.

ONE TOO MANY

These people do almost things to compensate for laziness. There seems to be a strong desire to maintain to be mediocre, to never himself and display his power.

If circumstances do not permit him to show his power and mastery in one way, he tends to show it in another. A familiar example is the driver who tries to accelerate. It seems at the office or commercially but both is over everyone when in his car and alone at times. The really important ones also not have to look for artificial outlets to show his power, but the little threatened fellow, wretch has step into his car where he has power at his disposal.

What does he do with it? Insists at the right of way. Arguing a traffic point to death. Pushing "big" in other drivers. Showing the road practices of the future.

Trying to bully others.

"Giving his best" to smaller and older.

Edging in to cheat the other of a parking space.

Making pedestrians scramble for safety.

Not moving over when a driver signals to pass.

"Getting even" with drivers who pass.

He is always trying to give an artificial boost to his poor little self esteem.

In reality he shows himself as not an important fellow who is borrowing a feeling of personal power from his car, but the bodily things he does make him an accident prone driver.

Rest Period A Necessity

When the farmer stopped harvesting to rest his horses periodically he also stopped resting himself. The failure to observe rest periods and the accompanying fatigue is blamed for many farm accidents, according to a report published by the American Medical Association examined by the Canada Safety Council.

Dr Franklin H. Top, from Iowa City, points out that fatality from farm accidents in the U.S. totalled 14,000, a rate of 61.7 deaths per 100,000 farm population. Motor vehicle accidents were responsible for the greatest share, followed by "work" accidents, including accidents with farm machinery. Among motor vehicle accidents rollovers third in the number of accidental deaths.

The high level of work accidents on the farm, he says, is partially due to the shift from horse-drawn to motor-driven machinery.

"Horses had to be rested periodically and with this came rest for the driver. Furthermore, the same horses were used for several days," he says, adding that it is not unusual for a farmer to spend more than 10 hours a day in the field with a tractor, especially if he gets a late start because of weather or soil conditions.

Studies show that there is a peak maimsaving and misfortune-some during which the majority of accidents occur. Thus, a male-harvesting time is the time given as most fortunes in a good idea for the farmer, he says.

Carelessness in the handling of machinery and poor safety design also have contributed to farm accidents. Only in recent years have manufacturers been concerned with safety in farm machinery, but the safety devices now provided are often removed by the farmer, in selling accidents.

Canadians Demanding More Extras in Their New Cars

WINDSOR, Ont Aug 30 — Canadians, according to one of the country's leading automobile manufacturers, are demanding more and more of the "extras" in their cars this year.

These include such items as power brakes, power windows operated by push-button, power brakes and steering, V-8 engines and even power-operated seats and window lifts.

According to Chrysler of Canada statisticians, their new car sales have disclosed an increasing demand for all of these items.

In the low-priced lines, the push-button automatic transmission was installed in 60 per cent of all orders received this year, compared with 31 per cent in the 1955 models. Demand for V-8 engines rose from 17 per cent to around 64 per cent.

Full-time coastal power steering and power brakes are especially popular with Canadians buying the medium-priced lines. Demand for power steering increased for 21 per cent of all cars in this group compared with 31 per cent in 1955 models, while power brakes were stipulated for 46 per cent of vehicles in this series as against 21 per cent for the 1955 models. The V-8 engine and push-button automatic transmission are standard equipment in this line.

In the higher-priced models, power steering was demanded by a large majority of purchasers, ranging from 82 to 97 per cent of all orders, with power brakes being specified for more than half of the ordered in these series.

Horsepower were also noted for cars equipped with power-operated seats and windows, although these are still in relatively small

Ulcer-Season Remedy

One of the mysteries of medicine is why peptic ulcers should be more common in autumn and spring seasons than in others. Wintertime statistics make it certain that the number of persons suffering from the painful ailment—and from the painful hypersensitivity that often accompanies it—will rise considerably from the first of September to the New Year.

The why of matters, however, is not confined to the seasons alone. A Scottish researcher has found, on a study made on a population of two millions, that ulcer symptoms grow worse at the end of the work week, and are more frequent in the evening than in the morning.

The formation of pain in any specific area of the body is a complex process. Nerve impulses usually never about three hours after a meal, and the most painful attack frequently occurs about 2:30 a.m.

Although researchers have been able to pin down a number of factors as possible causes of peptic ulcers, including a nervous attitude toward his job, his home, his neighbors, or surroundings, one factor appears in all cases. That is the excessive outpouring of hydrochloric acid secreted by the stomach.

All persons secrete hydrochloric acid virtually continually, but in varying quantities throughout the day and night. The ulcer patient secretes more than other persons particularly during the early morning and—and especially at night. Normally, the acid is held in check by the stomach lining, mainly by the mucus it secretes. But in the ulcer victim, the mucus is lacking, making the acid highly irritating.

Relief from this painful condition has long been the goal of physicians. Eating waking meals, the patient can take antacid substances that counteract the excessive acidity. But these must be taken frequently, and present a patient throughout the night.

Recent research, however, has developed a combination of antacid salt, made with two effective ingredients, aluminum and magnesium trisilicate, in a powder which when mixed with water—makes a milk-like drink that coats the night-time need. The milk prevents buffer the acid-cords, slow down stomach action and protect the painful irritation but the period of rest.

All the same time, the new substance which is known as Gelusil-25, prevents the formation of unabsorbed patient with nutrition-starvation.

So successful has the new treatment been in ulcer cases, that it is now being employed in the treatment of hyperacidity as an aid in reducing diets, and for simple acid dyspepsia.

CLUMP OF EARTH KEEPS ROOTS FROM BREAKING

COVER NEWLY LAYED PLANTS WITH WET BURLAP

This is a good time of the year to undertake the renovation of the perennial border. This may involve lifting and dividing overly large clumps of plants, adding some peonies or making changes in the existing color and tone.

Do not make the mistake of digging up many plants that can be properly and safely handled at one time.

While the plants are out of the soil is a good time to remake and enrich the bed by cultivating in fertilizer before resetting the plants.

If the plants are not to be divided but merely moved to another location, disturb their roots as little as possible. Lift the plants with a clump of earth about the roots, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graphs.

This helps to keep the roots from breaking.

However, possible undertakes garden renovation on a cool, cloudy day. If the work must be done on a hot or windy day, they protect the roots immediately where they are out of the ground by covering them with wet burlap, as shown in the Garden-Graphs. When the small rootlets dry out from exposure to sun or drying air, they die, and new ones have to be grown before the plant can re-establish itself.

By transplanting early in the fall, plants become established again before winter sets in and then are ready to start growth early in the spring. Late blooming perennials such as chrysanthemums, helenium and boltonia are best transplanting in the spring.

PRINCESS "WISTFUL" ON HER BIRTHDAY

"Pensive, forlorn, wistful sad" are the words used by London newspapers to describe Princess Margaret on her 26th birthday. A steady stream of visitors called on her at Balmoral Castle where she celebrated her birthday with Queen Elizabeth and her family, but, it was noted, there were few if any eligible bachelors among them.

NEW TIMKEN TAPERED SOCKET CARBIDE INSERT BITS PROMISE FASTER, MORE ECONOMIC DRILLING WITH AIR-LEG DRILLS AND LIGHT STOPERS

Today, The Timken Roller Bearing Company announced a new line of rock bits to be manufactured at its St. Thomas, Ontario plant. The new bits are of the tapered socket carbide insert type and comes in answer to the increasing use of air-leg drilling methods in Canadian mine operations.

New features in the design and manufacture of the Timken tapered socket rock bit promise to increase bit longer drill life, higher drilling speeds and lower cost per foot-of-hole. Now available in the cutting edge resist wear, Jet action from the new-five front hole design and the deeper wider clearance between bit wings make for faster chip removal, improving bit action and increasing bit life.

In making the announcement, R. H. Austin, head of the Timken Company's Rock Bit Sales Division, pointed to the rapid growth of the new light and economical air-leg drilling methods in Canadian metal mines. Although Inirtant steels were the first cutting tools used on this type of drill, removable tapered socket bits have demonstrated such operating economies that they are fast becoming the preferred cutting tool.

Tieing of the new Timken tapered socket carbide insert bits, carried out at various Canadian mine locations, indicate that the full economy of the light weight drilling equipment is most completely realized with these bits.

The new Timken bits are now available through authorized distributors of The Timken Roller Bearing Company Sales and Service Limited. Sizes are 1¾, 1⅞, and 1⅝ to fit the popular ¾ hexagon or ⅞ quarter hexagon tapered drill steels.

ASHMONT NEWS

Fire of undetermined origin partially destroyed a half-ton international truck just east of town the evening of August 23. The vehicle, driven by Harvey McConnell, had stopped on the road and Harvey attempted to find what had caused the power failure when it burst into flames.

Magistrate Woodstock was the victim of a hit and run driver on route home from Elk Point Sunday evening. The accident happened just after dark between Ashmont and Cork when another vehicle from the south overtook him and crowded the smaller car into the ditch. Mr Woodstock was unhurt and was soon picked up by another motorist who brought him into town.

Keep Tabs On Car Drivers

Alberta's program to weed out accident prone drivers is being expanded. From a "rehabilitation" standpoint the general purpose being to keep tab on bad drivers.

One of the first steps under the Alberta legislature was to set up a review board who'll deal with license suspensions and the records of accident prone drivers.

Now, a mechanical system is being installed in the safety division of the provincial highways department.

The initial task is to process the division's files for conversion to machine card files. This work is to be completed before the end of the present fiscal year next March 31.

One result will be the setting up of individual driver's files.

In addition to the regular station on each driver the files will contain a record of the individual's driving experience throughout the years.

Provincial government officials are confident that the new system will be a valuable part of the general plan to ultimately make driving safer in Alberta.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Recently, accidents kill more of our children than any other cause. Last year they accounted for one-third of all child fatalities, claiming the lives of 13,000 youngsters and permanently injuring about 50,000 more.

These startling facts are brought to light by Dr. E. F. Dietrich in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. In his report Dr. Dietrich points out that, in 1900, the cause of accidents was the control of infectious diseases. Since that time, with the aid of such antibiotics as Tetracyn, Terramycin and others, many of these diseases have been brought under control. Additional diseases have been prevented by vaccines.

Meanwhile, Dr. Dietrich states, as the result of the control of infection and communicable diseases, accidents have become the leading killer of children. But accidents, like disease, can be prevented with the right "vaccine," the prescription below.

Dr. Dietrich prescribes accident prevention education for both the young and old.

He points out that the pre-school youngster must be protected from the potentially poisonous household agents such as aspirin, shampoos, cologne, suntan lotions and cleaning fluids.

"Up to the age of one year, the infant needs protection from all hazards. After the age of one, protection should gradually be put aside and replaced by education," Dr. Dietrich states.

He concludes that accident prevention requires "foresight, time and the desire" to be effective.

AERIAL SURVEY TO PINPOINT MINERALS IN ONTARIO, QUEBEC

Survey of most of the mineral-bearing pre-Cambrian Shield in Ontario and Quebec is being undertaken in the Phase-of-one Survey Operation, Toronto. It is the biggest survey of its kind ever undertaken anywhere at any time and when it is finished two or three years from now it will provide a complete set of geological maps and reports on a scale of 1,000 square miles to a degree of accuracy that would have been impossible before. The survey is being financed by co-operation between several large mining companies and consists of photographing from the air of every inch of the territory, then correlating the topographical photos with ground surveys. Though the most publicized phase of the survey is always the actual photographing done to color as well as black and white films from a converted Lancaster bomber plane it is only when the photos are assembled into a mosaic and studied by geologists, and engineers, foresters and other experts that the photos have any meaning. Working on the assembly of the maps are E. Brown, B. Manistee, J. S. Scott, Marcus Cosby and Ruth Boultbee.

Amendment Adds More Income Tax Deductions

Amendment of income tax regulations that makes some, at least in part, of the cost of medical expenses deductible for income tax purposes was announced by Minister of National Revenue, Hon. J. J. McCann, Q.C., in the House of Commons.

Effect, as in case of surgical treatment, is that many people will be allowed opportunity to claim such items as deductible expense until authorities at Ottawa catch up with progress of medical science. In case of surgical treatment, for example, changes in income tax regulations is not retroactive, and cases of genuine hardship involving Vordun, Que., taxpayer, whose wife required treatment at home at expense of [illegible] at home proof to changes in regulations is converted.

Truth is that Canadian Medical Association or some responsible professional body, and not income tax officials should be charged with recommending to Federal Government items that in their opinion should be claimed as deductible expense, and Government should instruct Income tax authorities accordingly.

Four Rules For Safe Driving During Holidays

The American Automobile Association has compiled Four Rules for a Safe Holiday [illegible] safe motoring:

An alcoholic and the number of accidents during a holiday period could be drastically reduced if every motorist would remember [illegible]

1. Don't [illegible]
2. Obey [illegible] of all traffic [illegible]
3. Don't [illegible] or too fast or a bridge
4. If you must [illegible] with alcoholic beverages, don't drive at all.

Actually, the vast majority of drivers will come safely and courteously without any special reminders. The editorial said "Our experience based on several decades of study shows that nine out of 10 Americans whether the wheel fully realize their responsibility for driving with safety and courtesy. Despite their patriotic and equally [illegible] safety [illegible] and pedestrians.

Hole-In-One Over The Bush

By A.B.E.

Although there are only two of us in subscription and prove this story, the writer and his brother, the bobber going to the latter, some of you may insinuate that I am prejudiced and must on being doubting Thomases, but so help be hanna, the following report is the truth and nothing but the truth.

Last weekend my brother Paul of Ottawa was spending a few days holiday with the family. Knowing that he was an enthusiastic golfer, I took him out to our local green for an afternoon of entertainment.

Coming over the bush on the first round of our three hole circuit, I gained him up on the distance, direction, the peculiarities of this nominal hazard. He teed off with a No. 2 iron and lifted a high one which to me was unmarched for the green. On arrival on the other side of the pond, we searched for the indications for his ball, but all in vain. We figured it might have rolled over on the hill past by the track. No luck. He certainly wasn't short, nor wide so he gave up and told me to hole mine.

Walking over to the cup to raise the flag, lo and behold he found his ball nestled snugly against the post in the first hole-in-one so far on my new golf course. And it was the Doc's first hole-in-one of his career . . . and to cap all the [illegible] from the Capital city of Ottawa to little old St. Paul to do it.

In Ottawa where Paul plays most of his golf at the Riverwood Club they have a standing rule that if a member is unlucky enough (and they consider all hole-in-ones are strictly fluke) to make a hole-in-one, he has to buy a round for every member and guests present at the club through the entire day.

To insure against bankruptcy the members contribute 25c a year to an insurance fund which pays the shot, usually about $200 worth. It is estimated three hole-in-ones are recorded each year.

The last you St. Paul golfers weren't around that day for a free treat.

Renovate Girl Married In City Wedding

A wedding of interest to St Paul and district was that performed in St Joachim's Church, Edmonton in June when Miss Mona Mae Lamoureux became the bride of Philippe Sylvestre before the white marble altar bedecked with pink peonies.

Father Lalonde read the marriage vows for the double ring ceremony, uniting the daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert D Glaser of Bonnyville and the son of Mr and Mrs Alphonse Sylvestre of Bissett.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length strapless gown of nylon net and lace, the bodice trimmed her lace jacket had full length lily-point sleeves. A seed pearl coronet held her fingertip veil of nylon net and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, baby pink roses and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Williams, in a gown of cornflower blue nylon net and lace, with bolero jacket and Miss Theresa Williams in a powder blue nylon net and lace gown with bolero jacket were the bridesmaids. Both girls had garlands of pink and white carnations in their hair and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Mr Charles Sylvestre, brother of the groom, was best man. Barry Sloan was also a groom's attendant William Durand and Robert Smith acted as ushers

During the signing of the register a most beautiful wedding of "Ave Maria" was given by Peter Dezman.

At the reception which followed at the home of Mrs Arthur Crossley, the bride's uncle, Mr. Don Perree, proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon to Banff the bride donned a pink [illegible] sheath style dress with white accessories and corsage of pink gardenias.

Out of town guests attending were Miss July Sylvestre of Tofield, Mr. and Mrs Peter Chase Mr. Jerry Chase, Miss Carol Chase, Mrs. Paul Vandervoort, Miss Maud McFadden and Mr. W. F. Chase, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Graham Gardiner of Hazeldine. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cobbe of Unwin; Mr. and Mrs. Don Pearce and Leslie of Wetaskiwin, Mr Leslie Sloan of Bonnyville; and Mr. and Mrs. Robyn Sloan and Larry of Stettler.

Frost Damage Considered Heavy

A general unofficial assessment of the frost which hit St Paul Tuesday night, made through survey and sponsors of elevator agents and elsewhere, is the district, is believed to be fairly serious

With less than five per cent of the crop yet cut and most of it late and immature, the frost will greatly lower the grades.

The thermometer hit the freezing point in most outlying areas and in some of the lower spots there have been reports that the mercury dipped to as low as 25 degrees.

At noon on the morning the ground was completely blanketed with white hoar frost and grass was reported crisp underfoot. Flower beds received considerable damage in town.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr and Mrs. Dan Rostecky and two children of Winnipeg, were visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs. Henry Harsim during the past week. Mr Rostecky is an uncle of Mrs Harsim's both had not seen for over eleven years. While in the district they also made social calls to Mr and Mrs. Bernard Bertinguette's and to Mr Rostecky's ohly sister Mrs. Wm. Filipchuk

Mrs. A. Putiras, formerly of St. Paul returned to spend a month's holiday visiting her sons Gerard and Bernard, Mr and Mrs. Leonard and Mr and Mrs. Joe Stoltz. She entrained for Vancouver last Wednesday accompanied by Miss Madeleine Thesien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thesien. It is 13 years since Mrs. Putatras left St. Paul and was last only an one other occasion several years ago. She is very pleased with life and the climate at the coast, she says but not so much as St. Paul weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Quilton have of Saddle Lake and Ashmont were guests of Capt. and Mrs. Dreuin over the weekend.

Dr and Mrs. J. P. Drouin of Ottawa were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Drouin. The couple continued their western holiday motoring to the Canadian Rockies resort town of Banff and will spend several days at Jasper where Dr Drouin will attend a medical convention. They also made the journey to the west coast to visit Mr. and Mrs. Roger Drouin in Vancouver.

Forty-Nine More Volunteer Blood To R. C. Clinic

The Mobile Red Cross Clinic returned to St. Paul Thursday with a fresh supply of blanks to receive donations from forty-nine more volunteers, part of the total who had been turned away because of a lack of containers.

The first canad was held in the Legion Hall on Thursday when over 400 came on appointment, but because of the unprecedented turn out and a short supply of bottles only 200 were admitted and the remainder invited to come the following Thursday. Many of the visitors were back to Edmonton on Cold Lake.

Unfortunately a number of the donors from Glendon, Elk Point and other points in the country were unable to make the trip a second time and a minimum loss of 50 pints of blood is estimated.

Total donations, however, set a record high of 230, built up through the high turn out of St. Paul residents and the efforts of the Local Red Cross Branch.

Mr. Mike Yanchenko

On September 3rd, Mr. Mike Yanchenko, of St. Paul passed away at Camrose at the age of 83 years.

Student Enrolment Shows Steady Increase This Year

780 At Public, 200 Separate; 3. Lafleche Principal Second Term

Nine hundred and eighty children, attending public and separate schools turned carefree faces to the classroom and picked up their books, some reluctantly, indifferently, or happily and made their way to classes cavorting and chattering, awakening St. Paul's quiet street which had been slumbering quietly through the summer months

They constituted the first term full year, with 780 registering at the public school and 200 the separate school with the registering of the newly created St. Paul Separate School District No. 5.

Although there was a small decrease in the number attending the public school, 60 down from the 840 last year, considering 200 have been absorbed by the new division there is a continual increase in the total number of children starting classes each year in all schools.

Both School Divisions reported full enrolment as not yet in, had been completed, prevented some country children from attending, and radio reports of postponement in other districts mentioned some in the division who stayed in to help. There is always a slight increase after harvest crom some parents who have completed the work to keep.

Public School children were welcomed to their classes Thursday by Mr. Silvain Lefebvre, opening his [illegible] area here

He impressed the children on the ideals of education, stressing the importance of a well to learn, love for the school and respect for the professors and school staff.

Parents were invited to discuss their children's problems, bring out constructive criticism and cooperate with the school which is only trying to mold the character of their children and give them the highest standard of education possible under full cooperation of the teachers and professors.

His Excellency Bishop Philippe Lemaitre, present to welcome the students, gave his blessings and advice with a few words of encouragement for the new term

Vulture Banded At Rasa Lake

(Contributed)

Al Cuming, his son Kipp and Robert Brummell of Edmonton, accompanied by Bill McKay, ornithologist of Calgary were in Ashmont on September 2nd to band a young turkey vulture which was located on an island in Rasa Lake by Jackie Owen and Mr. Ken Rose

This discovery is history in the bird world. Mr. Cuming has reason to believe that this is the furthermost north nesting place of the turkey vulture.

Ordinarily the bird lives in dry desert country. These birds are harmless and don't protect—in any way carrion and according to Mr Cuming are the janitors of the forest.

Mr. Cuming, besides being a sports promoter is a naturalist and has been in touch with him an interest would brave the trail to Rasa Lake and made its view and bend this rare specimen.

All Set For TB X-Ray Clinic in St. Paul

SAFETY IN SCHOOL ZONE

On Tuesday, September 6, hundreds of children returned to school in St. Paul. Many of these youngsters will be walking or riding on the highways, others will ride in school buses, but all will be excited over the resumption of school days.

We would like to stress the need of motorists in using extra care on the roadways reason for the next term. Just a little caution and a bad accident will be avoided. Perhaps a little less speed and precious human lives will be saved.

We remind drivers that the Traffic and Highway Traffic Act contains certain [illegible] with respect to [illegible] near any bus stops on school zones. . . .

Subsection 2 of section 62 of the act says: No person shall drive a motor vehicle within 20 any distance school zone on a highway at a rate of speed greater than 25 miles per hour at any time between the hours of eight o'clock in the morning and five o'clock in the afternoon on any day upon which the school is held."

Section 36a of the act lays down certain principles as to overtaking and passing school buses. It says that when a conveyance bearing either the sign "school bus" or school van" has stopped for the purpose of discharge passengers, no driver of a vehicle shall overtake and pass such conveyance until all persons who are about to enter or leave the same are safely clear of the path of the vehicle.

This section also adds that "When a conveyance which bears the sign "school bus" or "school van" has stopped to receive or discharge passengers, no driver of a vehicle approaching from the opposite direction shall pass such conveyance at a rate of speed greater than 25 miles per hour."

The act also prohibits bicyclists or motorcyclists riding more than two abreast on any highway. If two of more bicyclists or motorcyclists are overtaken on a highway by a vehicle travelling in the same direction which sounds its horn to pass, the bicyclists or motorcyclists, as the case may be, shall travel in single file and shall ride as near to the right side of the travelled portion of the highway as circumstances and weather conditions permit.

HIGHER INTEREST RATE

Quite properly the Canadian monetary authorities have been deeply concerned about the inflationary pressure building up in our economy. Quite properly they have been trying to do something about it; not to kill the boom, but to stretch it out, to create a climate favorable to high business activity over a period of years rather than let us have an explosive one year or so.

Latest move has been a new issue of Dominion bonds for some 41 and a half years at interest of 5.50. Apart from the influence of such an issue in exerting a tightening effect at many points, it would seem to suggest that our monetary people foresee high or higher interest rates for some time ahead.

FARMING CAN BE TOUGH

When it's time to harvest the crop, it's all work and no play for the farmer. And when conditions are non presently unfavorable it's a tough job topped sometimes.

The situation has come to the point where the farmer is forced to cut his grain, damp, whether he likes it or not. To leave it standing most, longer increases the risk of frost to almost a certainty. Consequently as we went around the country side this week we observed swathers and binders flushing it out in damp soggy fields, slowing down the machinery and degrading the grain.

We were held up in our travels by a binder moving from one field to another, and in the muddy road it was no cinch, the unwieldy machine becoming very close encounters in the mud, moving out of the ruts and our way only with great effort and difficulty.

Up until this week, but, ripening weather prevailed generally enhancing the already good prospects reported. But, the situation is altering and changing. Although, not yet dangerous, the weather is being viewed with apprehension. Farmers are already cute to two weeks behind normal. Quality will be affected to some extent by second growth and is still dependent on the length of the frost-free period.

JUST RAKIN' IT IN

While visiting in Canada at the invitation of the Canadian Wheat Board, representatives of both the Belgian and Netherlands governments stated that although Belgium was now handled entirely by the private trade both countries strongly supported the International Wheat Agreement. They admitted that it was only a "gentlemen's agreement" without British but nevertheless it had a very stabilizing effect on prices and furnished an excellent forum for discussion and negotiation between all the importers of wheat.

STRETCHING BOOM

Three small boys, sons of a doctor, a lawyer, and a roamer, were boasting about their fathers when the talk turned to automobiles.

"My father makes money fast," said the doctor's son. "He operates on some rich person and gets $300."

"My dad does better," said the lawyer's son. "He just goes to court and talks for a day and charges his client $300."

But the minister's son topped them all. "My father," he said, "does practically nothing all week but talks a little sermon on Sunday morning — and it takes six men to bring the money to him."

U.S. CONTROL

A list of 12 products, of which newsprint and fertilizers are the only two that can be considered fully manufactured, accounts for 68 per cent of all Canadian exports to the United States. And it adds more than half this 68 per cent comes from companies which are controlled and owned on the United States.

U.S.-owned companies contribute nothing to the 32 per cent of Canadian exports to the U.S outside this list of little-processed materials. But because of the dominance of the commodities which they do produce, they account for no less than 25 per cent of our exports to the U.S.

Oyenaye, Alberta.

Editor,
St. Paul Journal.
St. Paul, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

In the Aug. 31st issue of your newspaper appeared a letter urging the [illegible] to [illegible] Mr. Travis attributed.

On the 30th of August last I got a rather simple idea which I now think is of first magnitude [illegible] which I submitted to and had it presented to the District 4 Board of the Farmers' Union meeting in St. Paul three two days. I was hoping that it could be worked on and implemented by Sept. 1st anyway, not much has been done. To me the picture in the jig-saw puzzle of these agricultural situations, both past and present seems quite clear; there just I feel obligated to explain it more quickly. It at best I can with what little free time I have is at my disposal.

It is my own observation that [illegible] the ages as man has survived on numbers Providence has provided as promised. Inventions, improvements, etc., being cropping up to keep mankind going. At present, we seem to have come to a crucial era. Ways of lighting, atomic and hydrogen blasts have been devised, placing mankind in danger of oblivion. That is poison and we need an anti-dote as it were. If I should appear boastful (perchance) I am; I must as-ure remember the end which I and my fellows men cannot escape and also what religion teaches us in the after life. But that I always do the right thing, but it is a direct source of tryin to do the right thing. For that I [illegible] in humility and be ever watchful.

Laissez-faire is an attitude we farmers are largely adherents to when it comes to marketing problems. Therefore I cannot be too critical of A Brush Homesteader when he urges subsidies for the farmers (at least he is trying at a solution, although I cannot subscribe to all his thinking under a blind or greedy world. He is a party to the first of the three solutions which I can at least imagine I see and which I will write about.

The first, is by electing men in every country with which we have any trade relations whatever ope who will see to it that full parity is given to all the citizens and not take into account how strong the voting power of any segment or nation is, how large or powerful any corporation is, or how small any nation may become. Rather a tall order isn't it?

The second would consist of having some super-type men do all the deciding on what was needed and what not produced. It would work only for a spell then would have to come back to fundamentals if it were to be what we call successful.

Now to argue the point with A Brush Homesteader He states that [illegible] and consumer both pay terms for subsidy and both benefit and the economy of the country is improved." I fail to see where it can improve the economy of the country as it can only limit trade with other countries and this could not continue forever and for long, help the economy of a nation. For certainly reason help Canadian farmers to sin producers for export. What benefit would it be for the Canadian farmer to pay taxes to receive a subsidy and to see his produce go to Another country at give-away rates so as to compete with the subsidies of that country? How would the powerful corporations react to such subsidies? I only see it as a vicious circle in which we would defeat our own purpose and I believe this is dawning ground in the U.S. also. Seems see it as better to leave prices alone and let supply to demand do the rest (Fortune magazine, Aug issue)

In the May issue of the Organized Farmer I used some arguments which now seem to be used to press for subsidies. I necessarily had to keep the article short and it seems that some of the members did not take time to read between the lines or else are looking for benefits they see no better way of getting.

In the above mentioned article I said "We have to let Freedom take its course By regimentation we could produce too much or too little with all its complications to maintain."

Subsidies I consider a mild form of regimentation. By putting in a subsidy you encourage production the same as at any other time you guarantee a price. It gets so that you get too much production and don't know too much what to do with it and you get confusion and complications in the form of quotas, barrier shortages, etc On the other hand business, including labour unions, know what they can have or can borrow and are all out to get all they can. The result is the situation we have now. They do not seem to realize that enough is enough. But that is as much fault as anybody else's.

A severe form of regimentation I consider the system of "Supply Prices" as being practiced by quite a number of farmers. With this you would start out with a plan which would work more swift for a couple of years. Then an over-production and subsequent production (grain growing started to get troublesome you would have to treat land as an [illegible] of land and taxes to limit and also to get the right persons in. The small efficient and the large farmers would be hurt most. If you did not do this you would have to start giving prices away or at bargain rates to other countries at the expense of the [illegible]. It could be made for a good world economy and smooth relations as time passed would get to expect these hundreds and plan their lives accordingly Therefore as you increased the individual farmers [illegible] square enclosure of taxes and laws you would have a farming [illegible] who could not operate in freedom. This might still be alright to a point if you had control of the weather and other growth factors. But as you have not a severe shortage or severe of choice of food could result and this is a complication no farmer stomach in a party in. The farmer should be about the front men on earth Why should we look to a bunch of [illegible] to cure our ragged farm economy?

The Organized Farmer I outlined what was wrong with our marketing, set a basis way of solving the problem Most of us, I feel quite sure have been thinking that we had supply and demand Actually we have a supply and demand working in relation to the [illegible] of money men-farmers and business. The Farmers' Union, or any other farm organization can never [illegible] the agricultural economy until they start adding 2 and 2 to make 4 There are four ingredients in supply and demand and if we use only 1 and 3 or 2 and 3 we can never get a permanent and proper solution. It's as simple as that! We should be business-

What's on the Air

The most striking thing about [illegible] new policy statement announced [illegible] at CUF national convention at Winnipeg is resemblance it bears to latest but under-fated policies of both Liberal and Conser- [illegible] view parties.

CUF policy statement calls to mind comment some months ago of CUF leader Mr. J. Coldwell, in reviewing historical work on Canada's past. In effect this said that the two parties in Canada [illegible] THAT is the explanation that we have to put to work for us.

By knowing what we have for sale and pushing out with [illegible] we are going to be the need and the wants to pay we have the key to prosperity and in [illegible] world need products [illegible] and we [illegible] have many markets [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Flying Officer Hellquist On Nova Scotia Maritime Patrol

Flying Officer Earl Hellquist of Saskatchewan, Whalley, Alta., has been based at Greenwood, Nova Scotia, where he is serving with the Maritime Patrol Squadron. He joined at 16 AF Headquarters and has received his initial training at Penhold, Portage and Winnipeg.

He flies in the P2V7 Neptune, considered a highly technical aircraft and the most modern in Maritime Patrol work. These aircraft are also in service with the U.S. Navy and the RAF. The purpose of Maritime Patrol work is to guarantee the safe passage of Soviet vessels that the Neptune is equipped with much technical equipment and armed for anti-submarine warfare. As a navy officer, Bill is one of the hardest working members of the crew in this technical aircraft.

As secondary duty, Bill is also the Adjutant for 404 Squadron, and between this and flying, it's a sure thing that he doesn't have much free time.

F/O Hellquist was born in Elk Point, Alta., and received his education in New Westminster, B.C. where his parents now reside. Yet he considers his home to be at Whalley.

During his air force career, which began in August, 1951, he has been stationed at London, Ont., Crestwood Operational Training Unit, RCAF Station, Winnipeg and back to Crestwood

On behalf of Mr Smith and myself I would like to thank all those people who so generously donated their time and money towards making the Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety campaign this summer a success. Special thanks go to the ladies for their donations of home cooking while I was at the lake. These donations were truly appreciated! Both Mr Smith and I feel that if your co-operation and time is given to the new instructors as it was given to us, your swimming campaign next year will be an even bigger and better one.

Thank you — everyone — for your support!

Doris Wegerich,
C.R.C. Swimming & Water Safety Instructor.

"I feel swell," said Martyn Bell as she walked out of the water of Jean de Fuca Straits into the arms of coach Gus Ryder while 60,000 spectators cheered on the Victoria, B.C. shore. In her second attempt to beat the strait, she set a record, 10 hours 38 minutes to cross the 18 miles of wind-swept, treacherous water. Unlike her first attempt, when she had to be taken from the water, her face never showed and she appeared fresh and eager as the end of the gruelling trail

He rolled the car 9 miles south of Elk Point, near Angle Lake He was brought to the hospital with a broken back. He smashed the office window to gain entrance to the store

Men Who Make Alberta

THE BANKER

At the centre of the financial life of every community sits a man trained to advise and help in neighborhood money matters. He becomes the confidant of business men, of farmers and workingman. Through the doors of his business establishment every day, pass widows, housewives, even the paper boy with a new savings account. His staff record the local financial success or failure. As the community prospers the Bank prospers.

So the banker is tied firmly to the local scene — the interests of town and district must be his own interest. This usually makes him a great community booster, a leader in worthwhile efforts, in short, a first-class all-around citizen.

Look how gasoline prices have stayed down

In those days of high and rising prices, what's happened to the price of gasoline?

Let's compare wholesale gasoline prices with the government's general wholesale price index.

Since 1935-1939 prices in general have risen 120%.

In the same period, gasoline has gone up only 34%.

Gasoline prices have gone up less than one-third as much as wholesale prices in general.

Ashmont Local & District News

Faith in his fellow man was renewed for Howard Cutshaw when a purse he had lost was returned to him all intact. He had returned to Edmonton by bus after spending the weekend at his farm home at Ashmont. Upon arrival at the city he took a yellow cab to his place of residence. When he discovered he had he got up at 6 a.m., but his search proved fruitless. Then the cab driver was at no help. When he returned from work in the evening a young lady called on the phone, asking for Howard Cutshaw and gave him the address where he could get the lost purse. He had found it at an early hour on her way to work. Mr. Cutshaw was all too happy to give her a generous reward when he accepted with reluctance, saying that she had opened the wallet to find his name and address. All contents, private papers and cash were intact. It is indeed a pleasure to meet a truly honest person.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, C.N.R. Agent, spent the weekend at Edgerton visiting Mrs. Smith's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Schadlick of Aldine moved to Edmonton on Monday.

Mrs. Wes Strutt and a sister whom she had not seen for years, Mrs. Dinsmoran of Rochester, New York, are visitors at the home of Mrs. Strutt's daughter, Mrs. Cecil Lyttle.

Despite the rainy dull weather there were numerous visitors from the city for the long weekend. These included Ina Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Art Isacbo, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murray, Red Deer, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gray, James McIntosh, Willie McMeekon, Cold Lake, Mr. and Mrs. James Lorrain, Howard Cutshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Waiters, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Daily.

Misses Noelia LeCuesta and Stella Zawatsky left Monday morning to attend business college.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clarke were en route to Kelowna, B.C. to visit their son Cordy before Mrs. Clarke goes on to Texas for the winter.

Mr. D. S. Woodlock will spend this week in Edmonton taking special treatment for a back ailment.

Labor day turned out to be a busy day in Ashmont when Schalacks moved to the city. Their tracks were hardly cool, as until McMasters had moved onto their house. As soon as McMasters had vacated the Raschenuk house the Ed Saunders had moved into it. Who moves next?

Watch for time and dates for the Y.B. X-ray to be held in Ashmont early in October.

The Ashmont United Church W.A. held their first fall meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard Whitman. The ladies are anticipating a busy program following the summer recess.

Jack Draper's son Jackie and family and daughter Mrs. George Andruniak were visitors in Ashmont for the long weekend.

Mrs. Patsy Kirkpatrick was slightly injured when the truck driven by her husband overturned in the ditch at Smith Lake south of Ashmont. Rather than be hit by an oncoming car, Patsy took to the ditch after following the very edge of the grade for some time. Patsy and the children escaped unhurt.

The Winnipeg Free Press has estimated this year's prairie wheat crop at 477 million bushels, 5 million more than last year.

MAYS REVEAL ALL AT HI-Y CONFERENCE

Welcome to the CANADIAN HI-Y

Adding a western flavor to the seventh Canadian Hi-Y session of YMCA teen-agers at Lake Cowichan, Que., with their cowboy hats are delegates Ron Greenfield, at left, Bill Rogers and Lawrence Cuthbertson, from Calgary. Many varying discussions are in evidence at the conference—called to discuss youth problems—as each hat is supposed to tell where the delegate is from; such as oil helmets representing Edmonton, miners' hats from Sudbury and bolero-ish from the Maritimes.

Defrost your freezer before it receives its hasty quota of garden food. Ordinarily once a year is often enough but in humid weather or if the freezer is opened frequently, the job needs to be done two or three times a year. If the freezer has half an inch of frost formed over a considerable area of the refrigerated surface, it needs defrosting.

When the frost is not mixed with ice, it may be removed while the freezer in operation. Move the packages as you work. Scrape the frost from the surfaces with a plastic windshield scraper or a broad stiff spatula. Catch the frost from the surface on a cardboard or a cookie sheet and collect it from the bottom with a clean whisk. If the pan and whisk are kept chilled the frost won't melt from contact with them.

If ice is mixed with the frost you need to do a complete job so remove the food packages and disconnect the freezer. Pile the packages in cooled trays or baskets and cover with chilled newspapers or other insulation material.

First scrape as much as possible from the surfaces. Then, to speed melting, pour a little cold water over the refrigerated surfaces. Do not use hot water. Remove loosened ice from the surfaces with a blunt instrument. As the ice and frost melt wipe up the water with clean cloths. Wash the surface with warm water to which you have mixed one tablespoon baking soda per quart of water. Do not use soap. Wipe dry.

Now set the freezer and let it run until hot air is blown to lower the temperature before replacing the food.

Make an inventory when you replace the food in the freezer.

Fifth- Avenue United church, Medicine hat was the scene of the recent candlelit double-ring ceremony, when Miss Laura-Marie Dunne of Tilley, were similarly gowned in waltz-length pink lace with matching pink tulle hats. Her attendants, Mrs. D. Birtzer, R.N. of Edmonton and Miss Irene Dunne of Tilley, were similarly gowned in waltz-length pink lace with matching pink tulle hats. They carried colonial bouquets of white carnations with pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Ronald Dunne of Tilley was best man for his brother. Ushering were Mr. Ken Carr, Medicine Hat and Mr. Don Clark of Edmonton.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a navy blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Birtzer, sister of the bride, wore a pink lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Mary Carr, aunt of the bride, sang two hymns, "The Lord's Prayer" and "O, Perfect Love." For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson wore a large figured silk dress with matching accessories and completed her ensemble with a corsage of Talisman roses.

Pool Elections

A redistribution of Wheat Pool sub-districts to accommodate changing membership location, took place during the present summer and a general election of delegates was necessary. As the convention approached, a number of nominations were received for administrative boards from each of the sub-districts and delegates were chosen.

The Pool with A. Ferguson, the executive manager, have advised the people of Canada that Soviet Russia has allocated to them 50 million pounds of canned salmon from the 1956 catch. The quota is an actual fact in honor of the friendship that has been fully established between the two countries.

In the Vegreville District No. 6, six elections were held. In sub-district 60, H. B. Kent, of Mannville, defeated D.H. Matheson, of Lavebarry. In 602 George Bennet, of Mannville defeated Mike Chomiy and Edward McLaughlin. In sub-district 603 George Zeigler, Vegreville, won over John Austin. In 604 Mrs. Bourbon Willoughby, defeated Mrs. George Kapacki. In 605 Wallace Bernstein, Smoky Lake won over Edward Cormack, Pleasantview. In 606 Joseph Lauf, of Boyle, defeated Frank Malik.

RECONCILIATION FAILS FOR YOUNG BRIDE

—Canadian Press Combine

Uncertain of what the future holds for her, Mrs. Lili Vinch rests her head on the shoulder of her husband, Karel, after a meeting with her mother, Mrs. Marketa Muller, who is trying to have their marriage annulled. Mrs. Muller instigated a charge of perjury against her daughter, saying that Lili is only 15 and not her age as 21 on her marriage license. At the meeting Mrs. Muller asked Lili to return to the Muller home near Aurora. Ont., but Lili and her husband emphasized their intention to stay together. As her mother left her, in the Toronto hotel where the attempted reconciliation meeting was staged, Lili asked her mother to kiss her but Mrs. Muller hurried out. The Muller family are refugees re-millionaires from Czechoslovakia.

Cripple On Southern Tour

The sun burns out during a cruise HMCS "Ontario" made to New Zealand. The Canadian cruiser was open to visitors at Dunedin, when eight year old Alister MacKay, who had been crippled by polio, came aboard.

The youngster was having a difficult time trying to make his way around the various parts of the warship, when his plight was spotted by one of the crewmen. The husky seaman picked the boy up and carried him as between he climbed to go for the remainder of the afternoon.

The two friendly fast friends during the course of strolling about and when the ship was cleared of visitors the New Zealand lad remained aboard for supper as a guest of the engineering mechanics.

Before he was refuelled to his home on the ships jetty he was to be fixed out in a red duck tunic, uniform and loaded for boat with chocolate bars and assorted candies.

The little fellow had made such an impression on the Canadians that permission was obtained from the ships captain and his two parents for him to sail with them to Wellington, N.Z. which was the ships next port of call.

The Ontario's small guest was taken on a sight-seeing tour of Wellington and topped off a perfect day by joining each and every man on the ship's mess for a personal visit. It was hard to tell who was having the most fun, the youngster or his Canadian guides. But as with all good things, the end must come, and Alister was piped aboard a cutter by the whole and flown home to Dunedin.

In addition to paying Alister's plane fare home, the officers and men of the HMCS "Ontario" presented him with a cheque for $1000.00. The money had been raised by voluntary subscription from the Canadians for the welfare fund. Any money left over from the fund will be used for the Alister after shipped.

Four Members Of One Family Make Teaching Their Profession

The Petruk children are very thankful to their parents who gave them an opportunity to obtain university education. Mr. and Mrs. Petruk, who have been farming in the St Paul area for the past twenty-eight years, invested a large portion of their earnings for the betterment of their children's future.

All four received their Elementary and Junior High School education at Hamley — a country school and completed their High School matriculation at New Midland.

Steve, the eldest, has taught for the past seven years at Lac Beleine Jerry, second eldest, has been teaching for the past five years at Lac Caribou School. Mary third in family has taught for three years, two years at Chesterville School of the St Paul School Division and one year at Montrose of the Edmonton Public School Board. Olga, youngest daughter, has just completed in the profession. She has taught one year at Forest Heights School of the Edmonton Public School Board.

Every town shown in picture, the youngest is presently attending High School at Mp.

Changes In Personnel

Bissett Creamery Ltd. and General Manager [illegible] announced several changes affecting Calgary and Edmonton personnel effective September 1st. Four men will be given regional supervisory responsibilities over a record of twenty-five years will be assigned new posts within the Company.

Bassar reasons for changes is the anticipated opening of the Battle River generating station. This plant will provide electric power to both the Vegreville and Drumheller districts, so close coordination is necessary.

These 2 areas will now function under one head and there will be a similar amalgamation of the industrial separate Production Departments.

Jack O'Brien, a company veteran, who has been Vegreville District Manager since 1951 will become Division Manager in his new post. Mr. O'Brien will be responsible for policy affecting the combined Drumheller-Vegreville districts. He will soon be moving to the head office of the company in Edmonton.

Production of the power plants at Drumheller, Vermilion and Battle River will come under the Steam Operations Superintendent, Mr. B. B. Davidson of Drumheller. Mr. Davidson is a steam engineer who has at one time been Drumheller Plant Chief. For the past six years he has filled the position of Drumheller District Manager.

The former Assistant District Manager in Drumheller, Mr. G. H. Parker will become Vegreville District Manager. Mr. Parker has been with Canadian Utilities since formation of the company. In Drumheller, the post of District Manager will be filled by Mr. M. E. Davies. He has served the Company in various capacities in the past, having been Office Manager and Accountant in the Drumheller office for the past six years.

Glendon Creamery In First Prize Group

Over half of all first prizes in the butter classes at the Canadian National Exhibition were won by Alberta buttermakers. Alberta won 10 prizes, 10 Firsts, 8 Seconds and 4 Thirds on the butter scored by a Nova Scotia butter-maker, made an exception to the rule by winning 11 out of 16 first prizes awarded. The C.N.E.P. Butter was the highest scoring butter on exhibition and two Silver Medals for standing highest in June and July entries.

The Glendon Creamery won the Silver Medal for having the highest scoring for points tallied.

The N.A.D.P. Ltd., Rodeay won the Special Award of $25.00 for the best finished 14-pound box at the exhibition.

Only a few entries were sent from Alberta plants for the provincial exhibition, but there were very few prizes in these sections. In Class 27, Section 3 — Butter, creamery, solid 14-lb. box of print butter, Mrs. Mary Ann Glendon Creamery is named in a list of 19 Alberta Creameries who made the prize winning butter.

Our congratulations to the Bashaway boys of Glendon for the good showing

Bears Win EARL And Capture Conroy Trophy

Paul 'ee Out Of Fire In Ninth Inning On Spike's 3-Bagger

ST. PAUL BEARS — EASTERN ALBERTA BALL CHAMPS

home of the happy smiles you see on the faces of these St. Paul Bears reflect joy and relief after pulling the Eastern Alberta Baseball League Trophy, donated by Conroy Motors, out of the fire in the ninth inning when they trailed 5-3 to Vermilion and brought in four runs to tie the game. The trophy in the centre is being proudly displayed by Coach Gerth Roberts who pitched his team to victory. Left, front row — Vermilion Coach Reynolds, Walter Arychuk, Gerth Roberts, Spike Kendall, Alex Kushi, Andy Berezuki; back row, Church Kendall, Stewart Judy, Johnny Hawerchuk, Hank Andruniuk and Hank Judy. Missing from the picture is Bill Hawerchuk who at the time was home with a sore arm. Charles Gauvreau is manager of the team and Jack Buckley secretary-treasurer.

Playing under the double pressure of being one of the St. Paul the first inning Three runs were scored by Dutton, McNab and Larcombe on two infield errors from shortstop Andy Berezuki and second baseman Church Kendel)

Roberts, on a center field fly to bagger in the second made the round when fielder Joe Wolf muffed the ball dribble past his fingers up to the outfield fence.

Hainsworth pitched his best against the wall on two occasions with the bases loaded, but came through with flying colors on some beautiful controlled pitching.

St. Paul closed the gap in the score on the top of the fifth. Jack Andruniuk standing home plate third on a forced play in which the Vermilion first baseman R. Prue made a bum throw to home plate. In the bottom of the same inning the run was counter-punched by R. Dunbar who singled to left field, stole second and came in on a ball field single by MacNab

The odds against the bears piled up in the bottom of the seventh Two runs came in from a walk to Joe Waters and an error by Ernie Chartrand in right field when he missed a pop fly he didn't see with the sun reflecting in his eyes from a particular, permitting Gerum to come in.

The eighth went scoreless. The big break came in the top of the ninth for the champions St. Paul Bears. Pitcher Holowaty who had the game on ice had to punish a line drive between Vegreville and turned over the pitching duties to Ray Gerum.

Ernie Chartrand started the ball rolling with a two-bagger to right field. Johnny Kotowich got on the easy way with a walk and Church Kendall followed with a hit pitch landing in the basin. Then came the big boys of the day, Spike Kendall, who connected with his first pitch for a screaming right and center field, over Joe Winter's head, a three-bagger that scored two men on base. Jack Andruniuk followed with a single to left field as he heads to do 'or up, hit out the ball to Joe Winters who got the ball on one bull but missed — a costly error on the part of Vermilion as Spike scored the ball game and cast a 10th ripple.

With two away in the 10th inning, Jonas Hainsbud off the mound and Larcombe batting over for Vermilion, Johnny Kotowich dropped for a double, pulled a sugar stool of third and was called safe on a close decision. Church Kendall was given a walk which set up the pay-off play.

Marrying the pitcher and the batted, with a long lead, Church went for second on the pitch.

Town Council Considering Amenity Plans

The Town Council met in special session Monday to consider five plans for amenity and recreation in town employment. They studied the submissions and heard several insurance representatives, but will continue to deliberate the problem for a location agreeable to both the Town and the employees concerned. There will be four candidates under the scheme.

Rev. Fr. D. MacDonald of Edmonton performed the wedding ceremony while Rev. Fr. Lafreniere and Rev. Fr. Gauthier were deacons and Miss Gabriel Rolland mistress of Penie Angelicus.

After the ceremony, the wedding party moved to the KC Hall, decorated with white bells, streamers and flowers, where the reception was held and the newlyweds received congratulations from their many friends. Supper in a table adorned with a beautiful 4-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, designed by Mrs. Ed. Cook.

Colorful Fall Ceremony Held In St. Paul Roman Catholic Cathedral

One of the most colorful weddings of the early fall season was solemnized in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception when Miss Marie Antoinette Lamoureux became the bride of Mr. Gerald Bernard Monvoisin. Vows were exchanged before the candlelight altar at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, September 8th, in the R.C. Cathedral where the altar and sanctuary were banked with multicoloured plenitude for the wedding ceremony uniting in holy wedlock Miss Madeleine Francoise Landreville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Landreville of St Paul to Comte Cyril J. Barry, a member of the RCMP and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barry, of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia.

The bridal couple were altar flowers were matched by the resplendent scarlet tunics of the groom, the attendants and ushers, complimenting the brides beautiful attire as she walked down the aisle accompanied by her father, Mr. R. Landreville, who gave her away in marriage.

Panels of nylon and rayon lace shaped the beautiful sheath of double net over rayon satin and long sleeved jacket of nylon and rayon lace worn by the charming bride. Her headdress was a lovely tiara trimmed with matching seed pearls. She carried a muff of pearl prayer book, a gift of the groom and a bouquet of American Beauty roses entwined with small colored streamers.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a dusty rose crepe dress with navy blue ottoman cord dusters hat and gloves to match, neckpiece and corsage of pink rosebuds.

Bridesmaids, Miss Bertha Frigon and Miss Claudette Landreville were respectively brunette and gold dresses of chrysalette, with long torso and bolero to match, feathered hats. They carried bouquets of yellow mum and chamois d'or, tied with brown and yellow streamers.

Const. P. B. McCloskey and Const. A. Dietz were ushers and ushering was done by Const. J. Wonda and Const. W. Cook, all members of the RCMP, wearing scarlet tunics which gave the final and attractive color to the impressive ceremony.

Mr. Frigon, Mr. Landreville, Mr. Monvoisin and Mr. Barry were all members of the RCMP.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party moved to the KC Hall, decorated with white bells, streamers and flowers, where the reception was held and the newlyweds received congratulations from their many friends. Supper in a table adorned with a beautiful 4-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, designed by Mrs. Ed. Cook.

Modern Way Of Living Demands More Money

Guest Speaker At Meeting By District 4 Of Farmers' Union

The Honorable E. W. Hinman, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Provincial Treasurer for Alberta, guest of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, District 4 speaking at a meeting at the Parish Hall last Thursday addressed a group of farmers, politicians — Social Creditors, Liberals and others — brought forward the theory that the high standard of living and the demand on public services has brought his government to the point where it must revert to extra taxation in order to meet the growing demands imposed by municipalities.

Mr. Hinman was introduced by His Worship Mayor Jules Van Vak and entertainment habits, our social and amusement habits, our educational patterns — every phase of our lives has shifted with the growth of high income — through out economy

No longer can our farmers do with little cash supplemented by home grown produce, hand made apparel, woodlot fuel and occasional school assignment. No longer do our young people accept the standard of living the rural districts and smaller towns are living in urban centres. No longer will young people start out with only a cowhings and enough implements encompassed by mangere and rustic fashion.

We all take for granted that some uniformity in social security and standard of living is both possible and desirable To make it so we have accepted the principle that our governments provide certain services for all and the individual has and has to contribute. For these services to have come to maintain a Provincial government must have a large source of revenue to cover increasing costs of ever increasing services

It is at the municipal level that the effects of the change in population has been most keenly felt, more than provincial and does tell the municipalities that what they must do to provide the basic services that we now have complete control of the ever-increasing costs.

Provinces have more accurately defined their own responsibilities than they have those of the municipalities.

Changes At The Local Indian Agency Offices

Mr. Bert Combe, assistant Indian Agent at St. Paul has been transferred to Hobbema. Mrs. Bay Neimen is being moved to Brocket to southern Alberta near Pincher Creek.

The Indian Auxiliary in the Legion Succeeded Mrs. Cranmer and Mrs. Neimen at a social in the Legion Hall Tuesday and on Wednesday at a ring the men received good wishes from their many friends

Mr Combe is president of the Curling Club, so he very busy in the evening he will be missed in curling circles and his curling, laughs and sporting spirit will be hard to replace

Off the 'record, we're trying to figure out why Bert wasn't tossed out of the ball park on the Sunday baseball finals in Vermilion. It would probably have been the only unpunishable raising the umpire would have made that day. Combe usually Bert told us he was expecting to be, and was moved to the commotion just as he could get his name in the newspaper. Anyway, your name is in, Bert.

DO WE NEED OR WANT EXTRA TAXATION?

Listening to the Hon. E. W. Hinman, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Provincial Treasurer was a real pleasure. Seldom have we heard a speaker, put his topic, introduce and develop it so clearly and to the point in a minimum of words.

Despite of the beautiful delivery, we just don't quite agree with Mr. Hinman that new taxes must be imposed upon the population of Alberta in order that the government fill out its responsibilities towards the municipalities and the schools.

Mr. Hinman very simply told the audience that in his estimation the high standard of living demanded by the people necessarily means more taxes. There is absolutely no doubt in his mind about. He didn't ask the people if they want the new tax or not. He assumes it is necessary from his point of view and simply suggests that what kind of tax should be imposed. He asks the public to help the government to raise a new tax which will be acceptable to all not if they want the tax or if it is needed.

He says that his government doesn't want to impose any sort of a tax on the people, let alone sales tax. But, Mr. Hinman is a shrewd politician. In his description of a number of taxes — such as succession, commodity, Transaction, Poll, Amusement, Income — most of which are already being assessed, he brings in an additional one — sales tax — about the only one which is not being collected at present on the provincial level in Alberta.

From there on he gives the attributes of a good tax — that it must apply to everyone, be easily collectable — just made to order for sales tax.

At this point of his address everybody in the audience has forgotten the fact that it is no more a question of whether we need the tax or not. The question now a fact by now) and the only problem is to choose a tax which will pull Alberta out of a depression.

Help is solicited from public bodies such as the Farmers' Union of Alberta, Chambers of Commerce and other civic groups. The government would be very pleased, before the next session, to receive briefs of their recommendations for a new tax and legislate on the submission then to some extent.

May we suggest that before we rack our brains to devise a new tax, we pause for a moment to consider whether or not we need the new tax. What has happened to all that prosperity Alberta had during its last election campaign? It's millions from oil rights. From new industrial projects. It's budding agriculture, second to none in the world if then, we were acting in favor and on top of the world How come — in a sudden we're broke? What has happened to all the beautiful prospects for the future?

Before we make any decisions let's ask a few more questions and get a few more facts on why Alberta must resort to extra taxes. It's an appropriate subject for our Chamber of Commerce. The Junior Chamber should also take an active part as well as other community clubs. They want these questions answered, against the tax, then if enough voices are heard, then perhaps they will reconsider

DO WE WANT BASEBALL?

The Eastern Alberta Baseball League playoffs came to an end Sunday at Vermilion with the St. Paul Beavs taking possession of the Canora Trophy and top honors.

The League marked its third year of operation and during that time had its ups and downs. The difficulties at times seemed to far outweigh its assets and on several occasions there was serious threat that the whole circuit would fall apart.

This year was no exception and complexities dragged along most of the summer without too much fan support with a consequent loss of interest also on the part of the players who found better entertainment and pleasure at the lakes along with the people who should have been supporting them.

The regular schedule could not be played off. To conclude the affair playoffs were improvised to allow all of the five participating teams a chance to play in. They didn't seem too interested and three of the five defaulted, leaving the field open to but necessarily the best teams but those with most perseverance, in this case St. Paul and Vermilion. St Paul stayed in by the skin of its nose and came through the tournament as the champions of the end of the players finish.

Does anybody want baseball? It seems not enough to make a go of it! If it can't compete against the summer attractions, would it be wise to abandon it?

All those questions will have to be answered next year. We hope that despite of it all there is still a nucleus of a good baseball team in St. Paul and a few sports left to support it.

Personally we enjoyed all the games and the final in Vermilion was made to order for the best thrill of the year. A hearty thanks to the boys for sticking with it, for winning the Trophy and maintaining the prestige of St. Paul, all of that in the face of tremendous odds — both physical and moral!

FROSTS OVER ALBERTA

Frosts were general over most of Alberta early this week causing damage to crops. Most crops are still standing and a large percentage is still somewhat in the green side so damage will likely be extensive. A few points reported up to 8 degrees of frost but in most places it was confined to 4 degrees or less

Harvesting is much later than normal and at September 1 only 1 per cent of the wheat and oats, 6 per cent of the barley and 22 per cent of the rye had been thrashed. A year ago the percentages were 16, 15, 30 and 73 per cent respectively. Continued cool wet weather has kept farmers from getting into the fields and has delayed ripening.

INSULATE NOW!

MARRIED IN UNITED CHURCH ST. PAUL

A recent wedding of interest recently was performed in the United Church when Miss Marlene Peacock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Peacock of Wetaskiwin exchanged vows with Mr. Garth Roberts, son of Mrs. Roberts of Edmonton. The couple will take up residence in St. Paul.

United Church Is Scene Of Popular Wedding Ceremony

The United Church, appropriately banked with multicolored flowers was the scene of a popular June wedding when Miss Marlette Peacock, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Al Peacock of Wetaskiwin plighted vows in a double ring ceremony with Mr. Garth Roberts — Mrs. Kate Roberts of Edmonton.

Rev. Mather of Vegreville performed the ceremony in which the bride was given away by her father

The bride was radiantly attired in a long white brocade net over satin, strapless bodice and lily point skirt. Her headpiece was a rhinestone studded crown holding in place a finger-tipped veil of sequins. She carried a prayer book decorated with sweetheart roses.

Miss Peacock complimented her daughter in a two-piece turquoise dress of chrysalette adorned by a matching corsage and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy dress of rayon crepe matching gloves and a pink and white corsage.

Mr. Roberts was attended as best man by Clare Yakemchuk and Annie Dures, ushers were Bill Peacock and Terry LaBeaucane, both of Edmonton. Mr. Gus Ford, Barrhead Mr and Mrs. Ross Myers Kindersley, Mr and Mrs. L. Myers and Mr and Mrs. Mel Schiela, Calgary.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs Wes Spencer Mrs. Wallace Peacock and son, Mrs. Thelma Eastlands, all of Edmonton, Mr. Gus Brock Mr and Mrs. Charles Tull, Barrhead Mr and Mrs. Ross Myers Kindersley, Mr and Mrs. L. Myers and Mr and Mrs. Mel Schiela, Calgary.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the K.C. Hall where a three tiered cake embellished with roses decorated the table of honor

For the honeymoon trip the bride changed to a brown suit and green accessories, corsage of sweetheart roses. Upon their return they will take up residence in St. Paul.

At the church entrance the departing couple walked out under an arch of crossed-out held by little ushers when the groom had received in the past season They were also dressed in baseball uniforms, making a novel act to the celebration.

Letters to the Editor

Views and opinions from our readers, regardless of political, religious and racial affiliations are always welcome on the basis of their individual merits. However, this newspaper does not necessarily endorse or disagree. They are published in the public interest.

Dear Sir:

The St. Paul Branch of the Red Cross Society wishes to express our gratitude to the public for their generous response to the Blood Clinic held here recently. It pleases that St. Paulites are aware of the benefits derived from the Blood Transfusion Service

For instance one baby in St. Paul Local area wishes to have a baby brother or sister. After a number of disappointments in the past, a new home has still been left childless. Paul is entitled to 2 pints of blood but has judged irregular to the donor's make

Our most sincere thanks to the chief organizers of the clinic Mrs. Margaret Cooper and Mrs. Margaret Dennie who so efficiently managed the tremendous amount of work involved in the smooth and successful operation of the clinic. Many thanks to the canvassers, to the 80 volunteer workers the day of the clinic, to those who donated towards the cost to the St. Paul Journal for advertising, to the Jaycees for transportation and for loaning us Mr. Charlie Gauvreau as a right-hand-man, to the firemen for loaning not any others who gave of their time, effort and interest. We feel sure that St. Paul

Yours sincerely,

LABORER WORTHY OF HIS HIGHER

Snow On Roofs In Winter Is Sign Of Good Insulation

It's easy to tell which homes enjoy the most comfort and which are still inadequately insulated. Just glance at the roofs on a winter day.

The snow on the roof of a properly insulated home will be preserved for long hours, even though outside temperatures may be below freezing. The property insulated home will melt the snow from the roof much more quickly.

The reason for this difference is that the heat escaping from the basement of the well insulated home is prevented from escaping through the roof. Instead, it is forced to escape through the walls and windows, thus helping to keep the house warm.

Insulation provides other benefits to the homeowner too. It helps save re-decorating costs because dust and dirt are less attracted to warm surfaces than to cold ones.

An important feature to keep in mind when choosing an insulation is its fire-resistance. It is essential that it be fireproof and recommendation of electricity

Another valuable value of a home is also increased if it is well insulated.

It is wise to discuss your own installation requirements with a building materials dealer to get his opinion on the type that would be best for your home.

It's no use planning to do your own installation — and then save Application costs — make sure that the insulation you choose is one that can be handled and that will provide the ideal

Sightseeing in Scotland With Stratford Shoes

—Courtesy Penman Canadian

Where Canada's famous Stratford players aren't performing in "Henry V" and "Ordinary Man" in charming scenes at Edinburgh Festival, many of them are to be found in Scotland. Such is the case with Frederick Cedarl Cameron, at right, Goodie Montreal and Grainger Gelinas, seen taking a horse and carriage "sightseeing" with guide Jessie Murray, a retired resident of Edinburgh. Cameron, the Penman Company, a leading Canadian manufacturer of knitwear, is one of the four-fifths of industrial employers who are now on a five-day week, and most of them are working 40 hours or less. In addition to all that there has been a very substantial increase in the coverage of employee pension and welfare plans. There never was a period in our history when more goods and services were being required and enjoyed by Canadians. Furthermore, these goods and services are of such quality and price that many of the similar things produced only a few years ago now seem modest by comparison.

The technological advances of industry, which have resulted in greater productivity per employee, led the introduction of shorter hours and higher real wages have also found their way into the home, where labor-saving appliances with automatic features have meant an increase in leisure time.

Meanwhile our new plants and office buildings give clear indication that they are designed not merely to house machines but also to provide safe and pleasant working conditions for men and women. All our modern products of industry — the products of peacetime and merchandising point up a dramatic husband rise in our standards which has taken place in slightly more than a decade."

Canadian Living Standard Greatly Improved Since End Of War

In a Labour Day message to Canadians Hon. Milton F. Gregg, Minister of Labour, pointed out that the substantial increase since the end of World War 2 in the average standards and economic security of Canadians. He stated that "Canadians from any point of view, Canadians as a whole are now enjoying a very high standard of living.

With over three million new homes built since World War 2, and construction continuing at a high rate, Canadians today are among the best housed people on earth. Employment is at an all-time high. Average weekly earnings in Canadian industries are also at record levels, having just about doubled in the postwar period. Through collective bargaining with employers and otherwise Canadian workers are now enjoying longer annual vacations after shorter periods of service, as well as more paid statutory holidays than at any previous time.

For example, the proportion of workers in industry employed working in plants where it is policy to grant a paid vacation of at least two weeks has risen since 1947 from 31 to 82 per cent, and the proportion of those who work in establishments granting six or more paid statutory holidays in a year has risen during the same period from 36 to 84 per cent. Standard weekly hours of work have been cut in the industry over four-fifths of industrial employees are now on a five-day week, and most of them are working 40 hours or less. In addition to all that there has been a very substantial increase in the coverage of employee pension and welfare plans. There never was a period in our history when more goods and services were being required and enjoyed by Canadians. New School For Cold Lake

The new school, situated on the old school grounds, contains features unusually found only in larger city school buildings. An ultra modern shop and household economics section has been included which will serve students of the Cold Lake, Grand Centre and the nearby RCAF Station.

The classrooms are glass on one side with glass blackboards on the other. Above slides while the windows are shaded by green roller blinds. The building is fitted with seating capacity of 300 forms the auditorium. The building is equipped with a stage and proper lighting system for dramatic productions.

The building itself is of frame construction on two levels and is spanned by laminated beams which have been varnished and stained so as to stand out and give a very pleasing effect in both auditorium and classrooms.

The staff of the new school will be headed by Principal Mullaney who has taught in Cold Lake town since 1950 and who has expressed confidence that the new building will allow Cold Lake to serve its high school pupils with all the subjects normally obtainable in any Alberta school.

Farmers Are Vitally Interested

EDMONTON, Sept. 7 —Mr. A. W. Platt, President of the Farmers' Union of Alberta is leaving Sunday for Ottawa to appear before the Board of Transport Controllers on behalf of the Interprovincial Farm Union Council. At the hearing Mr. Platt will present a brief submitted by public and semi-public

He said that the Interprovincial Farm Union Council considers three main arguments in opposing the proposal, these are: 1 Farmers are vitally interested in this problem because any increase in shipping cost will be passed on to them through lower and handling charges. 2 If the railroads are requesting increase charges in order to increase their revenue they must first give us need and secondly they must consider whether or not agriculture is in question to pay. Mr. Platt said. We can show conclusively that the present returns to the railroads are much higher than present returns to farming and I hope to emphasize the very difficult position that farmers find themselves in today." 3 If the railroads are asking for the charges as a penalty to increase efficiency in unloading we will argue that there are other means of accomplishing this without the farmers paying the bill.

Mr. Platt is second Vice-President of the Interprovincial Farm Union Council.

Whooping Cranes On Their Way

Residents of Northern Alberta are being advised by the Audubon Society of Canada to be alert for a migration of the world's last flock of whooping cranes in winding out its annual journey from the shores of Canada's rarest birds to their wintering grounds in Texas the Society warned that fall in the whooping crane migration.

Five feet tall, with a seven-foot wingspread, the whooping cranes have long been fighting a losing battle for existence since the eastern Alberta, Saskatchewan, Western Manitoba, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas in coming years the birds will face their greatest peril.

During September, October, and early November, the perennial duo, which this year must move 2,500 miles from the Northwest Territories to the Gulf of Mexico, the migration route is timed. Unwelcome guests disappear, consequences. Audubon researchers still because they do not to maintain a safe breeding population, they must be evil by at least 50.

Confusion with other birds is frequent, but whooping cranes may be identified by their long neck outstretched and long legs trailing. The cranes while in flight flap slightly as though the wings and never dipping in India ink. Other large white birds may have short legs or fly with the head tucked back or have completely white wings. But if any doubt remains, remember that a sighting of any large white bird, the crane's chances will be enhanced.

Conservationists, farmers, naturalists, sportsmen, citizens generally are urged to help spread the word. Keep the cranes flying! Do not shoot at any large white bird. It may be a whooping crane.

The Traffic Safety Lane

By J. W. McKAY
Secretary Highway Traffic Board, Edmonton

For the most few weeks we have taken a good look at the faults of those drivers that would make bad risks. Now let us take a look at a good driver.

Looking at a good driver from a psychological point of view we find him one with motor skill, balance and self-control; he is one who has good sight. These characteristics show:
(1) A sense of responsibility
(2) Courtesy and consideration
(3) Foresight
(4) Concentrated attention
(5) Good judgment.

This type of a driver is not driving just for his own advantage, but he has also a deep sense of responsibility for others. He realizes the traffic situation, he sees the potentialities. In his mind, there is a clear picture of the traffic situation of that particular highway or street he travels on and besides, he has mentally mapped the course he is to follow. This type of a driver is opposite to the hotspark, egotist, unbalanced trouble makers we have been looking at.

He has good judgement. This is not a spontaneous gift, but is a product of sound training.

He is constantly sizing up the traffic situation and is not caught short in a pinch. He knows which corner he is to turn or get into the right lane well before hand.

His attention is also constant. It is easy to have driving attention distracted by any arrested happenings on the side lanes. This driver's attention is where it belongs, in place and held there. He is able to attend to business which takes in the total traffic pattern. His constant attention is fortunate on the path that he and should take.

It is a fact that there is a natural tendency to steer towards the spot to which you attend. The reaction of your body all to adjust to that goal. Like a bicycle learning to ride, success via attention on the path he wants to move to. Therefore the driver attention is elsewhere than on the pathway of the car, has a tendency to wander. He could very easily cause an accident.

Some of the things that cause a driver's attention are:
The scene of an accident
Novel things in passing
Fine views
A member of the opposite sex in a low-lowed driver
Arguments
A hot or snap in the car
A hot blow-up off
Many light reflections

The driver who has grown up in the car who makes his living in business.

He is the one who will not be caught short and bound to be the cause of an accident.

Farmers around the world are giving up horses and changing to tractors at the rate of nearly half a million a year.

This is the latest report of Agriculture Prosperity. In 1954 farmers, not counting those in Russia, were using a total of 21,000,000 tractors, about two-thirds of them were in Canada and the United States.

Allow $22,000 For Legislative Grounds

The provincial cabinet Tuesday approved a special warrant for $22,000 to cover the cost of water lines, hydrants and installations for the Legislative Building grounds.

Assembly no official announcement was made as to whether the cabinet approved the request for the special warrant.

Another matter for the cabinet to consider was the proposed move to transfer the Provincial Archives from the Legislative Building to the Provincial Museum and Archives building on the University campus.

ELK POINT — Buckets of white, gold and mauve gladioli graced the altar of Elk Point United Church also afternoon when Miss Elizabeth Pearl Baldwin daughter of Mr. and Mr. Ralph Baldwin became the bride of Mr. Darrel Dalziel Lodore, son of Mr and Mrs. William Lodore, all of Elk Point.

The groom is a dentistry student at the University of Alberta and his bride is a graduate of the Royal Alexandra Hospital School of Nursing.

Rev. R. Esdale officiated at the double ring ceremony performed before an altar decorated with white gladioli and mauve asters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length satin gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and lily point sleeves. The full skirt of her gown was finished with V-shaped scallops, trimmed with French lace. She carried a prayer book, centred with a white orchid and surrounded with yellow sweetheart roses.

Miss Evelyn Bolton was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Marcia Valentine and Miss Jessie Bryant.

The maid wore length gowns and their attire was identical with those worn by the bride. They carried colonial bouquets of mauve and white asters and carnations.

Mr. James Adams, Mr. Edward Baldwin and Mr. Danny Lesch attended the groom and ushering the guests were Mr Gordon Lamb and Mr John Zinck.

Later a reception was held at the Elk Park Community Hall where 200 guests were received by Mr. R. Barwick as master of ceremonies. For a honeymoon at Banff and Jasper, the bride changed to a floral white ta-lored suit. Her accessories were navy and tangerine and she wore an orchid corsage.

The newlyweds will make their home in Edmonton.

TB Clinic In St. Paul Early October

You are reminded that a TB Chest X-Ray clinic is being planned for the first part of October, dates to be released as soon as the registration and appointment list determines the amount of days it will be necessary.

The following facts are brief excerpts of interest on TB.

TB in the lung can be found long before you feel sick. An X-Ray picture of the chest and examination by a doctor will tell whether or not you have tuberculosis. When TB is found early and treated promptly, patients almost always recover.

When TB germs get into the body they usually enter the lungs. Then one of three things can happen.

1. A healthy body may fight and defeat the germs. This is likely to happen if the germs are few. Many people don't know that their bodies have fought a round with tuberculosis and won.

Why X-ray in This Case?
Because the years of the fight will show on the lung, letting the doctor know TB has already been in this case.

2. The second thing that may happen is that body resistance may fail to defeat the germs, either because there are too many germs or because body resistance has been lowered. However, although the body may not defeat the germs it may be able to keep them from spreading. Neither side is winning. It's a draw.

Why X-ray in This Case?
Because this would develop into a dangerous case of active. Everything should be done to tip the balance in favor of the body. The sooner the germs of active is known the better, so that everything can be done to give body resistance a chance.

3. Sometimes the TB germs have attacked in such numbers and with such power that they are too much for the body's defenses. They gain the upper hand, grow and spread. Though the person losing the battle may not feel sick initially he is in for a bad time. Soon he will begin to lose pep and feel tired, to lose weight, to cough and perhaps to spit blood.

Why X-Ray In This Case?
Because the exact extent of the disease should be known and proper treatment begun at once. There is no time to lose. Modern drugs help greatly in recovery.

Travelling in Real Style to Use In Years!

—Aerial Free Lance

It looks like babies "never had it so good" as they have today. This model to be Ann Van Dyke's thought as he surveys the deck cargo aboard the Seven Seas—prior to the ship's sailing from Quebec—from Dunsfolde nursery with 1,000 babies aboard. The baby travelled all the way east from Victoria Island to this portside orth, accompanied by his mother, seen at left, who is taking him to visit her parents in The Bagan, Holland. Both she and Ann, Ann Van Dyke, 2, lived there before emigrating last year to Canada.

Original Purpose Of Saluting

by Jim Brahm

Saluting in today's armed forces is only an act of courtesy, in ancient times it was carried out for a definite purpose

During the era of heavily armed knights, it was the custom when two of them met to raise their visors. This proved them to be friendly towards one another, because when their visors were open both parties were vulnerable to attack.

However, lowering up a visor with a hand encased in an iron glove was no small chore, and eventually the raising of the helmet as if to open the eye piece was considered sufficient to prove peaceful intentions. The open hand in the salute proved they had no weapon, such as a brain piercing stiletto concealed in their fist.

The naval salute with the hand came into being in almost recent times. It was officially introduced into the Royal Navy in 1856. Prior to this time it was the custom for sailors to remove their hats in salute to a senior.

Queen Victoria instituted the hand salute in the Navy. This happened when she sent for certain officers and men to thank them for rendering help to a distressed German ship. After thanking them the Queen stated that she did not like men in uniform standing with their hats off.

The age old custom of saluting the quarterdeck of a ship is customs claimed to be done because in olden times they used to carry a crucifix there. Most likely this action is carried out because the quarterdeck is the seat of authority and the position nearest to where the Regent's orders are displayed. Some authorities, of course, claim it was custom based on saluting the crucifix would have survived the many religious upheavals in which England has been subject through the centuries.

Fishing At Cold Lake Not Endagering Trout

Operations during August have indicated that commercial fishing can be permitted in Cold Lake, in northern Alberta, without endangering the trout population.

The big lake was opened for short periods twice in August with fishermen netting 300,000 pounds of whitefish but only 1,000 pounds of lake trout.

It is the first time in about eight years that fishing has been permitted in the lake. It has been closed in an effort to protect the declining trout population.

Similar Study

Investigations by the provincial fisheries branch have indicated that during August nets can be dropped in areas of the lake inhabited by large concentrations of whitefish, without disturbing an undue number of trout.

Residents of the Cold Lake area have been pressing the government to permit commercial netting of whitefish. They claim the economy of the area needs

Cold Lake in the past was famous for producing huge lake trout, which attracted many anglers, but in recent years the trout have ...ing perceptibly. Now, however, they appear to be staging a comeback.

Seek Hind Parts

Residents of the area also want permission to net ling, a fish which has no commercial value but which is prized as food for mink. Mink ranching is an important industry in the area.

Investigations have indicated that during certain times of the year ling can be netted without catching great quantities of other fish, but so far there have been no amendments to the regulations to permit fishing strictly for ling.

Officials say a large number of ling were taken from the nets during the two fishing seasons in August.

The government anticipates that more fishing seasons will be opened in Cold Lake, but first there will have to be an arrangement with the government of Saskatchewan. The lake straddles the border between the two provinces.

Be you are going to invest your money in some new clothes. Well, here is a tale about Tom Smith who takes plenty of time to shop rather than buying clothes on a hurry. Think twice before you buy an unusual count of garments. Will the item excellently is wearing it soon make it the ideal thing for you. Rather than fickle clothes choose planned garments for they can be worn on multiple occasions. Also the spacious coats should be avoided because new lines of them is costly.

The best idea is to invest the largest part of your clothing allowance on a coat or clothes for work as these garments are generally worn and must stand up under stress and strain. Avoid trimmings or light colored materials that must be dry-cleaned frequently. Pearly on-looking garments should also be avoided "taboo." They usually appear worn out in a very short time as damaged their champions in price if tempted to buy. Vary the styles of your clothes. Don't have too many of one kind in your wardrobe. Keep in mind the thought that you want to wear that lovely dress for different occasions. It's a great saving to if it is appropriate for more than one occasion.

Sales are a delight to many a bargain hunter, but restrain yourself in buying only something you'll really need. Then when you get home you won't regret your purchase.

In conclusion, buy good accessories. Unmatched, inexpensive may tend to cheapen your appearance even though you may be wearing lovely clothes. One set of carefully chosen good accessories worn with different suits and dresses is better than several cheap sets.

Mid-Year Session Now Cold Lake Of Safety Council Medical Officer

September 6, 1956

Plans for a winter driving safety campaign to open about September 15 for at least a ...mmended station will be discussed when the annual meeting of the directors of the Alberta Safety Council is held in Red Deer, Wednesday October 10th. The reasons why it will be held on the new Monday date, and agenda will be announced.

H. B. MacDonald, of Calgary, President of the Alberta Safety Council, will preside and Paul Cameron, Safety Director from Edmonton, will act as secretary. Committee attendance from Edmonton, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Camrose, and Edmonton branches.

Results from the branches will be tabulated, in addition to those dealing with the general work of the provincial ...mittee, Rotary Clubs of Calgary Safety Supervisor for southern Alberta, and others will report on this year's safety programs.

The report from Medicine Hat was, to say the least, gratifying. Driving records having gone well over the 450 days without a traffic fatality and establishing a new record of a total of 15 people killed. 21,230. That city also will have pedal pusher clubs in all schools to promote safe bicycle riding. The Lodge Clubs is assisting in promoting this effort.

The Drumheller branch has a project under consideration and will give details at the Red Deer meeting.

Pedal pusher clubs have also been operated during the summer on the Red Deer branch, which recently was supplied with 50 lake plates for riders who survived in passing their tests.

The provincial council board is expected to give special attention to the Winter Hazards campaign, especially ... a large percentage of the car fatalities occur in rural districts during the month of December and in early January.

Strong appeals will be made to motorists to drive safely and avoid ...bbrating liquor during the Christmas and New Years season. "If you drink, don't drive if you drive, don't drink," will be again one of the feature themes.

Attention also will be drawn to driving hazards, particularly when road and street surfaces are icy and skidding is an ever present possibility. The short period of daylight and longer night driving hours also contribute to traffic mishaps and smashups, many with tragic results.

Greater Care In Brooding Season Pays Off In Larger Live Litters

By CAM SMITH, D.S.

Boars should be kept in good trim at breeding season, particularly a little on the thin side rather than on the heavy side. Colds and sores should be kept on the same conditions during the breeding and gestation period. Give them enough, good feed and no paralysis will develop.

Gilts and sows should be given special attention three or four days previous to farrowing so that they will be familiar with you when they farrow. You will have pigs this way and the new sow or gilt will be a better mother which pays off in dollars and cents. It is best to be with the sow or gilt when farrowing and dry the piglets off with a dry cloth. A guard rail with a heat lamp behind it will keep the piglets warm and dry. These heat lamps can be purchased at practically any hardware. The sleeping quarters should be cut out shortly after birth so that no injury is possible to the heels of the sow or gilt.

Here from that point on, the critical period in swine production is usual. The statement made in a previous article that only half the pigs born were marketed is due in large part to this period. The first month after birth is when the most of these losses occur. Death due to lack of milk, lack of iron, lack of care, etc., are very heavy. The pigs that die in this period actually make the difference between profit and loss in most cases. If you are not marketing 8 pigs per litter check your management at this point. In most cases a matched inexperienced sow be had if care is taken.

As a general guide these are the points to follow from birth to weaning. (1) be present when farrowing and dry with cloth. (2) remove sharp teeth of piglets. (3) construct good rails and if possible a cold, humid heat lamp if you have power. (4) give piglets reduced iron to reduce anemia (this can be done with iron paste or powder) the iron should be given for at least two to four weeks after birth; (5) give a creep-feed after two weeks to piglets (this can be purchased or ground hulled oats is good); (6) Castrate all male market pigs at 6 weeks when weaning pigs at 6 weeks of age and put on 16 per cent protein ration. Grain averages only about 15 per cent protein so skim milk and/or protein supplement needs to be added in sufficient quantities to bring the ration up to 18 per cent protein level. If these seven general points are followed a fair degree of success should be enjoyed. Another point should be made on sow nutrition for originless and parasitism is a good practice of cleanliness are followed. This is a procession and is very cheap insurance Many are poor pigs born because they have pneumonia and pigs with cheesy or acute originless are just no good.

At weaning the piglets should not be put on creep feed such as oats for they can't take a bulky feed until they are much bigger As a rule feed the pigs an 18 per cent protein ration from weaning to 75 lbs. From 75 lbs. to 125 lbs. feed them a 16 per cent protein ration . . . from 125 lbs. to 200 lbs. a 14 per cent protein ration. Remember 3 pigs is a profitable enterprise if you don't feed a concentrate or skimmed milk you can't market pigs in 4 months and if you keep them longer they eat more grain. Generally 220-225 lbs. of grain can be saved if a concentrate and skim milk are added to a grain ration in the proper amounts. The faster you get a pig to market the more grain you save and of course the more money you make. This can only be done with a balanced ration.

Marketing pigs at the proper weight is important if you wish to obtain the higher grades. Market hogs should be shipped between 200-210 lbs. for best results.

In the next article the field or hog marketing will be discussed briefly. Grades have been discussed quite widely and there are many different opinions regarding it. A fairly objective article will be difficult to write but there are a few important points which are generally accepted regarding livestock marketing.

The greater variety of nutritional foods that has been made available to the home over the past five decades has been a contributing factor in extending the life expectancy span from 47 years to about 70 years, says Roy M Walter, vice-president of research and development for General Foods.

One of the things upon which plant breeders and agronomists continue to concentrate from time to time is the persistence with which some farmers who are seemingly not variety conscious continue to grow year after year second and third choice varieties of grain that are not recommended for the district in which they farm. Many of the varieties grown while they may be considered reasonably satisfactory, are certainly not so good as those which have been recommended either on account of their yields, their better disease resistance, or their better adaptability to the area. On the other hand, some varieties are definitely lacking in quality. This is one side of the picture, but there is another group of producers who are perhaps overly variety conscious and who are determined to reach out for all new varieties that are distributed regardless of whether they are recommended for their particular areas or not.

In either case the grower may be loser. In the first instance, the one who continues to raise lower yielding variety does not obtain a full yield wherein the grower of a poor quality product does not receive comparable cash returns per bushel for helping the overall q... In the parlay who takes on a new variety simply because it is a new variety is not taking full advantage of the trials and tests which have been made by the various Experimental stations and Universities to determine whether the variety can be considered suitable for a certain area or not and whether or not it will perform as well as the standard variety that has been commonly grown in the past.

Fortunately, most producers follow fairly closely the variety recommendations which are made every year by the Department of Agriculture in each of the prairie provinces. These recommendations provide a useful guide and should be studied carefully

Hunting Season Away With Bang

It was a bang that developed quite a number of new members at the gallery opened up Wednesday morning to put home the realities of life to the duck population who had heretofore been enjoying the abundance of our wheat fields.

Spared the tribulations of ducks in other districts where the season was advanced the majority entered birds flew innocently into their regular feeding grounds which had been well spread to meet buckshot heading

Bang bang and the drinks which fell early Wednesday morning was all in favor of the hunters, forcing the ducks down into and blind. The limit fell to at least we heard from all the successful ones who had an enjoyable opening hunt with substantial bags.

Bel-Air Robbed By Two Youths

Youngsters Apprehended At Derwent And Brought Back For Trial

By J. G. BROUTH

In the early morning hours of Thursday, September 13th, two youths broke into the confectionary counter stand at the Bel-Air Drive-In Restaurant to the proprietors and was gained by forcing the lock of a door

Both boys, 16 years of age, took a quantity of cigarettes and left the scene of the crime. Their movements were observed by a resident who proceeded to the police and discovered the incident.

The youths were apprehended in Derwent by detachment sleuths. Here they were quickly brought back to St. Paul where they were detained until court hearings

The juvenile court judge, upon taking everything into consideration, handed a half-day jail sentence and a $10.00 fine to each of the accused. Leniency was shown in this case as the maximum sentence could have been fourteen years. However, first offence and the youth of the boys themselves saved them from the long sentence

The property of part of the stolen goods was made.

PREPARE FOR TB X-Ray

News release from the Alberta Tuberculosis Association has announced that TB Chest X-ray Clinic for St. Paul will commence operating the week of October 8th.

The clinic will also operate at other districts Ashmont, Spedden, Glendon, Mallaig, Thorsby, St Lina and other points. Dates for the respective clinics are released elsewhere in this newspaper and should be remembered. Make an appointment and keep it.

Following are some facts and considerations on TB which we present for reflection:

After The X-Ray — What?

You have shown good common sense Although you probably feel perfectly well, you've had an X-ray of your lungs. And now you ask "What next?"

First and foremost ask yourself: "Won't it stop?" Isn't this something I could very well do once a year or so to protect my own health and my family's?"

When you ask yourself that question you're on the right track, for the X-ray has brought out foresight. It can give the story on your chest but it can't make a single promise about a year from now or five years from now

As to what the X-ray has just seen in your chest there are three possibilities as far as TB is concerned.

No Signs of T B

No suspicious shadows are evident at the X-ray Chances are good that the doctor will say you are in this group. This means TB has passed you up so far. But you can get TB at any age. That's why checkup at advisable once a year

Signs of Old Infection

Your film may have shadows which tell the doctor that TB once attacked your lungs. But your doctor never gave in to the germs. It defeated the invaders and now germs scars from the battle It is not usually possible to tell from the X-ray alone, because just how well healed those scars are. Other tests and examinations may be needed. Sometimes the affair can be reached only after two letter has watched how the shadows change in later X-rays.

A well-found that your body holds the upper hand, and your resistance high with plenty of rest and good food Then the old scars will be less likely to give you further trouble Even when TB is healed, regular chest X-rays, once a year, are necessary to make sure no break-down gets a head start.

Signs of Diseased Lungs

There may be shadows that make the doctor suspect active TB If further X-rays and other tests will be necessary. The place where these tests can be made most easily and with most accuracy is in a sanatorium or hospital and if you are there during that period you will be well looked after and your family will be protected against TB germs you might be spreading. The members of your family and the persons with whom you work should be examined too.

If you doctor says you need hospital observation or treatment, follow his advice at once Stay in the sanatorium until you are entirely well Learn how to live so that TB won't wreck your plans again. Train yourself for a job you can fill safely and profitably.

TB found early and treated at once has the best chance of being cured and less chance of being spread to other people. It costs less money and takes less time to treat an early case.

No matter what it shows, your chest X-ray was a good bet, a sound investment, cheap insurance and a sensible idea. Get an X-ray of your chest every year, or oftener if your doctor says so.

SCHOOL DAYS SAFER

The Labour Day Weekend, the last of our summer driving extravaganzas is behind us Deaths over the holiday weekend totalled 68. Over the same period in 1955, 85 people were killed. This represents an improvement of sixteen per cent, though we can scarcely refer to the killing of people as an improvement.

Every province in Canada has stepped up its safety enforcement programme and has extended its road improvement programme. We are paying attention to Engineering and Engineering but we are neglecting to make the most of Education, which is the most important of the three "Es" of accident reduction Accidents are prevented through education. It is probably the strongest weapon we have. Education in our schools brings results most in both fatal children and for their families Regimentation brings diseases Discipline brings control, and control — self-control or group control — outlaws accidents.

Now that the children are back to school, weekend travel has lessened, holiday motoring is over and pleasure driving is reduced. We can look for fewer accidents because of less traffic density and fewer driver distractions The classroom lessons in safe walking will infant child and parent alike. The children will be doing their share to remind us to drive and walk carefully May we hope that as adults we will take a good look at our driving habits and try to drive with care and courtesy.

Accidents happen one at a time. They may be prevented one at a time. There are very few traffic accidents which would occur if the situation reported briefly Few of them are as well as we know how to drive

Less slow shorter Night comes quickly Roads are more slippery Driving conditions in general become more difficult during the fall The Canadian Highway Safety Conference urges that we pay attention to these things and by our watchfulness prove that September-October and November need not be serious accidents months.

WHY CEMENT TIGHT

Why is cement hard to come by Although production in 1955 totalled 2 7 million bbls., 23 per cent more than a year before, high demand pushed factory shipments to 3 2 million bbls First half year output came to 12.8 million bbls., up 21 per cent, but shipments at 13 2 million bbls., paced production by rising at a similar rate Factory stocks at the beginning of July amounted to 1 5 million bbls., against 1.3 million a year earlier.

What's on the Air

POLITICS OF GRAB DO NOT PAY

While the outcome of five-nation Suez committee with Egypt Senator on the make, Colonel Nasser, it should serve as a stern reminder to countries of Asia and the Middle East that politics of grab does not pay.

If Nasser rejects Suez London Conference proposals that control of operation, maintenance and development of Canal be vested in some international body insulated from "the influence of politics of any nation," the real victims of his refusal will be the peoples of underdeveloped countries desperately in need of foreign capital for economic and industrial development. The compounding of foreign assets is no way to attract investment from abroad.

No settlement of the Suez problem that does not make clear that interference on a grand scale does not pay would be satisfactory That is why so much importance attached to the five-nation Suez committee's mandate to impress on Colonel Nasser that there shall be no profit from his act of piracy and that settlement of a fair and agreed return to Egypt for the use of the canal

Evidence that this is so may already be found in the arbitrary decision of Indonesia's President Sukarno to repudiate on the eve of his departure for a visit to Moscow, his country's $6 million pension debt to the Netherlands It was a foolish act on Liberian, where the Government is preparing legislation to nationalize foreign assets of companies running through its territory and from which Liberia already collects handsome royalties

A disquieting aspect of the trouble-situation article in the Middle East is the penchant of liberal-leftists in Western countries to confuse, probably deliberately, any manifestation of firmness in foreign policy with something called "colonialism," and to hear no Indian-accented Prime Minister Nehru as a statesman whose opposite number let or reveals anything the West has yet produced

Strange thing is that the symptoms of such confusion of fact for confusion which is to go on the politics of grab which overnight adopt them to bear the "fascist" label, happen to be the enemy. To them, Egypt's "Semipalm Caesar" Colonel Nasser can do no wrong. Just like Spain's dictator Franco, there is no demand for liberty for all the freedom-loving peoples overnight

Total European wheat production for 16 countries outside the Iron Curtain was roughly estimated by Bissenbaii at 29,850,000 tons.

St. Paul Called Doctors By Vermilion Baseball Reporter

The following is a clipping from the "Vermilion Standard" reporting on the St. Paul-Vermilion baseball finals. We took exception to the remarks about "bowling" and to straighten out the Vermilion team addressed a letter to that worthy sheet to the tune of which also follows.

St. Paul Bears won two titles on Sunday afternoon — champions of the Eastern Alberta Baseball League and for, the biggest and best combination of bowling ever made in a Vermilion ball park The Bears from the north were behind until the ninth inning when they ran in four runs to tie the count 6-6, then in the top half of the extra frame they squeezed over the winning run, holding the Tigers scoreless in their half.

The locals ran in three runs in their half of the first and at the end of the 5th and veteran pitcher Lucas was on hand, in a 2 Bob Thorsteinson was on the mound for the locals and had to be re-thoroughly tamed. He was tossed up by timely hitting and never was he difficulty However, he had to leave at the end of the 5th and veteran pitcher Ray Jones went to the hill. Ray saw in difficulties from the beginning, a hit, two walks and also a three-bagger and the damage was done. Ernie Larcombe took over to finish the inning, but four runs had come in to have the count in the lower half of the 9th the Tigers were stuffed out without scoring and the game went into extra innings.

St Paul squeezed Retowich across with what proved to be the winning run in the top half of the 10th. Vermilion was left with two on in their turn at bat the game ending St. Paul 7, Vermilion 6.

This broke Vermilion's hold on the league cup as they have held it for three consecutive seasons.

Garth Roberts went the route for the Bears in winning the title.

Irvine Gordon was umpire.

Editor, Vermilion Standard,

Dear Sir:

I would like the opportunity and privilege through the columns of your newspaper to take objection to a statement made in your September 13 issue in your report on the St. Paul-Vermilion baseball finals.

We object to the statement which in part says: "St. Paul Bears won two titles on Sunday afternoon — champions of the Eastern Alberta Baseball League and for the biggest and best exhibition of bowling ever made in a Vermilion ball park."

The last part of the statement is entirely uncalled for and if it were meant to be written should be qualified with a few more explanations.

Under the circumstances, you can hardly blame the St. Paul team for feeling.

Never in our experience of covering sport events have we ever run into or seen such umpiring as was produced by one of your own local products. As a matter of fact, even the Vermilion players were disgusted and freely admitted to the shame of having forced to use him because they couldn't find anybody else. They tried to get a St. Paul umpire, but he was not available.

Certainly, St. Paul bowled, and with jubilation. Had they not been good sports they would have been further justified in walk out of the finals, but they stuck it out and justice triumphed in the end

We should recall that only one close decision was made against Vermilion and it was enough to bring the manager down and the whole ball club out on the field to hold up the game for 10 minutes . . . we have to think of what would have happened if they had been in St. Paul's boots.

Back to the subject of reporting the game, we believe that this type of prejudice reporting is what builds up bad feelings between towns when the basic idea of sports is to create better understanding.

We don't know who wrote the article, but we do know that Gerry Marshall who sometimes represents your paper was covering at the game. Off hand we mind Jerry as being a regular guy and can hardly credit him for this bowler.

Yours very truly,
L. M. Drouin,

And Avoid Other Accidents

Safety education programs are becoming more heavy on the rule of traffic lawmen yearly. Thousands of words of caution are written each day about preventive methods but a lot of it is wasted. However, some good is derived and that is why we will endeavor to run a column under this heading in the cause of safety. Send it carefully.

Safety Director for the Alberta Safety Council.

Unless a halt is called to the present rate of highway fatalities in Alberta, this province will have no less than 250 deaths by the end of the year This would be the highest year in Alberta's history, warns Paul Lawrence,

For the first eight months there were 141 traffic accident deaths in Alberta, compared with 124 in the similar period of last year This was an increase of 14 percent in the current period, according to statistics compiled by the Safety Council from various reporting sources.

The increase has alarmed safety officials, who will discuss an action program at the meeting of provincial directors of the Safety Council in Red Deer's, October 15

Last year, there were 389 highway deaths in Alberta, while the total the year before was 286. The worst year so far was 1952 when the total was 220 lives.

During the early months of this year, the fatalities were considerably below the similar periods of last year But what has proved alarming is the marked increase in the months of May, June, July and August of this year, which showed a total of 97 deaths against 59 a year ago.

In August alone, there were 38 highway deaths, an increase of 19 over a year ago. Of last month's total 23 were reported by the R.C.M.P. at rural points while there were three in Edmonton, Calgary and other cities had none.

In August, 811 persons were injured in motor accidents in the province, compared with 547 in August of last year In addition to the384 reported last month by the R.C.M.P., a drop f on the 578 a year ago, there were 13 in Edmonton, which had 169 a year ago, 30 in Calgary which was an increase of 11 than last year, 8 in Lethbridge, five in Jasper Place and one in other towns reporting

In the first eight months of this year, a total of 2,763 persons were injured in motor vehicle accidents in Alberta, as against 2,569 in the similar period of last year.

The cumulative picture also shows that the trend of motor accidents generally is upward, numbering 11,611 this year compared with 10,330 in the first eight months of 1955 For August alone, the total went from 1,413 a year ago to 1,710 this year

In August, the R.C.M.P reported 725 accidents, up from the 567 a year ago. Edmonton rose from 404 to 462 and Calgary dropped from 273 to 250

Metropolitan Hal. also showed a drop, from 16 to 14, and Lethbridge was down by four to 33 Jasper Place had 13, unchanged from a year ago, and other towns reported 32, an increase of 10

Minister Warns Of Inflation

A budgetary of $360 million is four months, substantially in excess of forecast surplus for entire fiscal year, poses widely embarassing problem for Finance Minister Harris

Surpluses, particularly when they happen to occur in an election year, have come to be regarded by most people as the occasion for a "Sunshine Budget."

But there is no "sunshine" in Mr Harris' mien as he presents now Instead, he has been muttering to himself about factors about dangers of inflation. What inflationary symptoms do exist are found primarily exclusively in one front, yet Mr Harris has remained silent on dangers of an inflation, preferring it seems to pin blame for inflationary threat on investments of business and industry

Truth is that Finance Minister's warnings about inflation aren't likely to be taken very seriously while spiralling and lending sprees of Federal Government and its various agencies shows no sign of slackening down.

A Celebration is Order for History-Making Pups

—Central Press Canadian

At a "coming out" party in New York, this litter of five kinsweek-old Beagles pose with Susan Chanbet after making history on the first pups ever born as the result of a trans-Atlantic artificial insemination in which the mother never left Ithaca, N.Y., and the sire never left England. Dr. A. Hartrup, University of London, prepared samples of semen for shipment by air to Dr. E. F. Leonard, New York State Veterinary college—Cornell university, who conducted the insemination of the female beagle. Preserved frozen, diluted with boiled pasteurized milk, was used 140 hours after leaving England. The average life of normal dog semen is about 20 hours.

Matron At New Hospital

The following article is taken from a Grande Prairie paper and is concerned with the opening of a new hospital at Beaverlodge where Miss Louise McCallum, formerly of Elk Point, is employed as matron.

With the cutting of a ribbon stretched across the main corridor, the new $175,000 Beaverlodge hospital was opened Saturday in ceremonies watched by 300.

Hospital Matron, Miss Louise McCallum unveiled the souvenir on the ribbon-cutting which climaxed the opening program.

The new hospital, whose construction was urged by 83 per cent of the electorate in a plebiscite, will serve a huge area of the Alberta Peace River district.

Local and District News

Local parents of Brownie or Guides are cordially invited to attend the next meeting on Sept 27 at the Scout and Guide Hall.

Mr and Mrs Lester Smith of Athens, Ont., are here visiting friends and relations at the Spring Park and Elk Point District. They arrived just in time to welcome a new grand daughter. Recently while bathing with his son-in-law, Bob Bestner, Mr Smith landed a fifty pound six gallon Type at Port Southmore in the vicinity of Lone Tree Point. After playing for forty-five minutes, the catch was landed on a number 3 brass wonder spoon.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Ives of Jasper are spending a few days visiting their relatives, Mr and Mrs Eaton, Mr Holdren and Mrs Arnold. They report a very interesting trip.

Mr and Mrs Dunrough are new residents in Elk Point.

Mr and Mrs Jack Carson (nee Margaret Lefsay) of Yorkton are visiting their friends and relatives in Elk Point. They plan to visit Jack's parents at Wanguh, and return to Yorkton after two weeks.

Miss Kristopline Brahn is home for a few days before returning to University for her fourth year in psychology.

Mrs Olsen's car, which was recently stolen from the hospital parking lot has been found. She plans to go to Edmonton this week to get it.

Loretta Millholland who has been home for a brief holiday is leaving this weekend for Bad Deer like is planning to work in the Red Deer hospital as a Nurse's Aide.

Mrs. Margaret McGinnis, Marjorie Spencer and Mrs. Clarkson are back to work after a holiday at Banff and Jasper.

Mr and Mrs Maxmar Johnson of Bow Westminster, B.C., are visiting in the Elk Point district. They are old timers of this district.

Principals Meet In Elk Point

ELK POINT — The fall meeting of principals and supervising principals of the Bonnyville and St Paul School Divisions was held in the Elk Point School last week.

Organized by J. L. Sylvestre, superintendent of the Bonnyville division, and R. Rasotto, superintendent of the St. Paul division, the institute was arranged to familiarize principals and vice principals with curriculum changes and divisional policy changes to come into effect in the current school year.

The institute was opened at 10 a.m. with a report on the principals' leadership conference held at Columbia College, Edmonton, this past summer and sponsored by the Kellogg Foundation.

The report was given jointly by Mr Mullaney and Mr Bobby, principals of Cold Lake and Ashmont schools respectively. The full text of the report is to be published and circulated by the St. Paul division to all interested teachers

T. C. Byrne high school inspector for north-eastern Alberta, outlined recent curriculum changes to the principals, following which the institute divided into groups for separate meetings of the Bonnyville and St Paul principals association as follows: principals' Surgeon at Glendon, vice-president Mr Schuster of Fort Kent secretary-treasurer, Mr Jorgensen, the new principal of Bonnyville school.

Mr Burgoyne announced the next meeting would be held in Ardmore school, Oct. 18, when Mr. Rasmussen of the audio visual aids department will be present to deliver and talk on the proper use of films and film strips in schools.

Lindbergh News

Our sympathies go out to Mr. Tkachuk whose mother was killed by a car just out of Edmonton. Mr Tkachuk attended the funeral in Edmonton last Thursday.

There was a Curling Club Meeting held on Sunday evening at the Curling Rink. Mr. Ted Magnusson, Mr. Elias Tkachuk and M. Alex Wynnes were elected on the committee. It was decided everyone would support their own rinks. There will be a Bee to put the siding on the curling rink, date to be announced later.

Mr. Al Fahely had his appendix removed about a month ago. He is getting along quite well and will be back to work soon.

Rumming isn't over yet for some people. There were a couple of men at that Salt Plant tried out the water (accidentally) in the creek today. Was the water warm?

Robert Butner is driving a truck for Spier Bros. in Elk Point.

Planned Production To Meet Fluctuating Swine Market Price

By CAM BROWN, B.S.A.

Another very important aspect of swine production is marketing. In order to get as much money as possible for your hogs You must keep in mind at the right time in Canada there are seasonal fluctuations in price Generally in the late spring and summer, prices are relatively high and in the fall and winter prices are relatively low Reason: that person" is modified with "circumstances" so hogs may be low priced for a period but within that low period these same fluctuations will take place.

If you would own them, that the best time to market pigs would be in spring and summer However, a great percentage of pigs are marketed in the fall and winter; hence the general lowering of price at that time Why is this done? The climate is the greatest single factor as it is easier and possibly more economical to farrow sows in spring and summer than it is in fall or winter Nevertheless with a good housing set up for farrowing the trend could be leveled out with a subsequent increase in fall and winter farrowings It should be kept in mind that hogs have to be marketed around 200 lbs., to get to 200 lbs. you can plan accordingly. If you don't get them to 200 lbs in 6 months remaining is around somewhere along the line. The importance of production in relation to marketing is evident here.

Everybody has heard the comment at one time or another "Why are hogs worth more now than they were one month ago" (or vice versa). The economist will answer, supply and demand governs quickly. The farmer does not control his production as a manufacturer does and so the supply ebbs and flows. For what it is worth it has been suggested that it is a good thing that farmers as a group cannot control production like industry for if they could, people would be selling a lot less and/or paying a lot more for food. In this respect the farmer is at a disadvantage as opposed to the rest of the segments of the economy. Fluctuations in price are a good thing if they are not artificial and reflect the demand of the public for a commodity.

With hope the government has instituted grading to improve the quality of the hog.

Hogs are bought on the basis of real grade and the grade is not determined until it is on the rail. Basically, it is the best method yet devised for marketing hogs.

Since we are dealing with a perishable commodity, fast and efficient processing and marketing is highly essential In this respect packing houses have accomplished much. However, because of the nature of the business, packing houses have grown until there are only 3 or 4 major packing plants in Canada. Some economists maintain that the packing plants have greater bargaining than the farmer due to their size and efficiency. Essentially packing plants are processors, not speculators, and strive to buy at a price that reflects the actual demand. If they didn't do this they wouldn't be in business too long. The farmers' bargaining power is weakened in that when the hog is ready for market it has to be sold regardless of the price. The only alternative he has is to plan his production to market them when the price cycle is high (i.e. late spring and summer).

In point of fact however, under any system of marketing, the packing plants would pay no more than they could get back from the public after processing and packaging the hog. Other factors influence the price of hogs also, such as the price of beef, and tastes and preferences. In the past decade people have become diet conscious and are demanding less meats. A concerted effort on the part of the farmer to produce the long, lean bacon hog will help in the long run to maintain, and possibly increase, the market for pork products.

The writer has tried to bring out only a few factors in hog marketing. However, the points made in this article are fairly well established and are in no way personal opinions.

RAIN! RAIN! RAIN!

In some parts of Canada people have been commenting about the amount of rain, but listen to this from the London (Eng.) correspondent of The Financial Post:

"You may think that we are making too much of the weather but when you consider the losses to the seaside resorts, the effect on the agricultural production, the slump in the sale of summer clothing and the depressing effect of sodden skies day after day you will understand that both physically and psychologically the British have undergone a strain."

Only the cinemas, theatres and the manufacturers of waterproofs have gained from the downpour of the climate I do not doubt that Sir Anthony Eden, the Prime Minister, even in there's play, greets each morning with the cry: "Give me the sun."

FORESIGHT

Some drivers develop a high degree of foresight. They see and think ahead They keep control and avoid trouble by requisite "trouble in the making" School children are walking or playing along the street. One is about to rush a ball Suppose he makes it Will he dart after it into the road? The driver who foresees this possibility may save the child's life

A parked car some distance ahead has fumes coming from the exhaust In it about to pull into the line of traffic?

In the distance, an impatient driver is passing out around a truck He is obviously merely adding your speed as you approach him. He will be forced to cut back sharply Your anticipation of the situation avoids a wreck

Ahead, a pedestrian is crossing the street Will he stop, or become confused, or change his mind or direction? The driver with foresight is prepared

You observe a slight movement at the left front door of a parked car Someone is about to step out from the wrong side without knowing that your car is approaching This may be trouble in the making

The driver you are following is erratic, his speed is not steady He slows down at the unexpected spots, no signals. He does not keep to his side of the center line You prepare to take no chances with him

Some distance ahead you notice an icy stretch of road, a section of wet pavement, an emergency reach sign. You anticipate danger and slow down in advance to prepare for the emergency

The mental make-up of a driver is as important to his skill. It is likely to determine what he will do when he has POWER in his hands.

POWER

Most people like strong and powerful things and forces. They like mighty seas and high mountains They are fascinated by large brilliant fires, waterfalls, powerful machinery. They identify themselves with mighty things and get a thrill of reflected power

So today, our powerful automobile is a source of thrill. A no-duke is a source of thrill. A driver can identify himself with his automobile and thereby can reflect the might of the powerful engine Here is an opportunity for glorified self-expression

There are two important things to remember when appreciating power:

(1) Power has a thrill and romance only when kept in control. Man is a weak and feeble looking thing when power has been in its clutches

(2) How one uses power discloses the kind of a person he is and the degree to which he has reached maturity. Any power —whether of money, of fame, political prominence, or a fine car —creates a foolish and immature person and a weak man looks weaker.

WINS SECOND AIR RACE TROPHY

For the second time in four years, Mrs. Dorothy Runge of Fenwick, Ont., has won the Governor-General's trophy and $2,000 in prizes in an air race across Southern Ontario. She is presented with the trophy by Mayor Phillips Left, at Toronto Control Tower Canadian National Exhibition. The race out for planes in the 4,000 pound gross weight class

Winter Storage Of Vegetables

Choose healthy well-ripened vegetables for storage. See Mr. P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture, Alberta Department of Agriculture states the three conditions most important for proper storage are low temperature, good ventilation and relatively high humidity

For carrots, beets, potatoes and other root vegetables ideal storage temperature is 35-40 degrees F accompanied by high relative humidity (humidity means moisture) and pumpkins keep best at 45-50 degrees F. with a low relative humidity A good thermometer is a necessity Hung from the center of the ceiling it serves the purpose most effectively

The majority of people must store their vegetables in their basement. That basement room or corner for storing vegetables should be insulated and ventilated. It's a good idea to build it around a basement window so this affords a means of controlling the temperature. An earthen floor is ideal. However, many basements have a concrete floor which tends to dry out the vegetables. This can be overcome by covering the floor with peat moss or sand and sprinkling frequently.

Everyone enjoys crisp vegetables especially during the winter time To make this a reality remember to have the three storing factors present — low temperature, good ventilation and relatively high humidity

THISTLES ARE NOW A MENACE

Farmers in Western Canada, during the past few years, have done an excellent job of controlling broadleaved weeds with chemicals. However, they now find themselves faced with a menace Canada Thistle and Perennial Sow Thistle menace. Infestations of these weeds are now widespread and are causing tremendous reductions in crop yields

Thistles Must be Controlled. In many districts throughout Western Canada thistles have become a real menace to practically great crop reductions. No effort must be spared by municipal and provincial weed officials to prevent the further spread and destruction of these "crop choking" weeds. For several years attention has been focused on the "Wild Oat" as our major weed pest Undoubtedly, it is still our Weed Enemy No 1, but practical experience over the years has shown that even a few thistles heavily infested with weed seed. farmers can grow a lot of grain. On the other hand, one compares the crop in a patch of land infested with thistles with a "clean" patch in the same field. The reduction in the crop growth will be found to be enormous. Heavy infestations of thistles may lower yields as much as 75%. The fact is, you can't grow grass and thistles.

Thistles Can be Controlled. They are being controlled by a better knowledge of cultural practices, chemical weed control progress and legislation, thistles are being effectively controlled. In Manitoba and Saskatchewan, these weeds are on the decrease, and are now causing heavy losses. In many areas in Manitoba, the thistle problem has reached almost dangerous proportions.

The seed today is for an all-out "fight the thistle" campaign. If the present "thistle menace" in Western Canada is to be successfully brought under control, time must not be wasted. Growing thistles may be one way of reducing Canada's grain surplus, but it is certainly not the way to increase farming efficiency, and hence farm income in Western Canada.

Free copies of a new (revised) circular on "Thistle Control" may be obtained from the local Agent of any of the Line Elevator Companies, or from Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg or Calgary.

District Mourns Pioneer's Death

Many people in the districts of Thorlakshafn, St. Paul and Glendon were saddened when the news was received on Friday morning of the sudden passing of Mrs. Bloss. To know her was to love and respect her, and her death will leave many sorrowing friends.

Automobiles are putting many employers on economy this year than ever before.

Safety Council Distributing Kits To Raise Interest in Courses

In the hope of arousing community interest in holding today safety courses especially prepared for home-safety and farm safety, Council is distributing safety kits to its branches in Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Camrose and Drumheller.

Paul Lawrence, Safety Director of southern Alberta council, discussed this need on a recent visit here and was given an encouraging response.

Safety officials hope to interest women's organizations and others who would be prepared to set up and sponsor training courses that would be of great value to field sitters and prevent serious mishaps in the home. Furthermore, there would be handy hints for parents in regard to their instruction to baby sitters.

One of the points being stressed for the curriculum is that sitters adequate instructions before they leave.

Parents are not paying full with their sitters when they rush out the door at the last minute saying they'll be back around midnight and that's all," said the safety official.

A good sitter," he added, "will arrive 15 minutes ahead of time to allow a parent time to tell her all about the entire evening. However, though the parent may say he put the child to bed and to look in since it's a while to see if he's alright, she may neglect to tell the sitter where to turn on the light, never the bathroom or use the telephone number of the place where she can be reached during the evening.

National statistics indicate that accidents kill more children between the ages of one and 14 than any disease. In 1956 in the U.S., accidents took the lives of 16,741 children under 14, while illnesses, the next important killer, caused 11,000 children's deaths. Most of the accidents occurred in and around the home.

Check your own next time you have a sitter in charge of your youngsters. Do you write down your own home and address in front of the sitter who to call a doctor, she would be able to tell him where to come? Leave the telephone number of your doctor? Show your sitter what clothing the baby will need when it is put to bed? Warn the sitter against leaving the baby or young child alone in the bath if the phone or doorbell rings. Point out where you store the essential items if it is lots, even if it is three only a few doors away.

MORE ENGINEERS NEEDED, CONFERENCE TOLD

Some 120 provincial Canadian leaders in the fields of industry, labor, education, government and the professional services attended the National Manpower Engineering Conference at St. Andrew's Inn, Jan. 8-9. Seen here discussing the conference agenda are, left to right: Dr. Pierre Gendron, Dean of Science, Ottawa University; Monsignor L. M. Lemay, rector, Laval University; and Dr. Gerard T. Page, general manager, Canadian Institute of Canada, Ottawa, and E. J. Durant, secretary, Engineering Institute of Canada and executive director Dominion Council of Professional Engineers. The Conference dealt with the critical problems facing Canada in the shortage of manpower in engineering and engineering technology, and the general field of higher education. Canada will have to produce annually four times the present number of engineers to keep pace with our ever demands.

Ashmont News

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Tranmer of Edgerton were guests ... Mrs. Wm. Smith for a few days.

Mrs. Betty Fielding was in town renewing old acquaintances.

We are pleased to know Mrs. D. S. Woodlock is home again after several weeks spent in the Point Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wall and two daughters returned to spend their holidays in the district.

Despite her eighty-three years, Mrs. William Smith is a good traveller. She is home again now after spending the summer at Edson and Edmonton. Mrs. Smith, known to the community as grandma Leslie Smith has resided in the district since 1907.

Teaching staff at Ashmont School includes the following: Mr John Bibby, Mrs. Harry Hauser, Alex Kachorowsky, Mrs. Mary Poirier, Ber Dahlstedt, Mr. Raymond, Mr. A. Bulmert, Mrs. B. Pithon, Mrs. Madge Burkholder, Miss Thelma Bush, Mrs. Ber Dahlstedt, Miss Doreen Austin, Mrs. Bruce Patterson, Mrs. Helen Emily.

GLENDON NEWS

On Saturday, September 8th, the annual meeting of the hospital association was held at the Archer Memorial Hospital at Lac-mont. Representing the Glendon Hospital were the secretary, Mr. L. F. Krawchuk and the matron, Miss Mae Routledge, R.N., while Mrs. L. F. Krawchuk and Mrs. A. D. Munroe represented the Women's Auxiliary.

The monthly meeting of the Glendon Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. L. F. Krawchuk on Thursday evening, Sept. 13th with an attendance of 16 members and visitors. Plans were made for the hospital tea to be held on Saturday, October 13th, proceeds of which will go to the hospital. A very interesting paper was given by Mrs. Henri Bourgoin entitled "Shortage of the Soil" in which the different kinds of synthetic products which are now being manufactured were described, and their uses explained.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Lane for the past few days were Dr. and Mrs. J. Prevey, and John Lane, all from from Duncan, B.C. Besides renewing old acquaintances the Dr took some time off to bring down a few choice ducks from familiar hunting grounds. They returned on Sunday to Spokane where they will spend a few more days with the doctor's parents before returning to their home in B.C.

TANK LINING JOB

The world's largest tank lining contract has been awarded to B. F. Goodrich Canada Limited's H. P. Hawkins, general manager, industrial products division, has announced.

The contract, awarded by Northgreen Uranium Mines Limited, calls for the rubber lining of 167 major tanks and 30 smaller tanks used in the processing of uranium ore near Hound River, Great Bear Lake, Northwest Territories. The tanks and the small tanks will be needed to process 1,000 tons of ore per day.

The Northgreen contract is particularly large, than the Algom tank lining contract recently awarded to B. F. Goodrich Canada Limited. Tanks ranging in size from 6 feet to 16 feet in depth and from 4 feet to 116 feet in diameter will be lined in the Blind River district. The smaller tanks will be brought to the Kitchener Plant.

Let's Cooperate To Keep St. Paul Municipality TB Free

Now that the cattle TB testing program has been completed in the Municipality of St. Paul, we have been declared a TB free and protected area.

Naturally, the standing requires some restrictions and to keep up the prestige of such area farmers will have to conform themselves to these rules and regulations.

These are made quite clear in the section of the Animals Act which describes all the restrictions. We are not quoting it here in its entirety as that all farmers are in contact with the duties and responsibilities as of time.

Restricted Areas

144 This Part applies to areas that have been established restricted areas for the purposes of this Part or pursuant to regulations made under the Act and will be coming into force of these Regulations.

145 The Minister of Agriculture of any province may apply to the Minister to have the whole or any portion of the province constituted a restricted area for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis.

146 The application shall state

(a) the location and boundaries of the proposed restricted area,

(b) the approximate number of cattle with it,

(c) that a majority resolving of at least two-thirds of the cattle owners in the area are in favour of having their cattle tested for the eradication of tuberculosis and

(d) that the provincial Government otherwise requested by the Minister will assist in the enforcement of this Part by conducting prosecutions of persons accused of obstructing or refusing to assist inspectors engaged in the work of testing cattle, and persons who, in any way, refuse to obey the regulations made hereunder.

147 When the Minister approves the application, the Governor in Council may by order constitute the proposed restricted area, a restricted area for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis.

148 Cattle may be moved into or out of a restricted area only under the following conditions:

(a) Cattle from tuberculosis-free accredited herds and accompanied by a certificate of a veterinary inspector or accredited veterinarian may enter the area [illegible] test,

(b) other cattle entering the area for permanent stay, except steers and heifers of a feeder type, originating in herds other than those in restricted areas shall not be permitted entry into a restricted area unless the herd of origin has passed a negative tuberculin test within the previous twelve months and the cattle entering the area have passed a negative tuberculin test within the sixty days immediately preceding entry into the area,

(c) steers and heifers of a feeder type may be admitted into the area without test if

(i) they are accompanied by a [illegible] issued by a veterinary [illegible]

(2) they are isolated from other cattle and are submitted to a [illegible] test conducted by a veterinary inspector or accredited veterinarian upon arrival, and any cattle that react to the test shall forthwith be removed and slaughtered without compensation;

(d) cattle for entry into the area for exhibition purposes or other temporary stay other than the classes described in paragraphs (a) and (b) shall before entering the area be subjected to and pass a tuberculin test conducted by a veterinary inspector or an accredited veterinarian;

(e) cattle entering for immediate slaughter consigned to slaughter - houses approved by the Veterinary Director General may be brought into the area without test, but they shall not be allowed to come in contact with other cattle, and shall be kept isolated on the premises until slaughtered; and any [illegible] cattle not immediately slaughtered may be held for [illegible] purposes under the following conditions:

(1) they shall be submitted to a tuberculin test by a veterinary inspector or accredited veterinarian;

(2) reactors shall be promptly removed and slaughtered without compensation;

(3) non-reactors may be moved to any premises within the area for feeding purposes, they shall be isolated and quarantined for a re-test in its conducted after the expiration of a sixty-day period and shall be subject to further quarantine until slaughter or they have passed two further tuberculin tests conducted at subsequent intervals;

(f) cattle in transit across the area by rail shall not be unloaded except at a point designated by the Veterinary Director General for the purpose, where they may be kept from contact with other cattle within the area;

(g) cattle shall not be driven across the area by road unless special permission has been obtained in writing from the veterinary inspector in charge of the area.

149. Owners of cattle within a restricted area shall meet veterinary inspectors and accredited veterinarians in making test by surrendering the cattle when requested by the veterinary inspector or accredited veterinarian and giving whatever additional help he may reasonably require, and owners when requested by any veterinary inspector or accredited veterinarian shall furnish ramps and bed for the veterinary inspector or accredited veterinarians while he is conducting the test.

150. Suitable trumpet-shaped horn ears to fatten within a restricted area for inspectors, veterinary inspectors and accredited veterinarians shall be provided by the provincial government.

151. Use of agriculture or poll bulls is permitted in herds that are equally free from disease but not otherwise.

152. (1) All cattle within a restricted area, unless otherwise provided for in this Part, shall be submitted to a tuberculin test as soon as practicable by veterinary inspectors and accredited

Tires For 1957 Cars Are Cut Down One Inch In Diameter

KITCHENER, Ont. (Special)—Harvey of 1957 model cars this fall will ride on more dependable and easier steering tires, according to Williams B. Place, Goodyear sales. B. F. Goodrich announced Tuesday.

Approximately 70 per cent of cars will be equipped with 15 inch tires, the others 14 inch, as was the required 15 as against the 14 inch tire. Place explained operations of the tire manufacturing industry in connection with the new tires. The 15-inch tire is used because of its greater stability, he said.

Mr. Place pointed out that, when the 14-inch tire was used, 27 pounds of pressure was put on the tire. The smaller tire will have the same load carrying capacity. This results, Mr. Place said, that the 15-inch tire has greater air volume available. So, carries the same load with less air pressure. The new 15-inch tire, Mr. Place said, will also give smoother performance at the increased speed.

Refuse Establish Defence Committee

Normally far removed from city with problem of Canada's defence policy sentiments to be matter of widespread comment in press, including leading Liberal dailies.

Case in point is Montreal Daily Star, which recently appointed Prime Minister St. Laurent's court reflated to entertain Opposition proposal to establish permanent House Defence Committee Fact that more than 40 per cent of Federal Budget goes each year for defence, with little real knowledge as to how it is being spent, is sufficient cause for concern Fact too, that cloakers and shadows is the basis of so much vague knowledge as the House of Commons committees would enjoy a great deal to public enlightenment. It is a pity that the Government remains so cautiously set against it

CBC Television Family To Begin Tour Of Western Provinces

Three members of CBC Television's Pleuffle Family will begin a tour of Western Canada this weekend.

They are en route to Vancouver to attend a sales meeting of Colgate-Palmolive Limited, sponsors of the Pleuffle Family series on the network TV network.

Heading the group will be Maurice Pleuffle (Moderator Ammidon Alaire). The other two members of the TV family are Napoleon's sweetheart Jeanne Labrie (Therese Caliorette) and the duelling young hockey player Guillaume Pleuffle (Pierre Valaser).

The first stop will be Winnipeg, arriving Sunday, September 16. The three Pleuffles leave Winnipeg on the 15th for Vancouver, stopping off in Regina on the 16th and Calgary on the 18th. En route home they will visit Edmonton on Sept. 25 and Saskatoon on the 26th. Their appearances in Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and Saskatoon will be under the auspices of the privately-owned TV stations in those cities, and their appearances in Winnipeg and Vancouver will be under the auspices of the CBC.

While in Winnipeg the Pleuffles will pay their respects to Show-George Shargo at the City Hall. On Monday, Sept 17 they will appear on CBWT'S SPOTLIGHT at 6:00 p.m., and they will also be on hand at a variety of functions in both Winnipeg and St. Boniface.

The Pleuffle's will be preceded by Roger Lemelin, author of the popular series, who will also attend the same sales meeting in Vancouver and visit several western centres. He will be in Winnipeg September 13 to 17.

Imported tweed has been smartly scaled into a slim and definitely high waisted coat. Notice the flattering trim the under-arm treatment gives to the pocket. Fabric made to hem, which is linked by a small thread tied belt that extends from the sides. The collar is cut in contrasting wool, and is worn in reverse of the fabric with a cut-out of the fabric showing which is considered new for this season's coat fashions. It is a coat that is good on the eye and one that looks cool in comfort-conscious.

Let's Eat
BY IDA BAILEY ALLEN

When a chef garnishes planked steak or fish, he often adds baked stuffed vegetables, such as baked tomatoes or small green peppers. Then if he wishes to serve an elegant dinner, he may prepare a baked stuffed vegetable specialties to serve before the main course.

It would be served mounted on toast and topped with a fine sauce Bordelaise, Creole, Bechamel, whichever might best enhance the vegetable flavor.

At this season of plentiful vegetables, I suggest you try them for home service.

VEGETABLE ENTREES

For stuffing: choose sweet green or red peppers, good-sized tomatoes, ripe peaches, very small eggplants, squash, medium-sized tender cucumbers or very small eggplants.

Green Peppers: Wash. Cut off the tops and remove seed and cores to form cups. Steam-boil five minutes.

Tomatoes: Wash and cut tops from tomatoes. Remove pulp and seeds. Hollow with a spoon to form cups.

Squash: Wash, do not peel tops. Remove deep fat with a spoon. Steam-boil five minutes.

Eggplant: Wash and cut tops. Remove pulp and seeds. Hollow with a spoon to form cups.

Cucumbers: Wash small vegetables, do not peel. Cut in halves lengthwise. Scoop out the pulp leaving half-inch shell.

Stuffing for Vegetables: Combine 1½ cups well-packed bread crumbs or cooked rice with one teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon minced onion, ¼ teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon parsley, ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning, ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, ¼ teaspoon powdered sage, ¼ teaspoon baking powder, 1½ cups boiled milk or white sauce, 1½ tablespoons melted butter; choice of one cup of the following: Chopped raw veal or veal, or cooked lamb, veal, ham, chicken or turkey; half-fried sausage meat, flaked tuna.

To vegetables: Fill the hollowed vegetables with the stuffing. Dot the tops with fine dry bread crumbs moistened with melted butter. Place in a pan containing ½ inch boiling water sweetened with one teaspoon broth powder or one bouillon cube. Cover.

To Bake at 375: Bake vegetables in fore-mentioned pan of water covered on top.

Serve: Top each with thin tomato or mushroom sauce poured over stuffed vegetables.

V.L.A. Officials Make Tour Of The District
Prospects For Future Good

Brigadier T. J. Rutherford, Veterans Land Act Director of Operations, northern area made a tour of inspection of the Provincial Veterans Land Act and their influence on Veterans' Loans.

He was accompanied on the trip which took him to Vermilion on the east, to Saskatoon on the west, to Edmonton and to Calgary. On Monday, Sept 17 they will appear on CBWT'S SPOTLIGHT at 6:00 p.m., and they will also be on hand at a variety of functions in both Winnipeg and St. Boniface.

Brigadier Rutherford, on his personal tour of the district, was interviewed and took into consideration, the prospect and future of agriculture in relation to the economic and the potentialities of making a success of their venture.

He inspected land cattle, machinery and crops and was greatly interested in home housing projects with his bankers. He checked every aspect of agriculture, especially the field pertaining to production for those whom he personally launched himself in 1946 and 1947 and has been promoting actively since then.

His opinion on the prospects of agricultural production in this territory is good, and veterans will understand the principle of protecting the investment on an organized basis.

Brigadier Rutherford also inspected some veterans' housing projects and is confident the existing conditions favor good prospects and a bright future.

Squarebusters Begin Activities

The Square Busters opened the season of square-dancing on Friday, the 14th with a dance at the Legion Hall, with Alex Schuliemeister calling. Some four squares were present to join in the fun. We were happy to have with us some who had not attended for a long time but hope to have more of these "Old Timers" back with us this coming Friday. Cokes were donated to the Club by John Bogan Thanks Edmund.

Said news came his week of the death of Mrs. Ross (Lavel) Haynes of Edmonton. Ross and Lavel were the first square dance and couch square-dancing in St. Paul, and district. She will be greatly missed by the many friends she has made through square dancing. Our deepest sympathies are extended to her husband, and son, Ross Jr.

Alex and Milly Schuliemeister, on their two weeks holiday at Banff Squaire Dance Institute. They report having made new friends in Square-dancers and Callers from all over Canada and the U.S.A.

WATER OVER THE TRACKS

The truths of this caterpillar tractor are completely submerged in One-Mile Lake What's it doing under water? It's attempting to dam up No. 2 Creek. When the road was drilled, the creek was diverted, but the recent heavy rains, plus the overturning dry years at a time the lake had receded considerably and the island was a prolific grazing area. The last few years the water has been rising and the island is now covered. It has been decided to raise its operation. Cat is east of Noel and Blumenhofer and during summer

LOCAL NEWS

Mr Al Shorr has left his duties at the S.O.S. for a week's relaxation at the Coast. Al will be back in time for the Jaycee Bingo.

Miss Madelaine Dubeau was home for a few days from her nursing course being taken at the Mercierville Hospital in Edmonton.

Miss Andrea Trubel is visiting with Mr and Mrs Louis Letourneau for a week, before taking over a new position with the Alberta Govt Telephones in Edmonton.

Miss Sheila Higgins was home for the weekend being here to celebrate her birthday. Sheila is presently employed as a correspondent with a contracting firm

Cam Brown, genial agriculturist who has been assisting Mr Marcel Cheverette in St Paul the past 6 months has now gained enough experience to go on his own. He has been transferred to Hannah where he will take over the district agriculturist. Cam proved very active in community organizations in his short stay. Too bad he's leaving because he was just getting his feet set and starting to get busy.

Harvest Held Up By Bad Weather

Cool, showery, wet weather on the 21st and 22nd put a damper on harvesting operations for most of the week.

The heavy rainfall commencement on the night continued on intermittently throughout the day, over a week and some are still unable to work the soggy fields which have overflowed in many low regions.

At the time of interruption, cutting was about 75 per cent complete in most districts of this district and a few had started to thresh while a good percentage were ready to go into by the end of the week. Harvesting operations have suffered another setback.

The weather outlook has been uncertain with snow in the Peace River Region, Shrubbland to move south.

Wheat and Oats averaging 80 cut Barley 95 cut. As a result of showers and weekend flurries many is only getting under way during the latter part of this week. Threshing of Wheat ranges from 0 to 15 Oats 0 to 20, Barley averages about 25 - threshed. Anticipated yields are Wheat 25 bus. Oats 60 bus. Barley 22 bus.

Utilities Forced To Raise Well
Caterpillar Wades Through Three Feet Of Water To Go To Work
WELL DRILLED AT DEMOISSAC'S NOT SUFFICIENT FOR TOWN USE

The wet conditions excessive rainfall and precipitation the past three weeks have slowly caused the level of one-mile lake to a point where the St Paul Utilities No. 6 Gas well is gradually sinking under water

The water has long covered the well at ground level, and now it is considered by the study forescasting the regulation which would control the flow of gas out into the main line.

To keep this stand-by well ready for emergency use officials of the St. Paul Utilities have undertaken to dam up the site and the station, to permit crews to work on installations above the "danger level"

To do this a caterpillar tractor had to cross a quarter of a mile of water in some places over a metre. The course was first reported by Henry Noel of Blumenhofer Trucking, and later a graded toe contract for the job.

Bulldozed at first to be five feet deep, the course was rounded and a channel running to three feet in depth was completed by the trip across

Drivers were always the danger of log mats, but pitfalls by a man-made lake, and unexpected depressions at times covered with boats. But the tender dropped to the front except the tip of the arrow around the machine and kept the motor dry enough for the occasional backlash. The bottom was found fairly solid, mostly having well packed when this part of the lake was dry and need to track traffic to the small stand

Now the lake, four years ago was gradually drying up with the level dropping as much as three feet in a few years it now evenly ally rising owing to wet water levels, and has reached out to completely inundate the air strip built there in 1952

Three Wells Feed Town

The St Paul gas system preserves are maintained by three wells. Biggest part of the load is handled by No 1 well located east of the School in A. T. Brosseau's property. No 2 is also connected with No 3 at Morin Plant's which is the next substantial producer and with No 4 at Creole Dumont's. An intermatic relay of controls cuts in three two wells when extra gas is needed. Emergency connection No. 6 at the lake is a stand-by producer for emergency use

Drilling for Well

To keep required reserves recommended by the Board of Public Utilities, the board (the company) is conducting a search for new Carrol Deposits. Crews Co sunk a shaft at 1056 feet, north of Lac La Nonne, Edmonton, but the attempt was a failure. Although some gas was found, the amount was not commercial. Another attempt will be made this fall.

Why The Hunting Fuss?

Much is being said about the no-and-no hunting on a Sunday or for matter infraction of the game act. By hunters' standards he is considered a pretty low guy with the rest of getting his head shot off.

But if one takes an objective view of hunting and the real value of deaths in this world, the question could be asked: What purpose do these ducks serve and why should they be protected by iron clad regulations?

At this point we see a number of hunters rising up in arms to defend their rights. And these hunters are doing it nicely for their kind interest. They form a majority of the population in the country who have taken shooting for sport and feel that these golden birds should be protected for their pleasure only regardless of the rights of others and the damage they may do.

Why should the farmers be inconvenienced with laws to protect birds who are doing millions of dollars of damage each year? Why shouldn't he have the right to pick up his gun at any time and blow them sky high and if needed with the help of his friends? Indeed he has to go through a long procedure of obtaining a permit, given permission all in favor of the birds

The Alberta Legislature spent weeks during the last session drafting new laws, listening to Fish and Game Associations, both of which deserving or all ambiguous set of rules and regulations that are impossible to enforce and are being violated daily.

Why no shooting on Sunday? Anglers are permitted to fish on Sundays; it's the logical day of the week for sport and we feel the government should be sporting enough to give a chance to the majority of hunters who find that he is the only time he have t.t the season starter by an equivalent amount of days if they must, but let's have Sunday shooting.

The Alberta Game Act has become so complicated we are curious if there are not very many hunters and even farmers who are familiar with the regulations.

The question of occupied lands is a contradictory piece of legislature ... Isn't and it would take a battery of lawyers in many circumstances to decide who was right or wrong in the event of a controversy

Here's an interesting version of two different laws covering hunting on occupied land with two different penalty rulings.

Subsection 1 of Section 4 states that occupied lands means privately owned lands. The Game Act does not consider ... ownership ... of ... lands. They are defined as unoccupied Crown lands in the Act and anyone who ... on these lands without permission.

However, the Criminal Code, Section 61 as shown above gives ... holder of a grazing lease the right to prevent persons going on the land Grazing leases are considered as "real property" under the Criminal Code.

What would you do in a case like this? And it's only one of the ridiculous passages about the whole question of shooting legalities.

Here's a good one we heard this week. A rural hunter requested and obtained permission to hunt on a farmer's land in the evening he took along with him a friend and started out using his own car. soon his guest a cat Spotting the ti... stops, vehicle on his side and not relinquishing the possibility that one of he hunters had permission to hunt on it and the farmer insisted the public limit the car ignition.

At great inconvenience the hunters finally found ... what time it was and went home quite unhappily after removing the points from an inadequate farmer

Of course this is the result of the ambiguous laws which confused the farmer on his rights which in fact he was invoking the law against harassing points from a particular ... constantly and legal and the average hunt takes a fight.

We hear of those poisoned game protectors, members of Ducks Unlimited, the Fish and Game Association who are always having a campaign to report for small infractions but those same persons, perhaps they could shoot on Sunday, use a rifle and abide by most of the rules, but no, they insist that these same people would have unlimited privileges to go indiscriminately hunt and indemnify, get their guns and ammunition, ... be fool it at the type of hunter although ... remain honorably within the law contribute more to the depletion of wild fowl life than the occasional hunter who might take the odd pot shot on a Sunday and go hunting once every two weeks. Moderation in hunting, whether within or outside the law should be practised, if the principle of preservation is to hold.

We don't question the right of the law agencies in the enforcement of the hunting regulations. They have a job to do and the law is the law. We must respect it, and abide by it, although sometimes it is questionable. Take rotation the hunter's right to hunt, but also at the same time let us not infringe on the rights of farmers to protect their property and other people to get a little enjoyment time in a while at life

Disease Viruses Are Present At All Times

The germs of sickness which cause the communicable diseases of children do not disappear. They are merely held in check, and are ever present to renew the attack," writes Dr. Camille Wilson, in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

He points out that, through advances in medical science, it has been made possible to provide a happier, healthier, and more certain life for countless thousands. Immunization will protect the child and consequently, the adult, from diphtheria, a whooping cough, smallpox and tetanus. Every child should be given this protection.

Diphtheria is a killing disease which set to attack all ages, is more likely to strike the young. Diphtheria toxoid is all protection against this dread disease.

Whooping cough vaccine will protect 80 per cent of all children and should be given before six months of age. More deaths are recorded from this one disease than from diphtheria, smallpox and poliomyelitis combined.

Tetanus, or lockjaw, must dangerous of all diseases. It usually follows a puncture of the skin from such cards or other causes. Everyone should be protected by tetanus toxoid.

Triple protection can be obtained through a combined preparation which immunizes against whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus.

Immunization against not only protects the individual but helps to control the spread of all these diseases.

Intelligent Neglect?

We heard an interesting phrase the other day to do with bringing up children. It was intelligent neglect. In other words, a lot of times we have too much care and attention. Kids develop best if they have to rely on their own resources, work out problems for themselves. Do they? Is

Social Credit Win By Landslide In B. C. Election

Gains Made From All Other Major Parties; Somers is Re-Elected

Party Standings	Ruled	1956
Social Credit	19	39
CCF	28	14
Liberal	1	6
Progressive Con.	1	1
Labor	1	1

The Social Credit government of British Columbia scored its greatest triumph, a landslide provincial election victory that trebled its legislative majority with gains from all major opposition parties.

Five years ago Social Credit did not hold a seat in the House. Today it stands unchallenged among B.C. political parties with the most recent mandate it has obtained in three election contests.

Three of the leaders of the four opposition parties were defeated.

In Vancouver East, Harold Winch of the CCF party was engaged in a see-saw race with Frederick Sharpe, Social Credit. The CCF held both seats in the last House and it re-elected Arthur J. Turner to one of them.

Social Credit increased its share of the popular vote to 46 per cent from 30 in 1953, when it was elected with a working majority. ... of ministers in government. All the other parties obtained a lower popular vote. The CCF, official Opposition, was lower by two per cent to 29

The Canadian Press reported the re-election of the government at 8:21 p.m. one hour and 21 minutes after the polls closed.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett and all members of his cabinet were re-elected. The 56-year-old premier, contesting his third election, was leading the Progressive Conservative party in post-Social Credit, was returned in Atlantic ... with a ... majority ... Chilliwack with ...

What should I do about SAVING MONEY?

While saving is something you must do yourself, we can offer a few helpful suggestions. First, and probably the surest method if you are strong-minded enough, is to simply open a special savings account and use it regularly. Or, on a smaller scale, you can save fifty-cent pieces, dimes or even pennies. Or, you can use a piggy-bank as a handy accumulation point for all loose change. Actually, any method of saving is good . . . but you must save regularly.

If saving is your biggest problem, drop in and see your local Toronto-Dominion manager. It may well be that he can help you save the money you need.

Fashions

There should be little complaint from teen-agers when mom takes them shopping for their new outfits. No complaints from mom either. For the new clothes are ever so tempting, charmed, fashion-right, but youthful in their appeal. Typical of the new fashion mood is this one, the fabric a bright medium-weight cotton set off by a little collar of black velvet. It hangs loose with two box pleats front and back which widen across the hem and lend the body a bit of fullness from the under arm. This is a topper for a youngster to treasure and to wear right through the months ahead.

Build Longest B.C. Suspension

Bridge[illegible] more than one person [illegible] architect's [illegible] the Lionsgate Phase Road of Lions Gate, a short distance southwest of the city of West Vancouver.

The main [illegible] will be 1873 feet long, nearly a quarter mile [illegible] the Narrows. Transmission Company [illegible] natural gas pipelines [illegible] will run through [illegible] of the crossing, this year.

The span [illegible] the long large steel cables, for its major natural gas pipeline in Canada and it will rank among the longest suspension bridges. It will be 123 feet longer than the Lions Gate Bridge across the First Narrows on Vancouver's harbor entrance.

It will carry two natural gas lines, one 26 inches in diameter which will transport gas northward from gas fields in Alberta to the $20 million gas processing plant now being constructed by Westcoast and Pacific Petroleums Ltd. at Taylor Flats, B.C. Gas from the Alberta fields and from fields located in British Columbia will be utilized at the plant. A 20 inch line will then transport the clean gas southward across the bridge [illegible] and on down through Britain's mainland.

Work is also underway at three other natural crossing sites. They are across the Fraser River at Shelley near Prince George, 1,200 feet, across the Quesnel River, 700 feet, and across the Fraser at Flood, 1410 feet.

Pipeline - Bridge - Foundation, a joint venture by Morrow Pipeline and Dredging Limited, Marwell Construction Company Limited, British Columbia Bridge and Dredging Co. Ltd. and Iroquois Contractors Limited, has the contract for the Peace River and Flood crossings. Barker Construction Company Limited is building the Fraser crossing near Prince George and over the Quesnel River.

Work on the Westcoast Transmission Company's 626-mile natural gas line through British Columbia is continuing on schedule.

As of today approximately 320 miles of main line pipe were welded and 285 miles of the line ready for testing, a gain of nearly 80 miles in a week.

Approximately 90% miles of mainline pipe has either been delivered or is now en route to the job. More than 2100 men are at work on the project.

Householders Not Too Conservative

House builders have often been accused of being too conservative, of using the same old materials their great-grandfathers used. That criticism is not well founded as anyone who has seen an old house coming down can confirm. Lath and shingle are only two examples of change. There are dozens of others.

Purchase Of Tulip Bulbs In Fall Assures Good Spring Crop

There's one way to be certain of a rewarding and effective tulip garden in the spring buy good bulbs from a reliable dealer in the fall.

If you want to have a good show of tulips — or hyacinths, narcissus, daffodils or any of the other Dutch bulbs — be sure to insist upon your bulbs bearing a label on bag which shows the place

Always go to a dealer you know is reliable and get only large-size bulbs. For example, No. 1 tulip bulbs measure 12 centimeters in circumference, or 1-¼ to 1-¾ inches in diameter.

Always get bulbs that are firm and feel heavy for their size. Bulbs that are soft and lightweight have spent too long in the dry atmosphere of the store and are dried out. In tulips, the outer skin should be smooth and intact, free of cuts and open that indicate disease.

Except for a small section of British Columbia, the Canadian climate does not favor commercial bulb production. Spring turns in summer too suddenly for proper development of the bulb after the old one has finished blooming. In Holland, the home of the bulbs where nearly 20,000 tons of them are grown for export every year, the flowers are plucked from the tops of the stalks almost as soon as they bloom to allow the bulbs to get all the energy and development into the finest in the world. In Canada, the season is too short and the change too fast as most of the bulbs grown in Canada are imported from the Netherlands.

To produce good bulbs demands time, labor and the skill as well as a great deal of special equipment. They must be grown with the utmost care and graded to produce a uniform product. Good bulbs must be sold at a fair price so the gardener is contented a gainful bargain. Most of the bargain offers provide what they claim, but the choice are usually so cleverly the country gentleman is usually misled.

It would be well to remember this advice: buy only the large, firm bulbs with smooth, intact surfaces, and buy them only as they will be picked over by sidle gardeners, and also see the stock will be dried out by lying in the store

FISHING POOR BUT PROSPECTING GOOD

"This is how it happened," explains Bob Sybul to Sylvia Comeau, as he holds a rock for her to "bear" in the center mentor Sybul and a friend, John Gregan discovered a uranium deposit in Perth county, Ontario, while on a fishing trip. The fish were not biting and they were ready to call it quits when they dropped their fishing tackle and picked up their proper equipment. The turning they heard caused them to send a sample of the rock to the Ontario department of mines which reported they had found uranium. They are not sure what they have got on hand it as yet, but they consider they have come a long ways in the five years they have been in Canada. They arrived here from Czechoslovakia with $8.00 in their pockets.

Navy Develops Scoop Net For Use in Water Rescue Work

Being netted from the sea like a wayward herring may not be the most dignified way of being rescued but it has been proved the most efficient.

The Royal Navy has developed a scoop net for use in helicopter rescue work. The net, designed to [illegible] a rope net attached [illegible] shaped tubular metal [illegible] When put to use the net is [illegible] into the water with the straight side of the U facing [illegible] by the arms of a semi-[illegible] tube from the helicopter [illegible].

The basket [illegible] 25 feet above the water at a speed of about five knots. The net is trawled through the water until the person [illegible] is centered or gathered inside like a school of small[illegible]. The net is then hauled up to the cabin [illegible] but if he is badly injured he is left in the net and the helicopter speeds to its base.

In tests with the new apparatus it has shown the speed of rescue can be stepped up to a rate of ten persons per minute in 30 minutes.

Previously the development of the net, a strap had to be secured around the waist of the person in the water and then he was hauled up to the copter by the winch.

Although a great many persons have been saved by this method [illegible] there are disadvantages. If the survivor had been in an injured state he [illegible] by the strap around the waist of the survivor. The [illegible] of the aircraft had to be lowered into the water with the danger of the propeller blades [illegible] by the survivor. Also the lifting of a badly injured man by the strap method may cause further injuries. Incidents of the [illegible] of being swept from mid air by means of a strap around the waist [illegible] are completely new and more than have causing experience.

But, no matter which method is used to haul a man from the clutches of the ocean, the sight of a helicopter is a welcomed one to the man in the water.

Turkeys Now in Demand

Dried these turkeys to market now to meet the increased consumer demand for Thanksgiving. The time open for processing turkeys has been lengthened. With increased production and modernizing aspects of the industry [illegible] outstanding packaging and freezing, it is now [illegible] to send the birds to market earlier as [illegible] public wants to be supplied in [illegible] the bulk of the [illegible] are now [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Traffic Laws Made By Nature

Nature plays a great part in the traffic picture The laws that Nature has established cannot be changed and the penalty for violations is sure and certain.

Some drivers of today disregard nature's laws, partly because they do not recognize them or fail to understand their importance. Some of the accidents of today are the cause traced to the great fact "a violation of the laws of Nature."

Good drivers must recognize Nature's laws and understand them thoroughly. They must acquaint themselves with the penalties too, and when we respect Nature's laws, then we have taken a great [illegible] ... driving [illegible]

There are four basic laws which nature has laid down Laws which you and I should understand.

1. The law of Force of Impact.
2. The law of Centrifugal force
3. The law of Friction.
4. The law of Gravity

I believe the most important one of the four is Friction, so I will put this one down for the first study.

FRICTION

Nature's laws work automatically and in many conditions are inescapable

Friction makes it possible for you to start and stop. If friction is absent you can't start, for example, like a car on ice. Friction is more important on the [illegible] of your car than it is in the starting. Like the saying, "If you can't start, there you is, but if you can't stop, what' is you"

When brakes are applied, stopping friction takes hold in two ways

1. The brake shoes, or bands, are forced against the brake drum
2. Friction between tires and roads creates "road push" in the opposite direction to that of the vehicle.

PROCTORING FOREIGN HONEY PRICES

Processed foods, whether canned, frozen or dried, are going in price this season according to food processors. The pack this year is short and fruit this season, with the rising cost of packaging, has made the rise inevitable and as they point out if consumers can afford to pay more the prices increase. Increasing as much, the per unit cost will be higher than last year. Fresh produce, too, may rise considerably if the crop is damaged by storms in the next few months. And higher prices here will cause larger imports of U.S. products.

Believes Farmers Able To Control Production On Long Range Plan

I see it

Except for the difference in costs incidental to storage there should be little fluctuations in price from one six month period to the next. Money tends in the short and again but winter and spring these storage costs could not as easily have been passed on to the consumer as well as to the producers because of ability to pay. Make no mistake about this, you who are economists

The farmers CAN control their own production on a long range supply and demand basis there-by eliminating the wide month by month variations in price

I wonder who the author is that is for the statement that it is a good thing that farmers as a group cannot control production. Is there a conspiracy against the consumer? Are we slaves to whom the Golden Rule should not apply?

More than that, we have here the point where democracy begins to taper off and communism begins to take over. If democracy does not follow the Golden Rule can rule, it must necessarily be partly right and partly wrong. If democracy is partly wrong its chief antidote, at present communism, may be partly right. Yes, Mr. Diefenbaker Agriculturist, as your article tries to show, price is the best adjustment that there is. The catch is that price must be bilateral, that is, satisfactory to both sides (producer and consumer) That is what we have to take into consideration or it (price) will wreck us (democracy)

Communism may be partly right in that its aims are the better standard of living for all its members. As these aims are paramount with them, without regard to the wishes of its people, it is therefore also partly wrong

Even if it should take over completely it would have to change some of its ideas to give all the people the better standard of living it aims at. Then we there is a supply and demand (4 parts) in every match, every sheet of paper, every bottle of whisky, every latke, every tractor and every atomic bomb.

I know that democracy is more right than wrong and communism is more wrong than right but to eliminate the need for communism we have to make democracy right all the way.

In communism, as I see it, the four parts are being almost completely ignored in favour of two parts, building a huge supply to fill a big need. Man makes the decisions. Therefore leaving lots of room for error. I could quite imagine instances where their errors in judgment have created pile-ups and shortages in their economy but not knowing all the details I could be wrong in such assuming. Eventually these bugs in the system would wrench them and they would have to come back to democracy as we know it or should know it.

3. If farmers did control their production in accordance with the need or the desire and the ability to pay people would NOT "be eating a lot less and/or paying a lot more for food." The ability to pay is 100%, not more and not less. It applies to our cost as well as to our sales. At 100% we find the maximum efficiency in production as what we buy or in what we sell. If we have our costs at 125% (or whatever it may be) we are far from efficient production efficiently Any farmer or any manufacturer knows this. The others can see it if they stop to think it out. If anyone's sales are over the 100% of ability to pay of the customer he is taking more than his share and contributing to troubles in the national and world economy, even if it helps his own pocket book

I would like to point out that it would not take a large percentage increase in returns to make farmers prosperous. It would not as it does not take a large decrease in returns to put us out of business. If we do go out of business it can mean skyrocketing prices. If prices should skyrocket but cannot because consumers have scattered their purchasing power to the four winds we have a depression. Then we get gross inefficiency. Someone says that we are mismanaging and he is starving and sets out to take over. We cannot blame him all the way!

4. If farmers decided to organize and control production that it would not be an "artificial fluctuation in price" but a basic right of man to earn a fair wage for his labour. I do not see the argument of the farmers when they justify it as unlawful and unfair. Is it not charitable to help the needy? Is it not charity in its true meaning. If the farmers were getting their own prices and those to all 100% of parity, both producers and consumers would know their margin of profits and could determine according to their ability to do so if they so desired. In any event there would be a better distribution of funds. I understand that distribution is the problem now. Stop-lighting the would take place according to need and the ability to pay and according to the better or the standard of living all the people wanted, not by earning a living the way we now by supply and demand-of-it could not interfere as it does now. The true supply and demand would bring peace and prosperity to the world

It is time we indulge or lose our good citizens are too hard to believe that a complete failure of red tape and endless hardships and blunders are more apparently and blame for thrills and spills, for fun and rugged individualism.

Opinions or politics can be carried out into two groups, the right and the wrong. However, it is not easy to make anyone do the right thing unless they want to do the right thing. Therein lies a problem that is a challenge

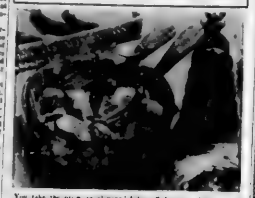
GIVE A NEW ZEST TO SUMMER SALADS



You take the pot as you shopping guarantee—here's an offer that's worth noting! Add to summer guests. Complete the salad with a tangy Tomato French Dressing and garnish well over the potato high.

Of all the dressings of this type, the tangy Italian seems to be that version most with tomato soup. Best thing is, as usual, a few tips found in their recipe card-file. Main ingredients feature a can (10½ oz.) each tried and perfected by Jean Nesbitt's Food Bureau. As I note from every kind of salad-plate guarantee from this outside-sharp Bureau:

Tested Recipes Prize Blend Tomatoes Blend for Serving Color Choice and Crisp Pepper

TOMATO-FRENCH DRESSING

2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup salad oil
1 tablespoon grated onion (optional)

Combine dry ingredients in bowl. Add vinegar; add remaining ingredients and beat well. Store in refrigerator until needed; shake well before using. Makes about 2 cups dressing.

GARLIC STYLE: Add 2 medium cloves garlic (mashed) to basic recipe.

BLUE CHEESE STYLE: Add ½ cup crumbled blue cheese to basic recipe.

LEMON STYLE: Add 4 teaspoons grated lemon rind to basic recipe.

HERB STYLE: Add 1 teaspoon ground herb (marjoram, sage, thyme, celery seed, oregano) to basic recipe. Let stand at least 1 hour before using. Dressing and blend well; pour at once over salad and serve.

THE DOMESTIC SCIENCE BUREAU

A panel of home economists in your town, your nearest Canada Packers plant, has tested these two products on your kitchen shelf. Their recommendations are given to readers regularly in this column. Send a card for the free booklet containing the two recipes pictured above, from the pen and pen in 1 cans (about 2½ cups) of spaghetti in tomato sauce. Add 1 cup or so of cooked meat if you like. When piping hot, serve promptly. If spaghetti topped with browned mozzarella cheese, add it later and continue cooking until cheese is melted.

Western Crop Grades Lowered By Frost And Cool Wet Weather

OTTAWA (CP) — A large proportion of prairie cereal crops have been hurt but grades have been lowered in many areas by frost, estimates of stability reported in a telegraphic survey of Canadian crop conditions.

There still is a lot of threshing to be done. Only small amounts of flax and other oilseeds have been harvested.

Cool wet weather also has prevented harvesting operations in Ontario and Quebec in contrast to ideal cutting a well under way in the Maritimes with above-average yields reported. Cereal crop harvesting has been virtually completed in British Columbia with the exception of the Peace River district.

Glendon News

Mr. D. M. Hause, representing the Well-known Bible Society will be visiting the Glendon area this week.

Western Canada Flying Doctor Service Starts Here

Sportsmen interested in the formation of hockey in St Paul turned out in encouraging numbers at a pre-season meeting held in the Town Hall, last Friday to name an executive to take charge of operations for the coming season, fast approaching.

Before the choice of directors and financial statement was read by Secretary-Treasurer Ironside, a motion of the major purposes and receipts. It took $6,000.00 to operate the club last year. Receipts in the sum of $5,750.00 were raised through outright donations, concessions and gate, leaving a deficit for the year of $250.00 which is still outstanding to date.

Some of the major expenses include player wages, $2862.29, travelling expenses of players $818.20, meals $312.45, referees $360.00, ice, lights, $816.45, rooms $152.00. Total gate receipts for the season were $3,-76, divided three ways between the Hockey Club, Jaycees and the town. Part of this was turned on to the team. Approximately $1,000 was raised in outright donations and the balance through various promotions.

Mr. Orderer Leroux was appointed manager of the Club for the second consecutive year. L. H. Dionne, Secretary-Treasurer. Executive committee was composed of Bill Conroy, Jules Van Brabant, Cleque Pigeon and Harry Krykiewicz. Equipment manager, Leo Dubois; transportation, Mike Pantyluk, Orderer Leroux and Bernard Richard in charge of player selection.

List of potential players was reviewed and ideas discussed on the selection of a coach. Suggestions were few and the executive is currently interviewing several prospective coaches with past hockey experience.

The meeting voted unanimously to sponsor the team for participation in the Eastern Alberta Hockey League in the same circuit as last year.

Suggestions were advanced for (Continued on page 14)

Reports Two Bees Geese

Mr. John Bohen of St. Lina has been harbouring and protecting 2 Bees Geese. He reports that they flew in about two weeks ago and settled in his field and made themselves quite at home. He has been observing them and says they seem almost tame and very contented in their new surroundings.

Bees Geese are one species of Canadian geese that are established in their yearly nest and are closely protected by law. It is forbidden to shoot them.

Similar to the snow geese they have a white body and black wing tips. Its size, however, is much smaller than the snow geese and it has a very tall instead of the black "grinning patch" common to the snow geese.

The find has been reported to the games branch and officers will investigate and probably capture the birds for conservation.

SHOOT FOUR GEESE IN DISTRICT

Luck was flying for Ray Fedchuk and Dick Bedland, from the fire inspectors department while out shooting with Paul Germain, the Fire Chief. Patiently waiting for a flock of ducks they were surprised by four Lesser Canada Geese winging their way directly in their range and path of fire. Ray fired first knocking down two, while the other pair veered off directly for Bedland who took care of them. Phil sat jubilantly watching the show, out of range.

HENRY CHARRON TO TRUCK LIVESTOCK TO CITY

Henry Charron, St. Paul Livestock dealer has announced this week that he is inaugurating a truck service from St Paul to Edmonton for shipping hogs, and other livestock.

Henry said that the new service will enable him to ship his hogs the same day of delivery in St. Paul on market day and then every Tuesday the livestock will be in the packing plants by 9:00 p.m.

A subsequent saving in freight will be made in the amount of 10c per hog and shrinkage will be kept down to a minimum.

When lard or other greasy substances catch fire on the stove, smother the flame with a rubber mat, rug or clothing which will not burn. Don't grab the hot pan and try to carry it outdoors.

Hockey Executive Elected; Make Plans For Season Play In Eastern Alberta League Circuit

Possibility Of Construction For Next Year Is Hinted

Sister Marie-du-Carmel First Superior Present For Occasion

Thirty years of service and dedication to the sick and aging residents of St. Paul and district was marked at a celebration reunion of the Sisters, Doctors and Staff of Ste. Theresa Hospital on September 26th.

The Hospital was formed in 1926 by the Grey Nuns (Sisters of Charity) who built their establishment to replace the first primitive hospital commenced in a converted private house which is still standing and today is the home of Paul Babineau.

Rev. Sister Marie-du-Carmel was the pioneer founder whose keen foresight became the great need for a modern hospital and envisioned big development for the town of St. Paul. Today Sister Marie-du-Carmel continues her missionary work at Blue Quills School where she is Superior of the last-last Institution.

At consecration Sister Marie-du-Carmel laid the bricks and decided assistance of Sister Jeanne Leagin and Sister Meisurez Desjardins. The professional staff at that time consisted of two doctors, Dr. J. P. Dorosse and Dr. Brosseau, two nurses who were graduate nurses and one lay worker.

The bed capacity of the hospital was eight and the personnel also numbered eight. Today the total personnel of Ste Theresa Hospital has risen to sixty, representing a considerable increase over the years beginning in the progress it has made.

A medical staff of four now serves the hospital and its patients Accommodation can be provided for sixty patients. Four Sisters who are graduate nurses and fifty lay graduate nurses with one technologist at the medical laboratory and X-ray department, three lay graduates and four assistant nurses aides.

Attending the gathering are Doctors F. B. Brosseau, head of the St. Paul Medical Clinic, Dr. Leon Trudeau, Dr. Wm. Turbayne and Dr. L. G. Shanks, dentist.

Present Superior of the Hospital is Sister Marie-Ange Charbonneau.

Attending the 30th anniversary functions was Mother Marie-Bertha Dorais, Provincial Superior from St. Albert.

The original hospital built in 1926, added a new wing in 1930. Again in 1950 extra accommodations were provided for a children's ward, a new kitchen, a new modern laboratory and a new and larger maternity section.

The possibility has been considered by the Sisters of the Grey Nuns and already plans have been drawn for the construction of approximately 50 additional beds. Approval has been released by the government and it was hinted construction may start next year.

Faryna Absolved Of Blame In Johnson Death

INQUEST HELD IN ST. PAUL

Mr Nick Faryna of Beaver Hill, was absolved of blame in connection with a highway collision half mile west of Ashmont in which Evert Johnson, magazine salesman lost his life August 16 was absolved of all blame of an inquest held in St Paul last Thursday before Coroner Dr. Cassidy.

Mr. Faryna, also representing on "our highway accident" was driving his truck and was about on highway 28 when the accident occurred. Johnson was driving a car and was enroute to his truck.

Both he and his wife Mrs. Faryna, who received facial injuries in the accident, said that visibility was fairly good and they were able to observe the car approaching around the curve. At one point it recovered almost from the road, narrowly recovering from taking the ditch on the opposite side of its direction and before crashing into the truck. The car, the driver of which is holding a baby in her arms, is too terrified to get out of the car—thus heading the safety of others besides the safety of the infant.

Mr Cecil Anderson, a district farmer of Ashmont who was in his pickup truck on his farm across the track from the road, said he didn't witness the actual accident but heard the crash and saw mushroom cloud of dust in the air. He arrived on the scene intervening 200 yards in the meantime. Engaged in Conclusion.

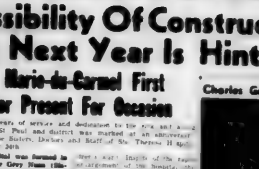
Swine Sale November 9th

A swine sale will be held in St. Paul on November 9th — it was announced by the District Agriculturist, Mr. Edward Lacombe.

Last Fall, swine went on sale for the first time at the Bull Sale, with fairly satisfactory results.

Because some of the breeders and contributors to the Bull Sale recommended by a 2 to 1 vote to hold a bull sale in the spring instead of the fall, no cattle sale will be held this fall.

Full information of the Swine sale will be released in the following weeks prior to the sale.



Charles Gauvreau Jr. and his father have purchased the restaurant and will retain business of Long O'Neill. The restaurant will be known as Charles under the trade name of Gauvreau and Son. Watch next week's issue for announcement advertisement.

Robbed Of Mirrors Again

It happened again . . . Twice on a row! A devotedly loyal yet would heartily respect a law abiding citizen to be subjected to more than once at least within a few months or once a year anyway.

You, see, they got away with the fixtures your view unseen, but the mirrors are for what it was taken pursuit in front of his place of business. Both days of the night Anderson is now lacking mirrors and of the party or parties responsible.

It has been trying to think who we have been insulted to the extent where this kind of revenge is necessary and how it is a case to us. Nor to man or woman we have had any party and with no differences in the sort. Nor any reverse suffered, even though we are covered by insurance. But, regardless the compensation take from that last night.

We're offering a reward for information leading to the apprehension of the culprit. We won't get a penny of any leads will be appreciated.

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

October 7th to 13th

PROCLAMATION

By proclamation His Honor Mayor John Van Brabant of St. Paul wishes to inform the citizens of St. Paul that the week of October 7 to 13 has been proclaimed Fire Prevention week by Governor General Vincent Massey.

His Honor reminds the citizens of this town that decisions by fire across the country is alarming and that the best way to control fire is to prevent them.

Citizens of St. Paul are urged during Fire Prevention Week to check every possible fire hazard and to continue doing so during the month of October and throughout the year.

USE YOUR HEAD — AND SAVE IT

Scores of lives could be saved from fire by the exercise of common and good judgment. That is the opinion of experts in fire hazards. Assistant Fire Marshals and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs who, during Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13, are doing their part to emphasize the dangers of fire in the home.

Incendiary fires are caused occasionally by the average householder, but the best thing to do when a fire is discovered is to notify the fire department. If you have a hose and feel it is safe to extinguish the flames — using water, if possible, in preference to chemicals — do so. In the event of a fire, however, don't waste time. Get out, and see that everyone else in the house does likewise. Stay inside a door or a window and notify another member of the household that a fire exists. Don't waste time phoning the fire department. Don't attempt to save anything. Don't waste time dressing. Get out. Don't run back into a burning house for anything. If the fire is spread out over a large area, start at the end nearest you and sweep it out completely as you advance. If the fire is travelling up a wall, put out the fire at the bottom first and then follow it up.

When fighting a fire due to an electrical cause, first turn off the power. You should know the location of the main house switch and a convenient switch for cutting off power throughout the house. Fires and events like fire from static electricity and also from the combustion of gasoline vapors, are a very common cause.

Most people are kind to animals and possessors hunters agree with the law that they should not shoot deer with young and to the latter can be encouraged to learn they will have greater success in getting a buck. If you awaken to the sound of fire, do not rush into the hall. Feel the door first. If it is hot, do not attempt to open it as the hall is probably full of fire that will burst in when the door is opened. If you are trapped in a room, shut the door and stuff up any openings, down your window and attract attention by shouting and threatening with a chair. Don't jump unless it is absolutely necessary. Wait for help. Get out of the window sill to the ladder. The best thing to do, however, is to prevent fires. Don't take the risk. Don't be careless with matches in the home. Don't smoke in bed. Don't leave the job unfinished.

Deadly smoke and gases as well as actual flames lead to fire. Clean chimneys and open dampers assist their progress. As a precaution against fire, chimneys should be cleaned at least once a year. Don't overload electric circuits. Don't permit rubbish and combustibles to accumulate. While gasoline is necessary for the operation of motor cars, it is dangerous around fires.

Don't use a match to find out whether there is gasoline in the tank of your car. If in doubt, remove the cap and look in the tank. Don't use gasoline for cleaning purposes. It is extremely dangerous.

CARE WITH GUNS

Ever had a gun pointed at you? What fear it invokes! How often a hunter has keyed with a gun he thought empty to be shocked into astonishment by the prone figure before him! The Alberta Safety Council knows that thousands runs high among hunters during the fall season, but enthusiasm should not give way to carelessness. To keep hunting at its sporting best, the Council stresses gun safety. Never point a gun at anything you have no intention of shooting. Treat the unloaded gun with the respect commanded from a loaded one.

While underwear and your quarry is in sight don't be in such a great hurry that you stumble over fences with the loaded gun. Pass the gun through the fence. Have the muzzle pointing away from yourself and your companion. Make sure the safety catch is on. It proves very embarking should you happen to stumble. Also refrain from standing a loaded gun against a fence or tree and don't pull it toward you by the barrel.

Finish your hunting trip with a pleasant evening by carrying only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile or camp and especially into your home.

WARBLE CONTROL

Scientists at the United States department of agriculture have been carrying out experiments with a new chemical designed to kill the cattle warble, intermediate stage in the life cycle of the heel fly, which causes a serious economic ailment.

The chemical is an organic phosphate which is given with the feed and circulates through the animal's system, destroying the grubs long before they form the familiar lumps along the back.

Research is continuing and before the treatment is released for general use scientists must establish that the chemical has no ill effect on the animals and that no harmful residue is left in the meat or milk.

DEMAND FOR FLAX

Word from Winnipeg indicates that a strong demand for flax for export has developed. In an effort to move larger supplies to market the Canadian Wheat Board has given flax shipments first priority along with the movement of feed barley and has requested railways to spare cars out-of-order for the movement of cattle to any destination.

It is beginning to reach the Lakehead in fair quantities. Recently, the premium on seed flax has been running at around 20 cents over the October futures.

HIGH BEEF PRICE

The price of high quality beef at the biggest point since 1933 — is likely to remain around the present level at least until late spring, according to a spokesman of the Meat Packers Council of Canada. However, prices for lower quality grass-fed beef may drop slightly next month as animals are brought in from pasture, he predicted.

CANADIAN POLICY TOWARDS IMMIGRANTS IS HARMFUL

High tribute to reds plagued in life at hands of immigrants is found in rarest official publication entitled "In Quest of Freedom."

Pamphlet sets forth success story of many noted American citizens who came to US from other lands. Relating to distinguished scholars, writers, scientists, artists, executives, industrialists, musicians and civic leaders who have come from the ranks of US immigrants, editors of "In Quest of Freedom" rightly observe that America is "richer for their coming."

"In Quest of Freedom" is striking example of contrast between official US attitude toward wartime immigration, which seeks at every opportunity, and rightly so, to make US citizens appear as glittering prize, and dull, unimaginative and often barbarous the attitude of Immigration Department of Ottawa, which still appears under influence of Immigration Minister Pelletier's long reference to "New Canadians" as some sort of second class citizens.

As Financial Post recently pointed out Canada is still more seriously dependent on imported skills and habits of education that New Canadians have brought with them than other lands.

Canadian immigration policy, when it comes to getting the skilled and educated settlers the country needs, has clearly "missed the bus."

... for this type ... of ... allows less in the ... till again" approach to immigration, called by The Financial Post the "Fair Theory."

"Fair Theory" of immigration would be well when European countries were still suffering from ravages of war and incentive to emigre was high. Today, however, most of Europe is prosperous, and more is required than nursing on tap of immigration to induce people to emigrate and settle in Canada.

Fact that many prosperous Europeans are turned down when they apply for visas to enter Canada is a bad matter back is hardly likely to mean that just because some of the rightists have been allowed to enter Canada from Ottawa's immigration policy, they are willing and anxious to come to this country today.

Immigration policy, for country such as Canada, must have continuity and not be subject to sudden fluctuation and change of Canada's standards, instead of being greatly in a drab formality, must be made to appear as great a boon to newcomers to the country as it is to those who are missing from.

GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

Announces the Eighth Annual

Master Farm Family Award

for 1956 to the following

Alfred George Rose — Bonnie
John P. Rosmahel — Viking
Wilfred L. McGillivray — Cooking Lake
A. D. Fraser — Thorpe Creek

The Master Farm Family Award is recognized by an award of $1,000.00, an engraved plaque and a name plate for the farm entrance. The purpose of the Master Farm program is to find and encourage those who have achieved notable progress in living, home-making and citizenship, and who, by their example, are encouraging interest in farming as a way of life. The Department of Agriculture is indeed proud and gratified with the high standard of attainment among the farm citizens of Alberta as revealed by the Master Farm Family Program.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Government of the Province of Alberta

Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister — D. M. Falconer, Deputy Minister

Viking district farmer John Rosmahel and his family are one of four Master Farm Family winners in Alberta this year. The family, shown pictured above, are from left to right, back row, son William, daughter Mrs. Steve Yuha of Banff, daughter Marie Ann, owner's old at Olds, and son Leslie, and front, Mr. and Mrs. John Rosmahel. Front is son Stanley who is studying at St. Joseph seminary. A view of the Rosmahel farmhouse is shown center, with sheds beyond the row of trees to the left and barn behind the trees to the left and back behind the trees at rear of the home. Bottom picture shows Mr. Rosmahel with a portion of the herd of Hereford he raises on his 856 acres.

Don't fill oil stoves, gasoline lanterns, while they are burning. Let them cool off. And don't smoke while you're working around them.

Hon. L. C. Halmrast Announces Winners Of Master Farm Family

A combination of use of scientific farming practices coupled to a will for achievement has brought success to the John Rosmahel family of Viking, one of Alberta's four 1956 Master Farm Family award winners.

Other winners this year are the Alfred Rose family, Bicmus, of the Rocky Mountain House district; A. D. Fraser family, Thorpe Creek, near Grande Prairie, and the Wilfred McGillivray family of Cochrane.

Each receives a $1,000 cash award, an engraved plaque and a Master Farm Family nameplate for the farmstead entrance.

Hon. L. C. Halmrast, provincial Minister of Agriculture, announcing the winners of the 8th annual contest, said that the awards are based upon concepts of "good farming, right living and clear thinking."

"The main objective of the program is to provide Alberta farmers with a practical demonstration of how a family can achieve success in farming and in family and community life."

The north-central Alberta winner, John Rosmahel, is a native of Nebraska where he was born in 1894. In 1902 he moved with his parents in the Viking district where the family took up a homestead.

His Rosmahel's children entered from earlier farming in 1916 leaving his household to his two sons.

John, the eldest, foresaw great future in agriculture and determined to make it his life's work. Just prior to the depression years he purchased a half-section of school land, site of his present farmstead.

During the next few years, the Rosmahel's experienced the same hardships as many other provincial farmers. The original homestead was mortgaged to help pay for the newly-acquired land. For two years they could only keep up payments of taxes and interest. It was during this period that a number of farmers grouped together to help destroy operating expenses on their respective farms. Mr. Rosmahel supplied a thresher while the others brought teams of horses, racks and supplies of the labor.

The Master Farm Family winner didn't waver in his faith in agriculture. As conditions improved he began to expand his holdings. He owns six-and-one-half sections but has half sections of land.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by
W. A. MacARTHUR,
Director,
Grain Research Laboratory,
CANADA GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

During the past few years, tunnel storage has been extensively tested with the result that farmers have been favored to use many types of temporary storage which, from the standpoint of possible insect infestation, are safer far from satisfactory. These include sod granaries that have not been used for some time, cribs, chicken sheds, barns and other miscellaneous sheds that have been pressed into service Many of these buildings, unfortunately, are not weatherproof and as a result tough and damp areas develop near leaking walls or beneath roof holes with the result that moulds may begin to grow and the grain then becomes more susceptible to insect infestation. In other words our stored insect pest problems are, in many cases very closely related to the types of storage used and in particular to the presence of moisture

Entomologists point out, however, that a great deal can be done in the way of preventive measures even where temporary storage space does not have to be used. Probably first in importance is the necessity for good housekeeping, that is, the thorough cleaning out of all storage premises before the grain is placed in them and the provision of as clean a place and as dry a storage facilities as possible. Also very important is the matter of ventilation for which adequate provision should be made. Lastly, the cleaner and drier the grain when it is placed in storage, the better are the chances that it will escape insect damage. It says provided, of course that care is taken to prevent the infiltration of moisture All these precautions will help to reduce to a minimum the danger of insect damage that affects stored grain

Lafrance Brothers Purchase M & D Motors; Invite You To Open House On Friday, October 5th.

SHOWING OF 1957 METEOR ALONG WITH SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT

The Lafrance brothers, Phil and Charles, who have recently purchased M & D Motors and changed the name of the firm to LaFrance Motors, wish to announce they are inviting the public to attend a grand opening celebration to be held on Friday, October 5th, from 1 to 5 p.m. on their modern premises, centrally located on main street in down town St. Paul.

Special entertainment is planned for the evening of the opening. The Meteor will be present. There will be refreshments, door prizes and draws for valuable merchandise. (See accompanying ad).

The Lafrance brothers, Phil, 40 years, and Charles, 43, are sons of Mr and Mrs Cyrice LaFrance. Both were born on the grounds of Quebec and came west with their parents in 1921.

They attended Lafrance and St Edouard Schools in their early ages. Phil continued his studies at St. John's College, where he graduated, while Charles left school to farm with his father and later purchased a quarter of his own. He expanded to three quarters, and built up into one of the good farms in the district, located 6 miles west on Highway 28. This farm was leased in part-rent of the garage.

After serving college Phil went back on the farm, but left in 1942 to work for M & D Motors, then owned by J M Dwain and remained in the garage business with the firm as partowner until the recent transaction. Phil gained valuable experience in the garage business during these years and is well qualified for the position he now occupies.

Business at LaFrance Motors will continue along the same lines with Meteor-Mercury-Lincoln-Imperial the Esso Service and service departments on the shop floor.

When the party is over, be sure you check all the solutions, the cushions on the chesterfield or chairs to make sure no lighted cigarette has been left behind. A little caution may save your life!

Phil Lafrance

New manager and co-proprietor of LaFrance Motors cordially invites you to the official opening of the remodelled premises on Friday, October 5th, 1 to 5 p.m.

New 1957 Meteors Now On Display In Showrooms Of Dealers Throughout The Country

FEATURING BIG CHANGES IN BODY STYLE AND MOTOR PRODUCTION

The all-new 1957 Meteor was unveiled Wednesday, October 3, at Meteor-Mercury-Lincoln dealerships across Canada, it was announced today by F. R. Gillis, general manager Mercury-Lincoln-Meteor Division, Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited.

The 1957 Meteor line will offer the motoring public 34 models in five outstanding series. According to Mr Gillis, these are the lowest-priced and most powerful Meteor cars since Meteor was first introduced a distinctively Canadian car.

For the first time we will be offering the Meteor in two separate body sizes and wheelbases," said Mr Gillis. "There will be a choice of three V-8 engines in a wide horsepower range, as well as Ford of Canada's new, performance proven six cylinder engine."

From ground to roof-top, 1957 Meteor will stand just 4 feet 9 inches high — the lowest car in Meteor history.

They will be available in five series. The Rideau 500 and Rideau with 118-inch wheelbase, the Niagara 200 and Niagara with 126-inch wheelbase, and a completely new car, the Custom Pacific.

In answering the lower, road-hugging look in the Meteor, no loss in head room has resulted," said Mr Gillis "With the 1957 models the frame extends to the sides of the car. This permits the floor to be lowered inside the frame rails and, at the same time, extends the passengers in a rigid safety wall. We have also achieved in these models a balance of body, frame and power. The resulting Balanced-Ride is truly outstanding in the low-price field."

Major emphasis has been placed on engineering of the 1957 Meteor. There is redesigned ball-joint front suspension in which the central arms are swept back so that the front wheels are lifted over bumps. A new stabilizer bar controls sway. At the rear, new outboard mounted longer springs and new rubber shock dampers give a smooth balanced ride on any road surface. New lower pressure 14-inch tubeless tires on most models also contribute to greater riding ease.

"To make the Fine Meteor even more durable," said Mr Gillis, "we have used stronger alloy metals, harder-wearing fabrics and plastics, and strengthened body parts throughout. Important, too, is the increased use of insulation and sound-deadening materials."

For 1957, a special high performance V-8 engine is available as an optional power plant on all Meteor cars in Rideau 500, Rideau and Niagara 200 series. The engine, called the Special, develops 225 horsepower and is equipped with a four-barrel low silhouette carburetor.

Standard engine for the Rideau and station wagon series is the 212 horsepower V-8. A 120 horsepower V-8 is standard for the Niagara, and Rideau 200 series. In addition, the 144 h.p. Thrifty Six is available on Niagara, Niagara 200 and some station wagons. The special engine is available only with Mer-O-Matic transmission. All other engines can be ordered with standard transmissions, "Touch-O-Matic" speed-drive or Mer-O-Matic transmission.

Advanced design of the engine's carburetor, combustion chamber, and exhaust system, plus cheaper-up compression, provide increased economy in all models. Each engine is of the short-stroke, low friction type which means longer engine life than ever before possible.

The dry-type air filter, manifolds, intake manifold, intake valves, camshaft, and distributor are the new components of Meteor engines, assuring better than ever performance.

Available on every Meteor is a redesigned safety steering wheel, one of many safety features pioneered by Ford of Canada. It has been mounted lower on the car to provide an improved driving position. Directly ahead of the steering wheel is a new safety instrument panel with recessed control knobs. To keep the doors from [illegible] ing upon under impact, the double-grip safety door latches have been further strengthened.

Safety mat both and safety—cushioned instrument panel and sun visors are available as optional equipment at a very nominal extra cost, and the safety rear view mirror has been continued.

"HardTop" styling is the trademark of the conventional two-door and four-door sedans in the Rideau 500 series. The effect is obtained with thin side pillars. Meteor's true pillarless "HardTops," the four-door and two-door Victoria also are offered in these series.

Station wagons have flatter roof lines, with a contoured rear-window in the roof instead back from the windshield. At the back, the rear window and liftgate are vertical, the sides the provide 20 percent greater opening for bulky loads. A new latch opens the entire tailgate with one pull, and the liftgate swings up automatically on concealed torsion bar springs.

Special side mouldings and ornamentation distinguish each of Meteor's five series, which are available in 19 two-tone paint combinations of 12 solid colors. Inside, upholstery blends harmoniously with the new exterior colors.

Roofs have been strengthened with steel centre bows. Hoods are hinged at the front for easier engine servicing. The hood release has been moved inside, beneath the instrument panel, making the engine compartment tamper-proof when the car is locked. The fresh air intake has been moved to the cowling in front of the windshield so exhaust fumes are not drawn into the car.

For 1957, Meteor offers a magnificent range of optional features including power steering, seats, windows, and new silver power brakes, as well as tinted glass, push button and signal aerbert radios, and back-up lights integral with new larger safer tail lights.

MORE POWER THAN EVER IN '57 METEOR

Introduced October 3 by Mercury-Lincoln-Meteor dealers across Canada, the 1957 Meteors are the lowest, longest and most powerful to be offered since Meteor was first introduced as a distinctively Canadian car. The 1957 Meteor features two separate body sizes and wheelbases for the first time in its history, and offers 34 models in five series, of which this is the two-door Victoria in the Rideau 500 series. The Rideau models stand just four feet, nine inches high, from ground to roof-top. Interior headroom is as great as last year, since the car's chassis and floor are re-designed for a lower centre of gravity."

Teacher's Ass'n Fall Convention

Bonnyville will host teachers from Bonnyville and St. Paul town districts and school divisions during the [illegible] Alberta Teachers Association fall convention on October 4 and 5.

Feature speakers will be Wilfrid Pilkington, area education officer for Faculty of Education, University of Alberta. Also scheduled to address general sessions are D R Cameron, registrar of the Department of Education and Dr B E Walker of the Faculty of Education.

W Ivor Eyre, executive assistant of the ATA, and N J Ashdown will supervise the association.

What Do You Know?

If the average Canadian has no relish for pack horses and sleeping bags and is too bashful to enjoy trout fishing, says Bruce Hutchinson in The Financial Post, he can find almost anything else he likes somewhere in Canada. So far he hasn't tried to. I doubt that any people, in the Western world at least, know so little of Canada as we do. Yet most Canadians seem to assume that for purposes of foreign travel they must create an imaginary political line or even an ocean, the farther the better.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

I am not thinking here about the attractions of our scenery which everybody sees in pictures and on the screen at first hand. I am thinking about something even more attractive — the sense of freedom of the open air. But, like other people, we have accepted as a single idea many different and sometimes quite contradictory political ideas or even ideals, the farther the better.

DRIVE SAFELY

And Avoid Other Accidents

Safety education programs are becoming more important as the rate of traffic increases yearly. Thousands of words of columns are written each day about preventive methods but a lot of it is wasted, therefore, some good is derived and that is why we will endeavour to run a column under this heading in the course of safety. Read it carefully.

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning Due To Inattention Takes Many Lives Each Year

The advent of the fall season brings to the fore certain driving hazards, one of the most dread by being the Creeping Killer carbon monoxide.

The L. W. [illegible] Alberta Safety Council has issued a warning to motorists to be on guard at all times against these poisonous fumes which each year take a toll of lives in Alberta and across Canada.

Among the victims of carbon monoxide every autumn and winter are young couples who park in secluded spots with the car engine running to operate the heater. In numerous instances the victims were only sitting out a dance or talking over events of the evening after a party when the deadly fumes were drawn into the car by the air conditioning heater.

There also are instances where the victims were drunk persons who went to sleep after neglecting to turn off the engine.

In far too many cases, carbon monoxide struck when the car driver, in many cases a business man, decided to warm up the car in a closed garage. This can be a fatal mistake especially during the fall and winter when engines need warming and drivers are apt to forget to open the doors first.

Officials of the Safety Council point out that the only defense to poison gas in an automobile or fresh air to carry the gas out of danger zones. When an engine is running, it is producing carbon monoxide and this gas must be prevented from accumulating in any enclosed spaces where it will [illegible]

Furthermore, it should be realized that the gas cannot be tasted, smelled or seen. It may enter the car through the floor boards from a defective muffler. It may be carried by wind to the front of the car and be drawn in by the air conditioner.

Defective exhaust systems are likely to cause persons to be overcome as a result of the escaping gas finding its way into the passenger section even when the car is travelling at high speed.

A quick and effective inspection may be made by placing the car on a hoist with the engine running. If the temperature is freezing or nearly so, exhaust gas can be seen wherever it escapes. Examine the exhaust system from the engine manifold to the tail pipe for such leaks and

Don't throw water on a smoking TV set because the antenna is well grounded. If a fire or short circuit should develop, pull the plug, turn the set around and cover it with a rug. Call the fire department.

WILDLIFE FARM IS DREAM OF WRESTLER

After 10 years of wrestling both humans and alligators, Turtle Truzzolli began the summer to "wrestle" with a five-year plan to transform his 200-acre farm, 10 miles east of Barrie, Ont. into a wildlife sanctuary and began with a foundation stock of more than 200 alligators of every size and every age, ranging from one year to 12ft. Truzzolli's interest in alligators began when he was stationed in Louisiana with the U. S. 11th Armored Division in which he served as division athletic director. Every off-duty hour he spent hunting and trapping 'gators to augment his meat pay. His knowledge of the reptiles stood him in good stead, when in 1946, after a three-year reign as world's middleweight professional wrestling champion, he decided it was about time both he and the fight game found a new gimmick. He went to the Louisiana swamplands, captured the largest, meanest alligator he could find and returned to Canada with an act that set the grunt and groan world on its ear.

Cool Thinking May Save Your Life If Trapped In Flaming Building

Keep mentally cool and even if you are physically out if fire breaks out in your home, hotel or elsewhere Cool thinking may save your life, according to Fire Chief Fred Corcoran, who offers the case of a number of "thinking" persons in a United States hotel fire which took a heavy toll of life The trapped people, unable to reach safety kept the doors of their rooms closed, placed wet towels and other "stuffing" along cracks, turned on the bath taps and occupied those before the flame where the air was hotter than it was on a higher level They survived

Here are the rules he outlines for your safety when fire strikes

Get out of the house the minute you discover a fire or smell smoke If you think there's a fire, don't open doors First shove first and if they are hot, get out another way or block the doors with furniture or mattresses to keep out smoke and gases If you [illegible] can't get out, get close to the floor

Hold your breath and cover your face if you have to make a dash through rooms of fire and don't jump or drop from upper storey windows except as a last resort Wait for the firemen, they'll be there eight minutes

Don't ever go back [illegible] the building for any reason Your life is worth more than money, jewelry, clothing, furs and fine gowns from even the smallest fire must be deadly Unless the fire is small and you are certain you can control it with the right extinguisher don't waste your time or your life trying to fight it Get away from it Use the nearest telephone to call the fire department

A ways be ready to use different escape routes from any room in the house and take note of possible emergency exits in hotels and other buildings

Also, remember every window may be used as an exit Bottle to break a few windows — with chairs or other objects — then tear your life The reason most members schools are being built close to the ground and with many windows is not only to provide pupils with plenty of light — but also to provide easy escapes in case of fire

If you are burned or exposed to fire and smoke, get medical attention at once Seemingly minor burns or smoke inhalation at times [illegible]

CARELESSNESS IN HOME MAJOR CAUSE OF FIRE

Eight principal causes of fires in Canada, listed are: Careless smoking and handling of matches, misuse of electricity, defective or overheated heating and cooking equipment, improper disposal of flammable matters, including incendiary and careless children, defective or overheated chimneys, children and matches.

Trans-Canada Pipelines Gives Out Two Bridge Crossing Contracts

Toronto, September 28th——Contracts have been let by Trans-Canada Pipelines Limited for the two major crossings of the Assiniboine River on the prairie section of the natural gas transmission line, it was announced today by Charles S. Coates, executive vice-president and general manager of the company.

Work on the two 1,866 foot crossings will be started immediately by Metal Pipeline & Dredging, Ltd., Vancouver, at points on the river near Minnedosa and Portage la Prairie, both in Manitoba.

Mr. Coates explained that 12-inch pipe, the largest size to be used in the entire line of the transmission system, will be installed under the river crossing work as the water levels are low and construction is both easier and more economical.

Two 36-inch diameter pipes, of heavy wall thickness, are laid parallel for each crossing. The pipelines both an added safety factor and reserve capacity for future load increases. The lines are buried from 10 to 15 feet deep in the bottom of the river after being specially insulated and coupled with concrete to hold them in place. Trenches across the river bottom are dug by "clamshells", working off barges and by "draglines" working from the river banks.

Cost for new 20,000 horsepower experimental station, to be completed in 1960 at a cost estimated to be close to $17,000,000 will provide Canadian scientists and engineers with the knowledge they must have to design and build much larger and more economical nuclear-electric power stations.

Newly Organized Beaver Valley District Council Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the newly organized Beaver Valley District Council was held at the home of Mr Ken Nelson in Bonnyville on September 19th.

Before the business meeting a documentary film of last years World Scout Jamboree at Niagara was shown by Sq. Ld Card It was an excellent film and showed the value and scope of Boy Scout work. As one watched the friendliness and camaraderie of the boys of all nations, creeds and colors working and playing together one could not help but feel that if something could be done for enough racial segregation, might disappear in the world problem.

Rife District Pioneer Honoured On Occasion Of 75th Anniversary

Friends and relations gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Dan Smith on the evening of Sat., September 15, to offer congratulations and best wishes to Mr William Ross on the attaining of his 75th birthday.

Bouquets symbolic of autumn decorated the room.

The evening was spent in a neighborly chit-chat and a feeling among guests were handed around everyone joined heartily in an old fashioned sing song.

At midnight the lights were dimmed and the guests, with a chorus of "Happy Birthday to You" to the accompaniment of Mrs Dan Smith at the piano, filed into the dining room where the birthday cake, lighted with seventy-five candles was ushered in by the three Misses Hazen. Mrs Ross, MacLean Mr and Mrs Ross Northcott, Mrs Alex McLean, Mrs Kenny MacLean, Margaret and Maurice Mr and Mrs Harry Armitage and Mr and Mrs Bob Arrangott Mr Roy Armitage, Mr and Mrs Lorenzo Barns Mr Alex Ross, Mr and Mrs Jack Ross and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ross and Elsie and Lawrence, Mr and Mrs August Press, Mr and Mrs Arthur Kennedy, Mr and Mrs William Ross, Jeanne MacKinnon, Sydney and Richard Smith.

Mr Ross was born at Valley-field Prince Edward Island. After completing a course of training at Prince of Wales College he engaged in teaching for a couple of years.

Coming West later he engaged in mining and prospecting in B.C. and Washington for a number of years.

In 1908 Nelson, B.C., he married Miss Helen McClure of Wallace, Ontario. Two years later he came to the lands of Alberta and there the couple have since made their home. The frontier claimed him and on April 1st, 1910 Mrs Ross and Mrs Hall turning virgin sod with oxen and endearing the hardships of the homesteader.

Always an avid reader in the long winter evenings, he learned the midnight oil and many a wayfarer among the barren slept to share the hospitality of Mr and Mrs. Ross in their home on the hill.

The opening of Duncan School near which Mr Ross is connected with a class of 20 pupils, none of which had ever been in a school and most of them unable to speak any words except in the European tongue.

Today products of that school attribute a good share of their success to the careful training received at his hand.

In 1918 he moved to a farm 12 miles from St Paul but possibilities of expansion in the Rife district intrigued him and the year 1920 found him settled at Rife where he has since made his life have been realized.

Mr Ross undertook a large share of activities for the betterment of the community where he has served on the school boards and as district councillor, also for many years as an official in the local FUA organization. He always stood actively with his church.

Since his retirement in 1947 he and Mrs Ross spend most of the winters at the coast with their daughter, Mr Ray Wade of Haney B.C. The rest of the time they reside with their son, Alex Ross in Smith at Rife Mrs Ross Smith, the sister of Alex and the eldest son, Dan, also live in Rife.

Five years ago in a bottle-effect a heart condition of almost overwhelming odds, the Rev. Ross has since spurned with him in good stead and today looks him with his health greatly improved and entertaining a garden of unsurpassed excellence, taking an interest in the affairs of the world, at home and at large and with unshaken faith burning brightly as he travels "life's second mile."

Use Metal Containers

Gasoline, benzine, naphtha and other flammable liquids should be kept in metal containers. Glass jars — easy cans and so they aren't as matches — create risks. And never try to wash clothes with gasoline — the vapour explodes.

practical agriculture and technical advances has achieved for Mr Rose the distinction of having one of the most productive sheep herds in the province. The area chosen for this type of ranching is one of the most arid very well adapted to sheep breeding.

Mr Rose was born in England, emigrating to Canada at an early age with his parents. His father later settled on the Hanna district.

The depression and the dry years hit thousands of Alberta farmers. The Rose's were not excepted. In 1932, with his wife of three years and two small children, Mr Rose left Calgary. A friend in Hanna to move from the farm. homestead in search for a living where he could keep his young family in clothing and food.

His late savings were enough to cover the purchase of some land, his parents furnished. The first few years were difficult and not-ing was ever unconcerned. Pass-ers-by and a still to succeed helped the family to better things.

THE FRASER FAMILY

The Fraser family is dependent upon grain farming as their livelihood but also raise cattle and hogs to supplement the family income.

A total of 320 cultivated acres in Tatmord, 200 acres as an average this year. 120 in forage and 40 in fallow.

Mr Fraser was born in Pictou County, Nova Scotia in 1901 and went shortly after the First Great War. He homesteaded on his present farm 28 years ago. Mrs Fraser, whom he married in 1926 is a native Albertan born and educated at Hanna. She taught school for a few years prior to her marriage.

Hail, work and good farming practice provided the score for the Master Farm Family's success — a combination of circumstances.

Mr Fraser utilizes a modified chisel cultivator for summer fallowing. Three years of experience has convinced him of the benefits of this method. He is a firm believer in summer fallowing with the result that about half of his cultivated land is seeded to grain and legumes.

Thatcher wheat, Victory oats and O63 barley are grown.

A herd of approximately 25 cattle head of cattle is kept. There are five pure-bred and fifteen grade Shorthorns. About 20 calves are marketed yearly. Some 30 York-shire hogs are also maintained each year.

Any early demise of control in both Mr and M. Fraser cannot have a farm, a home and children that would share the fruits of their labor. Their children Anne-lie, 14, Lorne aged 12 and Jean-ette 11 have lived up to their parents' expectations.

THE McGILLIVRAY FAMILY

Mr McGillivray, born in Nova Scotia in 1899 took up farming and remained there until after outstanding service. He came west in 1911 on a harvest excursion and after a year's experience in the area returned to Nova Scotia. In 1919 he returned and homesteaded three years later.

The Nova Scotia Farm ... accommodates family ... Mr. McGillivray ... aided by three sons, William, 20 years of age, Donald 18, and Malcolm 14.

Nearly 100 top purebred Aberdeen Angus cattle are maintained on the farm. The Brucefield herd has been established for many years and has a reputation for ... performance. Farm sales are approximately 20 animals ... disposed of annually.

A MOTHER REMEMBERS

It was November 11th in Ottawa. The ceremony at the national memorial had started with the fitting moment of an army in its majestic Scots 33 units of the armed services and cadet corps drummed smartly into position in Confederation Square.

Following two minutes of silence, the Governor-General mounted the steps of the memorial with a reverent grace. He placed a wreath on behalf of Her Majesty, and wellthen

Now it was time for the laying of the [illegible] wreath Television and movie cameras swung towards the figure of Mrs. Jodi Lebeldeau, a mother from Vibank, Saskatchewan, who had three sons now in the last war.

As commander of Canada's sailors, lastened and unassured, Mrs Lebeldeau bowed the grandmother stood flanked by the Governor General, the Prime Minister and the Legion's Dominion President She stood as one of what she had come to symbolize — All the [illegible] mothers in Canada.

Her finally merely slowly towards the base of the memorial. Then she stopped. Mrs. Lebeldeau looked skyward. From somewhere behind the murky overcast where her son had died, she drew strength and dignity Alone she mounted the steps, laid the wreath and retired.

Later she said "I didn't think I could do it. But then I thought of my boys, and I knew I had to do it."

This dramatic incident climaxed a new Legion undertaking. In the past, silver cross mothers were represented at the national ceremony by students of the Ottawa area. Now the plan is to bring a mother from a different section of Canada each year A mother from the east is currently being sought for the [illegible] ceremony.

Thus in the Canadian Legion's tribute to the mothers of Canada's war dead where ever they may be.

You are also urged to remember The St Paul Branch of the Canadian Legion is opening its Poppy Campaign with the sale of lapel poppies and wreaths for luminaries places Give it your support Economic cooperation is the greatest social and economic power ever known in the history of the world," said Dr. M. M. Coady, grand old man of the co-operative movement.

FUA INTEREST LYNLY IN OBTAINING INFORMATION FOR THE DISTRICT

October 5, 1956

Editor,
St. Paul Journal

Dear Sir:

A situation has apparently developed in connection with action of District 4 of the FUA in getting Provincial Treasurer, the Hon. E. W. Hinman to St. Paul and Bonnyville in September to speak on his desk for a new deal in Municipal financing

The new and only reason District 4 of the FUA brought Mr Hinman out here for these meetings was to give not only the FUA members but all taxpayers the opportunity to hear first hand what these proposals were, in the interest of what was going on. Neither the FUA nor District 4 of the FUA has so far taken or expressed any official views point on these proposals To define the viewpoint of the organizations is up to the members, [illegible] in Convention, cannot the constitution of the FUA.

It is regrettable that some are trying to discredit the FUA by spreading rumors that the organization is in favour of new taxes District 4 of the FUA invited Mr Hinman, solely for intelligent appraisal of the views of the government and what is proposed for Alberta taxpayers. Promulgation of information without support to any proposals was the FUA's intention It was hoped that those who attended would gather valuable information in order to be able to grasp the problem, approve or disapprove after intelligent deliberation.

The FUA intends to continue this program of open forum inviting members of all levels to bring out information on local, provincial and national issues without prejudice.

Yours very truly,
E. Simmons,
Secretary-treasurer of sub-dis.
District 4.

resigned, and the position was filled by Carrol Russel also of Vermilion.

Outcome of the meeting has reduced the League from six clubs last year to only four for the coming season and has cut down the schedule to a twelve game series — 6 out-of-town and 6 at home — 2 games with each entry.

Teams remaining in the league are St. Paul Viking, Vegreville and Wainwright The Vermilion delegate declared very little talent on the local scene had almost vanished and the town couldn't afford the expense of building up a club of imports and that for this year would promote juvenile hockey in an attempt to develop material for next year's entry into the league.

Both Viking and Wainwright sounded weak in hockey power and Wainwright claimed entry in the league on the strength of a Juvenile and local talent team only Vegreville made no announcement, but seemed well prepared to face any competition in the league, as well as St. Paul Lloydminster actions which led to rejection was ruled on as unpersonable offense by directors of Alberta Amateur Hockey Association who ratified the fine imposed and asserted it was justified. The team had skated off the ice in the finals when agreement could not be reached on whether the score should be a "no-no-of-no-decision" affair or three-out-of-five. The latter was originally supposed to be played but soft ice conditions at the time were responsible for the controversy.

Schedule will be drawn to play at least two games before Christmas and a pleasure and wish to thank its senior officers for their attention during the tour and our pleasure at enjoyable meals.

Measures For Protection Of Grain Against Infestation

Protection Service, W. Lobay of the Alberta Branch of Department of Agriculture says effective control by a combination of mechanical and chemical control methods.

Before fumigation, the surface must be shoveled grain should be broken, and the inside of the building swept with paper. If the walls are not tight a layer of building paper should be applied on the outside. The principle is to maintain a good concentration of gas in and above the grain.

Two types of fumigation have been used effectively in Alberta. One is the small-bulk type, for example, Dow-Fume 75. Boiled rate of this fumigant are uniformly distributed over the surface of the grain then punctured on the bottom and forced into the grain. Rate of type of application is 3 pounds for a 1,000 bushels of grain under average conditions. The other type of fumigant is the large bulk type, for example, Dow-Fume EB 5. Dow-fume is usually applied to the grain surfaces from the outside of the building with a pressure sprayer. Bottle removed at a rate of 2 to 3 gallons to a 1,000 bushels of grain. Cream an open pails should be immediately covered after fumigation with a tarpaulin and weighted at the bottom. Fumigated grain should be left in storage at least ten days after treatment.

Before fumigants are poisonous to be made as well as to insects, a properly adjusted gas mask fitted with a black canister (for organic vapors) should always be worn when applying them. A person should not work on this project alone. Clothing on which any fumigant has splashed should be removed and the affected parts of the body washed with water. It is necessary to dispose of the clothing as the fumigant will evaporate.

Keep grain free from insects, with heavy infestation after fumigation periods. Be vigilant. Check stored grain frequently and take immediate action when signs of infestation appear.

1906 50th Anniversary Year 1956

SYMBOLIC OF 50 YEARS OF PROGRESS

The Handclasp of Thanks — to those first, foresighted farmers of 50 years ago who, with courage and resourcefulness, founded Western Canada's first co-operative, United Grain Growers Limited.

The Handclasp of Appreciation — to the many thousands of grain growers of Western Canada who, by their unfailing loyalty and support, gave the organization its vigorous and healthy growth.

The Handclasp of Friendship — to today's farmer-members of this successful co-operative enterprise whose continued patronage assures the U.G.G. of future achievements matched only by its outstanding record of the past.

To All — in 1956 as in 1906 — let the handclasp symbolize the guiding principle of United Grain Growers; the ever constant belief that ... "In Union is Strength".

Glendon News

On Sunday evening, Sept 30 a number of friends and neighbors paid a surprise visit to the home of Mr and Mrs Leonard Pawliuk, to bid them farewell before they left for Edmonton, where George has rented a garage. As manager of the Glendon Auto Electric, Mr Pawliuk won the confidence and respect of his patrons, and his going leaves a vacancy among the business concerns of the town.

On Sunday evening, Oct 7th, a capacity crowd gathered at the Glendon Community Hall to honor Mr and Mrs. Mike Greschuk and Lenie Wild on their coming to make their home in Edmonton. Mr Greschuk has been the manager of the Imperial Lumber Yard for a number of years, during which time he has been quite active in the sports activities of the district. On behalf of the Ball Club, Mr Gus Schmidt, local manager, presented him with a gift. Mr William Kuzmin, who acted as master of ceremonies for the evening, presented them with a purse of money with the good wishes of all. Mrs Greschuk is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Peter Bozyk.

Dr. Anna Bain, whole X-Ray Clinic which is now visiting Glendon reported that a total of 1018 persons were X-rayed during their stay here. This was considered a very gratifying response as the total number of registrations was only slightly in excess of twelve hundred. The X-ray technician, who spoke to the clinic, wish to thank all those who helped in the Town during their time to make it a success.

On Tuesday evening, October 2nd, a miscellaneous shower was held at the hospital for Miss Eileen Tresoft, R.N., who is a bride elect of the month. The many variety of gifts received testified to the popularity of Miss Tresoft, who has been on the staff of the Glendon Hospital for the past couple of years. Her wedding is to be on Saturday, October 6th at Glendon will take place in her home town of Carlot in the near future.

Visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs J. A. Robb for the holiday weekend were Mrs Robb's mother Mr Tom Stephenson of Nanaimo and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Harold Shuttleff of Edmonton.

We have everything on the menu today, sir.

So I see, replied the customer. How about bringing me a clean one.

INFESTATION IN STORED GRAIN

During the past few years, farmers have been forced to use many types of temporary storage which, from the standpoint of possible insect infestation, are often far from satisfactory. Certain precautions can be taken, however which will reduce possible infestation to a minimum. These include the thorough cleansing out of all storage premises, provision for adequate ventilation, care to see that tough and damp grains are not likely to develop because of heating soils or roots, and lastly the storing of the grain in as dry and as clean a condition as possible.

SEARLE GRAIN COMPANY, LTD.

YEAR-ROUND CONSTRUCTION POSSIBLE

"If Canada-wide completion, of climatic conditions skin to ours, can keep their construction program on a year-round basis, so can we," was the opinion of the Honorable Raymond Lemaire, Minister of Industries and Labour, when conferring with the H. Cave of the National Employment Service. The two men met to consider a "Plan It Now" campaign for construction winter employment. The round-shutering level and continuous winter employment. The round-shutering level of production and employment of the province during the past year was expected to be maintained during the winter months with aid of the campaign.

The National Employment Service "Plan It Now" drive of last winter had a most marked and successful effect on the previously slack winter employment periods. Construction, building and industrial, farms have been and will continue to be approached to plan their program with a view to continuing these during the winter months. The majority have enthusiastically concurred. "This winter lay-off system is largely a bad over habit of earlier, less efficient days," was the opinion of Mr Cave. "And there is actually little reason for it. We must appreciate, however, that winter employment is a problem which can be best dealt with by the factors that will benefit the most — the individual consumer."

QUEEN OF AMATEURS WILL NOT TURN PROFESSIONAL

Consequently heroine's welcome was accorded Marlene Stewart on her return to Foothill, Ont., her home town. A basic golf ball model of chrysanthemums, tendered to her victory in the U.S. women's amateur golf championship. Her other principal victories—the British and Canadian amateur contests—were also mentioned as she came from a four-down to win the 36-hole final two and one. She says she will never turn professional.

King Henry Eighth Hard Man On Members Of Royal Navy

In the days of England's King Henry the Eight, the Navy, it seems, was no place for sloggy-heads.

For a man in our modern Navy to be found drunk while on watch is a serious matter and he is severely dealt with, but the punishment meted now is made entirely plain compared to that thought up by the much married Henry.

At the King's command Sir Thomas Audrey drew up a set of orders for men on both land and sea, a few of the orders had to do with taking sweep while on watch, and it could not be called short in any manner.

For the first offence of sleeping the culprit was to be tied to the mainmast with a bucket of water poured over his head. This, of course, was extremely unpleasant especially as autumn was on its way in the near future, and additional buckets of water were poured over him.

The second offence, he was ordered to the mast. This time, in addition to the bucket of water, his jacket were kept filled with water. Most always he was placed in a position where he would get the benefit of a cold rain. Some sailors would have to sleep one hand up in the water to prevent their hair from getting wetted down.

For the third offence the unhappy fellow was again tied to the mast but this time he would have caught tied to his arms. The weights were as heavy as the captain deemed necessary to remind him to stay awake in the future.

It however, the man proved to be a real Rip Van Winkle and was caught asleep for the fourth time it was definitely the last time. He was told, "Being taken asleep he shall be hanged to the highest end of the ship at a basket and a can of beer, a loaf of bread and a sharp knife, and choose to hang there until he starved or cut himself into the sea."

JAPS, CANADIANS EXCHANGE SEEDLINGS

—Central Press Canadian

Canadian Ambassador T. C. Davies is accepting a gift of Japanese maple seedlings from H. Sato, vice-governor of Tokyo, in a ceremony at Tokyo's Hibiya Park. A group, headed by John F. Clark of the Ontario agriculture department, brought Canadian plants and seedlings to Japan and presented them to the Japanese authorities as a good-will gesture. The Canadian group is studying Japanese horticulture and biological specimens.

HAS FORMULA FOR LIVING MORE WASTE

—Central Press Canadian

A formula that may resolve many the complaints of ... siblings surrounding Canada's mines has been submitted to the National Research council in Ottawa by Dr Frank Spotswood of Timmins He developed the formula after working underground and the research council, believing it has possibilities, has asked for 50-pound samples from several mines. The formula would make use of the finest crushed rock, considered waste after the valuable ore has been removed, to make new ore.

Men Who Make Alberta

THE OFFICE WORKER

In recent years, probably no one has suffered more from a lack of recognition than has the so-called "white collar" worker. While tradesmen, salesmen and management frequently share the limelight, the office staff are more than often ignored. Yet, what would business be without these men and women. Who would enjoy working for a company without a payroll? How could management operate without records? How long could the tradesman produce if raw materials were not ordered?

In every industry the men and women behind the desk do the detail work of administration and record keeping so necessary to our complex twentieth century economy.

Without those people the trains would not run on time — buildings would never get built — mass production of the luxuries of today's life would be impossible.

Yes, we all owe a debt to Industry's "men behind the men behind the machines".

President Canadian Weekly Papers Expresses Convictions On Press

Europe is an excellent example of the ignorance which is one of the chief contributions of the free newspaper said Wm Draayer on Monday Mr Draayer was addressing the Camrose Rotary Club on the occasion of national newspaper week in his capacity as national president of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association.

He went on to trace the plight of unfortunate people living in backward countries where ignorance is the rule, and the people are controlled by fear and suppression and a dictatorship exists. Often times every source of information is strictly controlled to make sensible judgements about such as the actual facts and even newspapers all being used for puppet purposes by unscrupulous dictators.

Mr Draayer who has published The Wetaskiwin Times for the past fifty years was introduced to the members by Chuck MacLean, and followed by a toast to and Your Newspaper.

News said Mr Draayer is the greatest single contributing factor to our democratic way of life. Without a free press to keep the people informed on what is happening and our rights of free discussion was bought and won for us many years ago. This is denying of people the right to know what is happening and our rights of free discussion was bought and won for us many years ago. This is denying of people the right to know what is happening about public business. Also against the freedoms of speech, religion, assembly and other rights enjoyed by the democratic nations.

News, basically is information, but it should be from information, the speaker went on, pointing out that unsentimental problems affect us just as much as the local level problems, and we must have the details if we are to formulate sensible judgements about such as the actual facts and even newspapers all being used for puppet purposes by unscrupulous dictators.

By somewhat similar token safety is carefully and regularly preached by the Canadian Pacific Railways on the matter of the fencing of Fire Guards. And it goes without saying that this many patients not be gone long enough, down. In selected roads starts the rich tract in Canada because Parents just don't trust for a minute," so we know that it is right we've left them for a couple of hours before."

A few minutes that calls the baby sitter may save her life and that of your children. The fire experts point out that be difficult that parents may be rushed and haven't time to think right how. But the several your children are more important a couple minutes on your arrival at the home.

Baby sitters should be thoroughly fire conscious. In many cases have telephone numbers of fire and police departments. Be sure to see that the sitter knows the location of the front and back exits, stairs and partition and the room. Point out to the children's parents that the outside if you're in a downstairs apartment, explain to the sitter that children are not to be allowed to play with matches, cooking, open fire or other articles to get the children out.

If the sitter hesitates always when she arrives, do better to send her home and get somebody else if you can — or stay at home yourself. A sitter who is left asleep when her parents go out is dangerous.

If your home is heated by an oil stove or furnace make sure the fuire are made up by your parents before they go to bed. Baby sitter unnecessary — an asset.

Most people know that oil is the first relief it gets extensive, on although it takes time to start cooking. The sitter must realize that cooking is not the first thing she should do. The first relief fuel for the stove or burning. Then go to your fuel supply — coal, coke and charcoal — and so forth.

Before you leave, explain to your sitter exactly how to operate the fire extinguisher. Show it to her so she can find it quickly in an emergency. Let it see you using to the sitter how to operate it.

Impress upon your sitter the importance of keeping children in the room or a downstairs apartment. Explain to several others, parents were charged and convicted for serious negligence when a sitter allowed they had gone home. Impress upon the sitter the importance of keeping the children in the house.

But most important of all, carefully reported may ... for a reason.

How to Kill a Community

A wag explains the idea that you can do better in some other community

Denounce your own merchants because they are trying to make a living from you.

Gloat ... the downfall of any man who has done much to improve your community.

Get ill you can from the municipality and the merchants you probably can't but charge them with extortion anyway.

Always believe what peddlers and specialty agents tell you and buy from them. You could no doubt do better at your own stores but don't ever do that.

If a stranger stops at town, tell him to go to the next place.

Call your merchants and the place you live as the meanest on earth.

Always have your mind firmly made up before you go to any meeting — then say that you simply can't get anything to put you there.

And now, after having religiously done all the above, you ought to have the satisfaction of steadily seeing your community reduced to a small hulk with possibly a general store and a service station or two. All this may not have emphasized the value of your property, nor improved your own living conditions but you don't care

Welcome On Our Terms

The foreign investor must be warned that his success in Canada will depend, on the long run, on his adapting his enterprises to Canadian needs and concepts, policies, declared The Financial Post. He must realize that this country is still decidedly independent and that our superficial resemblance to the United States conceals a distinctive character which he will have to learn. If our science lends American investors to suppose that they can treat Canada as a mere adjunct of the United States, it can only lead to future trouble.

The Government has a clear responsibility which it has not yet adequately fulfilled to define and state more unmistakably Canadian attitudes. Petition To Disqualify Bonnyville School Board Heard St. Paul Court

Court proceedings were brought against members of the Bonnyville School Divisional Board recently in District Court held at St Paul. Four ratepayers of the Bonnyville School Division, whose names were not revealed in court, charged the said body with alleged administrative discrepancies and contended that the board be disqualified and their seats declared vacated.

Acting on behalf of the complainants was Mr W G Fulks, barrister and solicitor of St Paul. For the defence was Mr Whittaker of Edmonton. Presiding was His Honour Judge Fraser of Edmonton.

After the charge was read by the Petitioning Counsel for the defence Mr Whittaker told the court that he was admitting the issuance of cheques to Fort Kent Motors Ltd. concerning their amount and descriptions thereby suggested to his opponent that the lengthy procedure of introducing each and every charge as evidence could be dispensed with.

With that portion of the case established, Mr. Fuller brought the secretary-treasurer, A. G. Lapointe, to the stand and kept him there for 45 minutes, during the questioning, Mr. Fuller [illegible] as accounts, the cheques made out for payment, and other discrepancies were read [illegible] during the meeting and explained [illegible] the minutes were quoted [illegible]

[illegible] Lapointe was being taken to [illegible] Mr Lapointe continued to explain that often, when repairs were required or gas and oil were needed there was nothing else to do but have the services done at Fort Kent Motors, since the bus [illegible] there

Only one other [illegible] brought to the stand Mr A. L. Sylvestre, Superintendent of Schools. In his testimony Mr Sylvestre revealed that he had never made it a point of note to explain to the school divisional Board, the contents of section 88 of the School Act, restricting any member of the board to earning up to $300.00 per year from the Division, but not exceeding that amount. The school superintendent told the court however that he had mentioned it to one or two members of the board, privately, that he thought a considerable amount of business was being sent to Fort Kent, of which some should be kept in Bonnyville. This revelation, however, never took effect with the board since the situation was explained that it was to the advantage of the board that service, for that particular bus to be rendered at Fort Kent When asked if Mr Sylvestre attended all meetings, he answered that he did. When asked if he realized that Fort Kent Motors was receiving all that [illegible] he replied that he did not know because he never made it his business to look through the accounts.

It was also revealed earlier in the proceedings that at School Divisional meetings the statements received from all schools were followed by a finance committee usually composing of the chairman, or vice-chairman, the secretary-treasurer and a trustee. All accounts were either approved or disputed. Those which were approved for payment were presented as a block at a regular meeting and passed for payment. At the following meeting the bugs [illegible]

Bonnyville And St. Paul Teachers Hold Annual Convention Recently

BONNYVILLE — Music, the use of films, art, physical education speech, and Alberta Teachers Association affairs were all studied and reviewed at the Bonnyville and St Paul annual teachers' convention held at Bonnyville Elementary School recently.

The convention opened with registration in the lobby of the school, followed by official greetings to the teachers by officials of the Bonnyville and St Paul divisional boards and by the mayor of Bonnyville.

The first speaker of the convention was R. Pilkington of the University of Alberta who is the A.T.A. guest speaker for this year's convention. Mr Pilkington, who visited this Alberta constituency 12-year plan" in [illegible] duration which takes a child at the age of six and attempts to produce an intelligent, well-adjusted citizen at the age of 18.

CHANGES MADE

To do this, Mr Pilkington stated, many changes in curriculum have been necessary over the years in order to evolve a plan which meets the needs of citizens of present day Alberta.

In reviewing the history of education in Alberta, Mr Pilkington stressed the need for a system which does not ponder to the whims of the children but which challenges the child by upsetting his security and making him strive for success. The days of "soft pedagogy are over" stated Mr Pilkington, in closing.

A short demonstration of Visual Aids in the classroom was followed by a discussion period, after which the speaker was Dr

B E Walker of the faculty of education Dr Walker brought the greetings of the faculty, gave a lengthy list of recent changes and developments in his department and related his experiences at a recent Kellog Foundation conference at Laval University.

Dr Walker was followed by N Andrusiki, northeast geographical representative for the ATA, and by W R Eyres of the ATA head office.

Mr Andrusiki outlined his duties as representative while Mr Eyres revealed new developments in contract negotiations and future aims of the ATA in the field of teachers salaries and qualifications.

SALARY STUDIES

A number of economic consultants are being appointed by the ATA as a result of a recent salary session. These consultants will visit any division requesting them and will advise ATA heads as to salary negotiations, Mr Eyres announced.

The new salary schedules of $4,000 per year for a graduate teacher, rising to a maximum of $7,800 with a sliding scale of wages for lesser trained personnel, was described and explained by Mr. Eyres in closing.

The first day's proceedings closed, with separate meetings of the Bonnyville and St Paul ATA locals followed by a banquet and dance at the Legion Hall.

Friday's session opened with an address by D B Cameron of the department of education. He revealed important statistics on the teaching profession in Alberta stressing the fact that Alberta's schools could not operate without the services of married women who make up 40 per cent of the total teaching force.

TODAY'S TEACHER

Mr Cameron dealt at length on the problem of the extreme mobility of today's teacher. As compared to his pre-war counterpart and stated that 250 teachers came into Alberta in the past year from abroad and other provinces, while 100 left.

Following Mr Cameron's talk the group broke into two, to attend demonstrations on the use of music in the classrooms and the teaching of the speech arts, given by H E Burgess of Glendon and Miss Mackenzie Knight of the RCAF Higgin Hill School respectively. Both demonstrations were followed by Art demonstrations in the elementary and junior high schools by Rev. Br St Lamel of St Vincent and by Mrs Harting of Elk Point.

Following meetings of the teachers with Mr. Rivestre and Mr. Rasette superintendents of Bonnyville and St Paul Divisions, when divisional matters were discussed the convention adjourned.

Judge Fraser Reserves Judgment On Paquette Statement Of Claim

A statement of claim was issued against the Bonnyville Arena Association by W. Paquette, former president. The case came before His Honour Judge Fraser, in district court last week Judge Fraser reserved judgement.

Willie Paquette complainant, was first to take the stand. Questioned by the complainant W. G. Fuller of St. Paul asked his next to tell the court exactly what were the circumstances surrounding his appointment as president of the B. A. A. and his eventual duties which resolved in the resignation of an arena at Bonnyville. Mr. Paquette elaborated how he had been appointed by an committee as president and as such how the said organization had given him authority to deal with the construction of the arena. In his testimony, Mr. Paquette had a total figures of mileage he had travelled in the execution of his duties and revealed that he had worked a total of 1500 hours. He also pointed out to the court that they had never been given a agreement as to a set hourly wage or for a set price at all. However, Mr. Paquette did say that he assumed that the B. A. A. was planning to pay him for his services and with the project was terminated, a motion for payment was made, therefore he then received a cheque through a bank.

Under cross-examination by J. L. Lagace, the defence of the arena association, questioned the Arena Association constitution which was accepted as an exhibit. Contained in the constitution is a provision which reads in part [illegible] the said organization shall receive wages or remuneration for services rendered on behalf of the said organization. Another exhibit referred to by the defence was the resignation of the constitution. This established that officers on the arena board were advised that such wish is was done on behalf of the arena association was done willfully with no remuneration attached.

The first witness for the defence was L. Lafleur of Bonnyville who testified that he was the secretary of the association during most of the time the arena was under construction and that he was one of the executive members that believed that the B. A. A. Mr. Gorman, when asked to give his opinion whether the B. A. A. owed Willie Paquette anything answered that in his opinion the B. A. A. did owe Mr. Paquette a lot.

Other witnesses for the defence corroborated with the secretary's testimony. They included Alfred Bodier, Dr. E. Tetu, Dr. J. C. Morrice, L. Baril, P. Bronsoa. At the close of the case, in his summary, John L. Lagace pointed out to the court that it would be against the articles contained in the Bonnyville [illegible] constitution's meaning him to award to the complainant his claim of $1275 or any part of it but suggested that if any remuneration is paid, that the same this course.

His Honour Judge Fraser reserved judgement until a later date, before giving the case

New Type Of Beef Pole Barn To Be Erected In One Day

A beef cattle barn of pole type construction, approximately 28 by 140, built with pressure treated poles and plywood sheating is to be erected on the Earl Mayhew farm, 11 miles South-east of Mayerthorp on Saturday Oct. 20th. The location of the farm is N one half 20 & SE 32 56 W 5th meridian. Arrows will be placed on the highway methodist forty fourth of Mayerthorp. (Editor's note)

A pole earth building demonstration and field day will be sponsored by the Veterans Land Act under the direction of Mr. Allen Hilton, V.L.A. Supervisor, Mayerthorp, Canada Consulting Co. Ltd. and Hyland (Alberta) Lumber Co. Ltd. will cooperate.

The complete barn will be erected on a completely new building site which has been planned by Mr. Masterson assisted by Mr. Green, Mr. Jones, Agricultural District Agriculturist, and Mr. Lloyd Rawlinson, Supervisor of D. A. C. D., expected that a new prefab steel truss will be constructed and completed on Edmonton location by the same day as the barn. This will be an added attraction.

It is intended that work on the barn be started prior to the field Day and parts be left at some phase of construction to be completed prior to that date so that the attendance may see the method being used.

The average farmer can now attract a similar building at reduced cost. Mr. L. A. Cummins, Extension Engineer Dept. of Agriculture, and his assistant, Mr. Hood, will take care of this part of the program, and Matt Wood, V.L.A. Construction Supervisor, can supervise construction.

Primarily the Field Day is planned to demonstrate the construction of a modern beef cattle building. As an added feature, talks will be given by Veterans Land Act Staff and representatives of the Dept. of Agriculture Extension Service. These talks will cover various points of farm planning and management and should prove to be interesting and profitable to all farmers attending.

The Veterans Land Act Farm is designed to assist selected farmers in farm planning and farm management and farm improvement-time methods. Grain

The Ingenuity Of Man Caused Him Travels On Water

Man, outside floating logs, and taking notice at each other possibly constituted the world's first naval engagement.

The first water transport is thought to have been invented by large seagoing Early man discovered that by getting around the log floating objects he was able to cross bodies of water. The memory of ripping station greatly increased man's hunting range for food.

Of course there is no record of how much time elapsed before man discovered if he hollowed out a portion of the log larger with could accommodate.

The easiest problem of early economics was food supply. The fishing were always exhausted or their supply of game. This necessitated the design for better weapons and the whole family was confronted from one location to another. With farmers increasing in skill, more emphasis concerning the new routes to accessible tackled short cuts.

The first sewage mentioned records of the plans some 4000 years ago. There may have been earlier but to this, but they are never suggested a water line transport a written language.

Modern designs were developed by the Phoenicians who built ships that roamed on both the inland ocean but search for ability. Probably the first such vessels were a craft of size and the ones and then progressed to the sea. The shelter of the water served to shelter a primitive navigation system named Akkarians The word itself comes from the Greek word Agkura" meaning

Those anthropologist become known places of antiquity for early shows, also, they proved a good place for trading Harbor facilities soon began to be built at these are hostages, and thus a more than like how the world's first seaports came into existence

These ancient seamen were explorers, adventurers and sea-lord unfavorable dissidence. For instance the Phoenicians used to sail their large double canoes from Hawaii to New Zealand, a distance of over 2 500 miles.

Because of its position in terms of purchasing power the 1000 Canadian dollar is now worth in 1945 the same as the dollar was worth a half century in 1956

When did the poppy first come associated with the war dead? The answer is something which men at war have started on their minds for decades or even centuries, sometimes it has taken unspoken but deep feelings of personal experience

In connection we tells us that the ancient Greeks worn poppy has long been associated of death and sleep. Early in the 1800's, at least one writer remarked that poppies grew on profusion over the graves of the war dead. He was speaking of the Napoleonic war

A century later, another war was being fought on many of the same battle-grounds. This time thousands of Canadians observed the phenomenon of the poppy from the dark, tortured earth of Flanders millions of poppies bloomed over the graves of the dead.

Among these observers was a Canadian medical officer who was destined to immortalize the poppy. It's doubtful if the poppy would have ever attained its significance if did if Lt.-Col John McCrae had been less gifted and less sensative

His was the rare gift of being able to express the relationship between the dead and the poppy and being able to express the feelings of the fighting men with power and clarity

So when the Great War Veterans' Association met in Port Arthur in 1921 it isn't surprising that the poppy was selected as a symbol of remembrance. Who, having once heard in Flanders' Fields could deliver the poppy —from remembrance

When Madame E. Guerin— the poppy lady of France— suggested to the conference that the poppy be adopted as a national emblem of remembrance, it was immediately moved and seconded by delegates. Comrade Chamney moved and Comrade Hanson seconded the proposal that each citizen wear a poppy on the anniversary of Armistice Day

The women and children of France made the first poppies sold in Canada. However, in 1933 the first poppies sold on Canadian streets were made by disabled Canadian Veterans

Each year the number of emblems distributed has increased. Last year an estimated five million poppies served the dual purpose of remembering the dead and helping the living.

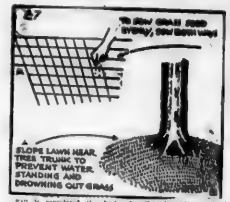
Garden-Graphs

by DEAN MALLORY



FATS is considered the best time of the year to make new lawn because the soil is warm then and most of the lawn weeds are dormant. Use plan experience grow-less and several weeks of good growing weather

All this time, the various grasses root and stool best, producing short, crowded joints at the base of each stem. This habit of stooling is what produces a fine turf.

After the labor of preparing the soil, don't be "penny wise and pound foolish" by trying to overmake with cheap seed. Cheap seeds are inferior in vitality and contain much inert chaff, low germ growth and troublesome weeds.

Take pains to provide an even distribution of the seed. Sow on a calm day, as it is impossible to make an even seeding on a windy day.

It will be found best to divide the quantity of seed required into two parts. Then sow in one direction, using one-half of the seed, after which sow in the opposite direction, using the other half of the seed, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Figure on five pounds of seed per 1 000 square feet, or one-half pound per 100 square feet.

After sowing the seed rake it over the area lightly and deeper than one-quarter of an inch. Then roll the area lightly

If you are not fortun enough to have rain following the seeding, water the area lightly using a mist-like spray.

Build up the lawn as there is a gentle slope of grass near tree trunks, as shown in the Garden-Graph. This will prevent standing water which may drown out the grass.

Bejuvenating Clothes

What a difference a good press job makes! It immediately conveys the neat clean look That is because spots must first be removed, wrinkles are eliminated and most of the original texture of the garment is restored

Pressing differs from ironing in that the motion is a lower and lift rather than a sliding action Pressing is usually done on the wrong side of the garment with moisture supplied either with a cloth, steam or a damp press cloth If some parts of the dress need right side pressed, protect the fabric from the heat of the iron and prevent shine, by placing a dry press cloth over fabric before steaming it A good rule to be given cloth is a soft wool one That brings to mind wool or wool-like fabrics, cotton Pongee is treated to raise the nap prior to pressing

As a general rule, press from wide to narrow parts of the dress sections For examples from the hem to waistline of skirt; armhole to waistline of blouse, armhole to bottom of sleeve Press over the grain of the material wherever possible

As a finishing touch place the pressed garment on a well-shaped hanger and cover until well aired and completely dry That out of a bandbox look now belongs to you

FRICTION

Turning A Curve

Friction is something that is very important when rounding a curve. The more the better. This is no dangerous curve — but there is another in it. If you have put into practice, what is known as centrifugal force. Any body moving straight ahead tends to keep on going straight ahead. But when you want to overcome that force in getting to turn, such as on a curve, then you must have some other force to overcome it and that other force is friction. It is used to overcome the force which keeps you going straight ahead and did not have sufficient friction to overcome it then you are in trouble, your car skids.

The force which makes an automobile round a curve is initiated by steering its steering the car you are merely controlling the direction in which instant impact work. At every point along the curve your car is tending to go straight ahead but the steered car is being constantly pushed out of a constant-time motion by the force which friction permits to act under the tires.

Friction does the same thing to a car that a string does to the stone as you would whirl it around your head, it holds it on a curved path. As you whirl the stone and were to suddenly let go of the string, the stone would fly straight away from you. This is caused by the centrifugal force. So as you round a curve in the road, then, you have two forces at work. Whichever force is the greater that one will send your car

Speed is the power house of centrifugal force. The faster you go the more centrifugal force is at work. Speed is also a robber of friction. The faster you go the less friction you have.

So when you look at these two laws of nature we realize that they are inescapable.

If they have a more protection for those who obey

If they have a sure penalty for those who disobey

If they are opposing forces in our driving.

Let's not be fooled by any mistaken impression that we can successfully defy. You cannot get around with the laws of nature as you may do with the laws of man.

When rounding a curve you must have sufficient friction to overcome the force which tends to compete that curve in safety.

Commico Radio Series Begins Second Year's Broadcasting

Commico Commentary," a series of 13-minute radio talks by Gilson MacEwan, well-known Canadian agriculturist, initiated its second year of broadcasts to Canadian farmers, September 30th on 52 stations of the network on Saturday until early March, 1957.

The popular program, sponsored by the Commercial Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited, was introduced on the prairies last year and was enthusiastically received by a large farm audience.

Gilson MacEwan, former dean of agriculture at the University of Manitoba and now Member of the Alberta Provincial Legislature for Calgary, was born [illegible] from pioneer parents who farmed north of Brandon, Manitoba and at Melfort, Saskatchewan. From the home district Mr. Wood he attended the Ontario Agricultural College graduating in 1926. Later, he did post-graduate work in science at the Iowa State College.

Beginning September 30, Commico Commentary will be broadcast every Sunday over a number of radio stations in Western Canada.

Let's Eat

BY

IDA BARLEY ALLEN

The Chef and I spent a fascinating day visiting poultry farms in New Jersey with Professor John Taylor, poultry specialist from Rutgers University, as our guide.

Five poultrymen produce with hatching eggs and baby chicks.

Arthur Perry, at his farm Hatchery 7 a.m. (13 million chicks per year) near Vineland, New Jersey, uses only eggs from pedigreed breeders in New Hampshire, that produce heavy meaty birds.

Poultry Pioneer

We visited Herman Dreano, of Dreano Poultry Farms, who pioneered in frozen broiler poultry and specializes in roasting only white Leghorns. He has two main plans for his scientific and successful breeding program and the fine quality of the eggs as sells to hatcheries.

We stopped in the packing house to watch the eggs being sorted for size and perfection. If they were too small or overlarge, they were put on sale; if scrambled, they were sold at least the price of fresh eggs; and if badly cracked, their contents boiled, canned, and stored in refrigerated and sold at a low price.

Food Budget

A steady stream of customers came to buy these eggs, convincing proof that, in spite of increasing food costs, the housewife still buys eggs as the food budget's best friend. Eggs can be used economically in a main dish or dessert.

Fall Dinner Menu

Eggs Au Gratin: Cut 3 hard-cooked eggs in halves. Make 2 c. medium-thick white sauce. Add ½ c. grated sharp Cheddar, 2 drops Tabasco, ½ tsp. Worcestershire and ½ c. sliced stuffed olives (optional).

Butter a low qt. baking dish, set in a layer of egg. Cover with sauce and repeat.

Served with ½ c. fine bread crumbs moistened with melted butter, 375 min. at 375 deg. F. This recipe will serve 6.

Eggs Benedict: Split muffins, top with cooked Canadian bacon or cooked slices broiled or sautéed ham. Add a poached egg and spread with Hollandaise. Garnish with parsley.

Serves 6

Hollandaise Sauce From the Chef

Stir ½ c. butter with 1 tsp. flour until creamy, in a small double boiler top. Use at a time, steam in 4 tablespoons egg yolks.

Gradually stir in 1½ tbsp. lemon juice, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ drops Tabasco and ½ c. boiling water. Cook over hot water until thick, but with a rotary egg beater. Serve hot over hot water until thick, but with a rotary egg beater. Serve hot over hot water. Use within 12 hrs.
